The commissioner may require prior notice to providers as a prerequisite for nonpayment of claims. In the event arrearages are not corrected within the duration of the grace period and the product is permissibly cancelled or nonrenewed, a healthcare provider may seek payment for any medical services that were rendered by the healthcare provider but pended by the insurer directly from the insured.

(c) Temporary postponement of involuntary cancellation or nonrenewal by the insurer.

(b) The commissioner's statement of the reasons for finding it necessary to adopt an emergency rule shall include specific reasons why the failure to adopt the rule on an emergency basis would result in imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare, or specific reasons why the emergency rule meets other criteria provided in this Subsection for adoption of an emergency rule.

(c) The commissioner's statement required in this Paragraph shall be submitted to the speaker of the House of Representatives and the president of the Senate at their respective offices in the state capitol by electronic transmission if such means are available. If electronic means are not available, the commissioner's statement shall be submitted to the office of the speaker of the House of Representatives and the president of the Senate in the state capitol

This immunity shall apply provided that the information available to the employee would support a reasonable belief that the activity, policy, or practice reported violates this Code, a rule, or the law as described above, or impairs or endangers the solvency of the insurer. No such immunity shall apply to any report that is fraudulent or made in bad faith. The commissioner is also authorized to order any insurer, person, or entity to cease and desist any such action that violates any provision of this Code. An aggrieved party affected by the commissioner's decision, act, or order may demand a hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq. § 23. Exclusive use of expirations

A. (1) Except as otherwise provided herein, for purposes of soliciting, selling, or negotiating the renewal or sale of insurance coverage, insurance products, or insurance services, an insurance producer shall have the exclusive use of expirations, records, or other written or electronic information directly related to an insurance application submitted by or an insurance policy written through an insurance producer. No insurance company, managing general agent, surplus lines insurance broker, wholesale broker, third party administrator, or residual markets including but not limited to the Louisiana Automobile Insurance Plan, the Louisiana Joint Reinsurance Plan, or the Louisiana Insurance Underwriting Plan, shall use such expirations, records, or other written or electronic information to solicit, sell, or negotiate the renewal or sale of insurance coverage, insurance products, or insurance services to the insured, either directly or by providing such information to others without the express written consent of the insurance producer.

(2) Such expirations, records, or other written or electronic information may be used to review an application, issue a policy, or for any other purpose necessary for placing such business through the insurance producer. Such expirations, records, or other written or electronic information may also be used for any other purpose which does not involve the soliciting, selling, or negotiating the renewal or sale of insurance coverage, insurance products, or insurance services.

B. This Section shall not apply:

(1) When the insured requests, individually or through another producer, that the insurance company renew the policy or write other insurance business.

(2) When the insurance producer has, by contract, agreed to act exclusively for one company or group of affiliated insurance companies, in which case the rights of the producer shall be determined by the terms of the producer's contract with that company or affiliated group.

(3) When the producer is in default for nonpayment of premiums or other monies due and owing for which the agent is in default under the producer's contract or other agreement with the insurer, unless there is a legitimate dispute as to monies owed.

(4) When the agency contract is terminated and the insurance company is required by law to continue coverage for the insured; however, in that event, the insurance company shall continue to pay the producer commissions on such policies that the company is required to renew during the thirty-six month period following the effective date of the termination or three years, whichever is sooner. The commission shall be at the insurer's prevailing commission rates in effect on the date of renewal for that class or line of business in effect on the date of renewal for producers whose contracts are not terminated.

(5) To policies providing group coverage and health insurance.

C. The producer and insurer may in a written agreement, separate from the agency contract, mutually agree to terms different than the provisions set forth in this Section. The terms of any such agreement shall be negotiated in good faith between the parties.

D. (1) The commissioner of insurance may adopt rules, in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, to enforce the provisions of this Section and any violation of this Section or the rules adopted thereunder shall be subject to regulation by the commissioner of insurance under R.S. 22:18.

(2) In addition, the producer shall have a right to a claim for lost commissions. Such claim shall be resolved in accordance with the dispute resolution terms in the applicable contract or agreement. In the absence of any dispute resolution term, the parties shall attempt to resolve their dispute through mediation. If the claim is not resolved through mediation, the claim may be resolved through binding arbitration if the parties agree. In the absence of an agreement to resolve the claim through binding arbitration, the producer may maintain a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction for lost commissions.

(3)(a) All life insurance, disability income, long-term care, and annuity files, whether paper or electronic, submitted to an insurance company, are owned by the insurance company. The producer who sold the policy has the right to retain a copy of the file submitted to the issuing company. The producer has the right to retain a copy of the file after terminating his affiliation with the issuing company, unless the producer and the issuing company agree in writing that the producer shall not have such a right. Should the issuing company wish to make copies of the information retained by the producer, such copies shall be made at the issuing company's expense.

(b) This Paragraph shall not apply to any policy issued under the home service marketing distribution system referenced in R.S. 22:1962(C).

(c) As used in this Paragraph, files include all records, written or electronic, that were gathered and maintained by the producer.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Paragraph to the contrary, information a producer may retain shall not include real-time data and updates maintained on the insurance company computer system or any data protected by the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, 15 U.S.C. 6801-15 U.S.C. 6809, or the security laws.

(4) Except as provided in this Section, nothing in this Section shall be interpreted as impairing any rights in law or contract currently enjoyed by any party.

Upon receipt of a complaint, the division shall notify an insurer against whom the complaint was filed of the nature of the complaint and provide the insurer with the opportunity to make a written explanation. As a part of the response, the insurer may submit to the division any affirmative action plan it may have in effect. If the insurer does not comply with the cease and desist order, the commissioner may then:

(1) Require the insurer to file an affirmative action plan in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the commissioner. If the insurer fails to file such affirmative action plan, the commissioner may then:

A. No insurer shall refuse to issue or fail to renew any policy or contract of property and casualty insurance to a person or business, solely because of the race of the applicant or the economic condition of the area in which the property sought to be insured is located, unless such refusal to issue or failure to renew is based on sound actuarial principles or is related to actual experience.

B. Any insurer violating this Section shall be fined ten thousand dollars for each occurrence.

C. The commissioner of insurance shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary for the enforcement of this Section. The rules and regulations shall, at a minimum, provide a mechanism in which complaints concerning alleged discriminatory practices by insurers can be received and investigated. The rules and regulations shall also contain a provision allowing for an administrative hearing in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, R.S. 49:950 et seq., prior to the imposition of the penalty outlined in Subsection B of this Section.

retirement, and where such fire employee is not yet eligible for Medicare.

B. A health insurance issuer shall not discriminate between an active fire employee and retired fire employee on the basis of an active or retired status.

C. (1) This Section does not require a health insurance issuer to provide coverage for a retired fire employee under circumstances in which an active fire employee could lawfully be denied coverage nor requires a health insurance issuer to offer terms, rates, or benefits to a retired fire employee that it is not required to offer to an active fire employee.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section, this Section shall not be construed to require a municipality, parish, or fire protection district to offer health insurance coverage to early retiree fire employees, nor prohibit a municipality, parish, or fire protection district from offering health insurance coverage to only active fire employees, nor prohibit a health insurance issuer from offering coverage that complies with such eligibility decision of the municipality, parish, or fire protection district.

A. An incorporated insurer may, at a meeting of the shareholders or members duly called upon notice for this specific purpose and in the manner herein provided, amend its articles of incorporation. Such amendment altering the articles may be adopted by the vote of the holders of two-thirds of the voting power of all persons present or represented by proxy entitled under the articles to vote.

The articles of amendment or multiple originals thereof shall be approved and recorded in the same manner as that provided herein for the original articles of incorporation.

A. Every domestic and redomesticated insurer shall keep its books, records, documents, accounts, and vouchers in such manner that its financial condition, affairs, and operations can be ascertained and so that its financial statements filed with the commissioner can be readily verified and its compliance with the law determined. Such insurer may cause any or all such books, records, documents, accounts, and vouchers to be photographed, reproduced on film, or maintained electronically in electronic data processing equipment. Any such photographs, microphotographs, optical imaging, electronic, or film reproductions of any original books, records, documents, accounts, and vouchers shall for all purposes be considered the same as the originals thereof and a transcript, exemplification, or certified copy of any such photograph, microphotograph, optical imaging, electronic, or film reproduction shall for all purposes be deemed to be a transcript, exemplification, or certified copy of the original. At a minimum all such original records shall be maintained for the period commencing on the first day following the last period examined by the commissioner through the subsequent examination period, or five years, whichever is greater. Such original records may, however, be kept and maintained outside this state if, according to a plan adopted by the company's board of directors and filed with the commissioner, it maintains suitable records in lieu thereof.

C. Any domestic company may maintain for its securities a limited agency, custodial or depository account, or other type of account for the safekeeping of those securities; collecting the income from those securities; and providing supportive accounting services relating to such safekeeping and collection; all provided the domestic company maintains full investment discretion over those securities. The commissioner of insurance is hereby authorized to promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to this Subsection.

D. Any director, officer, agent, or employee of any company who destroys any such books, records, or documents without the authority of the commissioner in violation of this Section or who fails to keep the books, records, documents, accounts, and vouchers required by this Section shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars.

A. If the insurer against whom the petition for liquidation is filed be a corporation and the petition prays for dissolution of such insurer, the court shall have jurisdiction either before or after final liquidation of the property, business, and affairs of such insurer, after citation of an order to show cause as aforesaid and a full hearing, to enter a decree dissolving such insurer. The court may likewise, regardless of whether an order of liquidation is sought or has been obtained, upon proper petition by the commissioner of insurance, order dissolution of an insurer when it has failed to qualify for a certificate of authority authorizing it to commence the transaction of its business, or when an insurer has no assets and no means for payment of liabilities. In any such decree of dissolution, the court may, upon satisfactory demonstration that all of the assets of the insurer shall be applied to payment of liabilities of the insurer in the manner and priority as provided by law, and after such notice and hearing as the court shall require, issue an order discharging the insurer of all unsatisfied liabilities.

B. Notwithstanding any provision of Subsection A of this Section, upon application by the commissioner of insurance and following notice as prescribed by the court and a hearing, the court may authorize the commissioner of insurance to sell the corporation as an entity, together with any of its licenses to do business, despite the entry of an order of liquidation. The sale may be made on terms and conditions the court deems appropriate including but not limited to the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of the corporate entity and licenses for the benefit of policyholders and creditors in the manner set forth in R.S. 22:2025. The legal existence of a legal entity that is placed under an order of rehabilitation, liquidation, or conservation shall be terminated only if the court orders its dissolution as a legal entity, as provided in this Section.

§ 75. Change of state of domicile of admitted insurer; conversion to foreign insurer; effects of redomestication

A. Any insurer which is organized under the laws of any other state and is admitted to do business in this state for the purpose of writing insurance may, upon approval of the commissioner of insurance, become a domestic insurer by complying with all of the requirements of law relative to the organization and licensing of a domestic insurer of the same type and by designating its principal place of business at a place in this state. The domestic insurer shall be entitled to like certificates and licenses to transact business in Louisiana and shall be subject to the authority and jurisdiction of this state.

B. Any domestic insurer may, upon the approval of the commissioner of insurance, transfer its domicile to any other state in which it is admitted to transact the business of insurance and, upon such a transfer, shall cease to be a domestic insurer and shall be admitted to this state if qualified as a foreign insurer. The commissioner of insurance may approve any such proposed transfer unless he determines such transfer to not be in the interest of the policyholders of this state.

C. The certificate of authority, agents, appointments and licenses, rates, and other items which the commissioner of insurance allows, in his discretion, which are in existence at the time any insurer licensed to transact the business of insurance in this state transfers its corporate domicile to this or any other state by merger, consolidation, or any other lawful method shall continue in full force and effect upon such transfer if such insurer remains duly qualified to transact the business of insurance in Louisiana. All outstanding policies of any transferring insurer shall remain in full force and effect and need not be endorsed as to the new name of the company or its new location unless so ordered by the commissioner of insurance. Every transferring insurer shall file new policy forms with the commissioner of insurance on or before the effective date of the transfer but may use existing policy forms, with appropriate endorsements, if allowed by and under such conditions as approved by the commissioner of insurance. However, every such transferring insurer shall notify the commissioner of insurance of the details of the proposed transfer and shall promptly file any resulting amendments to corporate documents which are filed or required to be filed with the commissioner of insurance.

D. The commissioner may refuse any redomestication pursuant to this Section if the insurer has ceased writing a sub-line of health insurance or otherwise issues a policy in the same sub-line in the state within the prior five years.

A. (1) All sales of stock as defined in this Section shall be made in accordance with the regulations contained in this Section.

(2) When used in this Section, the following terms shall have the following respective meanings:

(a)(i) "Security" as used in this Section shall include any insurance stock, note, stock, treasury stock, bond, debenture, evidence of indebtedness, certificate of interest, or participation in any profit-sharing agreement, collateral-trust certificate, preorganization certificate, or certificate of deposit for security, any certificate of deposit, or group or index of securities, or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a "security", or any certificate of interest or participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing issued by an insurance company, an investment, or holding company with a stated purpose, either by charter or prospectus, of forming an insurance company.

(ii) For the purposes of this Section, security shall not mean any insurance or endowment policy or annuity contract under which any insurance company promises to pay a fixed number of dollars either in a lump sum or periodically for life or some other specified period nor any variable life or annuity contract as provided for in and regulated by this Title and issued by a life insurance company licensed to do business in the state of Louisiana.

(b) "Person" shall include a natural person, a corporation created under the laws of this state, or of any other state, country, sovereignty, or political subdivision thereof, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, and any unincorporated association or organization.

(c) "Sale" or "sell" shall include every disposition, or attempt to dispose of a security as defined in this Section or interest in such a security for value.

Any security as defined in this Section given or delivered with, or as a bonus on account of, any purchase of such securities or any other thing, shall be conclusively presumed to constitute a part of the subject of such purchase and to have been sold for value. "Sale" or "sell" shall also include an exchange, an attempt to sell, an option of sale, a solicitation of a sale, a subscription of an offer to sell, directly or by an agent, or a circular, letter, advertisement, or otherwise, except an isolated transaction in which any security as defined in this Section is sold, offered for sale or delivery by the owner not being made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of a like character by such owner, provided the owner is not the underwriter of such security.

commodity or commission or at a profit, or who deals in futures or differences in market quotations of prices or values of any such securities; however, the word "dealer" shall not include a person having no place of business in this state who sells or offers to sell securities exclusively to brokers or dealers actually engaged in buying and selling such securities as a business.

The commissioner shall have the power to deny this exemption with reference to any particular security listed on any such exchanges, by order published in such manner as the commissioner shall find proper.

(2) Securities appearing in any list of securities dealt in on any other recognized and responsible stock exchange which has been previously approved by the commissioner, and which securities have been so listed pursuant to official authorization by such exchange, and also all securities senior to any securities so listed, or represented by subscription rights which have been so listed, or evidences of indebtedness guaranteed by companies any stock of which is so listed, such securities to be exempt only so long as such listing shall remain in effect. The commissioner shall have power at any time to withdraw approval theretofore granted by him to any exchange, and upon such withdrawal no security listed on such exchange shall be entitled to the benefit of such exemption, unless such security is also listed upon an exchange mentioned in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection, and has not been denied this exemption by the commissioner as provided in Paragraph (1).

(3) Any security, other than common stock, providing for a fixed return which has been outstanding and in the hands of the public for a period of not less than five years, upon which no default in payment of principal or failure to pay the return fixed, has occurred for a continuous immediately preceding period of five years.

C. (1) Except as hereinafter expressly provided, the provisions of this Section shall not apply to the sale of any security in any of the following transactions:

(a) At any judicial, executor's, administrator's, tutor's, curator's, or liquidator's sale, or at any sale by a receiver, syndic, or trustee in insolvency or bankruptcy.

(b) By or for the account of a pledge holder or mortgagee selling or offering for sale or delivery in the ordinary course of business, and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this Section, to liquidate a bona fide debt, a security pledged in good faith as security for such debt.

(c) An isolated transaction in which any security is sold, offered for sale, subscription, or delivery by the owner thereof, or by his representative for the owner's account, such sale or offer for sale, subscription, or delivery not being made in the course of repeated and successive transactions of a like character by such owner, or on his account by such representative, and such owner or representative not being the underwriter of such security.

(d) The distribution by a corporation, actively engaged in the business authorized by its charter, of securities to its stockholders or other security holders as a stock dividend or other distribution out of earnings or surplus; or the issuance of securities to the security holders or other creditors of a corporation in the process of a bona fide reorganization or liquidation of such corporation made in good faith and not for the purpose of avoiding the provisions of this Section, either in exchange for the securities of such security holders or claims of such creditors or partly for cash and partly in exchange for the securities or claims of such security holders or creditors; or the issuance of additional capital stock of a corporation sold or distributed by it among its own stockholders exclusively, where no commission or other remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly in connection with the sale or distribution of such increased capital stock.

(e) The transfer or exchange by one corporation to another corporation of their own securities in connection with a consolidation or merger of such corporations, or in the exchange of outstanding shares for a greater or smaller number of shares of the same corporation.

(g) The sale by a registered dealer, acting either as principal or agent, of securities theretofore sold and distributed to the public, provided that:

(i) Such securities are sold at prices reasonably related to the current market price thereof at the time of sale, and if such registered dealer is acting as agent, the commission collected by such registered dealer on account of the sale thereof is not in excess of usual and customary commissions collected with respect to securities and transactions having comparable characteristics; and

(ii) Such securities do not constitute an unsold allotment to or subscription by such dealer as a participant in the distribution of such securities by the issuer or by or through an underwriter; and

(iii) Either Moody's, Standard and Poor's, or Fetch securities manuals, or any other recognized securities manuals approved by the commissioner of insurance, contain the names of the issuer's officers and directors, a balance sheet of the issuer as of a date not more than eighteen months prior to the date of such sale, and a profit and loss statement for either the fiscal year preceding that date or the most recent year of operations.

(2) The commissioner may revoke the exemption afforded by this Subsection with respect to any securities by issuing an order to that effect if he finds that the further sale of such securities in this state would work or tend to work a fraud on purchasers thereof.

D. (1) No insurance securities or securities in an investment or holding company with a stated purpose, either by charter or prospectus, of forming an insurance company shall be sold within this state unless such securities have been registered as hereinafter defined. Registration of stocks as defined in this Section, shall be deemed to include the registration of rights to subscribe to such stock if the statement under Subsection E of this Section required for registration of such stock includes any provision that such rights are to be issued. A record of the registration of insurance securities or securities in an investment or holding company as defined in Subsection A of this Section shall be kept in a register of securities to be kept in the office of the commissioner, in which register shall also be recorded any orders entered by the commissioner with respect to such securities. Such registration, and all information with respect to the securities registered in accordance with this Section, shall be open to public inspection.

(2) The commissioner of insurance shall have the right to adopt such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this Section.

(3) The commissioner of insurance may take depositions, compel production of books and records, subpoena witnesses or documentary evidence, administer oaths, and examine under oath any individual relative to the sale of securities as defined in this Section. Any person who testifies falsely or makes any false affidavit during the course of such an examination under this Section shall be guilty of perjury.

E. (1) Securities as defined in this Section shall be registered by the filing of the issuer, or of any dealer registered with the office of the commissioner of insurance, in the office of the commissioner with respect to such securities of the following:

(a) Name of issuer, location, and, if incorporated, place of incorporation.

(b) A brief description of the security, including amount of the issue.

(c) Amount of securities to be offered in the state.

(d) The par value, the price at which the securities are to be offered for sale to the public, and a statement as to how the proceeds are to be used, including commissions to be paid, which commissions, however, shall in no event exceed fifteen percent.

(e) A copy of the circular or prospectus to be used by the issuer or dealer for the public offering.

(f) Any other information or documents required by the commissioner of insurance.

(2) Every statement required to be filed with the commissioner under any of the provisions of this Section shall be transmitted by United States mail, and the commissioner shall never receive nor shall he be authorized to receive or accept for filing any statement or documents transmitted to him by any mode other than by United States mail.

(3) The filing of such statement and documents in the office of the commissioner, and the payment of the fee provided for in this Subsection shall, after being authorized by the commissioner, constitute the registration of such securities. Upon such registration, such securities may be sold in this state by any registered dealer, subject, however, to the further order of the commissioner as provided in this Subsection. Every registration under this Section for an insurance company on primary issues of stock shall expire in accordance with the statutory provisions of R.S. 22:85. Every registration under this Section for an investment or holding company, or on issued and outstanding shares of stock of an insurance company, shall expire on December thirty-first of each year, but new registrations for the succeeding period or succeeding year, as the case may be, shall be issued upon written application and upon payment of the fee as provided in this Subsection.

(4) If, at any time in the opinion of the commissioner, the information contained in the statement, circular, or prospectus filed is, or has become, misleading, incorrect, inadequate, or incomplete, or the sale or offering for sale of the security as defined in this Section may work or tend to work a fraud, the commissioner may require from the person filing such statement such further information as may in his judgment be necessary to establish the classification of such security as claimed in said statement, or to enable the commissioner to ascertain whether other steps should be taken and the registration rejected or revoked on any ground specified in Subsection F of this Section and the commissioner may refuse to register or suspend the right to sell such security pending further investigation by entering an order specifying the grounds for such action, and by notifying by mail, or personally, or by telephone confirmed in writing, or by telegraph, the person filing such a statement and documents, and every registered dealer who shall have notified the commissioner of an intention to sell such security. The refusal to furnish information required by the commissioner within a reasonable time to be fixed by the commissioner may be a proper ground for the entry of such order of suspension. The commissioner shall notify every registered dealer of such order and upon the entry of any such order of suspension, no further sales of such security shall be made until the further order of the commissioner.

(5) In the event of the entry of such order of rejection or suspension, the aggrieved party may demand a prompt hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq. If no hearing is timely requested the commissioner shall enter a final order prohibiting sales of such security, with his findings with respect thereto. Until the entry of such final order, the rejection or suspension of the right to sell, though binding upon the persons notified thereof, shall be deemed confidential, and shall not be published, unless it shall appear that the order of suspension has been violated after notice. If, however, upon a hearing the division of administrative law shall find that the security being offered for sale will neither be fraudulent nor result in fraud, the commissioner shall forthwith enter an order revoking such order of suspension and such security shall be restored to its status as a security registered under this Section as of the date of such order of suspension.

(6) At the time of filing the statement and documents enumerated in this Subsection and upon re-registration, the applicant shall pay to the commissioner a fee of one-twentieth of one percent of the aggregate price of such securities to be sold in this state, for which the applicant is seeking registration, but in no case shall such fee be less than twenty-five dollars or more than two hundred dollars. The commissioner of insurance is authorized to withhold the funds collected under this Section to defray the expenses actually and necessarily incurred by him for salaries and expenses in carrying out the purposes of this Section.

F. Revocation of registration of securities as defined in this Section.

(1) The commissioner may revoke the registration of any security as defined in this Section by entering an order to that effect, with his findings in respect thereto, if upon the examination into the affairs of the issuer, it shall appear that the company:

(a) Is insolvent.

(b) Has violated any of the provisions of this Section, or any order of the commissioner of which such issuer has notice, or any of the rules and regulations adopted by the commissioner of insurance under this Section.

(c) Has been or is engaged or is about to engage in a fraudulent transaction.

(d) Is in any other way dishonest or has made any fraudulent representations in any prospectus or in any circular or other literature that has been distributed concerning the issuer or its securities.

(e) Is of bad business repute.

(f) Does not conduct its business in accordance with law.

(g) That the affairs of the insurance company or other company issuing such securities are in an unsound condition.

(h) That the enterprise or business or the security offered is not based upon sound business principles.

(2) In making such examination, the commissioner shall have access to and may compel the production of all the books and papers of such insurance company or other company issuing such securities, subpoena witnesses, and administer oaths to and examine the officers of such issuer, or any expert, whose statement was filed by any issuer in connection with an application, or any other person connected therewith as to its business and affairs, and may also require a balance sheet exhibiting the assets and liabilities of any such issuer or its income statement, or both, to be certified to by a public accountant either of this state, or of any other state approved by the commissioner. The commissioner may also require that any statement made on the authority of any expert be verified by another expert to be selected by the commissioner.

(3) Whenever the commissioner may deem it necessary, he may also require such balance sheets or income statements or statements of experts to be made more specific in such particulars as the commissioner of insurance shall point out, or to be brought down to the latest practicable date.

(4) If any issuer of securities as defined in this Section shall refuse to permit an examination to be made by the commissioner, or if it should refuse or fail to cause, at its own expense, any statement or valuation required to be made by an expert to be verified by another expert selected by the commissioner, it shall be proper ground for revocation of registration.

(5) If the commissioner shall deem it necessary, he may enter an order suspending the right to sell such securities pending any investigation provided that the order shall state the grounds for taking such action.

(6) Notice of the entry of such order shall be given by mail, or personally, or by telephone confirmed in writing, or by telegraph, to the issuer of such securities, which company shall in turn notify every registered dealer.

(7) If an order of revocation is entered, the aggrieved party may demand a prompt hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq. If a hearing is not timely requested, the commissioner shall enter a final order revoking the registration of the security, with his findings with respect thereto. However, if upon a hearing, the division of administrative law finds that the revocation of the security was not according to law, the commissioner shall enter an order revoking the order of revocation and such security shall be restored to its status as a security registered pursuant to this Section as of the date of the order of suspension.

G. Consent to service. Upon any application for registration where the issuer is not domiciled in this state, there shall be filed with such application the irrevocable written consent of the issuer that in suits, proceedings, and actions growing out of the violation of any provision of this Section, the service on the commissioner of any notice, process, or pleadings therein, authorized by law, shall be as valid and binding as if due service had been made on the issuer. Any such action shall be brought either in the parish of the plaintiff's domicile or in the parish of East Baton Rouge. Said written consent shall be authenticated by the seal of said issuer, if it has a seal, and by the acknowledged signature of a member of the co-partnership or company, or by the acknowledged signature of any officer of the incorporated or unincorporated association, if it be an incorporated or unincorporated association, duly authorized by resolution of the board of directors, trustees, or managers of the corporation or association, and shall in such case be accompanied by a duly certified copy of the resolution of the board of directors, trustees, or managers of the corporation or association authorizing the officers to execute same. In case any process or pleadings mentioned in this Section are served upon the commissioner, it shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the commissioner and another immediately forwarded by the commissioner by registered mail to the principal office of the issuer against which said process or pleadings are directed.

H. Registration of dealers and salesmen.

(1) No dealer or salesman shall engage in business in this state as such dealer or salesman or sell any securities as defined in this Section unless he has been registered as a dealer or salesman in the office of the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of this Section.

(2) An application for registration, in writing, shall be sent by United States mail to the commissioner to be filed in the office of the commissioner in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, duly verified by oath, which shall state the principal place of business or office of the applicant, wherever situated, and the location of the principal office and all branch offices in this state, if any, the name or style of doing business, the names, residence, and business addresses of all persons interested in the business as principals, co-partners, officers, and directors, specifying as to each his capacity and title, the general plan and character of business, and the length of time the dealer has been engaged in business. The commissioner may also require such additional information as to the applicant's previous history, record, and association as he may deem necessary to establish the good repute in business of the applicant.

(3) There shall be filed by each dealer with such application for registration, where such dealer is not domiciled in this state, an irrevocable written consent of the dealer that in all suits, proceedings, or actions growing out of the violation of any provision of this Section, the service on the commissioner of any notice, process, or pleading therein authorized by the laws of this state, shall be as valid and binding as if due service had been made on the dealer. The place for bringing any such action and the manner in which the written consent shall be authenticated are the same as outlined in Subsection G of this Section.

(4) If the commissioner shall find that the applicant is of good repute and has complied with the provisions of this Section, including the payment of the fee provided for in this Subsection, he shall register such applicant as a dealer.

(5) Upon the written application of a registered dealer and general satisfactory showing as to good character and the payment of the proper fee, the commissioner shall register as a salesman of such dealer such natural person as the dealer may request. Such registration shall cease upon the termination of the employment of such salesman by such dealer.

(6) The names and addresses of all persons approved for registration as dealers or salesmen and all order with respect thereto shall be recorded in a register of dealers and salesmen kept in the office of the commissioner, which shall be open to public inspection. Every registration under this Section shall expire on December thirty-first of each year, but new registrations for the succeeding year shall be issued upon written application and upon payment of the fee as provided for in this Subsection without filing of further statements or furnishing any further information, unless specifically required by the commissioner. Applications for renewals must be made not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days before the first day of the ensuing year, otherwise they shall be treated as original applications.

(7) The fee for such registration and for each annual renewal shall be fifty dollars in the case of dealers and ten dollars in the case of salesmen. The commissioner of insurance is authorized to withhold the funds collected under this Section to defray the expenses actually and necessarily incurred by him for salaries and expenses in carrying out the purposes of this Section.

(8) Changes in registration occasioned by changes in the personnel of a partnership or in the principals, co-partners, officers, or directors of any dealer may be made from time to time by written application setting forth the facts with respect to such change.

(9) Any issuer of a security as defined in this Section required to be registered under the provisions of this Section, selling such securities except in exempt transactions as herein defined shall be deemed a dealer within the meaning of this Section and required to comply with all the provisions hereof.

I. Revocation of dealers' and salesmen's registration.

(1) Registration pursuant to Subsection H of this Section may be refused or any registration granted may be revoked by the commissioner if the commissioner determines that such applicant or registrant so registered has committed any of the following acts:

(a) Has violated any provision of this Section or any regulation made hereunder pursuant to this Section.

(b) Has made a material false statement in the application for registration.

(c) Has been guilty of a fraudulent act in connection with any sale of securities as defined in this Section, or has been or is engaged or is about to engage in making fictitious or pretended sales or purchases of any such securities or has been or is engaged or is about to engage in any practice or sale of such securities which is fraudulent or in violation of the law.

(d) Has demonstrated his unworthiness to transact the business of dealer or salesman.

(2) In cases of charges against a salesman, notice thereof shall also be given the dealer employing such salesman.

(3) The aggrieved party whose registration is refused or revoked may demand a hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, if a hearing is timely requested by the aggrieved party, the commissioner's order or act shall be stayed until the decision of the division of administrative law is issued. The commissioner may seek an expedited hearing before the division of administrative law to suspend the registration, pending the outcome of the main hearing.

(4) Until the entry of a final order by the division of administrative law, any suspension of such dealer's registration, though binding upon the persons notified thereof, shall be deemed confidential, and shall not be published unless it shall appear that the order of suspension has been violated after notice.

(5) In the event the commissioner determines to refuse or to revoke a registration as provided in this Subsection, he shall enter a final order herein with his findings on the register of dealers and salesmen; and suspension or revocation of the registration of a dealer shall also suspend or revoke the registration of all his salesmen.

(6) It shall be sufficient cause for refusal or cancellation of registration in case of a partnership or corporation or any unincorporated association, if any member of a partnership or any officer or director of the corporation or association has been guilty of any act or omission which would be cause for refusing or revoking the registration of an individual dealer or salesman.

J. Escrow agreement. If the statement containing information as to insurance securities which are required to be registered shall disclose that any such insurance securities shall have been or shall be intended to be issued for any organization or promotion fees or expenses, the amount and nature thereof shall be fully set forth and the commissioner may require that such insurance securities so issued in payment for organization or promotion fees or expenses shall be delivered in escrow to the commissioner or other depository satisfactory to the commissioner under an escrow agreement that the owners of such insurance securities shall not be entitled to withdraw such insurance securities from escrow until all other stockholders who have paid for their stock in cash shall have been paid a dividend or dividends aggregating not less than six percent, shown to the satisfaction of said commissioner to have actually been earned on the investment in any stock so held, and in case of dissolution or insolvency during the time such insurance securities are held in escrow, the owners of such insurance securities shall not participate in the assets until after the owners of all other securities shall have been paid in full.

K. Injunctions.

(1) Whenever it shall appear to the commissioner, either upon complaint or otherwise, that in the issuance, sale, promotion, negotiation, advertisement, or distribution of any securities as defined in this Section within this state, any person has committed any of the following acts, the commissioner may investigate and, upon evidence satisfactory to him, may, in addition to any other remedies, bring action in the name and on behalf of the state of Louisiana against such person and any other person or persons concerned in or in any way participating in or about to participate in such fraudulent practices or acting in violation of this Section, to enjoin such person and such other person or persons from continuing such fraudulent practices or engaging therein or doing any act or acts in furtherance thereof, or in violation of this Section:

In such action, the district court of the domicile of any of the persons, firms, or corporations involved, or the district court of the parish of East Baton Rouge shall have jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter, and a judgment may be entered awarding such injunctive relief as may be proper.

L. Remedies. This Section shall never be construed to repeal any law now in force regulating the organization of insurance companies in this state or the admission of any foreign insurance company, but the provisions of this Section shall be additional to any provisions otherwise regulating the business of insurance.

The insurer shall call upon its stockholders ratably for such amount as is necessary to make up the impairment.

If any stockholder refuses or neglects to pay the amount called for after proper notice, the insurer, through its directors, shall require the return of the certificate of stock held by such stockholder and issue to him in lieu thereof new certificates for such number of shares as he may be entitled to in proportion that the ascertained value of the assets of the corporation, as determined by the commissioner of insurance, bears to its original capital, the corporation paying for any fractional parts of shares. The directors may create new stock and issue certificates therefor and dispose of the same at not less than par for an amount sufficient to make up the original capital of the corporation. If the amount of any such impairment or deficiency cannot be made good within the time specified, the commissioner of insurance may proceed against the company in the manner provided in R.S. 22:73, 96, and Chapter 9 of this Title and Subpart H of Part III of this Chapter.

In that event, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to call in the old certificates of stock and issue new certificates of stock and issue new certificates for the number of shares which each stockholder is entitled to in the proportion that the reduced capital bears to the original capital.

A. (1) Every funeral policy shall state the dollar value of the funeral to be furnished and shall specify therein those benefits which shall constitute the funeral to be furnished. If upon the death of the insured, the dollar value of the funeral to be furnished, as stated in the policy or policies, is less than the retail price of the funeral benefits specified in the policy or policies, the beneficiary shall be entitled to a cash payment which shall be equal to one hundred percent of the face amount of the policy or policies.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature that under no circumstances shall an insurer be required to provide services or reimburse to a beneficiary at amounts greater than the stated dollar amount of the policy.

(3) The provisions of this Subsection are interpretive of this Subpart and are intended to explain the original intent.

(4) The provisions of this Subsection shall be applicable to all claims existing or actions pending on July 6, 2004, and all claims arising or actions filed on or after July 6, 2004. The provisions of this Paragraph shall not be construed to affect any claim arising from or involving any misrepresentation as to the terms and conditions of the policy by an insurer or its agent to the insured.

B. (1) If for any reason the beneficiary does not avail himself of the contractual services as set forth in the funeral policy, in lieu thereof, the policy shall provide for a stated cash payment, which shall not be less than one hundred percent of the face amount of the policy on policies written after January 1, 1978.

(2) If the casket offered is not the casket described in the policy, the beneficiary may choose to not accept the offered casket and the funeral provider shall agree to substitute a casket other than the one offered by the funeral provider. The beneficiary shall be entitled to select and purchase the substitute casket at retail without forfeiting the remaining contractual funeral services specifically enumerated in the policy.

(3) If for any other reason the beneficiary and the funeral provider agree to substitute a casket other than the one described in the policy, the beneficiary shall be entitled to select and purchase the substitute casket at retail without forfeiting the remaining contractual funeral services specifically enumerated in the policy.

C. Every funeral policy which includes among its benefits the payment for burial lot, tombstone, marker, plot, tomb, vault or coping shall state in dollars the value of the said benefits, and shall specify therein those things which shall constitute the said benefits to be furnished. Such policy shall be valued without the reduction of reserves provided for in R.S. 22:751. In the event such services are not furnished or paid for by the insurer then the amount of insurance shall be paid in cash to the beneficiary by the insurer, at the option of the beneficiary.

D. No funeral service policies as described in R.S. 22:131(1), 142, 143, 192, and 197 shall be sold after 12:00 midnight July 31, 1997.

All domestic insurers organized after 12:00 noon on July 27, 1960, qualifying to write industrial life insurance only, shall, in lieu of the capital requirements of R.S. 22:81, or the minimum surplus requirements of R.S. 22:111 and 22:114, have a paid-in capital of thirty thousand dollars, and a minimum surplus of thirty thousand dollars, if a stock insurer, or a minimum surplus of sixty thousand dollars, if a mutual insurer, before beginning business.

§ 146. Nonforfeiture benefits

A. From and after twelve o'clock noon of October 1, 1948, no policy of industrial life insurance, other than a term policy of twenty years or less, shall be issued or delivered in this state unless the same shall contain in substance the following provisions: that in the event of default of premium payments, after premiums have been paid for five years, the insured shall be entitled to a stipulated form of insurance, or a cash value, the net value of which shall be at least equal to two-thirds of the reserve on the policy at the end of the policy quarter year nearest to the date to which premiums have been paid, computed in accordance with R.S. 22:751 from which any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy shall be deducted, provided that the said reserve shall not be less than the legal minimum standard, as provided in this Code, for such valuation of policies, and that in computing paid-up or extended insurance granted as a nonforfeiture benefit under this section, the insurer may use single premiums based upon the Standard Industrial Table of Mortality with interest at not more than three and one-half percent per annum.

B. Within eight weeks after the due date of the first defaulted premium on policies of industrial life insurance on which premiums have been paid for five full years, application shall be made in writing by the assured, on blanks to be furnished by the insurer at the insured's request for that purpose, for paid-up insurance, payable at the same time, and under the same conditions, except as to payment of premiums, as the original policy, or for the continuance of the insurance in force at its full amount, less any indebtedness to the insurer, for such period as the net reserve will purchase, or for cash value of the policy, all computed as provided in this Section. The term of temporary insurance herein provided for shall include the period of grace, if any. If no option herein provided for shall be availed of by the assured, the reserve herein provided, without further action on the part of the assured, shall be applied either to purchase paid-up insurance or to continue the insurance in force at its full amount as provided in this Section. However, in the case of any endowment policy, if the sum applicable to the purchase of temporary insurance be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the endowment term named in the policy the excess shall be used to purchase in the same amount pure endowment insurance payable at the end of the endowment term named in the policy under the conditions on which the original policy was issued. The policy shall state which of the two forms will be automatic. In calculating nonforfeiture values as herein provided there shall be included all dividend additions from participating policies.

C. The insurer shall, at any time after five full years' premiums have been paid at the request of the insured in writing, furnish the insured with a statement showing the nonforfeiture benefits available under his policy in terms of dollars, and years, months and days of insurance protection, unless this information is shown by appropriate tables in his policy.

D. Any condition or stipulation in any policy of industrial life insurance contrary to the provisions of this section, or any attempted waiver of such provisions shall be void. Nothing in this section shall limit the right of industrial life insurers to include multiple indemnity benefits in any policy issued by them.

E. A table or tables showing the cash value and the insurance available as an automatic option must be included in each policy, except funeral policies which must contain a table showing the insurance available as an automatic option.

The provisions of R.S. 22:146 shall not apply to any policy issued by any industrial insurer under the provisions of R.S. 22:936.

§ 148. Powers of existing industrial insurers

Industrial insurers already organized and qualified under the industrial laws of this state as of twelve o'clock noon of October 1, 1948, shall continue to have the same underwriting powers they had as of that date without the necessity of meeting the increased capital or deposit requirements of this Code. All policies issued subsequent to twelve o'clock noon of October 1, 1948, by such insurers must conform to the provisions of this code, except as to the amount of insurance which may be written on a single life. No industrial insurer, not authorized to write policies in excess of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars as of twelve o'clock noon of October 1, 1948, can acquire such authority except by conversion to another type insurer, provided, however, that when any domestic industrial insurer, not so previously authorized, shall meet the minimum capital, surplus and deposit requirements, if a stock company, or the minimum initial surplus and deposit requirements, if a mutual company, required by this Code of an ordinary insurer, it may, after appropriate charter amendment and without conversion to an ordinary insurer, or after conversion, issue industrial insurance on a single life in an amount not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars exclusive of multiple indemnity, subject to all other provisions of this Subpart applicable to industrial insurers except as to amount.

§ 149. Required policy provisions

A. All industrial life insurance policies, delivered or issued for delivery in this state, shall contain, in substance, the following provisions, or provisions submitted by the insurer which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are more favorable to policyholders:

(1) Grace period. A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace period of four weeks within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made, except that where premiums are payable monthly, or less frequently, the period of grace shall be either one month or thirty days, during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim within said grace period any overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

(2) The contract. A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, or at the option of the insurer, a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and in the latter case the policy must contain a provision that all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed to be representations and not warranties.

(3) Incontestability. A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it shall have been in force during the lifetime of the insured for a specified period, not more than two years from its date, except for nonpayment of premiums and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relative to naval or military service, or services auxiliary thereto, and except as to provisions relating to benefits in the event of disability as defined in the policy, and those granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident or by accidental means, or to additional insurance against loss of, or loss of use of, specific members of the body. Provided a clause in any policy of industrial life insurance issued under this Code providing such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only the contest of the validity of the policy, and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions which exclude or restrict coverages approved in this Paragraph whether or not such restriction or exclusions are excepted in such clause; nor upon a provision regarding misstatement of age as provided in Paragraph (4) of this Subsection, whether or not such provision is excepted in such clause.

(4) Misstatement of age. A provision that if the age of the person insured, or the age of any other person considered in determining the premium, has been misstated, any amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age or ages.

(5) Participating policy. If the policy is a participating policy, a provision that the insurer shall periodically ascertain and apportion any divisible surplus accruing on the policy.

(6) Reinstatement. A provision that the policy may be reinstated at any time within one year from the due date of the premium in default unless the cash surrender value has been paid, or the extension period expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability including good health satisfactory to the insurer and the payment of all overdue premiums and any unpaid loans or advances made by the insurer against the policy with interest at a rate not exceeding six percent payable annually.

(7) Claim provision. A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death or after a specified period not exceeding two months after receipt of such proof.

(8) Subject of insurance. A title on the face of the policy briefly describing its form.

(9) Beneficiary requirement. A space on the front or back page of the policy for the name of the beneficiary designated with a reservation of the right to designate or change the beneficiary after the issuance of the policy. The policy may also provide that no designation or change of beneficiary shall be binding on the insurer until endorsed on the policy by the insurer, and that the insurer may refuse to endorse the name of any proposed beneficiary who does not appear to the insurer to have an insurable interest in the life of the insured. Such policy may also contain a provision that the insurer may make any payment or grant any non-forfeiture provision to any of the insured's relatives by blood or legal adoption or connection by marriage, or to any person appearing to the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto by reason of having been named beneficiary, or by reason of having incurred expense for the maintenance, medical attention, or burial of the insured, and the production by the insurer of a receipt signed by any of said persons shall be evidence that such payment or privilege has been made or granted to the person or persons entitled thereto and that all claims under the policy have been fully satisfied.

B. Exclusions and limitations. No policy of industrial life insurance issued under this Section shall contain any provision which excludes or restricts liability for death caused in a certain specified manner or occurring while the insured has a specified status, except the following provisions, or provisions which in the opinion of the insurance commissioner are substantially the same or more favorable to the policyholders:

(1) Provisions excluding or restricting coverage in the event of death occurring:

(a) As a result of war declared or undeclared under conditions specified in the policy.

(b) While in:

(i) The military, naval, or air forces of any country at war declared or undeclared.

(ii) Any ambulance, medical, hospital, or civilian noncombatant units serving with such forces, either while serving with or within six months after termination of service in such forces or units.

(c) As a result of self-destruction while sane or insane within two years from the date of issue of the policy.

(d) As a result of aviation under conditions specified in the policy.

(e) Within two years from date of issue of the policy as a result of a specified hazardous occupation or occupations, or while the insured is residing in a specified foreign country or countries.

(2) In the event of death as to which there is an exclusion or restriction pursuant to Subparagraph (1)(a), (c), (d), or (e) of this Subsection, the insurer shall pay an amount not less than the reserve on the policy, together with the reserve for any paid-up additions thereto and any dividends standing to the credit of the policy, less any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued.

(3) In the event of death as to which there is an exclusion or restriction pursuant to Subparagraph (1)(b) of this Subsection, the insurer shall pay the greater of: (a) the amount specified in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection; or (b) the amount of the gross premiums charged on the policy less dividends paid in cash or used in the payment of premiums thereon and less any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued.

(4) None of the provisions of this Subsection shall apply to policies issued under R.S. 22:143 and 751(E), nor to any accidental benefits in the event such death be by accident or accidental means included in a life policy.

SUBPART H. MUTUAL INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANIES

§ 231. Mutual insurance holding companies

A domestic mutual insurance company, upon approval of the commissioner, may reorganize by forming a mutual insurance holding company based upon a mutual plan or by merging its policyholders' membership interests into such a mutual insurance holding company. The reorganized insurance company shall continue, without interruption, its corporate existence as a stock insurance company subsidiary to the mutual insurance holding company or as a stock insurance company subsidiary to an intermediate holding company which is a subsidiary of the mutual insurance holding company. A reorganization pursuant to this Section is subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:691.1 et seq., the Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Law.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:820 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Added by Acts 1997, No. 1482, § 1. Amended by Acts 2022, No. 161, § 1.

§ 232. Applicability of demutualization provisions

R.S. 22:71 and 72 are applicable to a demutualization of a mutual insurance holding company which resulted from the reorganization of a domestic mutual insurance company reorganized under this Subpart as if it were a mutual insurance company. R.S. 22:71 and 72 are not applicable to a reorganization or merger pursuant to this Subpart.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:821 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009.
Added by Acts 1997, No. 1482, § 1.

§ 232.1. Mutual insurance holding company plan of reorganization

A. An insurer seeking to reorganize under R.S. 22:231 shall submit a proposed plan of reorganization to the commissioner. The plan shall include the following:

(1) The establishment of a mutual insurance holding company with at least one stock insurance company subsidiary, the majority of shares of which must be owned, either directly or through an intermediate stock holding company, by the mutual insurance holding company.

(2) A statement analyzing the benefits and risks attendant to the proposed reorganization, including the rationale for the reorganization.

(3) A statement indicating how the reorganization will protect the immediate and long-term interests of policyholders.

(4) A statement providing for voting rights related to the corporate affairs of the mutual insurance holding company for existing policyholders of the reorganized insurance company consistent with the voting rights of policyholders of mutual insurance companies as set forth in this Title.

(5) A statement providing for voting rights of new policyholders of the reorganized insurance company with respect to the corporate affairs of the mutual insurance holding company consistent with the voting rights of policyholders of mutual insurance companies as set forth in this Title.

(6) A statement of the number of members of the board of directors of the mutual insurance holding company, unless provided for in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, a majority of whom must be policyholders of the reorganized insurance company.

(7) A copy of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the mutual insurance holding company, the reorganizing insurance company, and the intermediate holding company.

(8) The names, addresses, and biographical information of all corporate officers of the proposed mutual insurance holding company and the members of its board of directors in a format ordinarily required under this Subpart.

(9) Information sufficient to demonstrate that the financial condition of the reorganizing insurance company will not be diminished upon reorganization.

(10) A description of any plans for the initial sale of stock of the reorganizing insurance company or the intermediate holding company.

(11) Any other information requested by the commissioner, in accordance with regulations promulgated under the Administrative Procedure Act.¹

B. The commissioner, after a public hearing as provided in R.S. 22:691.4(E), if satisfied that the interests of the policyholders are properly protected and that the plan of reorganization is fair and equitable to the policyholders, shall approve the proposed plan of reorganization and may require as a condition of approval such modifications of the proposed plan of reorganization as the commissioner finds necessary for the protection of the policyholders' interests. The commissioner may not approve a reorganization of an insurer pursuant to R.S. 22:231 unless, with respect to such reorganization, an opinion has been obtained from an actuarial firm employing or associated with more than fifty actuaries who are members of the American Academy of Actuaries attesting that the reorganization of the insurer does not unfairly enrich the officers and directors of the reorganizing insurer. The commissioner may retain consultants as provided in R.S. 22:691.4(E)(5). A reorganization pursuant to R.S. 22:231 is subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:691.4(A), (B), (C), and (D).

C. The plan of reorganization shall be approved by a vote of two-thirds of the policyholders of the domestic mutual insurance company entitled to vote on matters coming before corporate meetings of the policyholders, present or represented by special ballot or special proxy, at a meeting of the policyholders convened for that purpose, after at least thirty days written notice to each policyholder at his last known address, or upon a greater percentage of vote where required by the charter of the mutual insurance company.

D. All of the initial shares of the capital stock of the reorganized insurance company shall be issued to the mutual insurance holding company or to an intermediate holding company which is a subsidiary of the mutual insurance holding company. Any membership interests of the policyholders of the reorganized insurance company shall become membership interests in the mutual insurance holding company. Policyholders of the reorganized insurance company shall be members of the mutual insurance holding company in accordance with the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the mutual insurance holding company, which shall provide that each policyholder of the reorganized insurance company shall be entitled to one vote on matters coming before corporate meetings of the mutual insurance holding company, subject to such reasonable minimum requirements as to duration of the policy and amount of insurance held as may be made in the mutual insurance holding company's charter or bylaws.

After filing the articles, the secretary of state shall deliver to the corporation or its representative a copy of the document with an acknowledgment of the date of filing. The secretary of state's filing of the articles of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence of the fact that the corporation has been duly incorporated except that in any proceeding brought by the state to annul, forfeit, or vacate a corporation's franchise, or by the commissioner to prohibit, suspend, or limit the corporation's right to conduct business as a mutual insurance holding company or an intermediate holding company, the certificate of incorporation shall be only prima facie evidence of due incorporation.

(4) Except as provided in R.S. 12:1-203(C), the corporate existence begins, and the corporation is duly incorporated when the articles of incorporation become effective as provided in R.S. 12:1-123.

mutual insurance holding company and the exercise of a member's voting rights shall be governed by R.S. 22:119 through 121 and a written proxy conferred upon another policyholder either prior to, contemporaneously with, or after a reorganization under R.S. 22:231, shall remain in force indefinitely until revoked by the member.

B. The commissioner, after a public hearing as provided in R.S. 22:691.4(E), may approve the proposed merger. The commissioner may retain consultants as provided in R.S. 22:691.4(E) (5). A merger pursuant to this Section is subject to R.S. 22:691.4(A), (B), (C), and (D). The reorganizing foreign mutual insurance company may remain a foreign company or foreign corporation after the merger and may be admitted to do business in this state.

C. A foreign mutual insurance company which is a party to the merger may at the same time redomesticate in this state by complying with the applicable requirements of this state and its state of domicile.

§ 232.4. Capital stock of a reorganized insurance company

A. (1) A mutual insurance holding company established pursuant to R.S. 22:231 shall at all times own a majority of the voting shares of the capital stock of insurance companies reorganized under R.S. 22:231.

(2) As used in this Section, "majority of the voting shares of the capital stock" means shares of the capital stock of the reorganized insurance company which carry the right to cast a majority of the votes entitled to be cast by all of the outstanding shares of the capital stock of the reorganized insurance company for the election of directors and on all other matters submitted to a vote of the shareholders of the reorganized insurance company.

(3) Ownership of a majority of the voting shares of the capital stock of the reorganized insurance company, which are required by this Section to be at all times owned by a parent mutual insurance holding company, includes indirect ownership through an intermediate holding company in a corporate structure approved by the commissioner. D. The shares of the capital stock of the surviving or new company resulting from a merger or consolidation of two or more reorganized insurance companies or two or more intermediate holding companies which were subsidiaries of the same mutual insurance holding company are subject to the same requirements, restrictions, and limitations as provided in this Section to which the shares of the merging or consolidating reorganized insurance companies or intermediate holding companies were subject by this Section prior to the merger or consolidation.

(2) A statement indicating how the reorganization will protect the immediate and long-term interests, and serve the best interests of policyholders.

(3) Copies of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the reorganized company and any affiliate parent corporation, stockholding companies, and reorganized insurers.

(4) Information sufficient to demonstrate that the financial condition of any reorganized insurer will not be diminished upon reorganization.

(5) A description of any plans for the initial sale of stock of the reorganizing mutual or any parent corporation or affiliate stockholding company.

B. The plan of reorganization shall:

(1) Provide that all membership interests in the reorganizing mutual shall be extinguished as of the effective date.

(2) Require the distribution of consideration, in a fair and equitable manner, to all eligible members upon extinguishment of the membership interests.

(3) Specify the manner in which the aggregate value of the consideration shall be determined and the method by which the consideration shall be allocated among eligible members.

(4) Provide dividend protections for the reasonable dividend expectations of policyholders of any reorganized insurer, all as set forth in R.S. 22:236.3.

C. The plan of reorganization shall have been duly adopted by action of not less than two-thirds of the members of the entire board of directors of the reorganizing mutual.

D. A plan of reorganization filed with the commissioner pursuant to this Section shall be accompanied by the proposed forms of notice required by R.S. 22:236.4(C) and 236.5(C).

E. All information, documents, and copies thereof obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner, the Department of Insurance, or its designated representative in the course of an examination of a proposed plan of reorganization shall be treated in accordance with R.S. 22:706.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:824 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009.

§ 236.3. Consideration and dividend protections

A. In effecting a conversion of a reorganizing mutual, each eligible member shall be entitled to consideration in an amount equal to his or its equitable share of the value of the reorganizing mutual as provided for in the plan of reorganization, as follows:

(1) The consideration to be distributed to eligible members may consist of cash, stock of the reorganized company or its parent corporation, or if appropriate for tax or other reasons, additional life insurance and annuity benefits, any combination of these forms of consideration, or other forms of consideration acceptable to the commissioner. The form or forms of consideration to be distributed to an eligible member may differ according to the class or category of policy owned by the eligible member. The choice of the form or forms of consideration to be distributed to eligible members in accordance with the class or category of policy owned by such members may take into account such factors as the type of policy with respect to which the consideration is being distributed and the amount being distributed with respect to such policies, the country of residence, or tax status of the member or other appropriate factors; however, if the consideration to be distributed to an eligible member will be in a form other than common stock of a publicly traded company, the plan of reorganization shall include provisions for determining, in a reasonable manner, the value of the consideration by means of reference to the per share public market value of the registered common stock of the reorganized company or its parent corporation or another method acceptable to the commissioner.

(2) The reorganizing mutual shall obtain an opinion addressed to the board of directors of the reorganizing mutual from a qualified investment banker that the provision of consideration upon the extinguishment of the membership interests pursuant to the plan of reorganization is fair to the eligible members, as a group, from a financial point of view.

B. The method of allocating consideration among eligible members shall be fair and equitable, as follows:

(1) The method shall provide for each eligible member to receive: (a) a fixed component of consideration or a variable component of consideration, or both; or (b) any other component of consideration acceptable to the commissioner. Components may reflect, based upon fair and equitable formulas, methods, and assumptions, factors such as estimated proportionate historical and prospective contributions to surplus of classes or groupings of policies and contracts to the aggregate component of consideration being distributed to eligible members, with each eligible member receiving a distribution in accordance with the type of policy owned by the eligible member, or other factors the commissioner may approve.

(2) The reorganizing mutual shall obtain an opinion addressed to the board of directors of the reorganizing mutual from an actuary who is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries that the methodology and underlying assumptions for allocation of consideration among eligible members are reasonable and appropriate and the resulting allocation is fair and equitable.

C. At the option of the reorganizing mutual, any shares of the reorganized insurer or its parent corporation included in the eligible members' consideration may be placed on the effective date of the reorganization in a trust or other entity existing for the exclusive benefit of eligible members and established for the purpose of effecting the reorganization, such consideration or the proceeds of the sale of such consideration to be distributed to such eligible members by means of a process specified in the plan of reorganization and not to last more than twenty-one years after the effective date of the reorganization or until notification of the death of the eligible member or the death of the insured, whichever occurs first.

D. (1) The plan of reorganization shall provide for the reasonable dividend expectations of policyholders of any reorganized insurer through the establishment, or in the case of a reorganizing mutual insurance holding company the continuation, of dividend protections, which may consist of a closed block or any other method acceptable to the commissioner. The sole purpose of any dividend protections shall be to provide for reasonable policyholder dividend expectations.

(2) Any dividend protections provision may be limited to participating individual life insurance policies and participating individual annuity contracts in force or deemed to be in force by the plan of reorganization on the effective date of the reorganization, or, in the case of a reorganized insurer in a mutual insurance holding company system, on the effective date of its reorganization as such, for which the insurer has or had an experience-based dividend scale due, paid or accrued by action of the board of directors of the insurer in the year in which the plan of reorganization is or was adopted; however, other categories of policies and benefits not described in this Paragraph may be included or excluded, subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(3) In the event that dividend protections have been provided to policyholders of a reorganized insurer as part of a previous plan of reorganization, such dividend protections may be continued in effect without change in satisfaction of the requirements of this Section.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:825 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Added by Acts 2008, No. 307, § 1, eff. June 17, 2008. Amended by Acts 2009, No. 503, § 1; Acts 2010, No. 730, § 1, eff. June 29, 2010.

§ 236.4. Approval by commissioner after public hearing

A. The commissioner shall hold a public hearing upon notice as set forth in this Section to hear evidence upon whether the plan of reorganization: properly protects the interests of the policyholders as such and as members, serves the best interests of policyholders and members, and is fair and equitable to policyholders and members. Subpart G-1 of Part III of this Chapter, R.S. 22:691.1 et seq., is not applicable to any hearing held under this Subpart, and any such hearing shall be governed by the procedures set forth in this Subpart.

B. (1) Within thirty days after the closing of the administrative record after the public hearing as provided in this Section, the commissioner shall issue a final order or decision approving the plan if satisfied that each of the following conditions are met:

(a) The interests of the policyholders as such and as members are properly protected.

(b) The plan of reorganization serves the best interests of policyholders and members.

(c) The plan of reorganization is fair and equitable to policyholders and members.

(2) Any such final decision or order by the commissioner shall be subject to any modifications of the plan of reorganization the commissioner finds necessary for the protection of the policyholders and members.

C. Subject to the review and appeal process provided in Subsection E of this Section, the commissioner's public hearing shall be the exclusive hearing with respect to the plan of reorganization. Not less than thirty days notice of such public hearing shall be provided by the reorganizing mutual to qualified voters and to such additional persons and in such manner as may be specified by the commissioner. The commissioner may promulgate procedures, rules, and regulations for the conduct of the public hearing.

D. The commissioner may retain at the reorganizing mutual's expense such attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in his examination of a proposed conversion, including any part of such examination that may occur, at the request of a reorganizing mutual, prior to a plan of reorganization having been filed with the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:236.2. Such experts must prepare a projection of the amount of time and expenses necessary to complete the examination, and all work of these experts is subject to review. If the projected amount of time and expenses required to complete the examination appear excessive, the reorganizing mutual may petition the commissioner for appropriate relief, and the commissioner's decision shall be final.

E. (1) An aggrieved party may appeal the commissioner's final order to the Nineteenth Judicial District Court within thirty days of the order. The aggrieved party may also apply for a stay of the commissioner's order.

(2) The district court reviewing an order of the commissioner shall consider only the certified administrative record and the issues raised before the commissioner. The district court reviewing an order of the commissioner shall not modify or set aside the order unless the court finds: (a) error to the prejudice of the appellant's substantial rights arising from the commissioner's application of the law so grossly as necessarily to imply bad faith; (b) the commissioner's order or decision was procured by fraud; (c) the commissioner acted outside of the statutory authority of the Department of Insurance; or (d) the commissioner's action was arbitrary and capricious. Any appeal of the district court's review of the commissioner's order shall be taken within thirty days of the judgment of the district court; if not so taken, the right to have an appellate court review or restrain action under the commissioner's order or decision shall be preempted and shall forever expire. Collateral attacks on an order of the commissioner are impermissible and shall be dismissed by the reviewing court.

(3) In any action challenging the validity of or arising out of any action taken or proposed to be taken under this Subpart, the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company shall be entitled at any stage of the proceedings before final judgment to petition the court to require the plaintiff or plaintiffs to give security for the reasonable costs, including attorney fees, which may be incurred by the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company, to which security the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company shall have recourse in such amount as the court having jurisdiction of such action shall determine upon termination of such action. The amount of security may thereafter from time to time be increased or decreased in the discretion of the court having jurisdiction of such action upon a showing that the security provided has or may become inadequate or excessive. If the court renders judgment in favor of the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company, the court may in its discretion award attorney fees and costs to such prevailing party.

F. The provisions of this Section shall apply to all actions challenging the validity of or arising out of any action taken or proposed to be taken under this Subpart and R.S. 22:71 and 72.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:826 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Added by Acts 2008, No. 307, § 1, eff. June 17, 2008. Amended by Acts 2009, No. 317, § 1; Acts 2009, No. 503, § 1; Acts 2022, No. 161, § 1.

§ 236.5. Approval by qualified voters

A. The plan of reorganization shall be approved at a meeting convened for that purpose by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified voters of the reorganizing mutual entitled to vote on matters and present or represented by special ballot or special proxy.

B. The meeting of qualified voters to consider the plan of reorganization shall occur after the public hearing before the commissioner, and the closing of the administrative record after the public hearing shall not occur until such time as it includes certification by the reorganizing mutual to the commissioner of the vote on the plan of reorganization by the qualified voters of the reorganizing mutual.

C. All qualified voters shall be given notice of their opportunity to vote on the plan of reorganization, which notice shall include a copy of the plan of reorganization or a summary thereof and which shall be in a form that the commissioner has determined is adequate and may be provided to qualified voters. The notice may be combined with notice of the public hearing. The notice shall be mailed, or provided by some other method or methods as may be approved by the commissioner, not less than thirty days before the date of the meeting of qualified voters to vote on the plan of reorganization. If the reorganizing mutual complies substantially and in good faith with the notice requirements of this Section, the failure of any person to actually receive any required notice will not impair the validity of any action taken under this Subpart.

D. A quorum for the meeting of qualified voters to consider the plan of reorganization shall consist of the qualified voters present or represented by special ballot or special proxy.

E. Voting, ballot, and proxy submission may take place electronically or telephonically consistent with the requirements of the Louisiana Uniform

Electronic Transactions Act, R.S. 9:2601 et seq.

§ 236.6. Limitations on acquisition of beneficial ownership

A. Except as otherwise specifically provided in the plan of reorganization, prior to and for a period of five years following the effective date of the reorganization, no person or persons acting in concert, other than the reorganized company or any employee benefit plans or trusts sponsored by the reorganized company or its corporate affiliates, shall directly or indirectly offer to acquire or acquire in any manner the beneficial ownership of five percent or more of any class of a voting security of the reorganized company or any person that owns or controls a majority or all of the voting securities of the reorganized company without the prior approval by the commissioner of an application for acquisition filed by that person with the commissioner.

B. The commissioner shall not approve an application for acquisition unless he finds each of the following:

(1) The acquisition would not frustrate the plan of reorganization as approved by the qualified voters and the commissioner.

(2) The board of directors of the reorganized company or its parent corporation, as applicable, has approved the acquisition, or extraordinary circumstances not contemplated in the plan of reorganization have arisen that would warrant their approval of the acquisition.

(3) The acquisition would be in the best interest of the reorganized company and policyholders of the reorganized insurer or insurers. In determining whether an acquisition would be in the best interest of the reorganized company and policyholders of the reorganized insurer or insurers, the commissioner may consider such factors as he deems relevant, which may but are not required to include any or all of the following: (a) the possible effects on shareholders, employers, suppliers, creditors, and customers of the reorganized company and its affiliates; (b) possible effects on the economy of the communities in which the reorganized company is located, and on that of this state; and (c) company and policyholders of the reorganized insurer or insurers, including but not limited to the possibility that those interests may be best served by the continued independence of the reorganized company.

C. No security that is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition or that is acquired or to be acquired in contravention of this Section or of an order of the commissioner may be voted at any shareholders' meeting, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though the securities were not issued and outstanding; however, no action taken at a meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of those securities unless the action would materially affect control of the reorganized insurer or a person that owns or controls a majority or all of the voting securities of the reorganized insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered.

§ 236.7. Limitations on compensation of directors, officers, agents, and employees

Except as set forth in the plan of reorganization approved by the qualified voters and the commissioner or in a stock-based compensation program or arrangement using options or other securities previously registered with the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:88 or any successor statute, no director, officer, agent, or employee of the reorganizing mutual shall receive any fee, commission, or other valuable consideration, other than his usual regular salary and compensation, that is contingent upon the plan of reorganization becoming approved or effective or is based upon aiding, promoting, or assisting in the approval or effectuation of the plan of reorganization. This Section shall not prohibit compensation programs or arrangements including programs and arrangements involving the use of the stock of the reorganized company or its parent corporation, which are to become effective simultaneously with the plan of reorganization or thereafter, provided such programs and arrangements are contained in the plan of reorganization approved by the qualified voters and the commissioner or in a program or arrangement using options or other securities previously registered with the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:88 or any successor statute. This Section shall not be deemed to prohibit such a program or arrangement from being adopted after the effective date of a reorganization.

§ 236.8. Filing of certificate of compliance; effective date of reorganization

A. On or prior to the effective date of the reorganization, the reorganizing mutual shall file with the commissioner a certificate stating that:

(1) All of the conditions set forth in the plan of reorganization, including a final order by the commissioner granting permission to reorganize in accordance with the plan of reorganization pursuant to R.S. 22:236.4 and approval by qualified voters pursuant to R.S. 22:236.5, have been satisfied.

(2) The board of directors of the reorganizing mutual has not abandoned the plan of reorganization.

B. Notwithstanding anything in R.S. 12:23, the articles of incorporation of the reorganizing mutual shall be approved and recorded in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 22:63 and 64.

C. The reorganization shall be effective upon the date and hour certified by the commissioner, which shall be the later of: (1) the date and hour when the articles of incorporation were filed for record in the office of the proper recorder of mortgages; or (2) such other date and time specified in the articles of incorporation as the date and hour when the reorganization shall be effective, which shall not be later than the tenth day after the date the articles of incorporation are recorded.

§ 236.9. Effect of reorganization

A. With respect to the conversion of a mutual insurer, upon the effective date, the mutual insurer shall immediately become a stock insurer, all membership interests shall be extinguished, and the reorganized insurer or its parent corporation will act in good faith to convey consideration to eligible members pursuant to the plan of reorganization. The reorganized insurer shall be a continuation of the mutual insurer, and the reorganization in no way shall annul, modify, or change any of the mutual insurer's existing suits, rights, contracts, or liabilities, except as provided in the plan of reorganization. After reorganization, the reorganized insurer shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties conferred or imposed by law upon insurers writing the classes of insurance written by it, and shall be vested in all the rights, franchises, and interests of the mutual insurer in and to every species of property without any deed or transfer, and the reorganized insurer shall succeed to all the obligations and liabilities of the mutual insurer, and retain all rights and contracts existing prior to conversion, except as provided in the plan of reorganization.

B. With respect to the conversion of a mutual insurance holding company, upon the effective date, the membership interests of the members of the mutual insurance holding company shall be extinguished, and the reorganized company shall act in good faith to convey consideration to eligible members pursuant to the plan of reorganization. Each reorganized insurer within the mutual insurance holding company system will continue its corporate existence as a stock insurer within a stock insurance holding company system, and the reorganization shall in no way annul, modify, or change any of such reorganized insurer's existing suits, rights, contracts, or liabilities, except as provided in the plan of reorganization.

§ 236.10. Abandoning or amending plan of reorganization

The reorganizing mutual may, by action of not less than two-thirds of its board of directors, abandon or amend the plan of reorganization at any time before the effective date. No amendment made after the public hearing required by R.S. 22:236.4 shall change the plan of reorganization in a manner which the commissioner determines is materially disadvantageous to policyholders or members unless a further public hearing is held on the plan as amended.

(1) The consideration to be distributed to eligible members may consist of cash, stock of the reorganized company or its parent corporation, subscription rights, premium credits, any combination of these forms of consideration, or other forms of consideration acceptable to the commissioner. The form or forms of consideration to be distributed to an eligible member may differ according to the class or category of policy owned by the eligible member. The choice of the form or forms of consideration to be distributed to eligible members in accordance with the class or category of policy owned by such members may take into account such factors as the type of policy with respect to which the consideration is being distributed and the amount being distributed with respect to such policies, the country of residence, or tax status of the member or other appropriate factors; however, if the consideration to be distributed to an eligible member will be in a form other than common stock of a publicly traded company, the plan of reorganization shall include provisions for determining, in a reasonable manner, the value of the consideration by means of reference to the per share public market value of the registered common stock of the reorganized company or its parent corporation or another method acceptable to the commissioner, which provisions may, but are not required to, include an appraisal or valuation.

(2) The reorganizing mutual shall obtain an opinion addressed to the board of directors of the reorganizing mutual from a qualified investment banker that the provision of consideration upon the extinguishment of the membership interests pursuant to the plan of reorganization is fair to the eligible members, as a group, from a financial point of view.

B. The method of allocating consideration among eligible members shall be fair and equitable, as follows:

(1) The method shall provide for each eligible member to receive: (a) a fixed component of consideration or a variable component of consideration, or both; or (b) any other component of consideration acceptable to the commissioner. Components may reflect, based upon fair and equitable formulas, methods, and assumptions, factors such as (x) the ratio which the net premiums (gross premiums less return premiums and dividends paid) such eligible member has properly and timely paid to the insurer as a policyholder on insurance policies in effect during the three years immediately preceding the adoption date bears to the total net premiums received by the insurer from all eligible members as policyholders; or (y) estimated proportionate historical and prospective contributions to surplus of classes or groupings of policies and contracts to the aggregate component of consideration being distributed to eligible members, with each eligible member receiving a distribution in accordance with the type of policy owned by the eligible member; or (z) other factors the commissioner may approve.

(2) The reorganizing mutual shall obtain an opinion addressed to the board of directors of the reorganizing mutual from an actuary who is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries that the methodology and underlying assumptions for allocation of consideration among eligible members are reasonable and appropriate and the resulting allocation is fair and equitable.

C. At the option of the reorganizing mutual, any shares of the reorganized insurer or its parent corporation included in the eligible members' consideration may be placed on the effective date of the reorganization in a trust or other entity existing for the exclusive benefit of eligible members and established for the purpose of effecting the reorganization, such consideration or the proceeds of the sale of such consideration to be distributed to such eligible members by means of a process specified in the plan of reorganization and not to last more than twenty-one years after the effective date of the reorganization or until notification of the death of the eligible member or the death of the insured, whichever occurs first.

D. (1) The plan of reorganization shall provide for the reasonable dividend expectations, if any, of policyholders of any reorganized insurer through the establishment, or in the case of a reorganizing mutual insurance holding company the continuation, of dividend protections, which may consist of a closed block or any other method acceptable to the commissioner. The sole purpose of any dividend protections shall be to provide for reasonable policyholder dividend expectations, if any.

(2) Any dividend protection provision may be limited to participating individual policies in force or deemed to be in force by the plan of reorganization on the effective date of the reorganization, or, in the case of a reorganized insurer in a mutual insurance holding company system, on the effective date of its reorganization as such, for which the insurer has or had an experience-based dividend scale due, paid or accrued by action of the board of directors of the insurer in the year in which the plan of reorganization is or was adopted; however, other categories of policies and benefits not described in this Paragraph may be included or excluded, subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(3) If dividend protections have been provided to policyholders of a reorganized insurer as part of a previous plan of reorganization, such dividend protections may be continued in effect without change in satisfaction of the requirements of this Section.

§ 237.6. Approval by commissioner after public hearing

A. The commissioner shall hold a public hearing upon notice as set forth in this Section to hear evidence upon whether the plan of reorganization properly protects the interests of the policyholders as such and as members, serves the best interests of policyholders and members, and is fair and equitable to policyholders and members. The provisions of Subpart G-1 of Part III of this Chapter, R.S. 22:691.1 et seq., shall not be applicable to any hearing held pursuant to this Subpart, and any such hearing shall be governed by the procedures set forth in this Subpart.

B. (1) Within thirty days after the closing of the administrative record after the public hearing as provided in this Section, the commissioner shall issue a final order or decision approving the plan if satisfied that each of the following conditions are met:

(a) The interests of the policyholders as such and as members are properly protected.

(b) The plan of reorganization serves the best interests of policyholders and members.

(c) The plan of reorganization is fair and equitable to policyholders and members.

(2) Any such final decision or order by the commissioner shall be subject to any modifications of the plan of reorganization the commissioner finds necessary for the protection of the policyholders and members.

C. Subject to the review and appeal process under Subsection E of this Section, the commissioner's public hearing shall be the exclusive hearing with respect to the plan of reorganization. Not less than thirty days notice of such public hearing shall be provided by the reorganizing mutual to qualified voters and to such additional persons and in such manner as may be specified by the commissioner. The commissioner may promulgate procedures, rules, and regulations for the conduct of the public hearing.

D. The commissioner may retain at the reorganizing mutual's expense such attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in his examination of a proposed conversion, including any part of such examination that may occur, at the request of a reorganizing mutual, prior to a plan of reorganization having been filed with the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:237.4. Such experts shall prepare a projection of the amount of time and expenses necessary to complete the examination, and all work of these experts is subject to review. If the projected amount of time and expenses required to complete the examination appear excessive, the reorganizing mutual may petition the commissioner for appropriate relief, and the commissioner's decision shall be final.

E. (1) An aggrieved party may appeal the commissioner's final order to the Nineteenth Judicial District Court within thirty days of the order. The aggrieved party may also apply for a stay of the commissioner's order.

(2) The district court reviewing an order of the commissioner shall consider only the certified administrative record and the issues raised before the commissioner. The district court reviewing an order of the commissioner shall not modify or set aside the order unless the court finds: (a) error to the prejudice of the appellant's substantial rights arising from the commissioner's application of the law so grossly as necessarily to imply bad faith; (b) the commissioner's order or decision was procured by fraud; (c) the commissioner acted outside of the statutory authority of the Department of Insurance; or (d) the commissioner's action was arbitrary and capricious. Any appeal of the district court's review of the commissioner's order shall be taken within thirty days of the judgment of the district court; if no appeal is taken, the right to have an appellate court review or restrain action under the commissioner's order or decision shall be preempted and shall forever expire. Collateral attacks on an order of the commissioner are impermissible and shall be dismissed by the reviewing court.

(3) In any action challenging the validity of or arising out of any action taken or proposed to be taken under this Subpart, the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company shall be entitled at any stage of the proceedings before final judgment to petition the court to require the plaintiff or plaintiffs to give security for the reasonable costs, including attorney fees, which may be incurred by the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company, to which security the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company shall have recourse in such amount as the court having jurisdiction of such action shall determine upon termination of such action. The amount of security may thereafter from time to time be increased or decreased in the discretion of the court having jurisdiction of such action upon a showing that the security provided has or may become inadequate or excessive. If the court renders judgment in favor of the reorganizing mutual or reorganized company, the court may in its discretion award attorney fees and costs to such prevailing party.

F. The provisions of this Section shall apply to all actions challenging the validity of or arising out of any action taken or proposed to be taken under this Subpart and R.S. 22:71 and 72.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 234, § 1. Amended by Acts 2022, No. 161, § 1.

§ 237.7. Approval by qualified voters

A. The plan of reorganization shall be approved at a meeting convened for that purpose by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified voters of the reorganizing mutual entitled to vote on matters and present or represented by special ballot or special proxy.

B. The meeting of qualified voters to consider the plan of reorganization shall occur after the public hearing before the commissioner, and the closing of the administrative record after the public hearing shall not occur until such time as it includes certification by the reorganizing mutual to the commissioner of the vote on the plan of reorganization by the qualified voters of the reorganizing mutual.

C. All qualified voters shall be given notice of their opportunity to vote on the plan of reorganization, which notice shall include a copy of the plan of reorganization or a summary thereof and which shall be in a form that the commissioner has determined is adequate and may be provided to qualified voters. The notice may be combined with notice of the public hearing. The notice shall be mailed, or provided by some other method or methods as may be approved by the commissioner, not less than thirty days before the date of the meeting of qualified voters to vote on the plan of reorganization. If the reorganizing mutual complies substantially and in good faith with the notice requirements of this Section, the failure of any person to actually receive any required notice will not impair the validity of any action taken under this Subpart.

D. A quorum for the meeting of qualified voters to consider the plan of reorganization shall consist of the qualified voters present or represented by special ballot or special proxy.

E. Voting, ballot, and proxy submission may take place electronically or telephonically consistent with the requirements of the Louisiana Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, R.S. 9:2601 et seq.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 234, § 1.

§ 237.8. Limitations on acquisition of beneficial ownership

A. Except as otherwise specifically provided in the plan of reorganization, prior to and for a period of five years following the effective date of the reorganization, no person or persons acting in concert, other than the reorganized company or any employee benefit plans or trusts sponsored by the reorganized company or its corporate affiliates, shall directly or indirectly offer to acquire or acquire in any manner the beneficial ownership of five percent or more of any class of a voting security of the reorganized company or any person that owns or controls a majority or all of the voting securities of the reorganized company without the prior approval by the commissioner of an application for acquisition filed by that person with the commissioner.

B. The commissioner shall not approve an application for acquisition unless he finds each of the following:

(1) The acquisition would not frustrate the plan of reorganization as approved by the qualified voters and the commissioner.

(2) The board of directors of the reorganized company or its parent corporation, as applicable, has approved the acquisition, or extraordinary circumstances not contemplated in the plan of reorganization have arisen that would warrant their approval of the acquisition.

(3) The acquisition would be in the best interest of the reorganized company and policyholders of the reorganized insurer or insurers. In determining whether an acquisition would be in the best interest of the reorganized company and policyholders of the reorganized insurer or insurers, the commissioner may consider such factors as he deems relevant, which may but are not required to include any or all of the following: (a) the possible effects on shareholders, employers, suppliers, creditors, and customers of the reorganized company and its affiliates; (b) possible effects on the economy of the communities in which the reorganized company is located, and on that of this state; and (c) company and policyholders of the reorganized insurer or insurers, including but not limited to the possibility that those interests may be best served by the continued independence of the reorganized company.

C. No security that is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition or that is acquired or to be acquired in contravention of this Section or of an order of the commissioner may be voted at any shareholders' meeting, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though the securities were not issued and outstanding; however, no action taken at a meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of those securities unless the action would materially affect control of the reorganized insurer or a person that owns or controls a majority or all of the voting securities of the reorganized insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 234, § 1.

§ 237.9. Limitations on compensation of directors, officers, agents, and employees

Except as set forth in the plan of reorganization approved by the qualified voters and the commissioner or in a stock-based compensation program or arrangement using options or other securities previously registered with the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:88 or any successor statute, no director, officer, agent, or employee of the reorganizing mutual shall receive any fee, commission, or other valuable consideration, other than his regular salary and compensation, that is contingent upon the plan of reorganization becoming approved or effective or is based upon aiding, promoting, or assisting in the approval or effectuation of the plan of reorganization. This Section shall not prohibit compensation programs or arrangements including programs and arrangements involving the use of the stock of the reorganized company or its parent corporation, which are to become effective simultaneously with the plan of reorganization or thereafter, provided such programs and arrangements are contained in the plan of reorganization approved by the qualified voters and the commissioner or in a program or arrangement using options or other securities previously registered with the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:88 or any successor statute. This Section shall not be deemed to prohibit such a program or arrangement from being adopted after the effective date of a reorganization.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 234, § 1.

§ 237.10. Filing of certificate of compliance; effective date of reorganization

A. On or prior to the effective date of the reorganization, the reorganizing mutual shall file with the commissioner a certificate stating that:

(1) All of the conditions set forth in the plan of reorganization, including a final order by the commissioner granting permission to reorganize in accordance with the plan of reorganization pursuant to R.S. 22:237.6 and approval by qualified voters pursuant to R.S. 22:237.7, have been satisfied.

(2) The board of directors of the reorganizing mutual has not abandoned the plan of reorganization.

B. Notwithstanding the provisions of R.S. 12:23, the articles of incorporation of the reorganizing mutual shall be approved and recorded in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 22:63 and 64.

C. The reorganization shall be effective upon the date and hour certified by the commissioner, which shall be the later of: (1) the date and hour when the articles of incorporation were filed for record in the office of the proper recorder of mortgages; or (2) such other date and time specified in the articles of incorporation as the date and hour when the reorganization shall be effective, which shall not be later than the tenth day after the date the articles of incorporation are recorded.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 234, § 1. Amended by Acts 2010, No. 730, § 1, eff. June 29, 2010.

§ 237.11. Effect of reorganization

A. With respect to the conversion of a mutual insurer, upon the effective date, the mutual insurer shall immediately become a stock insurer, all membership interests shall be extinguished, and the reorganized insurer or its parent corporation will act in good faith to convey consideration to eligible members pursuant to the plan of reorganization. The reorganized insurer shall be a continuation of the mutual insurer, and the reorganization in no way shall annul, modify, or change any of the mutual insurer's existing suits, rights, contracts, or liabilities, except as provided in the plan of reorganization. After reorganization, the reorganized insurer shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties conferred or imposed by law upon insurers writing the classes of insurance written by it, and shall be vested in all the rights, franchises, and interests of the mutual insurer in and to every species of property without any deed or transfer, and the reorganized insurer shall succeed to all the obligations and liabilities of the mutual insurer, and retain all rights and contracts existing prior to conversion, except as provided in the plan of reorganization.

B. With respect to the conversion of a mutual insurance holding company, upon the effective date, the membership interests of the members of the mutual insurance holding company shall be extinguished, and the reorganized company shall act in good faith to convey consideration to eligible members pursuant to the plan of reorganization. Each reorganized insurer within the mutual insurance holding company system will continue its corporate existence as a stock insurer within a stock insurance holding company system, and the reorganization shall in no way annul, modify, or change any of such reorganized insurer's existing suits, rights, contracts, or liabilities, except as provided in the plan of reorganization.

§ 237.12. Abandoning or amending plan of reorganization

The reorganizing mutual may, by action of not less than two-thirds of its board of directors, abandon or amend the plan of reorganization at any time before the effective date. No amendment made after the public hearing required by R.S. 22:237.6 shall change the plan of reorganization in a manner which the commissioner determines is materially disadvantageous to policyholders or members unless a further public hearing is held on the plan as amended.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 234, § 1.

§ 237.13. Directors and officers of the reorganized company

The directors and officers of the reorganizing mutual, unless otherwise specified in the plan of reorganization, shall serve as the directors and officers of the reorganized company until new directors and officers are duly elected pursuant to the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the reorganized company.

§ 243. Incorporation

A. Three or more artificial or natural persons capable of contracting, who are citizens of the United States and a majority of whom are residents of this state, may act as incorporators to form a corporation for the purpose of transacting business as a health maintenance organization.

B. Articles of incorporation shall be executed by authentic act signed by each of the incorporators and shall state in the English language all of the following:

(1) The name of the corporation, which shall not be the same as nor deceptively similar to the name of any other unaffiliated health maintenance organization authorized to do business in this state unless:

(a) Such other health maintenance organization is about to change its name or to cease to do business or is being wound up, and the written consent of such other health maintenance organization to the adoption of its name or a deceptively similar name has been given in writing and is filed with the articles, or

(b) Such other health maintenance organization has heretofore been authorized to do business in this state for more than two years and has never actively engaged in business.

(2) The purpose or purposes for which it is formed.

(3) Its duration.

(4) The street address, not a post office address only, of its initial registered office, and if different, the street address, not a post office address only, of the corporation's initial principal office.

(5) The full names and post office addresses and municipal addresses or locations, which shall not be a post office box only, of its registered agents for service of process.

(6) The amount of paid-in capital and minimum surplus, or initial fund, with which the corporation will begin business.

(7) The number of authorized shares, the par value of each share, the time when and the manner in which payment on stock subscribed shall be made.

(8) The names of the first directors, their street address, not a post office address only, and their classification and terms of office if they be named in the articles. Where the first board of directors is not named in the articles, the articles shall provide the place where and the date when the organization is to be perfected, and a meeting of the stockholders for that purpose must be held not more than sixty days after the execution of the articles. At that meeting the directors shall be elected.

(9) The name and post office address of each of the incorporators and a statement of the number and class of shares subscribed by each, if any.

(10) The designation of general officers, the number of directors, which shall not be less than three nor more than fifty, and the mode and manner in which directors shall be elected, and officers elected or appointed.

(11) Any other provision for the regulation of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, not prohibited by the laws of this state.

C. Such articles shall be submitted to the commissioner for his examination for a period not to exceed thirty days from receipt and approval either before or after execution, but before recordation. The commissioner shall not approve such articles unless they strictly conform with the provisions of this Subpart.

D. (1) After the payment of all fees owed to the Department of Insurance, the articles showing the approval of the commissioner shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

(2) If the secretary of state finds that the articles have been approved by the commissioner and that the articles are in compliance with this Subpart and Title 12 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, and after all fees have been paid as required by law, the secretary of state shall record the articles as filed on the date and time of receipt. After filing the articles, the secretary of state shall deliver to the corporation or its representative a copy of the document with an acknowledgment of the date of filing. The secretary of state's filing of the articles of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence of the fact that the corporation has been duly incorporated except that in any proceeding brought by the state to annul, forfeit, or vacate a corporation's franchise, or by the commissioner to prohibit, suspend or limit the corporation's right to conduct business as a health maintenance organization, the certificate of incorporation shall be only prima facie evidence of due incorporation.

(3) Except as provided in R.S. 12:1-203(C), the corporate existence begins and the corporation is duly incorporated when the articles of incorporation become effective as provided in R.S. 12:1-123 and 205(C).

(4) The corporation shall not have authority to transact a health maintenance organization business until a certificate of authority to transact such business is issued to it by the commissioner.

E. (1) Except as otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, an incorporated health maintenance organization may amend its articles of incorporation in the manner provided in R.S. 12:1-1003 and 237.

(2) After such amendment has been duly adopted, an authentic act setting forth the amendment and the manner of adoption thereof shall be executed by such person or persons authorized to do so at the meeting. A full copy of the resolution adopting such amendment, certified as true copy by the secretary of the health maintenance organization, shall be annexed to the authentic act. The articles of amendment shall be approved by the commissioner and recorded with the secretary of state in the same manner provided for the original articles of incorporation.

(3) The provisions of Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this Subsection are not applicable when an incorporated health maintenance organization changes either its registered agent or address, or both. In any such change, the incorporated health maintenance organization shall provide the commissioner with the board resolution and notice and shall follow the requirements of R.S. 12:1-501 through 1-504 and 236.

F. The provisions of R.S. 12:1-101 through 1-1705, 201 through 269, and other provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, relative to business and nonprofit corporations, shall apply to the regulation of the business and the conduct of the affairs of any health maintenance organization which has been incorporated pursuant to the provisions of this Subpart. If a conflict exists between the provisions of this Subpart and the provisions of Title 12 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, the provisions of this Subpart shall

Section 2 of Acts 2020, 2nd Ex.Sess., No. 58 provides:

"The provisions of this Act shall be given retroactive application."

§ 244. Application for certificate of authority to do business as a health maintenance organization in this state

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, an application for a certificate of authority shall be made by the corporation to the commissioner in compliance with Subsection C of this Section. No corporation or other person or legal entity shall establish or operate a health maintenance organization in this state without having first obtained a certificate of authority to do so under this Subpart.

B. Every health maintenance organization holding a certificate of authority issued by the commissioner prior to the effective date of this Subpart, may continue to operate as a health maintenance organization under this Subpart, provided that, within ninety days of the effective date, each health maintenance organization in existence on the effective date shall file with the commissioner any additional documents required by Subsection C of this Section that have not been previously filed and shall take the actions necessary for full compliance with this Subpart. Health maintenance organizations organized prior to the effective date of this Subpart and doing business as a Louisiana partnership shall not be required to become a corporate entity, and shall be deemed to meet and satisfy the definition of health maintenance organizations under R.S. 22:242(7). The additional filings shall constitute a reapplication for certification and each such health maintenance organization may continue to operate until the commissioner acts upon said reapplication. In the event that a health maintenance organization in existence on the effective date of this Subpart fails to timely file the additional documents and take the additional actions necessary for full compliance, the commissioner may suspend or revoke the health maintenance organization's certificate of authority as provided in R.S. 22:257.

C. Each application for a certificate of authority shall be verified by an officer or authorized representative of the applicant, shall be in a form prescribed by the commissioner, and shall set forth or be accompanied by the following:

(1) A copy of the bylaws, rules and regulations, or similar documents, if any, regulating the conduct of the internal affairs of the applicant.

(2) Biographical background information, on a form prescribed by the commissioner, for all of the persons who are to be responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the applicant, including all members of the board of directors, the principal officers, and each shareholder with over ten percent interest.

(1) The commissioner's costs and expenses of administration, including unpaid federal and state employment withholding taxes.

(2) Compensation actually owing to employees other than officers of a health maintenance organization for services rendered within three months prior to the commencement of a proceeding against the health maintenance organization under this Subpart, but not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars for such employee, shall be paid prior to the payment of any other debt or claim and in the discretion of the commissioner may be paid as soon as practicable after the proceeding has commenced. However, at all times the commissioner shall reserve such funds as will in his opinion be sufficient for the payment of all claims in Paragraphs (1) through (3) of this Subsection. This priority shall be in lieu of any other similar priority which may be authorized by law as to wages or compensation of such employees.

(3) Claims for covered benefits prior to cancellation that are filed within ninety days of an order of liquidation. The commissioner shall, within one hundred twenty days, present a plan for timely payment of such claims to the court for approval. § 257. Suspension or revocation of certificate of authority

A. The commissioner may suspend or revoke any certificate of authority issued to a health maintenance organization under this Subpart if he finds that any of the following conditions exist:

(1) The health maintenance organization is operating significantly in contravention of its basic organizational document or in a manner contrary to that described in any information submitted under R.S. 22:244, unless the health maintenance organization filed with the commissioner those modifications as required by R.S. 22:244(D).

(2) The health maintenance organization does not provide or arrange for basic health care services.

(3) The health maintenance organization is no longer financially responsible and may reasonably be expected to be unable to meet its obligations to enrollees or prospective enrollees.

(4) The health maintenance organization, or any person on its behalf, has advertised or merchandised its services in an untrue, misrepresentative, misleading, deceptive, or unfair manner.

(5) The continued operation of the health maintenance organization would be hazardous to its enrollees.

(7) The health maintenance organization has failed to file or to timely file any of the financial statements as required under this Subpart.

(8) The health maintenance organization has failed to comply with any requirements of any provision found under this Subpart.

(9) Repealed by Acts 2021, No. 159, § 2, eff. July 1, 2021.

B. A certificate of authority shall be suspended or revoked only after compliance with the requirements of R.S. 22:259 except in cases where such delay would cause irreparable harm or substantial monetary loss in the opinion of the commissioner. In lieu of suspension or revocation of a license duly issued, the commissioner may levy a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation and up to one hundred thousand dollars aggregate for all violations in a calendar year. The commissioner of insurance is authorized to suspend the imposition of the fines authorized under this Section.

C. When the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization is suspended, the health maintenance organization shall not, during the period of such suspension, enroll any additional enrollees, except newborn children or other newly acquired dependents of existing enrollees, and shall not engage in any advertising or solicitation whatsoever.

D. When the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization is revoked, such organization shall proceed, immediately following the effective date of the order of revocation, to wind up its affairs, and shall conduct no further business except as may be essential to the orderly conclusion of the affairs of such organization. It shall engage in no further advertising or solicitation whatsoever. The commissioner may, by written order, permit such further operation of the organization as he may find to be in the best interest of enrollees, to the end that enrollees will be afforded the greatest practical opportunity to obtain continuing health care coverage without further liability to the enrollee.

E. Where a certificate of authority is revoked or in the liquidation or windup of the affairs of a health maintenance organization, the commissioner shall have the right to enforce, for the benefit of the enrollees, contract performance by any provider or other third party who had contracted with the health maintenance organization.

F. The commissioner is specifically empowered to take over and liquidate the affairs of any health maintenance organization experiencing financial difficulty at such time as he deems it necessary by applying to the Nineteenth Judicial District Court for permission to take over and fix the conditions thereof. The Nineteenth Judicial District Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any suit arising from such takeover and liquidation. Executive Order No. JBE 2016-58 entitled "Emergency Suspension of Certain Insurance Code Provisions" provides:

"EMERGENCY SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN INSURANCE CODE PROVISIONS

"WHEREAS, pursuant to the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act, La. R.S. 29:721, et seq., the Governor declared a state of emergency in Proclamation No. 111 JBE 2016;

"WHEREAS, due to unprecedented rainfall, portions of southern Louisiana are currently experiencing a flood of historical proportions, with thousands of homes flooded and thousands of peoples being rescued from flooded homes that can only be reached by boat or high water trucks;

"WHEREAS, the flooding poses a threat to citizens, businesses, and communities across Southern Louisiana and has created conditions which place lives, livelihoods, and property in a state of jeopardy;

"WHEREAS, the enormity of the current and impending crisis has forced thousands of people to evacuate their homes and in many cases will cause a significant interruption of residency in their homes and occupancy of businesses;

"WHEREAS, due to the mass disruptions caused and still occurring, Louisiana citizens and businesses may be unable to timely pay their insurance premiums, access their insurance policies, satisfy certain conditions of insurance contracts, and communicate with insurance agents and their respective insurance companies for insurance-related matters, all of which can result in the risk of insurance cancelation and claims denials under ordinary circumstances and will prevent, hinder, and delay necessary action in coping with and recovering from this emergency;

"WHEREAS, Louisiana Revised Statute 29:724 confers upon the Governor emergency powers to deal with emergencies and disasters and to ensure that preparations of this state will be adequate to deal with such emergencies or disasters, and to preserve the lives and property of the citizens of the State of Louisiana, including the authority to suspend the provisions of any regulatory statute prescribing the procedures for conduct of state business, or the orders, rules, or regulations of any state agency, if strict compliance with the provisions of any statute, order, rule, or regulation would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the emergency; and

"WHEREAS, Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon has advised the Governor that citizens in Louisiana are at risk with regard to any and all kinds of insurance and requested limited transfer of authority to suspend certain provisions of Title 22.

"NOW THEREFORE, I, JOHN BEL EDWARDS, Governor of the State of Louisiana, by virtue of the authority vested by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Louisiana, do hereby order and direct as follows:

"SECTION 1: Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon shall have limited transfer of authority from the Governor to suspend provisions of any regulatory R.S. 22:272, 22:887, 22:1068, 22:977, 22:978, 22:1074, 22:1266, 22:1267, 22:1311, and 22:1335, where such statutory or regulatory requirements prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the current emergency, including providing additional time for policyholders to complete existing claims, providing additional time for policyholders to remit premium payments to avoid cancelation of policies, prohibiting cancelations where a policyholder is incapable of fulfilling requirements due to evacuation or uninhabitability, and suspending any licensure or similar requirement that might hinder the ability of regulated entities to employ non-Louisiana licensees during the immediate aftermath of the disaster, including claims adjusters or other licensed regulated entities.

"SECTION 2: This Order shall not relieve an insured who has a claim caused by this historic flooding, or its aftermath, from compliance with the insured's obligation to provide information and cooperate in the claim adjustment process relative to such claim, or to pay insurance premiums upon termination of the provisions of this Order.

"SECTION 3: This Order shall apply retroactively from Friday, August 12, 2016, and shall continue through Monday, September 12, 2016, unless amended, modified, terminated, or rescinded by the Governor prior thereto.

"IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand officially and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of Louisiana in the City of Baton Rouge, on this 17th day of August, 2016."

§ 288. No personal liability

A. The officers and members of the supreme governing body or any subordinate body of a society shall not be personally liable for any benefits provided by a society.

B. (1) Any person who, by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of any society or of any firm, corporation, or organization which he served in any capacity at the request of any society, incurs reasonable expenses or the imposition of liabilities, or both, arising out of any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, or threat thereof, may be indemnified and reimbursed by that society for such expenses and liabilities. A person shall not be so indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in such action, suit, or proceeding as to which he shall finally be adjudged to be or has been guilty of breach of a duty as a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society, or in relation to any matter in such action, suit, or proceeding, or threat thereof, which has been made the subject of a compromise settlement, unless in either such case the person acted in good faith for a purpose the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the society and, in a criminal action or proceeding, in addition, had no reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.

(2) The determination whether the conduct of such person met the standard required in order to justify indemnification and reimbursement in relation to any matter described may only be made by the supreme governing body or board of directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of persons who were not parties to such action, suit, or proceeding or by a court of competent jurisdiction. The termination of any action, suit, or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of no contest, as to such person shall not in itself create a conclusive presumption that the person did not meet the standard of conduct required in order to justify indemnification and reimbursement. The foregoing right of indemnification and reimbursement shall not be exclusive of other rights to which such person may be entitled as a matter of law and shall inure to the benefit of his heirs, executors, and administrators.

C. A society shall have the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society, or who is or was serving at the request of the society as a director, officer, employee, or agent of any other firm, corporation, or organization against any liability asserted against such person and incurred by him in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such, whether the society would have the power to indemnify the person against such liability under this Section.

§ 290. Organization

A domestic society organized pursuant to this Subpart shall be formed as follows:

(1) Seven or more citizens of the United States, a majority of whom are citizens of this state, who desire to form a fraternal benefit society, may execute by authentic act or by private act duly acknowledged articles of incorporation, in which shall be stated:

(a) The proposed corporate name of the society, which shall not so closely resemble the name of any other society or insurance company as to be misleading or confusing.

(b) The purposes for which it is being formed and the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised. Such purposes shall not include more liberal powers than are granted by this Subpart.

(c) The names and resident addresses of the incorporators and the names, resident addresses, and official titles of all the officers, trustees, directors, or other persons who are to exercise general control of the management of the affairs and funds of the society for the first year or until the ensuing election at which all such officers shall be elected by the supreme governing body, which election shall be held not later than one year from the date of issuance of the permanent certificate of authority.

(2) The articles of incorporation, certified copies of the society's bylaws and rules, copies of all proposed forms of certificates, applications therefor, and circulars to be issued by the society and a bond conditioned upon the return to applicants of the advanced payments if the organization is not completed within one year shall be filed with and approved by the commissioner of insurance, who may require such further information as the commissioner deems necessary. The articles of incorporation, bylaws, and rules shall also be filed with the secretary of state. The bond with sureties approved by the commissioner of insurance shall be in such amount, but not less than three hundred thousand dollars nor more than one million five hundred thousand dollars, as required by the commissioner of insurance of which the minimum must be maintained if the association is to maintain its certificate of authority. All documents filed are to be in the English language. If the purposes of the society conform to the requirements of this Subpart and all provisions of the law have been complied with, the commissioner of insurance shall so certify, and the secretary of state shall file the articles of incorporation in the manner provided in R.S. 22:64. The commissioner of insurance shall furnish the incorporators a preliminary certificate of authority authorizing the society to solicit members as hereinafter provided.

(3) No preliminary certificate of authority granted under the provisions of this Section shall be valid after one year from its date or after such further period, not exceeding one year, as may be authorized by the commissioner of insurance upon cause shown, unless the five hundred applicants hereinafter required have been secured and the organization has been completed as provided herein. The articles of incorporation and all other proceedings thereunder shall become null and void in one year from the date of the preliminary certificate of authority, or at the expiration of the extended period, unless the society shall have completed its organization and received a certificate of authority to do business as provided hereinafter.

(4) Upon receipt of a preliminary certificate of authority from the commissioner of insurance, the society may solicit members for the purpose of completing its organization, shall collect from each applicant the amount of not less than one regular monthly premium in accordance with its table of rates, and shall issue to each such applicant a receipt for the amount so collected. No society shall incur any liability other than for the return of such advance premium, nor issue any certificate, nor pay, or allow, or offer or promise to pay or allow, any benefit to any person until all of the following conditions are met:

(a) Actual bona fide applications for benefits have been secured on not less than five hundred applicants, and any necessary evidence of insurability has been furnished to and approved by the society.

(b) At least ten subordinate lodges have been established into which the five hundred applicants have been admitted.

(c) There has been submitted to the commissioner of insurance, under oath of the president or secretary, or corresponding officer of the society, a list of such applicants, giving their names and addresses, the date each was admitted, the name and number of the subordinate lodge of which each applicant is a member, the amount of benefits to be granted and the premiums collected therefor.

(d) It shall have been shown to the commissioner of insurance, by sworn statement of the treasurer, or corresponding officer of such society, that at least five hundred applicants have each paid in cash at least one regular monthly premium as herein provided, which premiums in the aggregate shall amount to at least one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The advance premiums shall be held in trust during the period of organization and if the society has not qualified for a certificate of authority within one year, as provided herein, the premiums shall be returned to said applicants.

(5) The commissioner of insurance may make such examination and require such further information as the commissioner deems advisable. Upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that the society has complied with all the provisions of law, the commissioner shall issue to the society a certificate of authority to that effect and that the society is authorized to transact business pursuant to the provisions of this Subpart. The certificate of authority shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of the society at the date of issuance of such certificate. The commissioner of insurance shall cause a record of the certificate of authority to be made. A certified copy of such record may be given in evidence with like effect as the original certificate of authority.

(6) Any incorporated society authorized to transact business in this state shall not be required to reincorporate. Any voluntary fraternal benefit association may incorporate hereunder.

§ 291. Amendments to laws

A. A domestic society may amend its laws in accordance with the provisions thereof by action of its supreme governing body at any regular or special meeting thereof or, if its laws so provide, by referendum. Such referendum may be held in accordance with the provisions of its laws by the vote of the voting members of the society, by the vote of delegates or representatives of voting members, or by the vote of local lodges. A society may provide for voting by mail. No amendment submitted for adoption by referendum shall be adopted unless, within six months from the date of submission thereof, a majority of the members voting shall have signified their consent to such amendment by one of the methods herein specified.

B. No amendment to the laws of any domestic society shall take effect unless approved by the commissioner of insurance who shall approve such amendment if he finds that it has been duly adopted and is not inconsistent with any requirement of the laws of this state or with the character, objects, and purposes of the society. Unless the commissioner of insurance disapproves any such amendment within sixty days after the filing of same, the amendment shall be considered approved. The approval or disapproval of the commissioner of insurance shall be in writing and mailed to the secretary or corresponding officer of the society at its principal office. In case the commissioner disapproves the amendment, the reasons therefor shall be stated in the written notice. Within ninety days after approval by the commissioner of insurance a certified copy of the amendment shall be filed with the secretary of state.

C. Within ninety days after the approval thereof by the commissioner of insurance, all such amendments, or a synopsis thereof, shall be furnished to all members of the society either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of the society. The affidavit of any officer of the society or of anyone authorized by it to mail any amendments or synopsis thereof, stating facts which show that they have been duly addressed and mailed, shall be prima facie evidence that such amendments, or synopsis thereof, have been furnished the addressee.

D. Every foreign or alien society authorized to do business in this state shall file with the commissioner of insurance and the secretary of state a duly certified copy of all amendments of, or additions to, its laws within ninety days after enactment.

E. Printed copies of the laws as amended, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society shall be prima facie evidence of the legal adoption thereof.

§ 292. Institutions

A society may create, maintain and operate, or may establish organizations to operate, not for profit institutions to further the purposes permitted by R.S. 22:285(A)(2). Such institutions may furnish services free or at a reasonable charge. § 293. Reinsurance

A. A domestic society may, by a reinsurance agreement, cede any individual risk or risks in whole or in part to an insurer, other than another fraternal benefit society, having the power to make such reinsurance and authorized to do business in this state, or if not so authorized, one which is approved by the commissioner of insurance, but no such society may reinsure substantially all of its insurance in force without the written permission of the commissioner of insurance. It may take credit for the reserves on such ceded risks to the extent reinsured, but no credit shall be allowed as an admitted asset or as a deduction from liability, to a ceding society for reinsurance made, ceded, renewed, or otherwise becoming effective after the effective date of this Subpart, unless the reinsurance is payable by the assuming insurer on the basis of the liability of the ceding society under the contract or contracts reinsured without diminution because of the insolvency of the ceding society.

B. Notwithstanding the limitation in Subsection A of this Section, a society may reinsure the risks of another society in a consolidation or merger approved by the commissioner of insurance under R.S. 22:294.

§ 294. Consolidations and mergers

A. A domestic society may consolidate or merge with any other society by complying with the provisions of this Section. It shall file with the commissioner of insurance the following documents:

(1) A certified copy of the written contract containing in full the terms and conditions of the consolidation or merger.

(2) A sworn statement by the president and secretary or corresponding officers of each society showing the financial condition thereof on a date fixed by the commissioner of insurance but not earlier than December thirty-first, next preceding the date of the contract.

(3) A certificate of such officers, duly verified by their respective oaths, that the consolidation or merger has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the supreme governing body of each society, such vote being conducted at a regular or special meeting of each such body, or, if the society's laws permit, by mail.

(4) Evidence that at least sixty days prior to the action of the supreme governing body of each society, the text of the contract has been furnished to all members of each society either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of each society.

B. If the commissioner of insurance finds that the contract is in conformity with the provisions of this Section, that the financial statements are correct and that the consolidation or merger is just and equitable to the members of each society, the commissioner shall approve the contract and issue a certificate to such effect, and said contract of consolidation or merger, upon being filed with the secretary of state, shall be in full force and effect unless any society which is a party to the contract is incorporated under the laws of any other state or territory. In such event the consolidation or merger shall not become effective until it has been approved as provided by the laws of such state or territory and a certificate of such approval has been filed with the commissioner of insurance of this state or, if the laws of such state or territory contain no such provision, then the consolidation or merger shall not become effective until it has been approved by the commissioner of insurance of such state or territory and a certificate of such approval filed with the commissioner of insurance of this state.

C. Upon the consolidation or merger becoming effective as herein provided, all the rights, franchises, and interests of the consolidated or merged societies in and to every species of property, real, personal, or mixed, and things in action thereunto belonging shall be vested in the society resulting from or remaining after the consolidation or merger without any other instrument, except that conveyances of real property may be evidenced by proper deeds, and the title to any real estate or interest therein, vested under the laws of this state in any of the societies consolidated or merged, shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the consolidation or merger, but shall vest absolutely in the society resulting from or remaining after such consolidation or merger.

D. The affidavit of any officer of the society or of anyone authorized by it to mail any notice or document, stating that such notice or document has been duly addressed and mailed, shall be prima facie evidence that such notice or document has been furnished the addressees.

A plan of conversion shall be prepared in writing by the board of directors setting forth in full the terms and conditions of conversion. The affirmative vote of two-thirds of all members of the supreme governing body at a regular or special meeting shall be necessary for the approval of such plan. No such conversion shall take effect until approved by the commissioner of insurance who may give such approval if the commissioner finds that the proposed change is in conformity with the requirements of law and not prejudicial to the certificate holders of the society.

§ 297. Beneficiaries

A. The owner of a benefit contract shall have the right at all times to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries in accordance with the laws or rules of the society unless the owner waives this right by specifically requesting in writing that the beneficiary designation be irrevocable. A society may, through its laws or rules, limit the scope of beneficiary designations and shall provide that no revocable beneficiary shall have or obtain any vested interest in the proceeds of any certificate until the certificate has become due and payable in conformity with the provisions of the benefit contract.

B. A society may make provision for the payment of funeral benefits to the extent of such portion of any payment under a certificate as might reasonably appear to be due to any person equitably entitled thereto by reason of having incurred expenses occasioned by the burial of the member.

C. If, at the death of any person insured under a benefit contract, there is no lawful beneficiary to whom the proceeds shall be payable, the amount of such benefit, except to the extent that funeral benefits may be paid as hereinbefore

§ 299. The benefit contract

A. Every society authorized to do business in this state shall issue to each owner of a benefit contract a certificate specifying the amount of benefits provided thereby. The certificate, together with any riders or endorsements attached thereto, the laws of the society, the application for membership, the application for insurance and declaration of insurability, if any, signed by the applicant, and all amendments to each thereof, shall constitute the benefit contract, as of the date of issuance, between the society and the owner, and the certificate shall so state. A copy of the application for insurance and declaration of insurability, if any, shall be endorsed upon or attached to the certificate. All statements on the application shall be representations and not warranties. Any waiver of this provision shall be void.

B. Any changes, additions, or amendments to the laws of the society duly made or enacted subsequent to the issuance of the certificate, shall bind the owner and the beneficiaries, and shall govern and control the benefit contract in all respects the same as though such changes, additions, or amendments had been made prior to and were in force at the time of the application for insurance, except that no change, addition, or amendment shall destroy or diminish benefits which the society contracted to give the owner as of the date of issuance.

C. Any person upon whose life a benefit contract is issued prior to attaining the age of majority shall be bound by the terms of the application and certificate and by all the laws and rules of the society to the same extent as though the age of majority had been attained at the time of application.

D. A society shall provide in its laws that if its reserves as to all or any class of certificates become impaired its board of directors or corresponding body may require that there shall be paid by the owner to the society the amount of the owner's equitable proportion of such deficiency as ascertained by its board, and that if the payment is not made it shall stand as an indebtedness against the certificate and draw interest not to exceed the rate specified for certificate loans under the certificates or the owner may accept a proportionate reduction in benefits under the certificate, or both. The society may specify the manner of the election and which alternative is to be presumed if no election is made. This must be placed in bold print on the first page of the contract.

E. Copies of any of the documents mentioned in this Section, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society, shall be received in evidence of the terms and conditions thereof.

F. No certificate shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless a copy of the form has been filed with the commissioner of insurance in the manner provided for like policies issued by life insurers in this state. Every life, accident, health, or disability insurance certificate and every annuity certificate issued on or after one year from the effective date of this Subpart shall meet the standard contract provision requirements not inconsistent with the Subpart for like policies issued by life insurers in this state, except that a society may provide for a grace period for payment of premiums of one full month in its certificates. The certificate shall also contain a provision stating the amount of premiums which are payable under the certificate and a provision reciting or setting forth the substance of any sections of the society's laws or rules in force at the time of issuance of the certificate which, if violated, will result in the termination or reduction of benefits payable under the certificate. If the laws of the society provide for expulsion or suspension of a member, the certificate shall also contain a provision that any member so expelled or suspended, except for nonpayment of a premium or within the contestable period for material misrepresentation in the application for membership or insurance, shall have the privilege of maintaining the certificate in force by continuing payment of the required premium.

G. Benefit contracts issued on the lives of persons below the society's minimum age for adult membership may provide for transfer of control of ownership to the insured at an age specified in the certificate. A society may require approval of an application for membership in order to effect this transfer, and may provide in all other respects for the regulation, government, and control of such certificates and all rights, obligations, and liabilities incident thereto and connected therewith. Ownership rights prior to such transfer shall be specified in the certificate.

H. A society may specify the terms and conditions on which benefit contracts may be assigned.

§ 300. Nonforfeiture benefits, cash surrender values, certificate loans, and other options

A. For certificates issued prior to one year after the effective date of this Subpart, the value of every paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and the amount of any cash surrender value, loan, or other option granted shall comply with the provisions of law applicable immediately prior to the effective date of this Subpart.

B. For certificates issued on or after one year from the effective date of this Subpart for which reserves are computed on the commissioner's 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, the commissioner's 1941 Standard Industrial Table or the commissioner's 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, or the commissioner's 1980 Standard Mortality Table, or any more recent table made applicable to life insurers, every paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and the amount of any cash surrender value, loan, or other option granted shall not be less than the corresponding amount ascertained in accordance with the laws of this state applicable to life insurers issuing policies containing like benefits based upon such tables.

A. All assets shall be held, invested, and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society, and no member or beneficiary shall have or acquire individual rights therein or become entitled to any apportionment on the surrender of any part thereof, except as provided in the benefit contract.

B. A society may create, maintain, invest, disburse, and apply any special fund or funds necessary to carry out any purpose permitted by the laws of the society.

C. A society may, pursuant to resolution of its supreme governing body, establish and operate one or more separate accounts and issue contracts on a variable basis, subject to the provisions of law regulating life insurers establishing such accounts and issuing such contracts. To the extent the society deems it necessary in order to comply with any applicable federal or state laws, or any rules issued thereunder, the society may adopt special procedures for the conduct of the business and affairs of a separate account, may for persons having beneficial interests therein provide special voting and other rights, including without limitation special rights and procedures relating to investment policy, investment advisory services, selection of certified public accountants, and selection of a committee to manage the business and affairs of the account, and may issue contracts on a variable basis to which R.S. 22:299(B) and (D) shall not apply.

§ 554. Minimum standards

A. Applicability of Section. (1) The provisions of this Section shall apply if, in any calendar year, the aggregate amount of gross written premium on business placed with a controlled insurer by a controlling producer is equal to or greater than five percent of the admitted assets of the controlled insurer, as reported in the quarterly statement of the controlled insurer filed as of September thirtieth of the prior year.

(2) Notwithstanding Paragraph (1) of this Subsection, the provisions of this Section shall not apply if:

(a) The controlling producer places insurance only with the controlled insurer, or only with the controlled insurer and a member or members of the holding company system of the controlled insurer, or the controlled insurer's parent, affiliate, or subsidiary and receives no compensation based upon the amount of premiums written in connection with such insurance.

(b) The controlling producer accepts insurance placements only from nonaffiliated producers, and not directly from insureds.

(c) The controlled insurer, except for insurance business written through a residual market facility, accepts insurance business only from a controlling producer, a producer controlled by the controlled insurer, or a producer that is a subsidiary of the controlled insurer.

B. Required contract provisions. A controlled insurer shall not accept business from a controlling producer and a controlling producer shall not place business with a controlled insurer, unless there is a written contract between the controlling producer and the insurer specifying the responsibilities of each party, which contract has been approved by the board of directors of the insurer and contains the following minimum provisions:

(1) The controlled insurer may terminate the contract for cause, upon written notice to the controlling producer. The controlled insurer shall suspend the authority of the controlling producer to write business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for the termination.

(2) The controlling producer shall render accounts to the controlled insurer detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by, or owing to, the controlling producer.

(3) The controlling producer shall remit all funds due under the terms of the contract to the controlled insurer on at least a monthly basis. The due date shall be fixed so that premiums or installments collected shall be remitted no later than ninety days after the effective date of any policy placed with the controlled insurer under this contract.

(4) All funds collected for the controlled insurer's account shall be held by the controlling producer in a fiduciary capacity, in one or more appropriately identified bank accounts in banks that are members of the Federal Reserve System, in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Code. However, the funds of a controlling producer not required to be licensed in this state shall be maintained in compliance with the requirements of the domiciliary jurisdiction of the controlling producer.

(5) The controlling producer shall maintain separately identifiable records of business written for the controlled insurer.

(6) The contract shall not be assigned in whole or in part by the controlling producer.

(7) The controlled insurer shall provide the controlling producer with its underwriting standards, rules and procedures, manuals setting forth the rates to be charged, and the conditions for the acceptance or rejection of risks. The controlling producer shall adhere to the standards, rules, procedures, rates, and conditions, which shall be the same as those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by a producer other than the controlling producer.

(8) The contract shall specify the rates and terms of the commissions, charges, and other fees of the controlling producer and the purposes for those charges or fees. The rates of the commissions, charges, and other fees, shall be no greater than those applicable to comparable business placed with the controlled insurer by producers other than controlling producers. For purposes of this Paragraph and Paragraph (7) of this Subsection, comparable business shall include the same lines of insurance, same kinds of insurance, same kinds of risks, similar policy limits, and similar quality of business.

(9) If the contract provides that the controlling producer, on insurance business placed with the insurer, is to be compensated contingent upon the profits of the insurer on that business, then such compensation shall not be determined and paid until at least five years after the premiums on liability insurance are earned and at least one year after the premiums are earned on any other insurance. In no event shall the commissions be paid until the adequacy of the reserves of the controlled insurer on remaining claims has been independently verified pursuant to Subsection C of this Section.

(10) The contract shall specify a limit on the writings of the controlling producer in relation to the surplus and total writings of the controlled insurer. The insurer may establish a different limit for each line or subline of business. The controlled insurer shall notify the controlling producer when the applicable limit is approached and shall not accept business from the controlling producer if the limit is reached. The controlling producer shall not place business with the controlled insurer if he has been notified by the controlled insurer that the limit has been reached.

(11) The controlling producer may negotiate, but shall not bind reinsurance on behalf of the controlled insurer on business the controlling producer places with the controlled insurer, except that the controlling producer may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the controlled insurer contains underwriting guidelines including, for both reinsurance assumed and ceded, a list of reinsurers with which such automatic agreements are in effect, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured and commission schedules.

C. Audit committee. Every controlled insurer shall have an audit committee of the board of directors composed of independent directors. The audit committee shall annually meet with management, the independent certified public accountants of the insurer, and an independent casualty actuary or other independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner of insurance to review the adequacy of the loss reserves of the insurer.

D. Reporting requirements. (1) In addition to any other required loss reserve certification, the controlled insurer shall annually, on April first of each year, file with the commissioner an opinion of an independent casualty actuary, or such other independent loss reserve specialist approved by the commissioner, reporting loss ratios for each line of business written and attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding as of year-end, including losses incurred but not reported, on business placed by the controlling producer.

(2) The controlled insurer shall annually report to the commissioner the amount of commissions paid to the controlling producer, the percentage such amount represents of the net premiums written and comparable amounts and percentage paid to noncontrolling producers for placements of the same kinds of insurance.

§ 555. Disclosure

The controlling producer, prior to the effective date of the policy, shall deliver written notice to the prospective insured disclosing the relationship between the controlling producer and the controlled insurer; except that, if the business is placed through another producer, who is not a controlling producer, the controlling producer shall retain in his records a signed commitment from the other producer that such producer is aware of the relationship between the insurer and the controlling producer and that such producer has or will notify the insured.

§ 556. Penalties

A. If the commissioner believes that the controlling producer, or any other person, has not materially complied with this Part, or any regulation or order promulgated hereunder, after notice and opportunity to be heard, the commissioner may order the controlling producer to cease placing business with the controlled insurer.

B. If it is found that, because the controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with this Part, the controlled insurer or any policyholder thereof has suffered any loss or damage, the commissioner may maintain a civil action or intervene in an action brought by or on behalf of the insurer or policyholder for recovery of compensatory damages, for the benefit of the insurer or policyholder, or other appropriate relief.

C. If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of the controlled insurer has been entered and the receiver appointed pursuant to that order believes that the controlling producer or any other person has not materially complied with this Part, or any regulation or order promulgated hereunder, and the insurer suffered any loss or damage therefrom, the receiver may maintain a civil action for recovery of damages or other appropriate sanctions for the benefit of the insurer.

§ 601.2. General investment qualifications

A. Insurers may acquire, hold, or invest in investments or engage in investment practices as set forth in this Subpart only. Investments not conforming to this Subpart shall not be admitted assets.

B. No security or other investment shall be eligible for purchase or acquisition pursuant to this Subpart unless it is interest bearing or interest accruing or dividend or income paying or eligible for dividends or income, is not then in default in any respect, and the insurer is entitled to receive for its exclusive account and benefit, the interest or income accruing thereon; except that it may acquire immovable property for occupancy by the insurer for home and branch office purposes. No security shall be eligible for purchase at a price above its market value.

C. Except as provided in Subsections D and E of this Section, an investment shall qualify pursuant to this Subpart if, on the date the insurer committed to acquire the investment or on the date of its acquisition, it would have qualified pursuant to this Subpart. For the purposes of determining limitations contained in this Subpart, an insurer shall give appropriate recognition to any commitments to acquire investments.

D. (1) An investment held as an admitted asset by an insurer on January 1, 2022, which qualified pursuant to this Title shall remain qualified as an admitted asset pursuant to this Subpart.

(2) Each specific transaction constituting an investment practice of the type described in this Subpart that was lawfully executed by an insurer and was in effect on January 1, 2022, shall continue to be permitted pursuant to this Subpart until its expiration or termination under its terms.

E. An investment qualified, in whole or in part, for acquisition or holding as an admitted asset may be qualified or requalified at the time of acquisition or a later date, in whole or in part, pursuant to any other Section in this Subpart, if the relevant conditions contained in the other Section are satisfied at the time of qualification or requalification.

F. An insurer may acquire or hold as admitted assets any of the following investments that do not otherwise qualify as provided in this Subpart if the insurer has not acquired them for the purpose of circumventing any limitations contained in this Subpart, if the insurer acquires the investments in the following circumstances, and the insurer complies with the provisions of R.S. 22:601.5 and 601.18 as to the investments:

(1) As payment on account of existing indebtedness or in connection with the refinancing, restructuring, or workout of existing indebtedness, if taken to protect the insurer's interest in that investment.

(2) As realization on collateral for an obligation.

(3) In connection with an otherwise qualified investment or investment practice, as interest on or a dividend or other distribution related to the investment or investment practice or in connection with the refinancing of the investment, in each case for no additional or only nominal consideration.

(4) Under a lawful and bona fide agreement of recapitalization or voluntary or involuntary reorganization in connection with an investment held by the insurer.

(5) Under a bulk reinsurance, merger, or consolidation transaction approved by the commissioner if the assets constitute admissible investments for the ceding, merged, or consolidated companies.

G. An investment or portion of an investment acquired by an insurer pursuant to Subsection F of this Section shall become a nonadmitted asset three years, or five years in the case of mortgage loans and real estate, from the date of its acquisition, unless within that period the investment has become a qualified investment pursuant to this Subpart, except as provided in Subsection F of this Section, but an investment acquired under an agreement of bulk reinsurance, merger, or consolidation may be qualified for a longer period if provided in the plan for reinsurance, merger, or consolidation as approved by the commissioner. Upon application by the insurer and a showing that the nonadmission of an asset held pursuant to Subsection F of this Section would materially injure the interests of the insurer, the commissioner may extend the period for admissibility for an additional reasonable period. An aggrieved party affected by the commissioner's decision, act, or order may demand a hearing in accordance with R.S. 22:2191 et seq.

H. The investments of a foreign or alien insurer shall be as permitted by the laws of its domicile but shall be of a quality substantially as high as those required pursuant to this Subpart for similar funds of like domestic insurers.

I. Unless otherwise specified, an investment limitation computed on the basis of an insurer's admitted assets or capital and surplus shall relate to the amount required to be shown on the statutory balance sheet of the insurer most recently required to be filed with the commissioner.

J. An insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that investments were acquired in accordance with this Subpart and specifying the Section of this Subpart under which they were acquired.

K. An insurer shall not execute an agreement to purchase securities in advance of their issuance for resale to the public as part of a distribution of the securities by the issuer or otherwise guarantee the distribution, except that an insurer may acquire privately placed securities with registration rights.

L. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Subpart, the commissioner, for good cause, may order, pursuant to rules or regulations promulgated and adopted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, an insurer to nonadmit, limit, dispose of, withdraw from, or discontinue an investment or investment practice. The authority of the commissioner under this Subsection shall be in addition to any other authority of the commissioner.

M. Insurance futures and insurance futures options shall not be considered investments or investment practices for purposes of this Subpart.

N. The commissioner may retain at the insurer's expense attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as may be reasonably necessary to assist in reviewing the insurer's investments. These persons retained shall be under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

O. If the commissioner determines that an insurer's investment practices do not comply with the provisions of this Subpart, the commissioner may, after notification to the insurer of the commissioner's findings, order the insurer to make changes necessary to comply with the provisions of this Subpart.

P. If the commissioner determines that by reason of the financial condition, current investment practice, or current investment plan of an insurer, the interests of insureds, creditors, or the general public are or may be endangered, the commissioner may impose reasonable additional restrictions upon the admissibility or valuation of investments or may impose restrictions on the investment practices of an insurer, including prohibition or divestment.

Q. The commissioner may count toward satisfaction of the minimum asset requirement any assets in which an insurer is required to invest under the laws of a country other than the United States as a condition for doing business in that country if the commissioner determines that counting them does not endanger the interests of insureds, creditors, or the general public.

A mortgage loan which is secured by other than a first lien is authorized under this Section if the insurer is the holder of the first lien. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority, shall not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(1) Eighty percent of the fair market value of the real estate, if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of thirty years or less and periodic payments made no less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment shall be sufficient to assure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan shall be not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, with the same interest rate and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans permitted pursuant to this Subsection are permitted notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance prior to the end of the period of amortization of the loan.

(a) The fair market value of the real estate shall be substantiated with an appraisal by a recognized and experienced real estate appraiser who is a member of a recognized appraisal organization, which the commissioner of insurance may accept if he is satisfied that the appraiser is competent and disinterested.

(b) The amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, or their successors.

E. No insurer shall acquire an investment pursuant to this Section or R.S. 22:601.10(B) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer pursuant to this Section and R.S. 22:601.10(B) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed forty-five percent of its admitted assets.

F. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a domestic insurer is entitled to the same benefits and exemptions relative to state usury laws, specifically R.S. 9:3500 and 3503, granted to banks and savings and loan associations pursuant to the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980, 12 U.S.C. 1735f-7, as amended. The investment in a building shall not exceed ten percent of the company's assets in that country.

(2) No insurer shall acquire real estate if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of all real estate then held by the insurer pursuant to this Section would exceed ten percent of its admitted assets.

(3) Upon approval by the commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired pursuant to this Section upon a determination by the commissioner that the amount represented by the percentage of its admitted assets is insufficient to provide convenient accommodation for the insurer's business and would not render the insurer in hazardous financial condition.

B. (1) An insurer may acquire real estate situated in the United States that is income producing or after suitable improvement within five years from acquisition can reasonably be expected to produce income.

(2) The insurer may thereafter own, hold, maintain, and manage the real estate so acquired and the improvements thereon and collect or receive income therefrom and may grant, sell, or convey the same in whole or in part. Ownership, management, and control shall be entire and complete by one insurer unless shared by two or more insurers subject to this Title or unless the insurer is a general partner under agreements that will assure concerted action in the management and control of the property and in case of the insolvency of any participating insurer.

C. (2) No insurer shall acquire an investment pursuant to R.S. 22:601.9 or Subsection B of this Section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any guarantees it has made in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer pursuant to R.S. 22:601.9 and Subsection B of this Section plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed forty-five percent of its admitted assets.

D. Orders or decisions of the commissioner of insurance shall be subject to review as provided in R.S. 22:2191 et seq.

Added by Acts 2021, No. 165, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2022.

(b) Prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

(3) Cash received in a transaction under this Section shall be invested in accordance with this Subpart and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. While the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer, its agent, or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction under this Section, either physically or through the book entry systems of the Federal Reserve, Depository Trust Company, Participants Trust Company, or other securities depositories approved by the commissioner:

(a) Possession of the acceptable collateral.

(b) A perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral.

(c) In the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to, or rights of a secured creditor to, the acceptable collateral.

(4) The limitations of R.S. 22:601.6 and 601.12 shall not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions under this Section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this Subsection, no effect will be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction. No insurer shall execute a transaction under this Section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, any of the following occur:

§ 639. Confidentiality; prohibition on announcements; prohibition on use in ratemaking

A. All risk-based capital reports, to the extent the information is not required to be set forth in a publicly available annual statement schedule, and risk-based capital plans, including the results or report of any examination or analysis of a health organization performed pursuant to this Subpart and any corrective order issued by the commissioner pursuant to examination or analysis, with respect to a domestic health organization or foreign health organization that are in the possession or control of the Department of Insurance shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to Chapter 1 of Title 44 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials, or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of the commissioner's official duties.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials, or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A of this Section.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner may do any of the following:

(1) Share documents, materials, or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A of this Section, with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies, with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and with state, federal, and international law enforcement authorities, provided that the recipient agrees to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material, or other information.

(2) Receive documents, materials, or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information, from the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and its affiliates and subsidiaries, and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material, or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material, or information.

(3) Enter into agreements governing sharing and use of information consistent with this Subsection.

D. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials, or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this Section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Paragraph (3) of Subsection C of this Section.

E. It is the judgment of the legislature that the comparison of a health organization's total adjusted capital to any of its risk-based capital levels is a regulatory tool which may indicate the need for corrective action with respect to the health organization and is not intended as a means to rank health organizations generally. Therefore, except as otherwise required under the provisions of this Subpart, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public, or causing, directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public, in a newspaper, magazine or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster, or over a radio or television station, or in any other way, an advertisement, announcement, or statement containing an assertion, representation, or statement with regard to the risk-based capital levels of any health organization, or of any component derived in the calculation, by any health organization, provider, broker, or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business would be misleading and is therefore prohibited. However, if any materially false statement with respect to the comparison regarding a health organization's total adjusted capital to its risk-based capital levels, or any of them, or an inappropriate comparison of any other amount to the health organizations' risk-based capital levels is published in any written publication and the health organization is able to demonstrate to the commissioner with substantial proof the falsity of the statement, or the inappropriateness, as the case may be, then the health organization may publish an announcement in a written publication if the sole purpose of the announcement is to rebut the materially false statement.

F. It is the further judgment of the legislature that an excess of capital (i.e., net worth) over the amount produced by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this Subpart and the formulas, schedules, and instructions referenced in this Subpart are desirable in the business of health insurance. Accordingly, health organizations should seek to maintain capital above the risk-based capital levels required by this Subpart. Additional capital is used and useful in the insurance business and helps to secure a health organization against various risks inherent in or affecting the business of insurance and not accounted for or only partially measured by the risk-based capital requirements contained in this Subpart.

SUBPART E. REINSURANCE

§ 651. Reinsurance credits

A. The commissioner shall allow credit for reinsurance to a domestic ceding insurer as either an asset or deduction from liability when the assuming insurer satisfies the requirements of Subsection B, C, D, E, F, or G of this Section. Additionally, the commissioner may adopt by regulation pursuant to R.S. 22:661(B) specific additional requirements relating to or setting forth the valuation of assets or reserve credits, the amount and forms of security supporting reinsurance arrangements described in R.S. 22:661(B), or the circumstances pursuant to which credit will be reduced or eliminated. The commissioner shall allow credit under Subsection B or C of this Section pertaining only to cessions of those kinds or classes of business that the assuming insurer is licensed or otherwise permitted to write or assume in its state of domicile or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, in the state through which it is entered and licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance. The commissioner shall allow the credit for reinsurance pursuant to Subsection D of this Section only if the assuming insurer satisfies the requirements of Subsection H of this Section.

B. The commissioner shall allow credit for reinsurance when the assuming insurer holds a certificate of authority to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state.

C. The commissioner shall allow credit for reinsurance when the assuming insurer is an accredited reinsurer in this state. To be eligible for accreditation and to receive the commissioner's approval of its application for accreditation, a reinsurer shall complete each of the following:

(1) File with the commissioner evidence of its submission to the jurisdiction of this state.

(2) Submit to the authority of the commissioner to examine its books and records.

(3) Demonstrate that it is licensed or authorized to transact insurance or reinsurance in, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through, at least one state that employs standards regarding credit for reinsurance equal to or exceeding those applicable under this Subpart.

(4) File annually with the commissioner a true copy of its annual statement filed with the insurance regulator of its state of domicile and a copy of its most recent audited financial statement.

(5) Demonstrate to the satisfaction of the commissioner that it has adequate financial capacity to meet its reinsurance obligations and is otherwise qualified to assume reinsurance from domestic insurers. The commissioner shall deem that an assuming insurer meets this requirement as of the time of its application if it maintains a surplus as regards policyholders in an amount not less than twenty million dollars and the commissioner has not denied it accreditation within ninety days after submission of its application.

D. (1) The commissioner shall allow a domestic ceding insurer credit for reinsurance under Paragraph (2) of this Subsection when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that maintains a trust fund in a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in R.S. 22:653(B), for the payment of the valid claims of its United States policyholders and ceding insurers, their assigns, and successors in interest. The assuming insurer shall report and submit annually to the commissioner information substantially the same as that required to be reported on the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) annual statement form by authorized insurers to enable the commissioner to determine the sufficiency of the trust fund. The assuming insurer shall submit to examination of its books and records by the commissioner and bear the expense of examination.

(2)(a) The commissioner shall not grant credit for reinsurance under this Subsection unless the form of the trust and any amendments to the trust receive the approval of either of the following:

(i) The commissioner of the state of domicile of the trust.

(ii) The commissioner of another state who, pursuant to the terms of the trust instrument, accepts principal regulatory oversight of the trust.

(b) The assuming insurer shall also file the form of the trust and any trust amendments with the commissioner of every domiciliary state of the ceding insurer beneficiaries of the trust. The trust instrument shall provide that contested claims shall be valid and enforceable upon the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States. The trust shall vest legal title to its assets in its trustees for the benefit of the assuming insurer's United States ceding insurers, their assigns, and successors in interest. The trust and the assuming insurer shall be subject to examination as determined by the commissioner.

(c) The trust shall remain in effect for as long as the assuming insurer has outstanding obligations due under the reinsurance agreements subject to the trust. No later than the last day of February of each year the trustee of the trust shall report to the commissioner in writing the balance of the trust and list the trust's investments at the preceding year-end and shall certify the date of termination of the trust, if so planned, or certify that the trust will not expire prior to the following thirty-first day of December.

(3)(a) In the case of a single assuming insurer, the trust fund shall consist of funds in trust in an amount not less than the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to business written in the United States and, in addition, the assuming insurer shall maintain a trusteed surplus of not less than twenty million dollars, except as provided in Subparagraph (b) of this Paragraph.

(b) At any time after the assuming insurer has permanently discontinued underwriting new business secured by the trust for at least three full years, the commissioner with principal regulatory oversight of the trust may authorize a reduction in the required trusted surplus, but only after a finding, based on an assessment of the risk, that the new required surplus level is adequate for the protection of the United States ceding insurers, policyholders, and claimants in light of reasonably foreseeable adverse loss development. The risk assessment may involve an actuarial review, including an independent analysis of reserves and cash flow, and shall consider all material risk factors, including when applicable the lines of business involved, the stability of the incurred loss estimates, and the effect of the surplus requirements on the assuming insurer's liquidity or solvency. The minimum required trusted surplus may not be reduced to an amount less than thirty percent of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded by United States ceding insurers covered by the trust.

(c) In the case of a group of assuming insurers that includes incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, the following provisions apply:

(i) For reinsurance ceded under reinsurance agreements with an inception, amendment, or renewal date on or after January 1, 1993, the trust shall consist of a trusted account in an amount not less than the respective underwriters' several liabilities attributable to business ceded by United States domiciled ceding insurers to any underwriter of the group.

(ii) For reinsurance ceded under reinsurance agreements with an inception date on or before December 31, 1992, and not amended or renewed after that date, notwithstanding the other provisions of this Subpart, the trust shall consist of a trusted account in an amount not less than the respective underwriters' several insurance and reinsurance liabilities attributable to business written in the United States.

(iii) In addition to these trusts, the group shall maintain in trust a trusted surplus of which one hundred million dollars shall be held jointly for the benefit of the United States domiciled ceding insurers or any member of the group for all years of account.

(iv) The incorporated members of the group shall not engage in any business other than underwriting as a member of the group and shall be subject to the same level of regulation and solvency control by the group's domiciliary regulator as are the unincorporated members.

(v) Within ninety days after its financial statements are due to be filed with the group's domiciliary regulator, the group shall provide to the commissioner an annual certification by the group's domiciliary regulator of the solvency of each underwriter member; or if a certification is unavailable, financial statements, prepared by independent public accountants, of each underwriter member of the group.

(d) In the case of a group of incorporated underwriters under common administration, the group shall:

(i) Submit to the commissioner's authority to examine its books and records and bear the expense of any examination.

(ii) Maintain aggregate policyholders' surplus of ten billion dollars.

(iii) Maintain a trust fund in an amount not less than the group's several liabilities attributable to business ceded by United States ceding insurers to any member of the group.

(iv) In addition, maintain a joint trusteed surplus of which one hundred million dollars shall be held jointly for the benefit of the United States ceding insurers of any member of the group as additional security for these liabilities.

(v) Within ninety days after its financial statements are due to be filed with the group's domiciliary regulator make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the member's solvency by the member's domiciliary regulator and financial statements of each underwriter member of the group audited by independent public accountants.

E. (1) The commissioner shall allow credit for reinsurance when the assuming insurer is a certified reinsurer in this state and secures its obligations in accordance with the requirements of this Subsection. To be eligible for certification, the assuming insurer shall meet the following requirements:

(a) The assuming insurer shall be domiciled and licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in a qualified jurisdiction, as determined by the commissioner pursuant to Paragraph (3) of this Subsection.

(b) The assuming insurer shall maintain minimum capital and surplus or its equivalent, in an amount determined by the commissioner, pursuant to regulation.

(c) The assuming insurer shall maintain financial strength ratings from two or more rating agencies deemed acceptable by the commissioner pursuant to regulation.

(d) The assuming insurer shall agree to submit to the jurisdiction of this state, appoint the commissioner as its agent for service of process in this state, and agree to provide security for one hundred percent of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded by United States ceding insurers if it resists enforcement of a final United States judgment.

(e) The assuming insurer shall agree to meet applicable information filing requirements as determined by the commissioner for its initial application for certification and for its continual maintenance of certification as a reinsurer.

(f) The assuming insurer shall satisfy any other requirements for certification deemed relevant by the commissioner.

(2) An association including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters may be a certified reinsurer. To be eligible for certification, in addition to satisfying requirements of Paragraph (1) of this Subsection:

(a) The association shall satisfy its minimum capital and surplus requirements through the capital and surplus equivalents and net of liabilities of the association and its members, which shall include a joint central fund that may be applied to any unsatisfied obligation of the association or any of its members, in an amount determined by the commissioner to provide adequate protection.

(b) The incorporated members of the association shall not engage in any business other than underwriting as a member of the association and shall be subject to the same level of regulation and solvency control to which the unincorporated members are subject, pursuant to the authority of the association's domiciliary regulator.

(c) Within ninety days after its financial statements are due to be filed with the association's domiciliary regulator, the association shall provide to the commissioner an annual certification by the association's domiciliary regulator of the solvency of each underwriter member; or, if a certification is unavailable, the association shall provide financial statements, prepared by independent public accountants, of each underwriter member of the association.

(3) The commissioner shall create and publish a list of qualified jurisdictions.

(a) To determine the eligibility of the domiciliary jurisdiction of a non-United States assuming insurer for recognition as a qualified jurisdiction, the commissioner shall evaluate the appropriateness and effectiveness of the reinsurance supervisory system of the jurisdiction, both initially and continually thereafter, and consider the rights, benefits, and the extent of reciprocal recognition afforded by the non-United States jurisdiction to reinsurers licensed and domiciled in the United States. A qualified jurisdiction shall agree to share information and cooperate with the commissioner with respect to all certified reinsurers domiciled within that jurisdiction. The commissioner may not recognize a jurisdiction as a qualified jurisdiction if the commissioner determines that it does not adequately and promptly enforce final United States judgments and arbitration awards. The commissioner may consider additional factors in determining qualified jurisdictions.

(b) The commissioner shall consider the list of qualified jurisdictions published by the NAIC through the NAIC committee process in determining qualified jurisdictions. If the commissioner approves a jurisdiction as qualified that does not appear on the list of qualified jurisdictions, the commissioner shall provide thoroughly documented justification in accordance with criteria to be developed pursuant to regulations.

(c) The commissioner shall recognize as qualified jurisdictions those United States jurisdictions that meet the requirements for accreditation under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program.

(d) If a certified reinsurer's domiciliary jurisdiction ceases to be a qualified jurisdiction, the commissioner has the discretion to suspend the reinsurer's certification indefinitely, in lieu of revocation.

(4) The commissioner shall publish a list of all certified reinsurers and their ratings assigned by the commissioner giving due consideration to the financial strength ratings assigned by rating agencies acceptable to the commissioner pursuant to regulation.

(5) A certified reinsurer shall secure obligations assumed from United States ceding insurers under this Subsection at a level consistent with its rating, as specified in regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

(a) For a domestic ceding insurer to qualify for full financial statement credit for reinsurance ceded to a certified reinsurer, the certified reinsurer shall maintain security in a form acceptable to the commissioner and consistent with the provisions of R.S. 22:652, or in a multi-beneficiary trust in accordance with Subsection D of this Section, except as otherwise provided in this Subsection.

(b) If a certified reinsurer maintains a trust to fully secure its obligations subject to Subsection D of this Section, and chooses to secure its obligations incurred as a certified reinsurer in the form of a multi-beneficiary trust, the certified reinsurer shall maintain separate trust accounts for its obligations incurred under reinsurance agreements issued or renewed as a certified reinsurer with reduced security as permitted by this Subsection or comparable laws of other United States jurisdictions and for its obligations subject to this Subsection. It shall be a condition to the grant of certification pursuant to this Subsection that the certified reinsurer shall have bound itself, by the language of the trust and agreement with the commissioner with principal regulatory oversight of each such trust account, to fund, upon termination of any such trust account, out of the remaining surplus of such trust any deficiency of any other such trust account.

(c) The minimum trustee surplus requirements provided in Subsection D of this Section are not applicable with respect to a multi-beneficiary trust maintained by a certified reinsurer for the purpose of securing obligations incurred pursuant to this Subsection, except that such trust shall maintain a minimum trustee surplus of ten million dollars.

(d) With respect to obligations incurred by a certified reinsurer pursuant to this Subsection, if the security is insufficient, the commissioner shall reduce the allowable credit by an amount proportionate to the deficiency, and has the discretion to impose further reductions in allowable credit upon finding that there is a material risk that the certified reinsurer's obligations will not be paid in full when due.

(e) For purposes of this Subsection, a certified reinsurer whose certification has been terminated for any reason shall be treated as a certified reinsurer required to secure one hundred percent of its obligations.

(i) As used in this Subsection, the term "terminated" refers to revocation, suspension, voluntary surrender, and inactive status.

(ii) If the commissioner continues to assign a higher rating as permitted by other provisions of this Section, this requirement does not apply to a certified reinsurer in inactive status or to a reinsurer whose certification has been suspended.

(6) The commissioner may certify a reinsurer in this state based on the certification and assigned rating granted to that reinsurer by another NAIC accredited jurisdiction.

(7) A certified reinsurer that ceases to assume new business in this state may request to maintain its certification in inactive status in order to continue to qualify for a reduction in security for its in-force business. An inactive certified reinsurer shall continue to comply with all applicable requirements of this Subsection, and the commissioner shall assign a rating that takes into account, if relevant, the reasons why the reinsurer is not assuming new business.

F. (1) The commissioner shall allow credit for reinsurance when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer meeting each of the following conditions:

(a)(i) The assuming insurer has its head office or is domiciled in, as applicable, and is licensed in a reciprocal jurisdiction.

(ii) As used in this Subsection, a "reciprocal jurisdiction" is a jurisdiction that meets one of the following criteria:

(aa) A non-United States jurisdiction that is subject to an in-force covered agreement with the United States, each within its legal authority, or, in the case of a covered agreement between the United States and the European Union, is a member state of the European Union. For purposes of this Subsection, a "covered agreement" is an agreement entered into pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, 31 U.S.C. 313 and 314, which is currently in effect or in a period of provisional application and addresses the elimination, under specified conditions, of collateral requirements as a condition for entering into any reinsurance agreement with a ceding insurer domiciled in this state or for allowing the ceding insurer to recognize credit for reinsurance.

(bb) A United States jurisdiction that meets the requirements for accreditation under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program.

(cc) A qualified jurisdiction, as determined by the commissioner pursuant to Paragraph (E)(3) of this Section, which is not otherwise described in Subitem (aa) or (bb) of this Item and which meets certain additional requirements, consistent with the terms and conditions of in-force covered agreements, as specified by the commissioner pursuant to regulation.

(b) The assuming insurer has and maintains, on an ongoing basis, minimum capital and surplus, or its equivalent, calculated according to the methodology of its domiciliary jurisdiction, in an amount to be set forth in regulation. If the assuming insurer is an association, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, it shall have and maintain, on an ongoing basis, minimum capital and surplus equivalents, net of liabilities, calculated according to the methodology applicable in its domiciliary jurisdiction, and a central fund containing a balance in amounts to be set forth in regulation.

(c) The assuming insurer has and maintains, on an ongoing basis, a minimum solvency or capital ratio, as applicable, which will be set forth in regulation. If the assuming insurer is an association, including incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters, it shall have and maintain, on an ongoing basis, a minimum solvency or capital ratio in the reciprocal jurisdiction where the assuming insurer has its head office or is domiciled, as applicable, and is also licensed.

(d) The assuming insurer agrees and provides adequate assurance to the commissioner, in a form specified by the commissioner pursuant to regulation, that it will comply with all of the following:

(i) The assuming insurer shall provide prompt written notice and explanation to the commissioner if it falls below the minimum requirements set forth in Subparagraph (b) or (c) of this Paragraph or if any regulatory action is taken against it for serious noncompliance with applicable law.

(ii) The assuming insurer shall consent in writing to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state and to the appointment of the commissioner as agent for service of process. The commissioner may require that consent for service of process be provided to the commissioner and included in each reinsurance agreement. Nothing in this Section limits, or in any way alters, the capacity of parties to a reinsurance agreement to agree to alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, except to the extent such agreements are unenforceable under applicable insolvency or delinquency laws.

(iii) The assuming insurer shall consent in writing to pay any final judgment that has been declared enforceable in a jurisdiction where the judgment was obtained, wherever enforcement is sought by a ceding insurer or its legal successor.

(iv) Each reinsurance agreement shall include a provision requiring the assuming insurer to provide security in an amount equal to one hundred percent of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded pursuant to that agreement if the assuming insurer resists enforcement of a final judgment that is enforceable under the law of the jurisdiction in which it was obtained or a properly enforceable arbitration award, whether obtained by the ceding insurer or by its legal successor on behalf of its resolution estate.

(v) The assuming insurer shall confirm that it is not presently participating in any solvent scheme of arrangement which involves this state's ceding insurers and agree to notify the ceding insurer and the commissioner and to provide security in an amount equal to one hundred percent of the assuming insurer's liabilities to the ceding insurer, should the assuming insurer enter into such a solvent scheme of arrangement. Such security shall be in a form consistent with Subsection E of this Section, R.S. 22:652, and as specified by the commissioner pursuant to regulations.

(e) The assuming insurer or its legal successor provides, if requested by the commissioner, on behalf of itself and any legal predecessors, certain documentation to the commissioner, as specified by the commissioner pursuant to regulations.

(f) The assuming insurer maintains a practice of prompt payment of claims under reinsurance agreements, pursuant to criteria set forth in regulation.

(g) The assuming insurer's supervisory authority confirms to the commissioner on an annual basis, as of the preceding December thirty-first or at the annual date otherwise statutorily reported to the reciprocal jurisdiction, that the assuming insurer complies with the requirements set forth in Subparagraphs (b) and (c) of this Paragraph.

(2) Nothing in this Subsection precludes an assuming insurer from providing the commissioner with information on a voluntary basis.

(3) The commissioner shall timely create and publish a list of reciprocal jurisdictions, subject to the following:

(a) A list of reciprocal jurisdictions is published through the NAIC Committee Process. The commissioner's list shall include any reciprocal jurisdiction as defined pursuant to Subitems (1)(a)(ii)(aa) and (bb) of this Subsection, and shall consider any other reciprocal jurisdiction included on the NAIC list. The commissioner may approve a jurisdiction that does not appear on the NAIC list of reciprocal jurisdictions in accordance with criteria developed pursuant to regulations.

(b) The commissioner may remove a jurisdiction from the list of reciprocal jurisdictions upon a determination that the jurisdiction no longer meets the requirements of a reciprocal jurisdiction, in accordance with a process set forth in regulations, except that the commissioner shall not remove from the list a reciprocal jurisdiction as defined pursuant to Subitems (1)(a)(ii)(aa) and (bb) of this Subsection. Upon removal of a reciprocal jurisdiction from this list, credit for reinsurance ceded to an assuming insurer which has its home office or is domiciled in that jurisdiction shall be allowed, if otherwise allowed pursuant to this Section.

(4) The commissioner shall timely create and publish a list of assuming insurers that have satisfied the conditions set forth in this Subsection and to which cessions shall be granted credit in accordance with this Subsection. The commissioner may add an assuming insurer to the list if an NAIC-accredited jurisdiction has added the assuming insurer to a list of the assuming insurers or if, upon initial eligibility, the assuming insurer submits the information to the commissioner as required pursuant to Subparagraph (1)(d) of this Subsection and complies with any additional requirements that the commissioner may impose by regulation, except to the extent that those requirements conflict with an applicable covered agreement.

(5) If the commissioner determines that an assuming insurer no longer meets one or more of the requirements of this Subsection, the commissioner may revoke or suspend the eligibility of the assuming insurer for recognition under this Subsection in accordance with procedures set forth in regulations.

(a) While an assuming insurer's eligibility is suspended, no reinsurance agreement issued, amended, or renewed after the effective date of the suspension qualifies for credit except to the extent that the assuming insurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with R.S. 22:652.

(b) If an assuming insurer's eligibility is revoked, no credit for reinsurance may be granted after the effective date of the revocation with respect to any reinsurance agreements entered into by the assuming insurer, including reinsurance agreements entered into prior to the date of revocation, except to the extent that the assuming insurer's obligations under the contract are secured in a form acceptable to the commissioner and consistent with the provisions of R.S. 22:652.

(6) If subject to a legal process of rehabilitation, liquidation, or conservation, as applicable, the ceding insurer, or its representative, may seek and, if determined appropriate by the court in which the proceedings are pending, may obtain an order requiring that the assuming insurer post security for all outstanding ceded liabilities.

(7) Nothing in this Subsection shall limit or, in any way, alter the capacity of parties to a reinsurance agreement to agree on requirements for security or other terms in that reinsurance agreement, except as expressly prohibited by this Subpart or other applicable law or regulation.

(8)(a) Credit may be taken pursuant to this Subsection only for reinsurance agreements entered into, amended, or renewed on or after the effective date of this Subsection and only with respect to losses incurred and reserves reported on or after the date on which the assuming insurer has met all eligibility requirements pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this Subsection or the effective date of the new reinsurance agreement, amendment, or renewal, whichever is later.

(b) This Paragraph does not alter or impair a ceding insurer's right to take credit for reinsurance, to the extent that credit is not available pursuant to this Subsection, as long as the reinsurance qualifies for credit pursuant to any other applicable provision of this Subpart.

(9) Nothing in this Subsection authorizes an assuming insurer to withdraw or reduce the security provided under any reinsurance agreement except as permitted by the terms of the agreement.

(10) Nothing in this Subsection limits, or in any way alters the capacity of parties to any reinsurance agreement to renegotiate the agreement.

G. Any credit for reinsurance shall also be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of Subsection B, C, D, E, or F of this Section, but only as to the insurance of risks located in jurisdictions where the reinsurance is required by applicable law of that jurisdiction.

H. If the assuming insurer is not accredited or certified or does not hold a certificate of authority to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state, the commissioner shall not allow the credit permitted by Subsection D of this Section unless each of the following criteria is met:

(1)(a) The assuming insurer provides the following in all reinsurance agreements:

(i) That in the event of the failure of the assuming insurer to perform its obligations under the terms of the reinsurance agreement, the assuming insurer, at the request of the ceding insurer, shall submit to the jurisdiction of any court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States, comply with all requirements necessary to give such court jurisdiction, and abide by the final decision of the district court or appellate court.

(ii) To designate the commissioner as its true and lawful attorney, who may be served any lawful service of process in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding insurer.

(b) The provisions of Items (a)(i) and (ii) of this Paragraph shall not be construed to conflict with or override the obligation of the parties to a reinsurance agreement to arbitrate their disputes, if such an obligation is created in the reinsurance agreement.

(2) The assuming insurer files with the commissioner a list identifying its officers and directors, or similar principals, along with biographical information for each and provides an annual update of this information.

(3) The assuming insurer agrees to allow the commissioner to examine its books and records and to waive any protection it has under any secrecy laws of its domiciliary jurisdiction of the reinsurer, except that any examination shall take place only upon showing of good cause by the commissioner for concern about the financial soundness or solvency of the subject entity.

I. The ceding insurer may take credit for the reserves on such ceded risks to the extent reinsured, except that:

(1) The ceding insurer shall not take credit for such reserves unless the insurer accepting the reinsurance meets the requirements set forth in this Section as valid assuming insurers.

(2) The commissioner shall not allow credit to any ceding insurer for reinsurance, as an admitted asset or as a deduction from liability, unless the reinsurance shall be payable, in the event of insolvency of the ceding insurer, to its liquidator or receiver on the basis of the claim or claims allowed against the insolvent ceding insurer by any court of competent jurisdiction or any justice or judge thereof, or by any receiver or liquidator having authority to determine and allow such claims, except either where the reinsurance contract with the consent of the direct insured or insureds specifically provides another payee of such reinsurance in the event of the insolvency of the ceding insurer, or when the assuming insurer with the consent of the direct insured or insureds has assumed such policy obligations of the ceding insurer as direct obligations of the assuming insurer to the payees under such policies and in substitution for the obligations of the ceding insurer to such payees.

(3) The commissioner shall not permit credit for reinsurance unless the assuming insurer has been doing business in its country of domicile for at least three years, or is an affiliate of an insurer or reinsurer that has been doing business in its country of domicile for at least three years, unless the commissioner, for good cause shown, waives this three-year operating requirement by rule or regulation.

J. If the assuming insurer does not meet the requirements of Subsection B, C, or F of this Section, the credit permitted by Subsection D or E of this Section shall not be allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the trust agreements to each of the following conditions:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provisions in the trust instrument, if the trust fund is inadequate because it contains an amount less than the amount required by Paragraph (D) (3) of this Section, or if the grantor of the trust has been declared insolvent or placed into receivership, rehabilitation, liquidation, or similar proceedings under the laws of its state or country of domicile, the trustee shall comply with an order of the commissioner with regulatory oversight over the trust or with an order of a court of competent jurisdiction directing the trustee to transfer to the commissioner with regulatory oversight all of the assets of the trust fund.

(2) The commissioner with regulatory oversight, according to the laws relative to the liquidation of domestic insurance companies of the state in which the trust is domiciled, shall distribute the assets and shall value claims. Claims shall also be directed to the commissioner with the regulatory oversight as provided in this Paragraph.

(3) If the commissioner with regulatory oversight determines that the assets of the trust fund or any part thereof are not necessary to satisfy the claims of the United States ceding insurers of the grantor of the trust, the assets or part thereof shall be returned by the commissioner with regulatory oversight to the trustee for distribution in accordance with the trust agreement.

(4) The grantor shall waive any right otherwise available to it under United States law that is inconsistent with this provision.

K. (1) If an accredited or certified reinsurer ceases to meet the requirements for accreditation or certification, the commissioner may suspend or revoke the reinsurer's accreditation or certification.

(2) The commissioner shall give the reinsurer notice of the suspension or revocation and opportunity for a hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq. The suspension or revocation may not take effect until after the commissioner's order and a hearing unless one of the following circumstances are present:

(a) The reinsurer waives its right to a hearing.

(b) The commissioner's order is based upon regulatory action by the reinsurer's domiciliary jurisdiction or upon the voluntary surrender or termination of the reinsurer's eligibility to transact insurance or reinsurance business in its domiciliary jurisdiction or in the primary certifying state of the reinsurer under Paragraph (E) (6) of this Section.

(c) The commissioner finds that an emergency requires immediate action and a court of competent jurisdiction has not stayed the commissioner's action.

(3) While a reinsurer's accreditation or certification is suspended, no reinsurance contract issued or renewed after the effective date of the suspension qualifies for credit except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with R.S. 22:652. If a reinsurer's accreditation or certification is revoked, no credit for reinsurance may be granted after the effective date of the revocation, except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph (E)(5) of this Section or in accordance with R.S. 22:652.

L. (1) A ceding insurer shall take steps to manage its reinsurance recoverables proportionate to its own book of business. § 691.1. Title

This Subpart shall be known and may be cited as the "Insurance Holding Company System Regulatory Law".

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1.

§ 691.2. Definitions

As used in this Subpart, the following terms have the meanings ascribed in this Section unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) "Affiliate" means a person that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, the person specified.

(2) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance, the commissioner's deputies, or the Department of Insurance, as appropriate.

(3) "Control", including the terms "controlling", "controlled by", and "under common control with", means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person. Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing, ten percent or more of the voting securities of any other person.

This presumption may be rebutted by a showing made in the manner provided by R.S. 22:691.4(E) and 691.6(K) that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

(5) "Federal reserve" means the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, as provided in 12 U.S.C. 241.

(6) "Group capital calculation instructions" means the group capital calculation instructions as adopted by the NAIC and as amended by the NAIC in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

(8) An "insurance holding company system" consists of two or more affiliated persons, one or more of which is an insurer.

(9) "Insurer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in R.S. 22:46(10). For the purposes of this Subpart, a health maintenance organization as defined R.S. 22:242(7) shall also be considered an insurer. The term "insurer" shall not include agencies, authorities, or instrumentalities of the United States, its possessions and territories, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, or a state or political subdivision of a state.

(i) Premiums are written in at least three countries.

(ii) The percentage of gross premiums written outside the United States is at least ten percent of the insurance holding company system's total gross written premiums.

(iii) Based on a three-year rolling average, the total assets of the insurance holding company system are at least fifty billion dollars or the total gross written premiums of the insurance holding company system are at least ten billion dollars.

(11) "NAIC" means the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

(12) "NAIC liquidity stress test framework" means the separate NAIC publication which includes a history of the NAIC's development of regulatory liquidity stress testing, the scope criteria applicable for a specific data year, and the liquidity stress test instructions and reporting templates for a specific data year, such scope criteria, instructions, and reporting template being as adopted by the NAIC and amended by the NAIC in accordance with the procedures adopted by the NAIC.

(13) "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a limited liability company, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, any similar entity or any combination of the foregoing acting in concert, but shall not include any joint venture partnership exclusively engaged in owning, managing, leasing, or developing immovable or corporeal movable property.

(14) "Scope criteria" as detailed in the NAIC liquidity stress test framework means the designated exposure bases along with minimum magnitudes thereof for the specific data year, used to establish a preliminary list of insurers considered scoped into the NAIC liquidity stress test framework for that data year.

(15) A "securityholder" of a specified person is one who owns any security of such person, including common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and any other security convertible into or evidencing the right to acquire any of the foregoing.

(16) A "subsidiary" of a specified person is an affiliate controlled by such person directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries.

(17) "Voting security" shall include any security convertible into or evidencing a right to acquire a voting security.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1. Amended by Acts 2015, No. 196, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2016; Acts 2022, No. 713, § 1.

§ 691.3. Subsidiaries of insurers

A. Authorization. A domestic insurer, either by itself or in cooperation with one or more persons, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries. The subsidiaries may conduct any kind of business or businesses and their authority to do so shall not be limited by reason of the fact that they are subsidiaries of a domestic insurer.

B. Additional investment authority. In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities permitted under all other Sections of this Code, a domestic insurer may also:

(1) Invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of ten percent of the insurer's assets or fifty percent of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, provided that after such investments, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to meet its financial needs.

In calculating the amount of such investments, investments in domestic or foreign insurance subsidiaries and health maintenance organizations shall be excluded, and each of the following shall be included:

(a) Total net monies or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of the subsidiary whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities.

(b) All amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation.

(2) Invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries engaged or organized to engage exclusively in the ownership and management of assets authorized as investments for the insurer, provided that each subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that such investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection or in any other limitations specified in this Code applicable to the insurer. For the purpose of this Paragraph, "the total investment of the insurer" shall include each of the following:

(a) Any direct investment by the insurer in an asset.

(b) The insurer's proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the ownership of the subsidiary.

(3) With the approval of the commissioner, invest any greater amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after the investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

C. Exemption from investment restrictions. Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to Subsection B of this Section shall not be subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in this Code applicable to such investments of insurers.

D. Qualification of investment; when determined. Whether any investment made pursuant to Subsection B of this Section meets the applicable requirements of that Subsection is to be determined before the investment is made, by calculating the applicable investment limitations as though the investment had already been made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations, and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the day they were made, net of any return of capital invested, not including dividends.

E. Cessation of control. If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this Section within three years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after the investment shall have been made, the investment shall have met the requirements for investment under any other section of this Code, and the insurer has so notified the commissioner.

§ 691.4. Acquisition of control of or merger with domestic insurer

A. Filing requirements.

(1) No person other than the issuer shall make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of, or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consummation thereof, such person would, directly or indirectly, or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire, be in control of the insurer, and no person shall enter into an agreement to merge with or otherwise to acquire control of a domestic insurer or any person controlling a domestic insurer unless, at the time the offer, request, or invitation is made or the agreement is entered into, or prior to the acquisition of the securities if no offer or agreement is involved, such person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to the insurer, a statement containing the information required by this Section and the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner prescribed in this Subpart.

(2) For purposes of this Section, any controlling person of a domestic insurer seeking to divest its controlling interest in the domestic insurer in any manner shall file with the commissioner, with a copy to the insurer, confidential notice of its proposed divestiture at least thirty days prior to the cessation of control. The commissioner shall determine those instances in which the person seeking to divest or to acquire a controlling interest in an insurer will be required to file for and obtain approval of the transaction. The information shall remain confidential until the conclusion of the transaction unless the commissioner, in his discretion, determines that confidential treatment will interfere with enforcement of this Section. If the statement referred to in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection is otherwise filed, this Paragraph shall not apply.

(3) With respect to a transaction subject to this Section, the acquiring person shall also file a pre-acquisition notification with the commissioner, which shall contain the information set forth in R.S. 22:691.5(C)(1). Failure to file the notification may subject such acquiring person to the penalties specified in R.S. 22:691.5(E)(3).

(3) Fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding five fiscal years of each acquiring party, or for such lesser period as the acquiring party and any predecessors shall have been in existence, and similar unaudited information as of a date not earlier than ninety days prior to the filing of the statement.

(6) The amount of each class of any security referred to in Subsection A of this Section which is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by each acquiring party.

(7) A full description of any contracts, arrangements, or understandings with respect to any security referred to in Subsection A of this Section in which any acquiring party is involved, including but not limited to transfer of any of the securities, joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against loss or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. The description shall identify the persons with whom the contracts, arrangements, or understandings have been entered into.

(12) An agreement by the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section that it will provide the annual report, specified in R.S. 22:691.6(L), for so long as control exists.

(13) An acknowledgment by the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section that the person and all subsidiaries within its control in the insurance holding company system will provide information to the commissioner upon request as necessary to evaluate enterprise risk to the insurer.

(14) Such additional information as the commissioner may by rule or regulation prescribe as necessary or appropriate for the protection of policyholders of the insurer or in the public interest.

C. (1) If the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by Paragraphs (B)(1) through (14) of this Section shall be given with respect to each partner of the partnership or limited partnership, each member of the syndicate or group, and each person who controls the partner or member. If any partner, member, or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information called for by Paragraphs (B)(1) through (14) of this Section shall be given with respect to the corporation, each officer and director of the corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than ten percent of the outstanding voting securities of the corporation.

(2) If any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to the insurer pursuant to this Section, an amendment setting forth the change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to the change, shall be filed with the commissioner and sent to the insurer within two business days after the person learns of the change.

D. Alternative filing materials. If any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in Subsection A of this Section is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or under a state law requiring similar registration or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section may utilize the documents in furnishing the information called for by that registration statement.

E. Approval by commissioner: hearings.

(1) The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition of control referred to in Subsection A of this Section unless, after a public hearing, the commissioner makes any of the following findings:

(a) After the change of control, the domestic insurer referred to in Subsection A of this Section would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which it is presently licensed.

(b) The effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be to substantially lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly. In applying the competitive standard mandated by this Subparagraph, the following factors shall apply:

(i) The informational requirements of R.S. 22:691.5(C)(1) and the standards of R.S. 22:691.5(D)(2).

(ii) The merger or other acquisition shall not be disapproved if the commissioner finds that any of the situations meeting the criteria provided by

R.S. 22:691.5(D) (3) exist.

(iii) The commissioner may condition the approval of the merger or other acquisition on the removal of the basis of disapproval within a specified period of time.

(c) The financial condition of any acquiring party is such as might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer or prejudice the interest of its policyholders.

(d) The plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets, or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management, are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest.

(e) The competence, experience, and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control.

(f) The acquisition is likely to be hazardous or prejudicial to the insurance-buying public.

(2) The public hearing referred to in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection shall be held within thirty days after the statement required by Subsection A of this Section is filed, and at least twenty days notice shall be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement and to the insurer. The commissioner shall publish a notice of the hearing in a daily newspaper in each of the congressional districts of the state for at least three consecutive days. The last date of publication shall be not less than ten days prior to the date of the hearing. Such notice shall include the name of the insurer and the name of person or persons who have filed the statement pursuant to Subsection A of this Section. The commissioner shall make a determination within the thirty-day period after the conclusion of such hearing. At the hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interest may be affected shall have the right to present evidence, examine, and cross examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments, and in connection with such hearing, shall be entitled to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the district courts of this state. All discovery proceedings shall be concluded not later than three days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

(3) If the proposed acquisition of control will require the approval of more than one commissioner, the public hearing referred to in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection may be held on a consolidated basis upon request of the person filing the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section. Such person shall file the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) within five days of making the request for a public hearing. A commissioner may opt out of a consolidated hearing, and shall provide notice to the applicant of the opt-out within ten days of the receipt of the statement referred to in Subsection A of this Section. A hearing conducted on a consolidated basis shall be public and shall be held within the United States before the commissioners of the states in which the insurers are domiciled. Such commissioners shall hear and receive evidence. A commissioner may attend such hearing in person or by telecommunication.

(4) In connection with a change of control of a domestic insurer, any determination by the commissioner that the person acquiring control of the insurer shall be required to maintain or restore the capital of the insurer to the level required by the laws and regulations of this state shall be made not later than sixty days after the date of notification of the change in control submitted pursuant to Paragraph (A)(1) of this Section.

(5) The commissioner may retain at the acquiring person's expense, any attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as may be reasonably necessary to assist the commissioner in reviewing the proposed acquisition of control.

F. Exemptions. (1) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition which the commissioner, by order, shall exempt for any of the following reasons:

(a) The offer or agreement was not made or entered into for the purpose of, and did not have the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer.

(b) The offer or agreement was not otherwise comprehended within the purposes of this Section.

(c) The change in control results from an inheritance, donation, or similar type transfer of ownership.

(2) Exemptions pursuant to Subparagraph (1)(a) or (b) this Subsection shall be requested and granted by the commissioner prior to the transaction.

(3) Notice of any change of control which results from an inheritance, donation, or similar type transfer of ownership shall be submitted to the commissioner no more than sixty days after such change in the format required by the commissioner.

G. Violations. The following shall be violations of this Section:

(1) The failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to Subsection A or B of this Section.

(2) The effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, divestiture of, or merger with, a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given approval.

H. Jurisdiction; consent to service of process. The courts of this state are hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under this Section, and over all actions involving such person arising out of violations of this Section, and each such person shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by the person of the commissioner to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding arising out of violations of this Section. Copies of all lawful process shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to the person at his last known address.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1. Amended by Acts 2014, No. 791, § 8.

§ 691.5. Acquisitions involving insurers not otherwise covered

A. Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purposes of this Section only:

(1) "Acquisition" means any agreement, arrangement, or activity the consummation of which results in a person acquiring directly or indirectly the control of another person and includes but is not limited to the acquisition of voting securities, the acquisition of assets, bulk reinsurance, and mergers.

(2) An "involved insurer" includes an insurer which either acquires or is acquired, is affiliated with an acquirer or acquired, or is the result of a merger.

B. Scope.

(1) Except as exempted in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection, this Section applies to any acquisition in which there is a change in control of an insurer authorized to do business in this state.

(2) This Section shall not apply to any of the following events:

(a) A purchase of securities solely for investment purposes so long as the securities are not used by voting, or otherwise, to cause or attempt to cause the substantial lessening of competition in any insurance market in this state.

If a purchase of securities results in a presumption of control pursuant to R.S. 22:691.2, it is not solely for investment purposes unless the commissioner of the insurer's state of domicile accepts a disclaimer of control or affirmatively finds that control does not exist and the disclaimer action or affirmative finding is communicated by the domiciliary commissioner to the commissioner of this state.

(b) The acquisition of a person by another person when both persons are neither directly nor through affiliates primarily engaged in the business of insurance, if pre-acquisition notification is filed with the commissioner in accordance with Subsection C of this Section thirty days prior to the proposed effective date of the acquisition. However, such pre-acquisition notification is not required for exclusion from this Section if the acquisition would otherwise be excluded from this Section by any other Subparagraph of Subsection B of this Section.

(c) The acquisition of already affiliated persons.

(d)(i) An acquisition if, as an immediate result of the acquisition, any of the following circumstances would exist:

(aa) There is no market where the combined market share of the involved insurers would exceed five percent of the total market.

(bb) There would be no increase in any market share.

(cc) There is no market wherein the combined market share of the involved insurers would exceed twelve percent of the total market, and the market share would increase by more than two percent of the total market.

(ii) For the purpose of this Subparagraph, a market means direct written insurance premiums in this state for a line of business as contained in the annual statement required to be filed by insurers licensed to do business in this state.

(e) An acquisition for which a pre-acquisition notification would be required pursuant to this Section due solely to the resulting effect on the ocean marine insurance line of business.

(f) An acquisition of an insurer whose domiciliary commissioner affirmatively finds that the insurer is in failing condition, there is a lack of feasible alternative to improving such condition, the public benefits of improving the insurer's condition through the acquisition exceed the public benefits that would arise from not lessening competition, and the findings are communicated by the domiciliary commissioner to the commissioner of this state.

C. Pre-acquisition notification; waiting period. An acquisition covered by Subsection B of this Section may be subject to an order pursuant to Subsection E of this Section unless the acquiring person files a pre-acquisition notification and the waiting period has expired. The acquired person may file a pre-acquisition notification. The commissioner shall give confidential treatment to information submitted under this Subsection in the same manner as provided in R.S. 22:691.10.

(1) The pre-acquisition notification shall be in such form and contain such information as prescribed by the commissioner relating to those markets, in accordance with Subparagraph (B)(2)(d) of this Section, which cause the acquisition not to be exempted from the provisions of this Section. The commissioner may require such additional material and information as deemed necessary to determine whether the proposed acquisition, if consummated, would violate the competitive standard set forth in Subsection D of this Section. The required information may include an opinion of an economist as to the competitive impact of the acquisition in this state accompanied by a summary of the education and experience of such person indicating his or her ability to render an informed opinion.

(2) The waiting period required shall begin on the date of receipt of the commissioner of a pre-acquisition notification and shall end on the earlier of the thirtieth day after the date of receipt or termination of the waiting period by the commissioner. Prior to the end of the waiting period the commissioner, on a one-time basis, may require the submission of additional needed information relevant to the proposed acquisition, in which event the waiting period shall end on the earlier of the thirtieth day after receipt of the additional information by the commissioner or termination of the waiting period by the commissioner.

D. Competitive standard.

(1) The commissioner may enter an order pursuant to Subsection E of this Section with respect to an acquisition if there is substantial evidence that the effect of the acquisition may be to substantially lessen competition in any line of insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly, or if the insurer fails to file adequate information in compliance with the provisions of Subsection C of this Section.

(2) In determining whether a proposed acquisition would violate the competitive standard set forth in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection, the commissioner shall consider the following:

(a) Any acquisition covered under Subsection B of this Section that involves two or more insurers competing in the same market shall be prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standards if either of the following circumstances are present:

(i) The market is highly concentrated and the involved insurers possess the following shares of the market:

<COL>Insurer A<COL> <COL>Insurer B<COL>

<COL>4%<COL><COL>4% or more<COL>

<COL>10%<COL><COL>2% or more<COL>

<COL>15%<COL><COL>1% or more.<COL>

(ii) The market is not highly concentrated and the involved insurers possess the following shares of the market:

<COL>Insurer A<COL> <COL>Insurer B<COL>

<COL>5%<COL><COL>5% or more<COL>

<COL>10%<COL><COL>4% or more<COL>

<COL>15%<COL><COL>3% or more<COL>

<COL>19%<COL><COL>1% or more<COL>

(aa) A highly concentrated market is one in which the share of the four largest insurers is seventy-five percent or more of the market.

(bb) Percentages not shown in the tables are interpolated proportionately to the percentages that are shown. If more than two insurers are involved, exceeding the total of the two columns in the table shall be prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standard set forth in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection.

(cc) For the purpose of Items (i) and (ii) of this Subparagraph, the insurer with the largest share of the market shall be deemed to be Insurer A.

(b) Whether there is a significant trend toward increased concentration when the aggregate market share of any grouping of the largest insurers in the market, from the two largest to the eight largest, has increased by seven percent or more of the market over a period of time extending from any base year of five to ten years prior to the acquisition up to the time of the acquisition. Any acquisition or merger covered under Subsection B of this Section involving two or more insurers competing in the same market is prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standard set forth in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection if each of the following circumstances exist:

(i) There is a significant trend toward increased concentration in the market.

(ii) One of the insurers involved is one of the insurers in a grouping of large insurers showing the requisite increase in the market share.

(iii) Another involved insurer's market is two percent or more.

(c) For the purposes of this Subsection:

(i) The term "insurer" includes any company or group of companies under common management, ownership, or control.

(ii) The term "market" means the relevant product and geographical markets. In determining the relevant product and geographical markets, the commissioner shall give due consideration to any applicable definitions or guidelines promulgated by the NAIC and to any relevant information submitted by parties to the acquisition, as well as any other factors the commissioner deems relevant.

In the absence of sufficient information to the contrary, the relevant product market is assumed to be the direct written insurance premium for a line of business, such line being the same one that is used in the annual statement required to be filed by insurers doing business in this state. The relevant geographical market shall be assumed to be this state.

(d) The burden of showing prima facie evidence of violation of the competitive standard rests upon the commissioner.

(e) Even if an acquisition is not a prima facie violation of the competitive standard pursuant to Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this Paragraph, the commissioner may establish the requisite anticompetitive effect based upon other substantial evidence. Even when an acquisition is a prima facie violation of the competitive standard pursuant to Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this Paragraph, a party may establish the absence of the requisite anticompetitive effect based upon other substantial evidence. Relevant factors in making a determination under this Subparagraph include but shall not be limited to market shares, volatility of ranking of market leaders, number of competitors, concentration, trend of concentration in the industry, and ease of entry and exit into the market.

(3) An order may not be entered pursuant to Subsection E of this Section if either of the following circumstances exists:

(a) The acquisition will yield substantial economies of scale or economies in resource utilization that cannot be feasibly achieved in any other way and the public benefits which would arise from such economies exceed the public benefits which would arise from not lessening competition.

(b) The acquisition will substantially increase the availability of insurance, and the public benefits of the increase exceed the public benefits which would arise from not lessening competition.

E. Orders and penalties.

(1)(a) If an acquisition violates the standards of this Section, the commissioner may enter an order which:

(i) Requires an involved insurer to cease and desist from doing business in this state with respect to the line or lines of insurance involved in the violation.

(ii) Denies the application of an acquired or acquiring insurer for a license to do business in this state.

(b) Such an order shall not be entered unless each of the following requirements have been satisfied:

(i) Interested parties have opportunity for a public hearing.

(ii) Notice of the public hearing is issued prior to the end of the waiting period and not less than fifteen days prior to the hearing.

(iii) The public hearing is concluded and the order is issued no later than sixty days after the date of the filing of the pre-acquisition notification with the commissioner.

(c) Every order shall be accompanied by a written decision of the commissioner setting forth findings of fact and conclusions of law.

(d) An order issued pursuant to this Paragraph shall not apply if the acquisition is not consummated.

(2) Any person who violates a cease and desist order of the commissioner issued in accordance with Paragraph (1) of this Subsection while the order is in effect may be subject to one or more of the following penalties:

(a) A monetary penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for every day of violation.

(b) Suspension or revocation of the person's license.

(3) Any insurer or other person who fails to make any filing required by this Section, and who fails to demonstrate a good faith effort to comply with any filing requirement, shall be subject to a fine of not more than fifty thousand dollars.

F. The provisions of R.S. 22:691.12(B) and (C) and 691.14 do not apply to acquisitions covered under Subsection B of this Section.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1. Amended by Acts 2022, No. 185, § 1.

§ 691.6. Registration of insurers

A. Registration.

(1) Every insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except a foreign insurer subject to registration requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile which are substantially similar to those contained in the provisions of this Section or the provisions of R.S. 22:691.5(A) (1), (B), and (D), and either the provisions of R.S. 22:691.7(A) (2) or a provision such as the following: "Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions within fifteen days after the end of the month in which it learns of each change or addition."

(2) Any insurer which is subject to registration under this Section shall register within fifteen days after it becomes subject to registration, and annually thereafter by the thirtieth of April of each year for the previous calendar year, unless the commissioner for good cause shown extends the time for registration, and then within the extended time. The commissioner may require any insurer authorized to do business in the state which is a member of an insurance holding company system, and which is not subject to registration under this Section, to furnish a copy of the registration statement, the summary specified in Subsection C of this Section, or other information filed by the insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority of its domiciliary jurisdiction.

B. Information and form required. Every insurer subject to registration shall file the registration statement with the commissioner on a form and in a format prescribed by the commissioner, which shall contain a complete and current disclosure of the following information:

(1) The capital structure, general financial condition, ownership, and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer.

(2) The identity and relationship of every member of the insurance holding company system.

(3) A listing of any agreements which are of the type listed below and which have transactions that are outstanding or which have occurred during the last calendar year between the insurer and its affiliates:

(a) Loans, other investments, or purchases, sales, or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the insurer or of the insurer by its affiliates.

(b) Purchases, sales, or exchange of assets.

(c) Transactions not in the ordinary course of business.

(d) Guarantees or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate which result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer's business.

(e) All management agreements, service contracts, and all cost-sharing arrangements.

(f) Reinsurance agreements.

(g) Dividends and other distributions to shareholders.

(h) Consolidated tax allocation agreements.

(4) Any pledge of the insurer's stock, including stock of any subsidiary or controlling affiliate, for a loan made to any member of the insurance holding company system.

(5) If requested by the commissioner, the insurer shall include financial statements of or within an insurance holding company system, including all affiliates. Financial statements may include but are not limited to annual audited financial statements filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. An insurer required to file financial statements pursuant to this Paragraph may satisfy the request by providing the commissioner with the most recently filed parent corporation financial statements that have been filed with the SEC.

(6) Other matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in any registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner.

(7) Statements that the insurer's board of directors oversees corporate governance and internal controls and that the insurer's officers or senior management have approved, implemented, and continue to maintain and monitor corporate governance and internal control procedures.

(8) Any other information required by the commissioner by rule or regulation.

(9) Financial statements of the ultimate controlling person in the holding company system as of the end of the person's latest fiscal year.

C. Summary of changes to registration statement. All registration statements shall contain a summary outlining all items in the current registration statement representing changes from the prior registration statement.

D. Materiality. No information need be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to Subsection B of this Section if the information is not material for the purposes of this Section. Unless the commissioner by rule, regulation, or order provides otherwise, sales, purchases, exchanges, loans, or extensions of credit, investments, or guarantees involving one-half of one percent or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding shall not be deemed material for purposes of this Section. The definition of materiality provided in this Subsection shall not apply for the purposes of the group capital calculation or the liquidity stress test framework.

E. Reporting of dividends to shareholders. Subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:691.7(B), each registered insurer shall report to the commissioner all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within fifteen business days following the declaration thereof.

F. Information of insurers. Any person within an insurance holding company system subject to registration shall be required to provide complete and accurate information to an insurer, where the information is reasonably necessary to enable the insurer to comply with the provisions of this Subpart.

G. Termination of registration. The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer which demonstrates that it no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

H. Consolidated filing. The commissioner may require or allow two or more affiliated insurers subject to registration to file a consolidated registration statement.

I. Alternative registration. The commissioner may allow an insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under Subsection A of this Section and to file all information and material required to be filed under this Section.

J. Exemptions.

(1) The provisions of this Section shall not apply to any insurer, information, or transaction if, and to the extent that, the commissioner by rule, regulation, or order shall exempt such insurer, information, or transaction from applicability of the provisions of this Section.

(2) Unless the commissioner determines that the condition of a small company renders the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or its insureds, a small company shall not be required to submit to the department a registration statement required by this Section, but shall be considered a registered insurer for the purposes of the provisions of Subsection E of this Section and R.S. 22:691.7(A) and 691.8.

K. Disclaimer. Any person may file with the commissioner a disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer, or such a disclaimer may be filed by such insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. The disclaimer shall fully disclose all material relationships and bases for affiliation between such person and such insurer as well as the basis for disclaiming such affiliation. After a disclaimer has been filed, the insurer shall be relieved of any duty to register or report under this Section which may arise out of the insurer's relationship with such person unless and until the commissioner disallows such a disclaimer. The person filing such a disclaimer shall notify the commissioner of any material change to the affiliations and relationships as reported in the disclaimer within thirty days of the effective date of the change.

L. Enterprise risk filing. The ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration shall also file an annual enterprise risk report. The report shall, to the best of the ultimate controlling person's knowledge and belief, identify the material risks within the insurance holding company system that could pose enterprise risk to the insurer. The report shall be filed with the lead state commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. The provisions of this Section shall become effective for the 2014 calendar year report filing cycle.

M. (1) Group capital calculation. Except as provided in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection, the ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration shall concurrently file, with the registration, an annual group capital calculation as directed by the lead state commissioner. The report shall be completed in accordance with the NAIC group capital calculation instructions, which may permit the lead state commissioner to allow a controlling person that is not the ultimate controlling person to file the group capital calculation. The report shall be filed with the lead state commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the commissioner in accordance with the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the NAIC.

(2) The following insurance holding company systems are exempt from filing the group capital calculation:

(a) An insurance holding company system that has only one insurer within its holding company structure, that only writes business and is only authorized in its domestic state, and that assumes no business from any other insurer.

(b) An insurance holding company system that is required to perform a group capital calculation specified by the federal reserve. The lead state commissioner shall request the calculation from the federal reserve under the terms of information sharing agreements in effect. If the federal reserve cannot share the calculation with the lead state commissioner, the insurance holding company system is not exempt from the group capital calculation filing.

(c) An insurance holding company system with a supervisor whose group-wide supervisor is not based in the United States and is located within a reciprocal jurisdiction as described in R.S. 22:651(F) that recognizes the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital.

(d) An insurance holding company system that meets all of the following criteria:

(i) It provides information to the lead state that meets the requirements for accreditation under the NAIC financial standards and accreditation program, either directly or indirectly through the group-wide supervisor, who has determined such information is satisfactory to allow the lead state to comply with the NAIC group supervision approach, as detailed in the NAIC Financial Analysis Handbook.

(ii) The group-wide supervisor not based in the United States, that is not in a reciprocal jurisdiction, recognizes and accepts, as specified by the commissioner in regulation, the group capital calculation as the world-wide group capital assessment for United States insurance groups who operate in that jurisdiction.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subparagraphs (2)(c) and (d) of this Subsection, a lead state commissioner shall require the group capital calculation for United States operations of any insurance holding company system not based in the United States if, after any necessary consultation with other supervisors or officials, it is deemed appropriate by the lead state commissioner for prudential oversight and solvency monitoring purposes or for ensuring the competitiveness of the insurance marketplace.

(4) Notwithstanding the exemptions from filing the group capital calculation in Subparagraphs (2)(c) and (d) of this Subsection, the lead state commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation or to accept a limited group capital filing or report in accordance with the criteria as specified by the commissioner through rules and regulations.

(5) If the commissioner determines that an insurance holding company system no longer meets one or more of the requirements for an exemption from filing the group capital calculation pursuant to this Section, the insurance holding company system shall file the group capital calculation at the next annual filing date, unless given an extension by the commissioner based on reasonable grounds shown.

N. (1) Liquidity stress test. The ultimate controlling person of every insurer subject to registration and scoped into the NAIC liquidity stress test framework shall file the results of its liquidity stress test. The filing shall be made to the lead state insurance commissioner of the insurance holding company system as determined by the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the NAIC.

(2) The NAIC liquidity stress test framework includes scope criteria applicable to a specific data year. These scope criteria are reviewed at least annually by the financial stability task force or its successor. Any change to the NAIC liquidity stress test framework or to the data year for which the scope criteria are to be measured shall be effective on the first of January of the year following the calendar year such changes are adopted. Insurers meeting at least one threshold of the scope criteria are considered scoped into the NAIC liquidity stress test framework for the specified data year, unless the lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, determines the insurer should not be scoped into the framework for that data year. Similarly, insurers that do not meet at least one threshold of the scope criteria are considered scoped out of the NAIC liquidity stress test framework for the specified data year, unless the lead state insurance commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, determines the insurer should be scoped into the framework for that data year.

(3) The lead state commissioner, in consultation with the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, shall address concerns regarding regulators wishing to avoid being scoped in and out of the NAIC liquidity stress test framework on a frequent basis.

(4) The performance of, and filing of the results from, a specific year's liquidity stress test shall comply with the NAIC liquidity stress test framework instructions and reporting templates for that year and any lead state insurance commissioner determinations, in conjunction with the NAIC Financial Stability Task Force or its successor, provided within the framework.

O. Violations. The failure to file a registration statement or any summary of the registration statement or enterprise risk filing required by this Section within the time specified for filing shall be a violation of this Section.

P. (1) Incorporation by reference. Any information contained in any financial statement, annual report, proxy statement, statement filed with a governmental authority, or any other document may be incorporated by reference, provided the document is filed as an exhibit to the registration statement. Any excerpt of a document may be filed as an exhibit if the document is extensive. Any documents currently on file with the commissioner which were filed within three years need not be attached as exhibits but shall be referred to if not so attached. All references to information contained in exhibits or in documents duly filed shall clearly identify the material and specifically indicate that the material is to be incorporated by reference to the item. No materials shall be incorporated by reference in any instance that the incorporation would render the statement incomplete, unclear, or confusing.

(2) If a filing requires a summary or outline of the provisions of any document, only a brief statement shall be made as to the pertinent provisions of the document. In addition to the brief statement, the summary or outline may incorporate, by reference, particular parts of any exhibit or document currently on file with the commissioner which was filed within three years and may be included in its entirety by the reference. If two or more documents required to be filed as exhibits are substantially identical in all material respects except as to the parties, the dates of execution, or other details, a copy of one of the documents shall be filed with a schedule identifying the omitted documents and setting forth the material details in which such documents differ from the documents filed.

§ 691.7. Standards and management of an insurer within an insurance holding company system

A. Transactions within an insurance holding company system.

(1) Transactions within an insurance holding company system to which an insurer subject to registration is a party shall be subject to the following standards:

(a) The terms shall be fair and reasonable.

(b) Agreements for cost sharing services and management shall include such provisions as required by rule and regulation issued by the commissioner.

(c) Charges or fees for services performed shall be reasonable.

(d) Expenses incurred and payment received shall be allocated to the insurer in conformity with customary insurance accounting practices consistently applied.

(e) The books, accounts, and records of each party to all such transactions shall be maintained as to clearly and accurately disclose the nature and details of the transactions including such accounting information as is necessary to support the reasonableness of the charges or fees to the respective parties.

(f) The insurer's surplus as regards policyholders following any dividends or distributions to shareholder affiliates shall be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to meet its financial needs.

(g)(i) If an insurer is deemed by the commissioner to be in a hazardous financial condition, as defined in regulations promulgated by the commissioner, or a condition that would be grounds for supervision, conservation, or a delinquency proceeding, the commissioner may require the insurer to secure and maintain either a deposit, held by the commissioner, or a bond, as determined by the insurer at the insurer's discretion, for the duration of the contract or agreement or the existence of the condition for which the commissioner required the deposit or the bond.

(ii) In determining whether a deposit or a bond is required, the commissioner may consider whether concerns exist with respect to the affiliated person's ability to fulfill the contract or agreement, if the insurer were to be put into liquidation.

(iii) Once the insurer is deemed to be in a hazardous financial condition or a condition that would be grounds for supervision, conservation, or a delinquency proceeding, such that a deposit or bond is necessary, the commissioner may determine the amount of the deposit or bond, not to exceed the value of the contract or agreement in any one year, and whether such deposit or bond should be required for a single contract, multiple contracts, or a contract with a specific person.

(h) All records and data of the insurer held by an affiliate are the property of the insurer, are subject to control of the insurer, are identifiable, and are segregated or readily capable of segregation, at no additional cost to the insurer, from all other persons' records and data. This includes all records and data that are otherwise the property of the insurer in whatever form maintained, including but not limited to claims and claim files, policyholder lists, application files, litigation files, premium records, rate books, underwriting manuals, personnel records, and financial records or similar records within the possession, custody, or control of the affiliate. At the request of the insurer, the affiliate shall provide that the receiver can obtain a complete set of all records of any type that pertain to the insurer's business, obtain access to the operating systems on which the data is maintained, obtain the software that runs those systems either through assumption of licensing agreements or otherwise, and restrict the use of the data by the affiliate if it is not operating the insurer's business. The affiliate shall provide a waiver of any landlord lien or other encumbrance to give the insurer access to all records and data, if the affiliate defaults under a lease or other agreement.

(i) Premiums or other funds belonging to the insurer that are collected by or held by an affiliate are the exclusive property of the insurer and are subject to the control of the insurer. Any right of offset in the event an insurer is placed into rehabilitation shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter 9 of this Title, R.S. 22:2001 et seq.

(2) None of the following enumerated transactions involving a domestic insurer and any person in its insurance holding company system, including amendments or modifications of affiliate agreements previously filed pursuant to this Section, which are subject to any materiality standards contained in Subparagraphs (a) through (g) of this Paragraph, may be entered into unless the insurer has notified the commissioner in writing of its intention to enter into the transaction at least thirty days prior thereto, or such shorter period as the commissioner may permit, and the commissioner has not disapproved it within that period. The notice for amendments or modifications shall include the reasons for the change and the financial impact on the domestic insurer. Informal notice shall be reported, within thirty days after a termination of a previously filed agreement, to the commissioner for determination of the type of filing required, if any.

(a) Sales, purchases, exchanges, loans, extensions of credit, or investments.

(i) Relevant transactions relative to nonlife insurers shall equal or exceed the lesser of three percent of the insurer's admitted assets or twenty-five percent of surplus as regards policyholders as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding.

(ii) Relevant transactions relative to life insurers shall equal or exceed three percent of the insurer's admitted assets as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding.

(b) Loans or extensions of credit to any person who is not an affiliate, where the insurer makes loans or extensions of credit with the agreement or understanding that the proceeds of the transactions, in whole or in substantial part, are to be used to make loans or extensions of credit to, to purchase assets of, or to make investments in, any affiliate of the insurer making the loans or extensions of credit.

(i) Relevant transactions relative to nonlife insurers shall equal or exceed the lesser of three percent of the insurer's admitted assets or twenty-five percent of surplus as regards policyholders as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding.

(ii) Relevant transactions relative to life insurers shall equal or exceed three percent of the insurer's admitted assets as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding.

(c) Reinsurance agreements or modifications thereto, including each of the following types of reinsurance agreements:

(i) All reinsurance pooling agreements.

(ii) Agreements in which the reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities, or the projected reinsurance premium or a change in the insurer's liabilities in any of the next three years, equals or exceeds five percent of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders, as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding, including those agreements which may require as consideration the transfer of assets from an insurer to a non-affiliate, if an agreement or understanding exists between the insurer and non-affiliate that any portion of the assets will be transferred to one or more affiliates of the insurer.

(d) All management agreements, service contracts, tax allocation agreements, guarantees, and all cost-sharing arrangements.

(e) Guarantees when made by a domestic insurer; provided, however, that a guarantee which is quantifiable as to amount is not subject to the notice requirements of this Paragraph unless it exceeds the lesser of one-half of one percent of the insurer's admitted assets or ten percent of surplus as regards policyholders as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding. Further, all guarantees which are not quantifiable as to amount are subject to the notice requirements of this Paragraph.

(f) Direct or indirect acquisitions or investments in a person that controls the insurer or in an affiliate of the insurer in an amount which, together with its present holdings in such investments, exceeds two and one-half percent of the insurer's surplus to policyholders. Direct or indirect acquisitions or investments in subsidiaries acquired pursuant to R.S. 22:691.3 or authorized under any other Section of this Code, or in non-subsidiary insurance affiliates that are subject to the provisions of this Subpart, are exempt from this requirement.

(g) Any material transactions, specified by regulation, which the commissioner determines may adversely affect the interests of the insurer's policyholders. Nothing in this Paragraph shall be deemed to authorize or permit any transactions which, in the case of an insurer not a member of the same insurance holding company system, would be otherwise contrary to law.

(3) A domestic insurer may not enter into transactions which are part of a plan or series of like transactions with persons within the insurance holding company system if the purpose of those separate transactions is to avoid the statutory threshold amount and thus avoid the review that would occur otherwise. If the commissioner determines that separate transactions were entered into over any twelve-month period for that purpose, the commissioner may exercise his authority pursuant to R.S. 22:691.13.

(4) The commissioner, in reviewing transactions pursuant to Paragraph (2) of this Subsection, shall consider whether the transactions comply with the standards set forth in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection and whether they may adversely affect the interests of policyholders.

(5) The commissioner shall be notified within thirty days of any investment of the domestic insurer in any one corporation if the total investment in the corporation by the insurance holding company system exceeds ten percent of the corporation's voting securities.

(6)(a) Any affiliate that is party to an agreement or contract with a domestic insurer that is subject to Subparagraph (2)(d) of this Subsection shall be subject to the jurisdiction of any supervision, seizure, conservatorship, or receivership proceedings against the insurer and shall be subject to the authority of any supervisor, conservator, rehabilitator, or liquidator for the insurer appointed pursuant to Subpart H of Part III of Chapter 2 of this Title, R.S. 22:731 et seq., and Chapter 9 of this Title, R.S. 22:2001 et seq., for the purpose of interpreting, enforcing, and overseeing the affiliate's obligations under the agreement or contract to perform services for the insurer that are any of the following:

(i) An integral part of the insurer's operations, including but not limited to management, administrative, accounting, data processing, marketing, underwriting, claims handling, investment, or any other similar functions.

(ii) Essential to the insurer's ability to fulfill its obligations under insurance policies.

(b) The commissioner may require that an agreement or contract, pursuant to Subparagraph (2)(d) of this Subsection, for the provision of any services described in Items (a)(i) and (ii) of this Paragraph specify that the affiliate consents to the jurisdiction as set forth in this Paragraph.

B. Dividends and other distributions.

(1) No domestic insurer shall pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until thirty days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration thereof and has not within that period disapproved the payment, or until the commissioner has approved the payment within the thirty-day period.

(2) For purposes of this Subsection, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property, whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding twelve months exceeds the lesser of the following amounts:

(a) Ten percent of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding.

(b) The net gain from operations of the insurer if the insurer is a life insurer, or the net income, if the insurer is not a life insurer, not including realized capital gains, for the twelve-month period ending the thirty-first day of December next preceding, but shall not include pro rata distributions of any class of the insurer's own securities. In determining whether a dividend or distribution is extraordinary, an insurer other than a life insurer may carry forward net income from the previous two calendar years that has not already been paid out as dividends. This carryforward shall be computed by taking the net income from the second and third preceding calendar years, not including realized capital gains, less dividends paid in the second and immediate preceding calendar years.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner's approval, and the declaration shall confer no rights upon shareholders until either the commissioner has approved the payment of the dividend or distribution, or, the commissioner has not disapproved payment within the thirty-day period referred to above.

C. Management of domestic insurers subject to registration.

(1) Notwithstanding the control of a domestic insurer by any person, the officers and directors of the insurer shall not thereby be relieved of any obligation or liability to which they would otherwise be subject by law, and the insurer shall be managed so as to assure its separate operating identity consistent with this Subpart.

(2) Nothing in this Section shall preclude a domestic insurer from having or sharing a common management or cooperative or joint use of personnel, property, or services with one or more other persons under arrangements meeting the standards of Paragraph (A)(1) of this Section.

(3) Not less than one-third of the directors of a domestic insurer, and not less than one-third of the members of each committee of the board of directors of any domestic insurer shall be persons who are not officers or employees of the insurer or of any entity controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the insurer and who are not beneficial owners of a controlling interest in the voting stock of the insurer or entity. At least one such person shall be included in any quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the board of directors or any committee thereof.

(4) The board of directors of a domestic insurer shall establish one or more committees comprised solely of directors who are not officers or employees of the insurer or of any entity controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the insurer and who are not beneficial owners of a controlling interest in the voting stock of the insurer or any such entity. The committee or committees shall have responsibility for nominating candidates for director for election by shareholders or policyholders, evaluating the performance of officers deemed to be principal officers of the insurer, and recommending to the board of directors the selection and compensation of the principal officers.

(5) The provisions of Paragraphs (3) and (4) of this Subsection shall not apply to a domestic insurer if the person controlling the insurer, such as an insurer, a mutual insurance holding company, or a publicly held corporation, has a board of directors and committees thereof that meet the requirements of Paragraphs (3) and (4) of this Subsection with respect to such controlling entity.

(6) An insurer may make application to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of this Subsection, if the insurer's annual direct written and assumed premium, excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and National Flood Insurance Program, is less than three hundred million dollars. An insurer may also make application to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of this Subsection based upon unique circumstances. The commissioner may consider various factors, including but not limited to the type of business entity, volume of business written, availability of qualified board members, or the ownership or organizational structure of the entity.

D. Adequacy of surplus. For purposes of this Subpart, in determining whether an insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to meet its financial needs, the following factors, among others, shall be considered:

- (1) The size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital, and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force, and other appropriate criteria.
- (2) The extent to which the insurer's business is diversified among several lines of insurance.
- (3) The number and size of risks insured in each line of business.
- (4) The extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer's insured risks.
- (5) The nature and extent of the insurer's reinsurance program.
- (6) The quality, diversification, and liquidity of the insurer's investment portfolio.
- (7) The recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer's investment portfolio.
- (8) The surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers.
- (9) The adequacy of the insurer's reserves.
- (10) The quality and liquidity of investments in affiliates. The commissioner may treat any such investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in the judgment of the commissioner the investment so warrants.

§ 691.8. Examination

A. Power of commissioner. Subject to the limitation contained in this Section and in addition to the powers which the commissioner has under this Code relating to the examination of insurers, the commissioner shall have the power to examine any insurer registered under R.S. 22:691.6 and its affiliates to ascertain the financial condition of the insurer, including the enterprise risk to the insurer by the ultimate controlling party, or by any entity or combination of entities within the insurance holding company system, or by the insurance holding company system on a consolidated basis.

B. Access to books and records.

(1) The commissioner may order any insurer registered under R.S. 22:691.6 to produce such records, books, or other information papers in the possession of the insurer or its affiliates as are reasonably necessary to determine compliance with this Subpart.

(2) To determine compliance with this Subpart, the commissioner may order any insurer registered under R.S. 22:691.6 to produce information not in the possession of the insurer if the insurer can obtain access to such information pursuant to contractual relationships, statutory obligations, or other method. In the event the insurer cannot obtain the information requested by the commissioner, the insurer shall provide the commissioner a detailed explanation of the reason that the insurer cannot obtain the information and the identity of the holder of information. If at the discretion of the commissioner, it appears that the detailed explanation is without merit, the commissioner may require the insurer to pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each day's delay or may suspend or revoke the insurer's authority. An aggrieved party affected by the commissioner's decision, act, or order may seek judicial review of the decision pursuant to R.S. 22:691.17.

C. Use of consultants. The commissioner may retain at the registered insurer's expense such attorneys, actuaries, accountants, and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as shall be reasonably necessary to assist in the conduct of the examination under Subsection A of this Section. Any persons so retained shall be under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

D. Expenses. Each registered insurer producing for examination records, books, and papers pursuant to Subsection A of this Section shall be liable for and shall pay the expense of examination in accordance with R.S. 22:1985 through 1988.

E. Compelling production. In the event the insurer fails to comply with an order, the commissioner shall have the power to examine the affiliates to obtain the information. The commissioner shall also have the power to issue subpoenas, to administer oaths, and to examine under oath any person for purposes of determining compliance with this Section. Upon the failure or refusal of any person to obey a subpoena, the commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction, and upon proper showing, the court may issue an order compelling the witness to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence. Failure to obey the court order shall be punishable as contempt of court. Every person shall be obliged to attend as a witness at the place specified in the subpoena, when subpoenaed, anywhere within the state. Such persons shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage, if claimed, as a witness in R.S. 13:3661, which fees, mileage, and actual expense, if any, necessarily incurred in securing the attendance of witnesses, and their testimony, shall be itemized and charged against, and be paid by, the company being examined.

§ 691.9. Supervisory colleges

A. Power of commissioner. With respect to any insurer registered under R.S. 22:691.6, and in accordance with Subsection C of this Section, the commissioner shall also have the power to participate in a supervisory college for any domestic insurer that is part of an insurance holding company system with international operations in order to determine compliance by the insurer with this Subpart. The powers of the commissioner with respect to supervisory colleges include but are not limited to the following:

- (1) Initiating the establishment of a supervisory college.
- (2) Clarifying the membership and participation of other supervisors in the supervisory college.

(3) Clarifying the functions of the supervisory college and the role of other regulators, including the establishment of a group-wide supervisor.

(4) Coordinating the ongoing activities of the supervisory college, including planning meetings, supervisory activities, and processes for information sharing.

(5) Establishing a crisis management plan.

B. Expenses. Each registered insurer subject to this Section shall be liable for and shall pay the reasonable expenses of the commissioner's participation in a supervisory college in accordance with Subsection C of this Section, including reasonable travel expenses. For purposes of this Section, a supervisory college may be convened as either a temporary or permanent forum for communication and cooperation between the regulators charged with the supervision of the insurer or its affiliates, and the commissioner may establish a regular assessment to the insurer for the payment of these expenses.

C. Supervisory college. In order to assess the business strategy, financial position, legal and regulatory position, risk exposure, risk management and governance processes, and as part of the examination of individual insurers in accordance with R.S. 691.8, the commissioner may participate in a supervisory college with other regulators charged with supervision of the insurer or its affiliates, including other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies. The commissioner may enter into agreements in accordance with R.S. 22:691.10(C) providing the basis for cooperation between the commissioner and the other regulatory agencies, and the activities of the supervisory college. Nothing in this Section shall delegate to the supervisory college the authority of the commissioner to regulate or supervise the insurer or its affiliates within its jurisdiction.

§ 691.9.1. Group-wide supervision of internationally active insurance groups

A. The commissioner may act as the group-wide supervisor for any internationally active insurance group pursuant to this Section. An insurance holding company system that does not otherwise qualify as an internationally active insurance group may request that the commissioner make a determination or acknowledgment as to its group-wide supervisor pursuant to this Section. When one of the following applies, the commissioner may acknowledge another regulatory official as the group-wide supervisor when the internationally active insurance group:

(1) Does not have substantial insurance operations in the United States.

(2) Has substantial insurance operations in the United States but not in this state.

(3) Has substantial insurance operations in the United States and this state but the commissioner has determined pursuant to the factors set forth in Subsections B and F of this Section that the other regulatory official is the appropriate group-wide supervisor.

B. In cooperation with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies, the commissioner shall identify a single group-wide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group. A commissioner identified under this Section as the group-wide supervisor may determine that it is appropriate to acknowledge another supervisor to serve as the group-wide supervisor. The acknowledgment of the group-wide supervisor shall be made after consideration of the factors specified in Paragraphs (1) through (5) of this Subsection and shall be made in cooperation with and subject to the acknowledgment of other regulatory officials involved with supervision of members of the internationally active insurance group, and in consultation with the internationally active insurance group. The commissioner shall consider the following factors and the relative scale of each when making a determination or acknowledgment pursuant to this Subsection:

(1) The place of domicile of the insurers within the internationally active insurance group that hold the largest share of the group's written premiums, assets, or liabilities.

(2) The place of domicile of the top-tiered insurer or insurers in the insurance holding company system of the internationally active insurance group.

(3) The location of the executive offices or largest operational offices of the internationally active insurance group.

(4) Whether another regulatory official is acting or is seeking to act as the group-wide supervisor under a regulatory system that the commissioner determines to be one of the following:

(a) Substantially similar to the system of regulation provided pursuant to the laws of this state.

(b) Otherwise sufficient in terms of providing for group-wide supervision, enterprise risk analysis, and cooperation with other regulatory officials.

(5) Whether another regulatory official acting or seeking to act as the group-wide supervisor provides the commissioner with reasonably reciprocal recognition and cooperation.

C. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when another regulatory official is acting as the group-wide supervisor of an internationally active insurance group, the commissioner shall acknowledge that regulatory official as the group-wide supervisor. However, the commissioner shall make a determination or acknowledgment pursuant to Subsection B of this Section in the event of material change in the internationally active insurance group that results in one of the following:

(1) The internationally active insurance group's insurers domiciled in this state holding the largest share of the group's premiums, assets, or liabilities.

(2) This state being the place of domicile of the top-tiered insurer or insurers in the insurance holding company system of the internationally active insurance group.

D. Pursuant to R.S. 22:691.8, the commissioner is authorized to collect from any insurer registered pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6 all information necessary to determine whether the commissioner may act as the group-wide supervisor of an internationally active insurance group or if the commissioner may acknowledge another regulatory official to act as the group-wide supervisor. Prior to a determination that an internationally active insurance group is subject to group-wide supervision, the commissioner shall notify the insurer registered pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6 and the ultimate controlling person within the internationally active insurance group. The internationally active insurance group shall have not less than thirty days to provide the commissioner with additional information pertinent to the pending determination. The commissioner shall publish in the Louisiana Register and on the internet website of the Department of Insurance the identity of internationally active insurance groups that the commissioner has determined are subject to group-wide supervision by the commissioner.

E. If the commissioner is the group-wide supervisor for an internationally active insurance group, the commissioner may engage in any of the following group-wide supervision activities:

(1) Assess the enterprise risk within the internationally active insurance group to ensure that both of the following conditions are met:

(a) The material financial condition and liquidity risks to the members of the internationally active insurance group that are engaged in the business of insurance are identified by management.

(b) Reasonable and effective mitigation measures are in place.

(2) Request, from any member of an internationally active insurance group subject to the commissioner's supervision, information necessary and appropriate to assess enterprise risk, including but not limited to information about the members of the internationally active insurance group regarding:

(a) Governance, risk assessment, and management.

(b) Capital adequacy.

(c) Material intercompany transactions.

(3) Coordinate and, through the authority of the regulatory officials of the jurisdictions where members of the internationally active insurance group are domiciled, compel development and implementation of reasonable measures designed to ensure that the internationally active insurance group is able to timely recognize and mitigate enterprise risk to members of such internationally active insurance groups that are engaged in the business of insurance.

(4) Communicate with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies for members within the internationally active insurance group and share relevant information subject to the confidentiality provisions of R.S. 22:691.10 through supervisory colleges as set forth in R.S. 22:691.9.

(5) Enter into agreements with or obtain documentation from any insurer registered pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6, any member of the internationally active insurance group, and any other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies for members of the internationally active insurance group, providing the basis for or otherwise clarifying the commissioner's role as group-wide supervisor, including provisions for resolving disputes with other regulatory officials. Such agreements or documentation shall not serve as evidence in any proceeding that any insurer or person within an insurance holding company system not domiciled or incorporated in this state is doing business in this state or is otherwise subject to jurisdiction in this state.

(6) Other group-wide supervision activities, consistent with the authorities and purposes enumerated in this Subsection, as considered necessary by the commissioner.

F. If the commissioner acknowledges that another chief insurance regulatory official from a jurisdiction that is not accredited by the NAIC is the group-wide supervisor, the commissioner may reasonably cooperate, through supervisory colleges or otherwise, with group-wide supervision undertaken by the group-wide supervisor, provided that both of the following conditions are met:

(1) The commissioner's cooperation is in compliance with the laws of this state.

(2) The regulatory official acknowledged as the group-wide supervisor also recognizes and cooperates with the commissioner's activities as a group-wide supervisor for other internationally active insurance groups where applicable.

When such recognition and cooperation is not reasonably reciprocal, the commissioner may refuse recognition and cooperation.

G. The commissioner may enter into agreements with or obtain documentation from any insurer registered pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6, any affiliate of the insurer, and other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies for members of the internationally active insurance group, which provide the basis for or otherwise clarify a regulatory official's role as group-wide supervisor.

H. The commissioner may promulgate rules and regulations necessary for the administration of this Section.

I. A registered insurer subject to this Section shall be liable for and shall pay the reasonable expenses of the commissioner's participation in the administration of this Section, including the engagement of attorneys, actuaries, and any other professionals and all reasonable travel expenses.

§ 691.10. Confidential treatment

A. (1) Documents, materials, or other information in the possession or control of the department that are obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination or investigation made pursuant to R.S. 22:691.8 and all information reported or provided to the commissioner pursuant to R.S. 22:691.4(B)(12) and (13), 691.6, 691.7, and 691.9.1 shall be recognized as proprietary information containing trade secrets, shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. However, the commissioner is authorized to use the documents, materials, or other information in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought as a part of his official duties. The commissioner shall not otherwise make the documents, materials, or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer to which it pertains unless the commissioner, after giving the insurer and its affiliates who would be affected thereby notice and opportunity to be heard, determines that the interest of policyholders, shareholders, or the public will be served by the publication thereof, in which event the commissioner may publish all or any part in such manner as may be deemed appropriate.

(2) For purposes of the information reported and provided to the department pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6(M), the commissioner shall maintain the confidentiality of the group capital calculation and group capital ratio produced within the calculation and any group capital information received from an insurance holding company supervised by the United States Federal Reserve Board or any U.S. group-wide supervisor.

(3) For purposes of the information reported and provided to the department pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6(N), the commissioner shall maintain the confidentiality of the liquidity stress test results, supporting disclosures, and any liquidity stress test information received from an insurance holding company supervised by the United States Federal Reserve Board and group-wide supervisors not based in the United States.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who received documents, materials, or other information while acting under the authority of the commissioner or with whom such documents, materials, or other information are shared pursuant to this Subpart shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A of this Section.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, the commissioner:

(1) May share documents, materials, or other information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A of this Section, including proprietary information and trade secret documents and materials, with other state, federal, and international regulatory agencies with the NAIC and with state, federal, and international law enforcement authorities, including members of any supervisory college described in R.S. 22:691.9, provided that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the document, material, or other information, and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph (1) of this Subsection, the commissioner may share confidential and privileged documents, material, or information reported pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6(L) only with commissioners of states having statutes or regulations substantially similar to Subsection A of this Section and who have agreed in writing not to disclose such information.

(3) May receive documents, materials, or information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information, including proprietary and trade secret information, from the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries and from regulatory and law enforcement officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any document, material, or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged under the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material, or information.

(4) Shall enter into written agreements with the NAIC and any third-party consultant designated by the commissioner governing the sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this Subpart consistent with this Subsection that shall:

(a) Specify procedures and protocols regarding the confidentiality and security of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart, including procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC with other state, federal, or international regulators.

The agreement shall provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the documents, materials, and other information and has verified, in writing, the legal authority to maintain such confidentiality.

(b) Specify that ownership of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart remains with the commissioner and the use of the information by the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner is subject to the direction of the commissioner.

(c) Excluding documents, materials, and information reported pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6(N), prohibit the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner from storing the information shared pursuant to this Section in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is completed.

(d) Require prompt notice to be given to an insurer whose confidential information in the possession of the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart is subject to a request or subpoena to the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner for disclosure or production.

(e) Require the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart.

(f) For documents, materials, and information reporting, pursuant to R.S. 22:691.6(N), in the case of an agreement involving a third-party consultant, provide for notification of the identity of the consultant to the applicable insurers.

D. The sharing of information by the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart shall not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution, and enforcement of the provisions of this Subpart.

E. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, materials, or information shall occur as a result of disclosure to the commissioner under this Section or as a result of sharing as authorized in Subsection C of this Section.

F. Documents, materials, or other information in the possession or control of the NAIC or a third-party consultant designated by the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart shall be confidential by law and privileged, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action.

G. Except as otherwise may be required under the provisions of this Subpart, the making, publishing, disseminating, circulating, or placing before the public, or causing directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public in a newspaper, magazine, or other publication, or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster, or broadcasted over any radio station, television station, or by any other electronic means of communication available to the public, or in any other way as an advertisement, announcement, or statement containing a representation or statement with regard to the group capital calculation, group capital ratio, the liquidity stress test results, or supporting disclosures for the liquidity stress test of any insurer or any insurer group, or of any component derived in the calculation by any insurer, broker, or other person engaged in any manner in the insurance business is prohibited. However, if any materially false statement with respect to the group capital calculation, resulting group capital ratio, an inappropriate comparison of any amount to an insurer's or insurance group's group capital calculation or resulting group capital ratio, liquidity stress test result, supporting disclosures for the liquidity stress test, or an inappropriate comparison of any amount to an insurer's or insurance group's liquidity stress test result or supporting disclosures is published in any written publication and the insurer is able to demonstrate to the commissioner, with substantial proof, the falsity of such statement or its inappropriateness, the insurer may publish announcements in a written publication, if the sole purpose thereof is to rebut the materially false statement.

§ 691.11. Rules and regulations

The commissioner may, upon notice and opportunity for all interested persons to be heard, issue such rules, regulations, and orders as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Subpart.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1.

§ 691.12. Injunctions; prohibitions against voting securities; sequestration of voting securities

A. Injunctions. If at the discretion of the commissioner, it appears that any insurer or any director, officer, employee, or agent thereof has committed or is about to commit a violation of this Subpart or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the commissioner may apply to the Nineteenth Judicial District Court in and for the parish of East Baton Rouge, for an order enjoining the insurer or director, officer, employee, or agent thereof from violating or continuing to violate this Subpart or any rule, regulation, or order, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interest of the insurer's policyholders, creditors, and shareholders or the public may require.

B. Voting of securities; when prohibited. No security which is the subject of any agreement or arrangement regarding acquisition, or which is acquired or to be acquired, in contravention of the provisions of this Subpart or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner hereunder may be voted at any shareholder's meeting, or may be counted for quorum purposes, and any action of shareholders requiring the affirmative vote of a percentage of shares may be taken as though the securities were not issued and outstanding; however, no action taken at any such meeting shall be invalidated by the voting of the securities, unless the action would materially affect control of the insurer or unless the courts of this state have so ordered. If an insurer or the commissioner has reason to believe that any security of the insurer has been or is about to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this Subpart or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the insurer or the commissioner may apply to the Nineteenth Judicial District Court in and for the parish of East Baton Rouge to enjoin any offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition made in contravention of R.S. 22:691.4 or any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner thereunder to enjoin the voting of any security so acquired, to void any vote of the security already cast at any meeting of shareholders and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interest of the insurer's policyholders, creditor and shareholders or the public may require.

C. Sequestration of voting securities. In any case where a person has acquired or is proposing to acquire any voting securities in violation of this Subpart or any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner hereunder, the Nineteenth Judicial District Court in and for the parish of East Baton Rouge, on such notice as the court deems appropriate, upon the application of the insurer or the commissioner, may order seizure or sequestration of any voting securities of the insurer owned directly or indirectly by the person, and issue such orders as may be appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this Subpart.

§ 691.13. Sanctions

A. Except as provided in R.S. 22:691.5(E)(3), any insurer failing, without just cause, to file any registration statement as required in this Subpart shall be required, after notice and an opportunity to be heard, to pay a penalty of one hundred dollars for each day's delay, to be recovered by the commissioner of insurance and the penalty so recovered shall be deposited upon receipt in the state treasury. The maximum penalty under this Section is ten thousand dollars. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

B. Every director or officer of an insurance holding company system who knowingly violates, participates in, or assents to, or who knowingly shall permit any of the officers or agents of the insurer to engage in transactions or make investments which have not been properly reported or submitted pursuant to or which violate this Subpart shall pay, in their individual capacity, a civil forfeiture of not more than one thousand dollars per violation. In determining the amount of the civil forfeiture, the commissioner shall take into account the appropriateness of the forfeiture with respect to the seriousness of the violation, the history of previous violations, and such other matters as justice may require.

C. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any insurer subject to this Subpart or any director, officer, employee, or agent thereof has engaged in any transaction or entered into a contract which is subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:691.7 and which would not have been approved had the approval been requested, the commissioner may order the insurer to cease and desist immediately any further activity under that transaction or contract. The commissioner may also order the insurer to void any contracts and restore the status quo if the action is in the best interest of the policyholders, creditors, or the public.

D. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any insurer or any director, officer, employee, or agent thereof has committed a willful violation of this Subpart, the commissioner may cause criminal proceedings to be instituted by the Nineteenth Judicial District Court in and for the parish of East Baton Rouge, against the insurer or the responsible director, officer, employee, or agent thereof. Any insurer which willfully violates this Subpart may be fined not more than one hundred thousand dollars. Any individual who willfully violates this Subpart may be fined in his individual capacity not more than fifty thousand dollars or be imprisoned with or without hard labor for not more than five years or both.

E. Any officer, director, or employee of an insurance holding company system who willfully and knowingly subscribes to or makes or causes to be made any false statements or false reports or false filings with the intent to deceive the commissioner in the performance of his duties under this Subpart, upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned with or without hard labor for not more than five years or fined not more than fifty thousand dollars, or both. Any fines imposed shall be paid by the officer, director, or employee in his individual capacity.

F. If at the discretion of the commissioner, it appears that any person has committed a violation of R.S. 22:691.4 and the violation prevents the full understanding of the enterprise risk to the insurer by affiliates or by the insurance holding company system, the violation may serve as an independent basis for disapproving dividends or distributions and for placing the insurer under an order of supervision in accordance with R.S. 22:731 et seq.

G. An aggrieved party affected by the commissioner's decision, act, or order may seek judicial review of the decision pursuant to R.S. 22:691.17.

§ 691.14. Receivership

If at the discretion of the commissioner, it appears that any person has committed a violation of this Subpart which so impairs the financial condition of a domestic insurer as to threaten insolvency or make the further transaction of business by it hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, shareholders, or the public, then the commissioner may proceed pursuant to the provisions contained in R.S. 22:73, 96, 731 et seq., 2001 et seq., as well as Subpart H of this Part and Chapter 9 of this Code.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1.

§ 691.15. Recovery

A. If an order for liquidation or rehabilitation of a domestic insurer has been entered, the receiver appointed under the order shall have a right to recover on behalf of the insurer either of following:

(1) From any parent corporation or holding company or person or affiliate who otherwise controlled the insurer, the amount of distributions, other than distributions of shares of the same class of stock, paid by the insurer on its capital stock.

(2) Any payment in the form of a bonus, termination settlement, or extraordinary lump sum salary adjustment made by the insurer or its subsidiary to a director, officer or employee, where the distribution or payment pursuant to Paragraph (1) or (2) of this Subsection is made at any time during the one year preceding the petition for liquidation, conservation, or rehabilitation, as the case may be, subject to the limitations of Subsections B, C, and D of this Section.

B. No distribution shall be recoverable if the parent or affiliate shows that, when paid, the distribution was lawful and reasonable, and that the insurer did not know and could not reasonably have known that the distribution might adversely affect the ability of the insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations.

C. Any person who was a parent corporation or holding company or a person who otherwise controlled the insurer or affiliate at the time the distributions were paid shall be liable up to the amount of distributions or payments pursuant to Subsection A of this Section, which the person received. Any person who otherwise controlled the insurer at the time the distributions were declared shall be liable up to the amount of distributions that would have been received if they had been paid immediately. If two or more persons are liable with respect to the same distributions, they shall be jointly and severally liable.

D. The maximum amount recoverable under this Section shall be the amount needed in excess of all other available assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer to pay the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer and to reimburse any guaranty funds.

E. To the extent that any person liable under Subsection C of this Section is insolvent or otherwise fails to pay claims due from it, its parent corporation or holding company, or person who otherwise controlled it at the time the distribution was paid, shall be jointly and severally liable for any resulting deficiency in the amount recovered from the parent corporation or holding company or person who otherwise controlled it.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1.

§ 691.16. Revocation, suspension, or nonrenewal of insurer's authority

If at the discretion of the commissioner, it appears that any person has committed a violation of this Subpart which makes the continued operation of an insurer contrary to the interests of policyholders or the public, the commissioner may, after giving notice and an opportunity to be heard, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the insurer's license or authority to do business in this state for such period as the commissioner finds is required for the protection of policyholders or the public. Any such determination shall be accompanied by specific findings of fact and conclusions of law.

§ 691.17. Judicial review; mandamus

A. Any person aggrieved by any act, determination, rule, regulation, or order or any other action of the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart may appeal to the Nineteenth Judicial District Court in and for the parish of East Baton Rouge. The court shall conduct its review without a jury and by trial de novo, except that if all parties, including the commissioner, so stipulate, the review shall be confined to the record. Portions of the record may be introduced by stipulation into evidence in a trial de novo as to those parties so stipulating.

B. The filing of an appeal pursuant to this Section shall stay the application of any rule, regulation, order, or other action of the commissioner to the appealing party unless the court, after giving the party notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that a stay would be detrimental to the interest of policyholders, shareholders, creditors, or the public.

C. Any person aggrieved by any failure of the commissioner to act or make a determination required by this Subpart may petition the Nineteenth Judicial District Court in and for the parish of East Baton Rouge for a writ of mandamus directing the commissioner to act or make a determination forthwith.

§ 691.18. Severability

The provisions of this Subpart are severable. If any provision or item of this Subpart, or application thereof, is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions, items, or applications of this Subpart which are to be given effect without the invalid provision, item, or application of the Subpart.

Added by Acts 2012, No. 294, § 1.

B. Any violation of any of the provisions of this Section by any person, firm, or corporation shall be a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment for not less than sixty days or more than one year, or both fine and imprisonment, for each offense, in the discretion of the court.

B. The requirements of this Subpart shall apply to all domestic insurers unless exempt pursuant to R.S. 22:691.36.

C. The legislature finds and declares that the ORSA summary report will contain confidential and sensitive information related to the identification of risk material and relevant to the insurer or insurance group filing the report. Public disclosure of the information in the ORSA summary report will cause harm to and competitive disadvantage for the insurer or insurance group. The legislature intends that the ORSA summary report be filed with the commissioner as a confidential document, shared only as stated in this Subpart to assist in the performance of the commissioner's duties, and exempted from public disclosure.

Added by Acts 2015, No. 196, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2016.

§ 691.32. Definitions

(3) "NAIC" means the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

(4) "Own risk and solvency assessment" or "ORSA" means a confidential internal assessment, appropriate to the nature, scale, and complexity of an insurer or insurance group, conducted by that insurer or insurance group of the material and relevant risks associated with the insurer's or insurance group's current business plan, and the sufficiency of capital resources to support those risks.

(5) "ORSA Guidance Manual" means the current version of the "Own Risk and Solvency Assessment Guidance Manual" developed and adopted by the NAIC and as amended from time to time. A change in the ORSA Guidance Manual shall become effective on January first following the calendar year in which the changes are adopted by the NAIC.

§ 691.34. ORSA requirement

Subject to R.S. 22:691.36, an insurer, or the insurance group of which it is a member, shall regularly conduct an ORSA consistent with the ORSA Guidance Manual. An insurer, or the insurance group of which it is a member, shall conduct the ORSA no less than annually and any time there are significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group of which it is a member.

Added by Acts 2015, No. 196, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2016.

§ 691.35. ORSA summary report or both. Notwithstanding any request from the commissioner, if the insurer is a member of an insurance group, the insurer shall submit the report required by this Subsection if the commissioner is the lead state commissioner of the insurance group as determined by the procedures within the Financial Analysis Handbook adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

B. The report shall include a signature and an attestation based on the knowledge, information, and belief of the insurer or insurance group's chief risk officer or other executive having responsibility for the oversight of the insurer's enterprise risk management process that the insurer applies the enterprise risk management process described in the ORSA summary report and that a copy of the report has been provided to the insurer's board of directors or the appropriate committee of such board.

C. An insurer may comply with Subsection A of this Section by providing the most recent and substantially similar report provided by the insurer or another member of an insurance group of which it is a member to the commissioner of another state or to a supervisor or regulator of a foreign jurisdiction, if that report provides information that is comparable to the information described in the ORSA Guidance Manual. (2) The insurance group of which the insurer is a member has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and National Flood Insurance Program, less than one billion dollars.

B. If an insurer qualifies for exemption pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this Section, but the insurance group of which it is a member does not qualify for exemption pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this Section, the ORSA summary report that may be required pursuant to R.S. 22:691.35 shall include every insurer within the insurance group. This requirement may be satisfied by the submission of more than one ORSA summary report for any combination of insurers provided any combination of reports includes every insurer within the insurance group.

C. If an insurer does not qualify for exemption pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this Section, but the insurance group of which it is a member qualifies for exemption pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this Section, then the only ORSA summary report that may be required pursuant to R.S. 22:691.35 shall be the report applicable to that insurer.

D. An insurer that does not qualify for exemption pursuant to Subsection A of this Section may apply to the commissioner for a waiver from the requirements of this Subpart based upon unique circumstances. In deciding whether to grant the insurer's request for waiver, the commissioner may consider the type and volume of business written, ownership, and organizational structure, and any other factor the commissioner considers relevant to the insurer or insurance group of which it is a member. If the insurer is part of an insurance group with insurers domiciled in more than one state, the commissioner shall coordinate with the lead state commissioner and with the other domiciliary commissioners in considering whether to grant the insurer's request for a waiver.

E. Notwithstanding the exemptions stated in this Section:

(1) The commissioner may require that an insurer maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA, and file an ORSA summary report based on unique circumstances, including but not limited to the type and volume of business written, ownership, and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests.

(2) The commissioner may require that an insurer maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA, and file an ORSA summary report if the insurer has a risk-based capital company-action level event as set forth in R.S. 22:611 et seq. or 631 et seq., meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in regulations promulgated by the commissioner, or otherwise exhibits qualities of a troubled insurer as determined by the commissioner.

F. If an insurer ceases to qualify for an exemption pursuant to Subsection A of this Section due to changes in premium as reflected in the insurer's most recent annual statement or in the most recent annual statements of the insurers within the insurance group of which it is a member, the insurer shall have one year following the year the premium threshold is exceeded to comply with the requirements of this Subpart.

Added by Acts 2015, No. 196, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2016.

§ 691.37. Contents of ORSA summary report

A. The ORSA summary report shall be prepared consistent with the ORSA Guidance Manual, subject to the requirements of Subsection B of this Section. Documentation and supporting information shall be maintained and made available upon examination by or request of the commissioner.

B. The review of the ORSA summary report, and any additional requests for information, shall be made using similar procedures currently used in the analysis and examination of multistate or global insurers and insurance groups.

Added by Acts 2015, No. 196, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2016.

§ 691.38. Confidentiality

A. Documents, materials, or other information, including the ORSA summary report, in the possession or control of the commissioner that are obtained by, created by, or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person pursuant to this Subpart are proprietary and contain trade secrets. All such documents, materials, or other information shall be confidential and privileged, shall not be subject to disclosure under the Public Records Law, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action. The commissioner shall not otherwise make the documents, materials, or other information public without the prior written consent of the insurer.

B. Neither the commissioner nor any person who receives documents, materials, or other ORSA-related information, through examination or otherwise, while acting pursuant to the authority of the commissioner or with whom such documents, materials, or other information are shared pursuant to this Subpart shall be permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any confidential documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A of this Section.

C. In order to assist in the performance of the commissioner's regulatory duties, the commissioner:

(1) May, upon request, share documents, materials, or other ORSA-related information, including the confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information subject to Subsection A of this Section, including proprietary and trade secret documents and materials, with other state, federal, and international financial regulatory agencies, including members of any supervisory college as defined in R.S. 22:691.9, with the NAIC, and with any third-party consultants designated by the commissioner, provided that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the ORSA-related documents, materials, or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(2) May receive documents, materials, or other ORSA-related information, including otherwise confidential and privileged documents, materials, or information, including proprietary and trade-secret information or documents, from regulatory officials of other foreign or domestic jurisdictions, including members of any supervisory college as defined in R.S. 22:691.9, and from the NAIC, and shall maintain as confidential or privileged any documents, materials, or information received with notice or the understanding that it is confidential or privileged pursuant to the laws of the jurisdiction that is the source of the document, material, or information.

(3) Shall enter into a written agreement with the NAIC or a third-party consultant governing the sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this Subpart, consistent with this Subsection that shall include all of the following:

(a) Specify procedures and protocols regarding the confidentiality and security of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart, including procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC with other state regulators from states in which the insurance group has domiciled insurers. The agreement shall provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the ORSA-related documents, materials, or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(b) Specify that ownership of information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart remains with the commissioner and the NAIC's or a third-party consultant's use of the information is subject to the direction of the commissioner.

(c) Prohibit the NAIC or third-party consultant from storing the information shared pursuant to this Subpart in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is complete.

(d) Require prompt notice be given to an insurer whose confidential information in the possession of the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart is subject to a request or subpoena to the NAIC or a third-party consultant for disclosure or production.

(e) Require the NAIC or a third-party consultant to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart.

(f) Provide for the insurer's written consent in the case of an agreement involving a third-party consultant.

D. The sharing of information and documents by the commissioner pursuant to this Subpart shall not constitute a delegation of regulatory authority or rulemaking, and the commissioner is solely responsible for the administration, execution, and enforcement of the provisions of this Subpart.

E. No waiver of any applicable privilege or claim of confidentiality in the documents, proprietary and trade-secret materials, or other ORSA-related information shall occur as a result of disclosure of such ORSA-related information or documents to the commissioner pursuant to this Section or as a result of sharing as authorized in this Subpart.

F. Documents, materials, or other information in the possession or control of the NAIC or third-party consultants pursuant to this Subpart shall be confidential and privileged, shall not be subject to disclosure pursuant to the Public Records Law, shall not be subject to subpoena, and shall not be subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in any private civil action.

The maximum penalty under this Section shall be ten thousand dollars. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the commissioner that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the insurer.

D. As part of the retention process, a third-party consultant shall verify to the commissioner, with notice to the insurer, that it is free of a conflict of interest and that it has internal procedures in place to monitor compliance with a conflict and to comply with the confidentiality standards and requirements of this Subpart.

E. A written agreement with either the NAIC, a third-party consultant, or both governing sharing and use of information provided pursuant to this Subpart shall contain the following provisions and expressly require the written consent of the insurer prior to making public information provided pursuant to this Subpart:

(1) Specific procedures and protocols for maintaining the confidentiality and security of CGAD-related information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart.

(2) Procedures and protocols for sharing by the NAIC only with other state regulators from states in which the insurance group has domiciled insurers. The agreement shall provide that the recipient agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of the CGAD-related documents, materials, or other information and has verified in writing the legal authority to maintain confidentiality.

(3) A provision specifying that ownership of the CGAD-related information shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant remains with the commissioner and the NAIC's or third-party consultant's use of the information is subject to the direction of the commissioner.

(4) A provision that prohibits the NAIC or a third-party consultant from storing the information shared pursuant to this Subpart in a permanent database after the underlying analysis is complete.

(5) A provision requiring the NAIC or third-party consultant to provide prompt notice to the commissioner and to the insurer or insurance group regarding any subpoena, request for disclosure, or request for production of the insurer's CGAD-related information.

(6) A requirement that the NAIC or a third-party consultant consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC or a third-party consultant may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC or a third-party consultant pursuant to this Subpart.

PART IV. RESERVES

SUBPART A. LIFE INSURANCE RESERVES

§ 751. Commissioner of insurance to make valuation

A. (1)(a) The commissioner shall annually value, or cause to be valued, the reserve liabilities, hereinafter called "reserves", for all outstanding life insurance policies and annuity and pure endowment contracts of every life insurance company doing business in this state. The commissioner shall certify the amount of any such reserves.

(b) In calculating such reserves, the commissioner may use group methods and approximate averages for fractions of a year or otherwise.

(2)(a) Every foreign life insurance company or fraternal order shall either:

(i) Submit a valuation made, or caused to be made, by the insurance supervisory official of any state or other jurisdiction when the valuation complies with the minimum standard provided in this Subpart before August first of the year following the year of valuation.

(ii) Be valued by the commissioner at the expense of the company.

(b) The commissioner shall require such documents and studies as he deems necessary in order to accomplish this valuation. In lieu of the valuation of the reserves herein required of any foreign or alien company, the commissioner may accept any valuation made, or caused to be made, by the insurance supervisory official of any state or other jurisdiction when such valuation complies with the minimum standard herein provided and if such official accepts as sufficient and for all valid legal purposes, the certificate of valuation of the commissioner when such certificate states the valuation to have been made in a specified manner according to which the aggregate reserves would be at least as large as if they had been computed in the manner prescribed by the law of that state or jurisdiction.

(3) The commissioner may adopt rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this Subsection, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act.

B. The legal minimum standard for such valuation of policies, including industrial life insurance policies, shall be the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at four percent per annum, except that group insurance policies under which premium rates are not guaranteed for a period in excess of five years shall be valued on the American Men Ultimate Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half percent per annum.

C. Such valuation shall be made according to a method producing reserves not less than those produced by the one year full preliminary term method and, with respect to policies (other than industrial policies) issued to residents of the continental United States on and after January 1, 1939, not less than those produced by the modified preliminary term method under what is known as the Illinois Standard.

D. The legal minimum standard for the valuation of annuities issued on and after January 1, 1939 shall be the American Annuitants Table with interest at five percent per annum for group annuities and four percent per annum for all other annuities, except that annuities deferred ten or more years and written in connection with life insurance shall be valued on the same basis as that used in computing the consideration or premiums therefor, or upon any higher standard at the option of the insurer. Annuities issued prior to January 1, 1939, shall continue to be valued on a basis not lower than that used for the annual statement for the year 1937.

E. On or after July 29, 1947, the reserves of industrial life insurance companies and service insurance companies chartered by this state shall be determined by the commissioner of insurance by applying the following reductions to the reserve figures produced, in each case, by the method of computation set forth in the foregoing provisions of this Section:

(1) On all policies issued by such insurers prior to January 1, 1937, which provide for the furnishing of a funeral as the obligation of the insurer to the insured and his beneficiary, a reduction not to exceed seventy percent of the reserve as computed in accordance with this Subpart.

(2) On all policies issued by such insurers from January 1, 1937, to December 31, 1946, inclusive, which provide for the furnishing of a funeral as the obligation of the insurer to the insured and his beneficiary, a reduction not to exceed forty percent of the reserve as computed in accordance with this Subpart.

(3)(a) On all policies issued by such an insurer from January 1, 1947 through December 31, 1977, which provide for the furnishing of a funeral as the obligation of the insurer to the insured and his beneficiary, a reduction not to exceed twenty-five percent of the reserve as computed in accordance with this Subpart. However, certain policies described in R.S. 22:142 and 143 shall be fully reserved without benefit of reduction in reserves.

(b) All policies issued by such an insurer on or after January 1, 1978, which provide for the furnishing of a funeral as the obligation of the insurer to the insured and his beneficiary, shall be fully reserved without benefit of reduction in reserves.

(4) Provided, that in all cases, this reduction shall be allowed only where the insurer produces satisfactory proof of a contract with an authorized funeral director who is capable of furnishing the service specified in the policy, allowing a discount for the furnishing of the service specified therein, and in no case shall the reduction allowed herein exceed the amount of the reduction allowed in such contract.

(5) Repealed by Acts 2009, No. 503, § 2.

(6) Provided, further, that such reduction shall only be granted to those insurers who agree by an instrument in writing, filed with the commissioner of insurance, to apportion to and to maintain in a separate reserve fund, and who actually do apportion to and maintain in a separate fund, at least two percent of their annual gross premium income, for the purpose of bringing up the reserves to which the above reduction would apply on all funeral policies to seventy-five percent, and on all policies providing in whole or part for cash benefits to one hundred percent, of the full reserve on that portion of funeral policies providing for cash benefits, as computed in accordance with Subsections A, B, C and D of this Section, the aforesaid two percent to be in addition to any normal increase in reserves during the year.

F. Any life insurer transacting insurance in foreign countries only and not transacting insurance in any state of the United States or of the District of Columbia shall calculate its reserves on insurance written on such residents of foreign countries in accordance with reserve standards approved by the commissioner of insurance for the state of Louisiana. Acts that would otherwise be considered the transaction of insurance as that term is defined in this Title shall not be considered the transaction of insurance when undertaken in connection with the insurance of residents of foreign countries by life insurers that only insure residents of foreign countries. The mortality, interest, and other standards specified in this Section and in the standard nonforfeiture law as set forth in R.S. 22:936 shall not apply to policies and contracts approved for issuance only to residents of foreign countries.

§ 752. Actuarial opinion reserves

A. Prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, each life insurance company doing business in this state shall annually submit the opinion of a qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by regulation are computed appropriately, are based on assumptions which satisfy contractual provisions, are consistent with prior reported amounts, and comply with applicable laws of this state. The commissioner by regulation shall define the specifics of this opinion and add any other items deemed to be necessary in its scope.

B. (1) Each life insurance company, except as exempted by or pursuant to regulation, shall also annually include in the opinion required by Subsection A of this Section, an opinion of the same qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the commissioner by regulation, when considered in light of the assets held by the company with respect to the reserves and related actuarial items, including but not limited to the investment earnings on the assets and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under the policies and contracts, make adequate provision for the obligations of the company under the policies and contracts, including but not limited to the benefits under and expenses associated with the policies and contracts.

(2) The commissioner may provide by regulation for a transition period for establishing any higher reserves which the qualified actuary may deem necessary in order to render the opinion required by this Section.

C. Each opinion required by Subsection B of this Section shall be governed by the following provisions:

(1) A memorandum in form and substance acceptable to the commissioner, as specified by regulation, shall be prepared to support each actuarial opinion.

(2) If the insurance company fails to provide a supporting memorandum at the request of the commissioner within a period specified by regulation or the commissioner determines that the supporting memorandum provided by the insurance company fails to meet the standards prescribed by the regulations or is otherwise unacceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the company to review the opinion and the basis for the opinion and to prepare such supporting memorandum as is required by the commissioner.

D. Each opinion required by Subsections A and B of this Section shall be governed by the following provisions:

(1) The opinion shall be submitted with the annual statement reflecting the valuation of such reserve liabilities for each year as of the end of that year.

(2) The opinion shall apply to all business in force including individual and group health insurance plans, in form and substance acceptable to the commissioner as specified by regulation.

(3) The opinion shall be based on standards adopted from time to time by the Actuarial Standards Board and on such additional standards as the commissioner may by regulation prescribe.

(4) In the case of an opinion required to be submitted by a foreign or alien company, the commissioner may accept the opinion filed by that company with the insurance supervisory official of another state if the commissioner determines that the opinion reasonably meets the requirements applicable to a company domiciled in this state.

(5) For the purposes of this Subpart, "qualified actuary" means a member in good standing of the American Academy of Actuaries who satisfies the requirements set forth in such regulations by the commissioner.

(6) Except in cases of fraud or willful misconduct, the qualified actuary shall not be liable for damages to any person, other than the insurance company and the commissioner, for any act, error, omission, decision, or conduct with respect to the actuary's opinion.

(7) Disciplinary action by the commissioner against the company or the qualified actuary shall be defined in regulations by the commissioner.

(8) Any memorandum in support of the opinion, and any other material provided by the company to the commissioner in connection therewith, shall be kept confidential by the commissioner, and shall not be made public, and shall not be subject to subpoena, other than for the purpose of defending an action seeking damages from any person by reason of any action required by this Section or by regulations promulgated hereunder. However, the memorandum or other material may otherwise be released by the commissioner either with the written consent of the company or to the American Academy of Actuaries upon request stating that the memorandum or other material is required for the purpose of professional disciplinary proceedings and setting forth procedures satisfactory to the commissioner for preserving the confidentiality of the memorandum or other material. However, if any portion of the confidential memorandum is cited by the company in its marketing, is cited before any governmental agency other than a state insurance department, or is released by the company to the news media, all portions of the memorandum shall no longer be confidential.

E. On and after the operative date of the valuation manual, every company with outstanding life insurance contracts, accident and health insurance contracts, or deposit-type contracts in this state and subject to regulation by the commissioner shall annually:

(1) Submit an opinion of the appointed actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts are computed appropriately, are based on assumptions that satisfy contractual provisions, are consistent with prior reported amounts, and comply with the laws of this state.

(2) Include in the opinion required by Paragraph (1) of this Subsection, unless exempted in the valuation manual, an opinion of the same appointed actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified in the valuation manual, when considered in light of the assets held by the company in support of the reserves and related actuarial items, including but not limited to the investment earnings from the assets and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under the policies and contracts, make adequate provision for the company's obligations under the policies and contracts, including but not limited to the benefits under and expenses associated with the policies and contracts.

F. Each opinion required by Subsection E of this Section shall be governed by the following:

(1) If the insurance company fails to provide a supporting memorandum at the request of the commissioner within a period specified in the valuation manual or the commissioner determines that the supporting memorandum provided by the insurance company fails to meet the standards prescribed by the valuation manual or is otherwise unacceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the company to review the opinion and the basis for the opinion and prepare the supporting memorandum required by the commissioner.

(2) The opinion and memorandum shall be in accordance with the form and substance prescribed in the valuation manual and acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) The opinion shall be submitted with the annual statement reflecting the valuation of such reserve liabilities for each year ending on or after the operative date of the valuation manual.

(4) The opinion shall apply to all policies and contracts subject to Paragraph (E)(2) of this Section, plus other actuarial liabilities as may be specified in the valuation manual.

(5) The opinion shall be based on standards adopted by the Actuarial Standards Board, or its successor, and on additional standards that may be prescribed in the valuation manual.

(6) In the case of an opinion required to be submitted by a foreign or alien company, the commissioner may accept the opinion filed by that company with the insurance supervisory official of another state if the commissioner determines that the opinion reasonably meets the requirements applicable to a company domiciled in this state.

(7) Except in cases of fraud or willful misconduct, the appointed actuary shall not be liable for damages to any person, other than the insurance company and the commissioner, for any act, error, omission, decision, or conduct with respect to the appointed actuary's opinion.

(8) Disciplinary action by the commissioner against the company or the appointed actuary shall be in accordance with this Title and rules or regulations promulgated by the commissioner.

Mortality, interest, and other standards, consistent with prevailing generally accepted actuarial assumptions at the time of issue, shall apply to policies and contracts issued outside of the United States and its territories.

(2) Reserves for all such policies and contracts may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by R.S. 22:751.

B. For policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in Paragraphs (2) and (3) of this Subsection, the minimum standard for the valuation of all other policies and contracts shall be the Commissioner's Reserve Valuation Methods defined in Paragraphs (4), (5), and (8) of this Subsection, five percent interest for group annuity and pure endowment contracts, four percent interest for all other such policies and contracts, and four and one-half percent interest for policies and

(c) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies: the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table or, at the option of the insurer, the Annuity Mortality Table for 1949, Ultimate, or any modification of either of these tables approved by the commissioner.

(d) For group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies: the Group Annuity Mortality Table for 1951, any modification of such table approved by the commissioner, or, at the option of the insurer, any of the tables or modifications of tables specified for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(e) For total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts: for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1966, the tables of Period 2 disablement rates and the 1930 to 1950 termination rates of the 1952 Disability Study of the Society of Actuaries, with due regard to the type of benefit or any tables of disablement rates and termination rates adopted on or after January 1, 1981, by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that are approved by the commissioner; for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1961, and prior to January 1, 1966, either such tables or, at the option of the insurer, the Class (3) Disability Table (1926); and for policies issued prior to January 1, 1961, the Class (3) Disability Table (1926). Any such table shall, for active lives, be combined with a mortality table authorized by this Subpart for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(f) For accidental death benefits in or supplementary to policies: for policies issued on or after January 1, 1966, the 1959 Accidental Death Benefits Table or any accidental death benefits table adopted on or after January 1, 1981, by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that is approved by the commissioner; for policies issued on or after January 1, 1961, and prior to January 1, 1966, either such table or, at the option of the insurer, the Inter-Company Double Indemnity Mortality Table; and for policies issued prior to January 1, 1961, the Inter-Company Double Indemnity Mortality Table. Either table shall be combined with a mortality table authorized by this Subpart for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(g) For group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis and other special benefits: such tables as approved by the commissioner.

(2)(a) Except as provided in Paragraph (3) of this Subsection, the minimum standard for the valuation of all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after September 7, 1979, and for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after such effective date under group annuity and pure endowment contracts shall be the Commissioner's Reserve Valuation Methods defined in Paragraphs (4) and (5) of this Subsection and the following tables and interest rates:

(i) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued prior to September 7, 1979, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts: the 1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table, or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner, and six percent interest for single premium immediate annuity contracts, and four percent interest for all other individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(ii) For individual single premium immediate annuity contracts issued on or after September 7, 1979, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts: the 1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table or any individual annuity mortality table adopted on or after January 1, 1981, by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that is approved by the commissioner, or any modification of these tables approved by the commissioner, and seven and one-half percent interest.

(iii) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after September 7, 1979, other than single premium immediate annuity contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts: the 1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table or any individual annuity mortality table adopted on or after January 1, 1981, by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that is approved by the commissioner, or any modification of these tables approved by the commissioner, and five and one-half percent interest for single premium deferred annuity and pure endowment contracts and four and one-half percent interest for all other such individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(iv) For all annuities and pure endowments purchased prior to September 7, 1979, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts: the 1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table, or any modification of this table approved by the commissioner, and six percent interest.

(v) For all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after September 7, 1979, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts: the 1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table or any group annuity mortality table adopted on or after January 1, 1981, by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that is approved by the commissioner, or any modification of these tables approved by the commissioner, and seven and one-half percent interest.

(b) Any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Paragraph after a specified date before January 1, 1981, which shall be the effective date of this Paragraph for such insurer; provided, an insurer may elect a different effective date for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts from that elected for group annuity and pure endowment contracts. If an insurer makes no such election, the effective date of this Paragraph for such insurer shall be January 1, 1981.

(3)(a) The interest rates used in determining minimum standard for the valuation of the policies and contracts listed in Items (i), (ii), (iii), and (iv) of this Subparagraph shall be the calendar year statutory valuation interest rates, as defined in this Paragraph, or, at the option of the insurer, for any category of policies or contracts, the rate or rates of interest provided in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this Subsection.

(i) All life insurance policies issued in a particular calendar year, on or after January 1, 1989.

(ii) All individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after January 1, 1983.

(iii) All group annuities and pure endowments on or after January 1, 1983.

(iv) The net increase, if any, in a particular calendar year after January 1, 1983, in the amounts held under guaranteed interest contracts.

(b)(i) The calendar year statutory valuation interest rates shall be determined as follows, with the results rounded to the nearer one-quarter of one percent:

<COL>(aa) For life insurance: $I = .03 + W (R_1 - .03) + W (R_2 - .09)$.

<COL><COL>2<COL>

(bb) For single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and from guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options: $I = .03 + W (R - .03)$ where R_1 is the lesser of R and $.09$; R_2 is the greater of R and $.09$; R is the reference interest rate defined in Subparagraph (d) of this Paragraph; and W is the weighting factor defined in Subparagraph (c) of this Paragraph.

(cc) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on an issue year basis, except as stated in Subitem (bb) of this Item, the formula for life insurance stated in Subitem (aa) of this Item shall apply to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee durations in excess of ten years, and the formula for single premium immediate annuities stated in Subitem (bb) of this Item shall apply to annuities and guaranteed interest contracts with guarantee duration of ten years or less.

(dd) For other annuities with no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the formula for single premium immediate annuities stated in Subitem (bb) of this Item shall apply.

(ee) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a change in fund basis, the formula for single premium immediate annuities stated in Subitem (bb) of this Item shall apply.

(ii) However, if the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for any life insurance policies issued in any calendar year determined without reference to this Subparagraph differs from the corresponding actual rate for similar policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year by less than one-half of one percent, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such life insurance policies shall then be equal to the corresponding actual rate for the immediately preceding calendar year. For purposes of applying this Subparagraph, the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies issued in a calendar year shall be determined for 1980, by using the reference interest rate defined for 1979, and shall be determined for each subsequent calendar year.

(iii) At the option of the insurer, calculation for life insurance policies issued in a particular calendar year may be made on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the statutory interest rate, as defined in this Subsection, for life insurance policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year.

(c) The weighting factors referred to in the formulae stated in Subparagraph (b) of this Paragraph shall be as provided in the following tables:

(i) Weighting factors for life insurance:

<COL>Guarantee Duration in years<COL>	Weighting
<COL><COL>Factors
<COL>10 years or less<COL>	.50
<COL>More than 10, but not more than 20 years<COL>	.45
<COL>More than 20 years<COL>	.35

For life insurance, the guarantee duration is the maximum number of years the life insurance can remain in force on a basis guaranteed in the policy or under options to convert to plans of life insurance with premium rates or nonforfeiture values, or both, which are guaranteed in the original policy;

(ii) The weighting factor for single premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options is .80.

(iii) Weighting factors for other annuities and for guaranteed interest contracts, except as stated in Item (ii) of this Subparagraph, shall be as specified in Subitems (aa), (bb), and (cc) of this Item according to the provisions in Subitems (dd), (ee), and (ff) of this Item:

(aa) For annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis:

<COL> <COL>Weighting Factor

<COL>Guarantee<COL>for Plan Type

<COL>Duration in Years<COL>A<COL>B<COL>C

<COL>5 years or less:<COL>.80<COL>.60<COL>.50

<COL>More than 5 years, but not more than 10 years:<COL>.75<COL>.60<COL>.50

<COL>More than 10 years, but not more than 20 years:<COL>.65<COL>.50<COL>.45

<COL>More than 20 years:<COL>.45<COL>.35<COL>.35

<COL>(bb)<COL>Plan Type

<COL> <COL>A<COL>B<COL>C

For annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change in fund basis, the factors shown in Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph increased by:<COL>.15<COL>.25<COL>.05

<COL> <COL>A<COL>B<COL>C

For annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on an issue year basis, other than those with no cash settlement options, which do not guarantee interest on considerations received more than one year after issue or purchase and for annuities and guaranteed interest contracts valued on a change in fund basis which do not guarantee interest rates on considerations received more than twelve months beyond the valuation date, the factors shown in Subitem (aa) or derived in Subitem (bb) increased by:<COL>.05<COL>.05<COL>.05

(dd) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years for which the contract guarantees interest rates in excess of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for life insurance policies with guarantee duration in excess of twenty years. For other annuities with no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the guarantee duration is the number of years from the date of issue or date of purchase to the date annuity benefits are scheduled to commence.

(ee) The plan type as used in the above tables is defined as follows:

<COL>Plan Type A:<COL>At any time the policyholder may withdraw funds only with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurer, or without such adjustment but in installments over five years or more, or as an immediate life annuity, or no withdrawal as permitted.

<COL>Plan Type B:<COL>Before expiration of the interest rate guarantee, the policyholder may withdraw funds only with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurer, or without such adjustment but in installments over five years or more, or no withdrawal is permitted. At the end of the interest rate guarantee, funds may be withdrawn without such adjustment in a single sum or installments over less than five years.

<COL>Plan Type C:<COL>The policyholder may withdraw funds before expiration of the interest rate guarantee in a single sum or installments over less than five years either without adjustment to reflect changes in the interest rates or asset values since receipt of the funds by the insurer, or subject only to a fixed surrender charge stipulated in the contract as a percentage of the fund.

(ff) An insurer may elect to value guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options and annuities with cash settlement options on either an issue year basis or on a change in fund basis. Guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options and other annuities with no cash settlement options shall be valued on an issue year basis. As used in this Paragraph, an issue year basis of valuation refers to a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard for the entire duration of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of issue or year of purchase of the annuity or guaranteed interest contract, and the change in fund basis of valuation refers to a valuation basis under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum valuation standard applicable to each change in the fund held under the annuity or guaranteed interest contract is the calendar year valuation interest rate for the year of the change in the fund.

(d) The reference interest rate referred to in Subparagraph (b) of this Paragraph shall be defined as follows:

(i) For all life insurance, the lesser of the average over a period of thirty-six months and the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year next preceding the year of issue, of the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(ii) For a single premium immediate annuity and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or year of purchase, of the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(iii) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a year of issue basis, except as stated in Subitem (c)(iii)(bb) of this Paragraph with guarantee duration in excess of ten years, the lesser of the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(iv) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options valued on a year of issue basis, except as stated in Item (ii) of this Subparagraph, with guarantee duration of ten years or less, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(v) For other annuities with no cash settlement options and for guaranteed interest contracts with no cash settlement options, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(vi) For other annuities with cash settlement options and guaranteed interest contracts with cash settlement options, valued on a change in fund basis, except as stated in (ii) above, the average over a period of twelve months, ending on June thirtieth of the calendar year of the change in the fund, of the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(e) In the event that the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds is no longer published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or in the event that the National Association of Insurance Commissioners determines that the Monthly Average of the Composite Yield on Seasoned Corporate Bonds as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. is no longer appropriate for the determination of the reference interest rate, then an alternative method for determination of the reference interest rate, which is adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and approved by the commissioner, shall be substituted.

(4)(a) Except as otherwise provided in Paragraphs (5), (6), and (8) of this Subsection, reserves according to the Commissioner's Reserve Valuation Method for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums, shall be the excess, if any, of the present value at the date of valuation of such future guaranteed benefits provided for by such policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums therefor. The modified net premiums for any such policy shall be the uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums, excluding extra premiums on substandard policies, for such benefits that, at the date of issue of the policy, the present value of all modified net premiums shall be equal to the sum of the then present value of such benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of Item (i) of this Subparagraph over Item (ii) of this Subparagraph as follows:

(i) A net level annual premium equal to the present value at the date of issue of such benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value at the date of issue of an annuity of one per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due; provided however, that such net level annual premium shall not exceed the net level annual premium on the nineteen year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age one year higher than the age at issue of such policy.

(ii) A net one year term premium for such benefits provided for in the first policy year.

(b) Any life insurance policy issued on or after January 1, 1986, for which the contract premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year and for which no comparable additional benefit is provided in the first year for such excess and which provides an endowment benefit or a cash surrender value, or a combination thereof, in an amount greater than such excess premium, the reserve according to the Commissioner's Reserve Valuation Method as of any policy anniversary occurring on or before the assumed ending date defined herein as the first policy anniversary on which the sum of any endowment benefit and any cash surrender value then available is greater than such excess premium shall, except as otherwise provided in Paragraph (8) of this Subsection be the greater of the reserve as of such policy anniversary calculated as described in Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph and the reserve as of such policy anniversary calculated as described in that Subparagraph, but with the value defined in that Subparagraph being reduced by fifteen percent of the amount of such excess first year premium, all present values of benefits and premiums being determined without reference to premiums or benefits provided for by the policy after the assumed ending date, the policy being assumed to mature on such date as an endowment, and the cash surrender value provided on such date being considered as an endowment benefit. In making the above comparison the mortality and interest bases stated in Paragraphs (1) and (3) of this Subsection shall be used.

(c) Reserves according to the Commissioner's Reserve Valuation Method for life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums shall be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of this Paragraph. Reserves for group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as now or hereafter amended; disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts; and all other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies and benefits provided by all other annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall be calculated by a method consistent with the benefits granted and approved by the commissioner.

(5)(a) This Section shall apply to all annuity and pure endowment contracts other than group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer (including a partnership or sole proprietorship) or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as now or hereafter amended.

(b) Reserves according to the commissioner's annuity reserve method for benefits under annuity or pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts shall be the greatest of the respective excesses of the present values, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits, including guaranteed nonforfeiture benefits, provided for by such contracts at the end of each respective contract year, over the present value, at the date of valuation, of any future valuation considerations derived from future gross considerations, required by the terms of such contract, that become payable prior to the end of such respective contract year. The future guaranteed benefits shall be determined by using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate, or rates, specified in such contracts for determining guaranteed benefits. The valuation considerations are the portions of the respective gross considerations applied under the terms of such contracts to determine nonforfeiture values.

(6)(a) An insurer's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits, shall in no event be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the methods set forth in Paragraphs (4), (5), (8), and (10) of this Subsection and the mortality table or tables, and rate or rates of interest used in calculating nonforfeiture benefits for such policies.

(b) In no event shall the aggregate reserves for all policies, contracts, and benefits be less than the aggregate reserves determined to be necessary to render the opinion required in R.S. 22:752.

(c) The commissioner of insurance shall promulgate a regulation containing the minimum standards applicable to the valuation of health and accident plans.

(7) Reserves for any category of policies, contracts, or benefits may be calculated at the option of the insurer according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for such category than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided, but the rate or rates of interest used for policies and contracts, other than annuity and pure endowment contracts, shall not be higher but may be lower than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any nonforfeiture benefits provided for therein.

(8)(a) If in any contract year the gross premium charged by any life insurer on any policy or contract is less than the valuation net premium for the policy or contract calculated by the method used in calculating the reserve thereon but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, the minimum reserve required for such policy or contract shall be the greater of either the reserve calculated according to the mortality table, rate of interest, and method actually used for such policy or contract, or the reserve calculated by the method actually used for such policy or contract but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest and replacing the valuation net premium by the actual gross premium in each contract year for which the valuation net premium exceeds the actual gross premium. The minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest referred to in this Paragraph are those standards stated in Paragraphs (1) and (3) of this Subsection.

(b) Any life insurance policy issued on or after January 1, 1986, for which the gross premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year and for which no comparable additional benefit is provided in the first year for such excess and which provides an endowment benefit or a cash surrender value or a combination thereof in an amount greater than such excess premium, the foregoing provisions of this Paragraph shall be applied as if the method actually used in calculating the reserve for such policy were the method described in Paragraph (4) of this Subsection, ignoring Subparagraph (b) of that Paragraph. The minimum reserve at each policy anniversary of such a policy shall be the greater of the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with Paragraph (4) of this Subsection, including Subparagraph (b) of that Paragraph, and the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with this Paragraph.

(9) Nothing in this Subsection shall apply to any policy issued by any insurer subject to the provisions of Subparts D and E of Part I of this Chapter, R.S. 22:131 et seq. and R.S. 22:141 et seq., unless such insurer elects to comply with the standard non-forfeiture law.

(10) In the case of any plan of life insurance which provides for future premium determination, the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurer based on then estimates of future experience, or in the case of any plan of life insurance or annuity which is of such a nature that the minimum reserves cannot be determined by the methods described in Paragraphs (4), (5), and (8) of this Subsection, the reserves which are held under any such plan shall be appropriate in relation to the benefits and the pattern of premiums for that plan, and shall be computed by a method which is consistent with the principles of this Section as determined by the commissioner.

C. For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual:

(1) The standard prescribed in the valuation manual is the minimum standard of valuation required under R.S. 22:751(A), except as provided for in Subsections D and F of this Section.

(2) The operative date of the valuation manual is January first of the first calendar year following the first July first as of which all of the following have occurred:

(a) The valuation manual has been adopted by the NAIC by an affirmative vote of at least forty-two members, or three-fourths of the members voting, whichever is greater.

(b) The Standard Valuation Law, as amended by the NAIC in 2009, or legislation including substantially similar terms and provisions, has been enacted by states representing greater than seventy-five percent of the direct premiums written as reported in the following annual statements submitted for 2008: life, accident and health annual statements; health annual statements; or fraternal annual statements.

(c) The Standard Valuation Law, as amended by the NAIC in 2009, or legislation including substantially similar terms and provisions, has been enacted by at least forty-two of the fifty-five NAIC member jurisdictions.

(3) Unless a change in the valuation manual specifies a later effective date, changes to the valuation manual shall be effective on January first following the date when the change to the valuation manual has been adopted by the NAIC by an affirmative vote representing:

(a) At least three-fourths of the members of the NAIC voting, but not less than a majority of the total membership.

(b) Members of the NAIC representing jurisdictions totaling greater than seventy-five percent of the direct premiums written as reported in the following annual statements most recently available prior to the vote in Subparagraph(a) of this Paragraph: life, accident and health annual statements, health annual statements, or fraternal annual statements.

(4) The valuation manual shall specify all of the following:

(a) Minimum valuation standards for and definitions of the policies or contracts subject to R.S. 22:751(A). Such minimum valuation standards shall be:

(i) The commissioner's reserve valuation method for life insurance contracts, other than annuity contracts, pursuant to R.S. 22:751(A).

(ii) The commissioner's annuity reserve valuation method for annuity contracts pursuant to R.S. 22:751(A).

(iii) Minimum reserves for all other policies or contracts subject to R.S. 22:751(A).

(b) Which policies or contracts or types of policies or contracts that are subject to the requirements of a principle-based valuation in Subsection G of this Section and the minimum valuation standards consistent with those requirements.

(c) For policies and contracts subject to a principle-based valuation pursuant to Subsection G of this Section:

(i) Requirements for the format of reports to the commissioner pursuant to Subparagraph (G)(2)(c) of this Section and which shall include information necessary to determine if the valuation is appropriate and in compliance with this Subpart.

(ii) Assumptions shall be prescribed for risks over which the company does not have significant control or influence.

(iii) Procedures for corporate governance and oversight of the actuarial function, and a process for appropriate waiver or modification of such procedures.

(d) For policies not subject to a principle-based valuation under Subsection G of this Section, the minimum valuation standard shall use one of the following:

(i) The minimum valuation standard that was in effect prior to the operative date of the valuation manual.

(ii) A reserve standard that quantifies the benefits, guarantees, and funding associated with the contract risk and a level of conservatism that reflects all unfavorable events that have a reasonable probability of occurring.

(5) The valuation manual shall specify other requirements, including but not limited to those relating to reserve methods, models for measuring risk, generation of economic scenarios, assumptions, margins, use of company experience, risk measurement, disclosure, certifications, reports, actuarial opinions and memorandums, transition rules, and internal controls.

(6) The valuation manual shall specify the data and form of the data required pursuant to Subsection H of this Section, with whom the data shall be submitted, and may specify other requirements including data analyses and reporting analyses.

(7) Repealed by Acts 2021, No. 370, § 2.

(8) Repealed by Acts 2016, No. 316, § 2, eff. June 2, 2016.

D. In the absence of a specific valuation requirement, the company shall comply with minimum valuation standards prescribed by the commissioner by rule or regulation.

E. The commissioner may engage a qualified actuary, at the expense of the company, to perform an actuarial examination of the company and opine on the appropriateness of any reserve assumption or method used by the company, or to review and opine on a company's compliance with any valuation requirement. The commissioner may rely upon the opinion of a qualified actuary engaged by the commissioner of another state, district, or territory of the United States.

F. The commissioner may require a company to change any assumption or method that in the opinion of the commissioner is necessary to comply with the requirements of the valuation manual, and the company shall adjust the reserves as required by the commissioner.

G. (1) For policies or contracts specified in the valuation manual as being subject to principle-based valuation, a company shall establish reserves that:

(a) Quantify the benefits, guarantees, and funding associated with the contracts and their risk at a level of conservatism that reflects conditions that include unfavorable events that have a reasonable probability of occurring during the lifetime of the contracts, including conditions appropriately adverse to quantify any significant tail risk.

(b) Incorporate assumptions, risk analysis methods, financial models, and management techniques that are consistent with, but not necessarily identical to, those utilized within the company's overall risk assessment process, while recognizing potential differences in financial reporting structures and any prescribed assumptions or methods.

(c) Incorporate assumptions that are derived from one of the following:

(i) The valuation manual.

(ii) When not prescribed in the valuation manual, one of the following:

(aa) The company's available, relevant, and statistically credible experience.

(bb) To the extent that company data are not available, relevant, or statistically credible, other available, relevant, and statistically credible experience.

(d) Provide margins for uncertainty including adverse deviation and estimation error, such that the greater the uncertainty the larger the margin and resulting reserve.

(2) As specified in the valuation manual, a company using a principle-based valuation for one or more policies or contracts shall:

(a) Establish procedures for corporate governance and oversight of the actuarial valuation function consistent with those described in the valuation manual.

(b) Provide to the commissioner and the board of directors an annual certification of the effectiveness of the principle-based valuation internal controls. The controls shall be designed to assure that all material risks are included in the valuation in accordance with the valuation manual. The certification shall be based on the controls in place as of the end of the preceding calendar year.

(c) Develop a principle-based valuation report that complies with standards prescribed in the valuation manual and file it with the commissioner when requested.

(3) A principle-based valuation may include a prescribed formulaic reserve component.

H. For policies in force on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, a company shall submit mortality, morbidity, policyholder behavior, or expense experience and other data as prescribed in the valuation manual.

I. Any such insurer which at any time shall have adopted any standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves than those calculated according to the minimum standard provided in this Section may, with the approval of the commissioner of insurance, adopt any lower standard of valuation, but not lower than the minimum provided in this Section. However, for purposes of this Section, the holding of additional reserves previously determined by a qualified actuary to be necessary to render the opinion required by this Subpart shall not be deemed to be the adoption of a higher standard of valuation.

J. For purposes of this Subpart, "confidential information" means:

(1) A memorandum in support of an opinion submitted under this Section and any other documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers, and copies thereof, created, produced, or obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in connection with such memorandum.

(2) All documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers, and copies thereof, created, produced, or obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination made under this Section provided, however, that if an examination report or other material prepared in connection with an examination made under Chapter 8 of this Title is not held as private and confidential information under Chapter 8 of this Title, an examination report or other material prepared in connection with an examination made under this Section shall not be confidential information to the same extent as if such examination report or other material had been prepared under Chapter 8 of this Title.

(3) Any reports, documents, materials, and other information developed by a company in support of, or in connection with, an annual certification by the company under this Section evaluating the effectiveness of the company's internal controls with respect to a principle-based valuation and any other documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers, and copies thereof, created, produced, or obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in connection with such reports, documents, materials, and other information.

(4) Any principle-based valuation report developed under this Section and any other documents, materials, and other information, including but not limited to all working papers, and copies thereof, created, produced, or obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in connection with such report.

maintaining the ratio specified herein. The order shall not exceed six months in duration.

B. Projected annual net premiums shall be based on the actual writings to date for the insurer's current calendar year or the insurer's writings for the previous calendar year, or both. The ratio shall be computed on an annualized basis.

B. For policies with a waiting period of less than three months or providing benefits at ages beyond the limits of Conference Modification of Class III Disability Experience, the tables shall be extended to cover the provisions of such policies on such basis as the commissioner of insurance may approve.

C. The reserve for losses under noncancellable disability policies shall be based on Conference Modification of Class III Disability Experience, except that for claims of less than twenty-seven months' duration the reserve may be taken as equivalent to the prospective claim payments for three and one-half times the elapsed period of disability; but in no case shall the reserve be less than the equivalent of seven weeks' claim payments.

D. For a point of service policy, reserves shall be required for the indemnity exposure only and may be based on an insurer's actual experience or, in the case of an insurer in business for less than five years, may be based on industry standards.

E. The commissioner of insurance shall modify the application of the tables and requirements prescribed in this Section to policies or to claims arising under policies in accordance with the waiting period contained in such policies and in accordance with any limitation as to the time for which indemnity is payable.

Such apportionment shall be continued or resumed as needed to maintain the special reserve fund at an amount equal to not less than the guaranty fund deposit required of the insurer.

SUBPART C. SEPARATE ACCOUNTS

§ 781. Separate accounts and contracts issued in connection therewith

A. Any domestic life insurance company may establish one or more separate accounts, and may allocate to such separate account or accounts any amounts paid to or retained by the company which are to be applied under the terms of an individual or group contract to provide for life insurance, annuities, and other benefits incidental thereto, payable in fixed or in variable dollar amounts or in both.

B. To the extent such company deems it necessary to comply with the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and other applicable federal laws, as such acts are and may be amended, such company may, with respect to any separate account or any portion thereof, including without limitation any separate account which is a management investment company or a unit investment trust, provide for the benefit of persons having beneficial interest therein special voting and other rights and special procedures for the conduct of the business and affairs of such separate account or portion thereof, including without limitation special rights and procedures relating to investment policy, investment advisory services, selection of independent public accountants, and the selection of a committee, the members of which need not be otherwise affiliated with such company, to manage the business and affairs of such separate account or portion thereof.

C. The amounts allocated to each such account and accumulations thereon may be invested and reinvested in any class of investments which are authorized by Subsections A through and including G of R.S. 22:584, except that the quantitative limitations contained in such Subsections A through G of R.S. 22:584 shall not apply to investments of amounts allocated to each such separate account; provided however, notwithstanding any of the restrictions or limitations contained in said Subsections A through G of R.S. 22:584 all of such amounts allocated to a separate account and accumulations thereon may be invested in the shares of an open-end investment company or companies registered under the Federal Investment Company Act of 1940; provided further, that to the extent that the company's reserve liability with regard to (1) benefits guaranteed as to dollar amount and duration and (2) funds guaranteed as to principal amount or stated rate of interest is maintained in any such separate account, a portion of the assets of such separate account at least equal to such reserve liability shall be invested in accordance with the quantitative and qualitative requirements of Subpart B of Part III of this Chapter, R.S. 22:581 et seq., governing the investments of life insurance companies. The investments in such separate account or accounts shall not be taken into account in applying the investment limitations applicable to other investments of the company.

D. The income, if any, and gains and losses, realized or unrealized, on each account shall be credited to or charged against the amounts allocated to the account in accordance with the contract, without regard to other income, gains or losses of the company.

E. That portion of the assets of any separate account equal to the reserves and other contract liabilities with respect to such account, if and to the extent so provided in the applicable contracts, shall not be chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other insurance business the company may conduct. Any portion of the assets in excess of such reserves and other contract liabilities shall be chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other insurance business the company may conduct.

F. (1) Amounts allocated to a separate account in the exercise of the power granted by this Section shall be owned by the company, and the company shall not be, or hold itself out to be, a trustee with respect to such amounts.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Paragraph (1) of this Subsection, all assets of a separate account shall be deemed subject to a security interest granted by the company in favor of the holders of that separate account, to secure any and all of the company's obligations to such account holders. This security interest shall be deemed for any and all purposes to constitute a security interest arising by operation of law. This security interest need not be reflected in writing or comply with the provisions of R.S. 10:8-101 et seq., R.S. 10:9-101 et seq., Civil Code Art. 3158, or R.S. 9:4321 et seq. The company's continued possession or control of such assets, as well as its continued ability to withdraw or substitute assets of such separate account at will, shall not be deemed to adversely affect the validity of the security interest provided hereunder. If delinquency proceedings are brought by or against the company, the security interest hereby granted shall continue to be recognized for all purposes, including but limited to liquidation of the company under the provisions of R.S. 22:2042(E).

G. Unless otherwise approved by the commissioner, assets allocated to a separate account shall be valued at their market value on the date of valuation, or if there is no readily available market, then in accordance with uniform, nondiscriminatory standards applicable to the separate account assets or in accordance with the terms of the applicable contract; provided that, unless otherwise approved by the commissioner, the portion of the assets of such separate account at least equal to the company's reserve liability with regard to the guaranteed benefits and funds referred to in Subsection C of this Section, if any, shall be valued in accordance with the rules otherwise applicable to the company's assets.

H. If the contract provides for payment of benefits in variable amounts, it shall contain a statement of the essential features of the procedure to be followed by the company in determining the dollar amount of such variable benefits. Any such contract, including a group contract, and any certificates issued thereunder, shall state that such dollar amount may decrease or increase and shall contain on its first page a statement that the benefits thereunder are on a variable basis. The insurance commissioner, where appropriate, may require an annuity contract to provide a determinable cash value. The company issuing a contract on a variable basis shall furnish each contract holder with annual reports of the financial condition of the separate account, in such form as the insurance commissioner shall prescribe.

I. No domestic life insurance company, and no other life insurance company admitted to transact business in this state, shall be authorized to deliver within this state any contract providing benefits in variable amounts until said company has satisfied the commissioner that its condition or methods of operation in connection with the issuance of such contracts will not render its operation hazardous to the public or its policyholders in this state. In determining the qualifications of a company requesting authority to deliver such contracts within this state, the commissioner shall consider, among other things:

(1) The history and financial condition of the company;

(2) The character, responsibility and general fitness of the officers and directors of the company; and

(3)(a) In the case of a company other than a domestic company, whether the statutes and regulations of the jurisdiction of its incorporation provide a degree of protection to policyholders and the public which is substantially equal to that provided by this section and the rules and regulations issued thereunder.

(b) An authorized life insurance company, whether domestic, foreign, or alien, which issues contracts providing benefits in variable amounts and which is a subsidiary of, or affiliated through common management or ownership with, another life insurance company authorized to do business in this state may be deemed to have met the provisions of this subsection if either it or the parent or affiliated company meets the requirements hereof.

J. A. Any life insurer doing business in this state, may annually deposit with the commissioner of insurance for the common benefit of its life, annuity, and endowment policies or any separate class or special kind thereof, securities including evidence of ownership of real estate of the kinds in which, by the laws of this state, it is permitted to invest or loan its funds, equal to the legal reserve on all such outstanding policies in force, including also all funds held in trust for deferred or installment payments, as shown by its last annual statement to the commissioner of insurance, as required by law, which securities shall be held by the commissioner of insurance in trust for the purposes and objects herein specified. For the purposes of this Section, the securities referred to in this Subsection shall include trust receipts or certificates of deposit, with right to substitution, issued by any depository bank in this state or any savings and loan association chartered to do business in this state which has been selected by the insurer with the approval of the commissioner of insurance, as trustee of the kinds of securities in which the insurer may invest in accordance with R.S. 22:581 through R.S. 22:596. The commissioner of insurance may cause any such securities to be appraised and valued prior to their being deposited with, or conveyed to, the commissioner of insurance in trust as aforesaid, the reasonable expense of such appraisal or valuation to be paid by the insurer. Insofar as any depository bank, which issues such trust receipts or certificates of the deposit of such securities shall be concerned, the certificates of the insurer as to the value and validity of such securities shall be conclusive.

B. After making said deposit any insurer may thereafter issue life, annuity or endowment policies, of the class designated, which shall have upon their face a certificate substantially in the following words:

"STATE OF LOUISIANA ' ' ' I, the undersigned Commissioner of Insurance of Louisiana, do hereby certify that the ' ' ' Company invests and maintains in stipulated securities as required by the law of the State of Louisiana its fully paid up capital, together with the net cash value of every outstanding policy; and said company has on deposit with the commissioner of insurance of Louisiana such stipulated securities equal in amount to such net cash value of all outstanding policies as shown by its last annual statement, which fund the law requires the company to maintain during the continuance of this policy."

C. Any insurer making deposits under the provisions of this Section, may at its option, withdraw from the provisions of this Section by ceasing to issue such certified policies. Any insurer withdrawing from the depository requirement after accepting the terms of this Section, shall be required to continue to maintain the deposits herein required on all funds held in trust for deferred or installment payments on policies certified by the commissioner of insurance, and likewise to maintain the deposits on all policies certified by the commissioner of insurance. Whenever any insurer shall cease to issue certified policies it shall notify the commissioner of insurance in writing; and at the same time it shall report under oath by its president and secretary to the commissioner of insurance the amount or value of outstanding certified policies and the amount on deposit with the commissioner of insurance, and such amount on deposit shall be made to equal the said value of said outstanding policies; and annually thereafter said insurer shall keep on deposit with the commissioner of insurance an amount sufficient to equal the value of said outstanding policies as shown by the annual statement of the insurer, and shall report such fact to the commissioner of insurance under oath in such form as the commissioner may require. As such certified policies are commuted or terminated the amount on deposit with the commissioner of insurance may be reduced and withdrawn by the insurer semiannually upon presentation of proof under oath of its officers of the amount of commutations or terminations, upon approval of the commissioner of insurance.

D. The securities deposited under this Section by each insurer shall be placed with a bank in this state or a savings and loan association chartered to do business in this state and the safekeeping or trust receipt kept by the commissioner of insurance in some secure safe deposit, fireproof box or vault, and no officer or employee of the insurer shall have access thereto. The state of Louisiana obligates itself to safely keep all safekeeping or trust receipts or other securities held in trust by the commissioner of insurance under this Section. The bank in this state or the savings and loan association chartered to do business in this state, which has issued a safekeeping or trust receipt, shall detach and deliver to the insurer all interest coupons as they accrue. The insurer shall have the right to collect such interest as it shall accrue.

E. The certificate of the commissioner of insurance herein provided for may be printed on the face of policies issued but only when such certificate has been annually renewed and issued to any insurer by the commissioner of insurance, and is on file in the home office of the insurer.

§ 822. Criminal bail bond annual license fee

A. On premiums for all commercial surety underwriters who write criminal bail bonds in the state of Louisiana, there shall be a fee equal to two dollars for each one hundred dollars worth of liability underwritten by the commercial surety. Except as authorized under the provisions of R.S. 13:718(I)(2), this shall be the exclusive fee or tax on any criminal bail bond premium, including thereto premium taxes owed. In furtherance of the payment of this premium fee all commercial surety underwriters underwriting criminal bail bonds in the state of Louisiana shall, upon submitting the appearance bond and their power of attorney, simultaneously pay to the sheriff of the parish, a fee of two dollars for each one hundred dollars worth of liability on the bail bond being presented for the release of a person on bail. Failure to pay the fee shall prevent the sheriff from accepting the appearance bond and power of attorney. The sheriff may receive the fee by check or cash and shall only accept it from the surety or the agent of the surety. In the event a surety or agent of the surety presents payment of the fee by an instrument which is returned for insufficient funds, the agent or the agent of the surety shall be prevented from presenting the appearance bonds with their power of attorney attached until the outstanding fees are paid to the sheriff.

B. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this Subsection, all premium fees collected by the sheriff shall be remitted within sixty days after receipt as follows:

- (a) Twenty-five percent to the judicial court fund or its equivalent.
- (b) Twenty-five percent to the sheriff's general fund.
- (c) Twenty-five percent to the district attorney's operating fund.
- (d) Twenty-five percent to the Indigent Defenders Program.

(2) In the Twenty-Second Judicial District, all premium fees collected by the sheriff shall be remitted within sixty days after receipt as follows:

- (a) Twenty-two percent to the judicial court fund or its equivalent.
- (b) Twenty-two percent to the sheriff's general fund.
- (c) Twenty-two percent to the district attorney's operating fund.
- (d) Twenty-two percent to the Indigent Defenders Program.
- (e) Twelve percent to the St. Tammany Children's Advocacy Center.

(3) In Orleans Parish, the two dollars collected for each one hundred dollars worth of liability underwritten by the commercial surety on all premium fees collected by the sheriff shall be maintained, supervised, and distributed as provided in R.S. 13:1381.5.

PART IV. TAXES AND EXEMPTIONS

§ 831. Fire, marine, transportation, casualty, surety, or other insurance

A. (1) Upon the business of issuing policies, contracts, or other forms of obligations covering the risk of fire, marine, transportation, surety, fidelity, indemnity, guaranty, workers' compensation, employers' liability, property damages, livestock, vehicle, automatic sprinkler, burglary, or insurance of any other kind whatsoever in this state not otherwise provided for in this Part, the minimum annual tax shall be one hundred eighty-five dollars when the gross annual premiums shall be six thousand dollars or less; and when the gross annual premiums shall be more than six thousand dollars, the amount of tax payable shall be increased to three hundred dollars for each additional ten thousand dollars, or fraction thereof, of gross annual premiums. The business of issuing each of the kinds of insurance or contracts mentioned in this Section may be combined under one tax, and the amount of the tax shall be based on the combined gross annual premiums of all such businesses.

(2) This tax shall be paid on a quarterly basis.

B. There is hereby created in the state treasury the Louisiana State Police Salary Fund. Monies in the Louisiana State Police Salary Fund shall be used in amounts appropriated by the legislature to cover the cost of salary increases and related benefits for members of the state police service and for special law enforcement initiatives. Taxes collected under the provisions of this Section in Fiscal Year 2002-2003 and ensuing fiscal years that are in excess of total collections under the provisions of this Section in Fiscal Year 2000-2001, after first having been credited to the Bond Security and Redemption Fund as required by Article VII, Section 9(B) of the Constitution of Louisiana, shall be deposited into the Louisiana State Police Salary Fund until the amount deposited in each fiscal year is equal to fifteen million six hundred thousand dollars.

§ 832. Reduction of tax when certain investments are made in Louisiana

A. (1) The amount of the tax payable shall be reduced from the amount otherwise fixed in this Part if the payer files a sworn statement with the annual report required by this Part showing as of the end of each fiscal quarter reporting period that at least the following amounts of the total admitted assets of the payer, less assets in an amount equal to the reserves on its policies issued in foreign countries in which it is authorized to do business and which countries require an investment therein as a condition of doing business, are invested and maintained in qualifying Louisiana investments as hereinafter defined in Subsection C of this Section.

(2) The amount of tax credit granted shall be as provided in Subsection B of this Section and based on the average of the percentage of qualifying Louisiana investments held at the end of each fiscal quarter for the fiscal year.

(3) However, Paragraph (1) of this Subsection notwithstanding, for any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2016, and before January 1, 2018, for all payers, except for life insurance companies writing life insurance premiums with total admitted assets of fifteen million dollars or less and health maintenance organizations subject to the tax in R.S. 22:842(B), the amount of the tax credit granted shall not exceed ninety-five percent of the tax credit for the average percentage of qualifying Louisiana investments as provided in Subsection B of this Section.

B. If one-sixth of the total admitted assets of the payer are in qualifying Louisiana investments, then the tax payable shall be thirty-three and one-third percent of the amount otherwise fixed in this Part; if at least one-fifth of the total admitted assets of the payer are in qualifying Louisiana investments, then the tax payable shall be twenty-five percent of the amount otherwise fixed in this Part; if at least one-fourth of the total admitted assets of the payer are in qualifying Louisiana investments, the tax payable shall be fifteen percent of the amount otherwise fixed in this Part; and if at least one-third of the total admitted assets of the payer are in qualifying Louisiana investments, then the tax payable shall be five percent of the amount otherwise fixed in this Part.

C. For the purposes of this Part, beginning January 1, 2017, "a qualifying Louisiana investment" is hereby defined as:

(1) Bonds of this state or bonds of municipal, school, road, or levee districts, or other political subdivisions of this state or bonds approved for issue by the Louisiana State Bond Commission.

(2) Mortgages on property located in this state.

(3) Real property located in this state.

(4) Policy loans to residents of Louisiana, or other loans to residents of this state, or to corporations domiciled in this state.

(5) Common or preferred stock in corporations domiciled in this state.

(6) In addition to the investments provided for in Paragraphs (1) through (5) of this Subsection, for purposes of health maintenance organizations subject to the tax in R.S. 22:842(B), for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2017, "a qualifying Louisiana investment" is hereby defined as:

(a) Certificates of deposit issued in Louisiana by any bank, savings and loan association, or savings bank any of which has a main office or branch in Louisiana or by a trust company with a main office or branch in Louisiana if such trust company holds such funds in trust and invests them in certificates of deposit issued by a bank, savings and loan association, or savings bank with a main office or branch in Louisiana.

(b) Cash on deposit in an account in Louisiana in any bank, savings and loan association, or savings bank, or a trust company holding such funds in trust, any of which has a main office or branch in Louisiana.

(c) Such investments shall be considered as qualifying Louisiana investments only when made by a health maintenance organization that meets all of the following criteria:

(i) Offers fully insured commercial or Medicare Advantage products.

(ii) Is domiciled, licensed, and operating in this state.

(iii) Maintains its primary corporate office and at least seventy percent of its employees in this state.

(iv) Maintains in this state its core business functions which may include utilization review services, claim payment processes, customer processes, customer service call centers, enrollment services, information technology services, and provider relations.

D. Recognizing that it is in the public interest to create an incentive for environmentally clean industry to locate in this state and to broaden the economic base; to encourage investment in this state; and to enhance the economic and financial climate of the state, the legislature finds that a premium tax reduction for insurers investing in certain qualified Louisiana assets promotes the public interest.

E. (1)(a) Recognizing that it is also in the public interest to ensure sufficient availability of venture capital for purposes of technological development and job creation, the premium tax reduction for insurers investing in certified capital companies as defined in R.S. 51:1921 et seq., or in industrial or economic development corporations as defined in R.S. 12:951 et seq., shall be computed as one hundred percent of the amount of the investment at the time the investment is made. The premium tax reduction shall be available for, but not limited to, taxes charged on insurance premiums under R.S. 22:439, 831, 836, 838, and 842. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the premium tax reduction shall not be available for taxes charged on insurance premiums under R.S. 22:345, 833, 834, 835, 837, and 1476.

The investment shall be in the form of cash or debt instruments that are obligations of the investing insurance company to the certified capital company or the industrial or economic development corporation. Such debt instruments shall be converted into cash at a rate of not less than ten percent per year from the date of the investment.

(b) For purposes of this Subsection, the term "investment" shall include the investment of cash or a note by an insurance company in exchange for either (i) equity in a certified Louisiana capital company or (ii) a loan receivable from a certified Louisiana capital company which has a stated final maturity date of not less than five years from the origination date of the loan and shall not be repaid in a manner which results in the loan receivable being repaid faster than if the loan receivable were repaid by level debt service payments.

(2) The premium tax reduction determined as provided in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection shall be subject to the following limitations:

(a) For investments made during any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1989, and before January 1, 1990, the tax reduction shall not exceed forty percent of the tax liability for that taxable year.

(b) For investments made during any taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1990, and before January 1, 1991, the tax reduction shall not exceed thirty percent of the tax liability for the respective taxable year.

(c) For investments made on or after January 1, 1991, and before January 1, 1999, the tax reduction utilized in any year for any group of affiliates shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the gross premium tax liability for such group, before any credits, for the year in which the investment was made.

(d) For investments made after December 31, 2003, no tax reduction shall be allowed.

(3) The tax reduction as determined by Paragraph (1) of this Subsection and as limited in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection shall be applied as follows: (a) for tax reduction credits granted to investors prior to January 1, 2001, the tax reduction shall be applied to the premium tax liability not to exceed ten percent of the premium tax reduction in any one year until one hundred percent of the premium tax reduction has been claimed by the insurer; or (b) for tax reduction credits granted to investors after January 1, 2001, the tax reduction shall not be applied to any premium tax liability generated within two years from the date of investment and shall be applied to the premium tax liability not to exceed twelve and one-half percent of the premium tax reduction in any one year until one hundred percent of the premium tax reduction has been claimed by the insurer; provided, the reduction in any taxable year shall not exceed the premium tax liability for such taxable year. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Paragraph to the contrary, if a holder of premium tax reduction credits authorized under this Subsection does not use credits that are generated after December 31, 1999, and which are eligible to be used in a given calendar year, those premium tax reduction credits may be carried forward and used in any subsequent year until such credits are exhausted; provided, the reduction in any taxable year shall not exceed the premium tax liability for such taxable year.

(4) The premium tax reductions described in Paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this Subsection shall have the same rights with respect to transferability accorded to income tax credits, as described in R.S. 51:1924(F) and be subject to the same forfeiture and repayment provisions as income tax credits, as described in R.S. 51:1927(C) and 1928(A).

F. (1) For purposes of a domestic health maintenance organization with no fewer than five hundred employees residing in Louisiana during the 2016 calendar year, when such health maintenance organization invests at least twenty-five million dollars in bonds of this state or bonds of municipal, school, road, or levee districts, or other political subdivisions of this state or bonds approved for issue by the Louisiana State Bond Commission as provided for in Paragraph (C)(2) of this Section for the last two calendar quarters in the 2016 calendar year, then the tax payable for the calendar year 2016 shall be fifty percent of the amount otherwise levied in R.S. 22:842(B). For purposes of determining the number of employees residing in Louisiana and the dollar amount of the investment in the bonds, "domestic health maintenance organization" shall include the domestic health maintenance organization and its affiliates.

(2) This provision shall not be applicable to a health maintenance organization that is eligible for a tax reduction under any other provision of this Section.

(3) The reduction authorized in this Subsection shall not be applicable to premiums collected or received pursuant to Title XIX of the Social Security Act, Subchapter XIX, Chapter 7, of Title 42 of the United States Code.

§ 833. Authorization of local taxes; penalties for nonpayment

A. Any municipal or parochial corporation in the state shall have the right to impose a tax on any insurer engaged in the business of issuing any form of insurance policy or contract, which may now or hereafter be subject to the payment of any tax for state purposes, as provided in this Part, as follows:

(1) On any insurer engaged in the business of issuing life or accident or health insurance policies, other than programs of benefits authorized or provided pursuant to the provisions of Parts I and II of Chapter 12 of Title 42 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, or other forms of contracts or obligations covering such risks, or issuing endowment or annuity policies, or contracts, or other similar forms of contract obligations in consideration of the payment of a premium or other consideration for the issuance of such policies, contracts, or obligations, whether such insurer is operating in this state through an agent or other representative or otherwise, not more than ten dollars on gross annual premiums up to two thousand dollars, and the additional tax thereafter shall not be more than seventy dollars on each ten thousand dollars, or fraction thereof, of gross annual premiums in excess of two thousand dollars. However, the maximum tax on such businesses, payable to such municipal or parochial corporation by any one insurer, shall not exceed twenty-one thousand dollars. Premiums paid to an insurer by Louisiana Medicaid programs shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this Section.

(2) On any insurer, engaged in the business of issuing policies, contracts, or other forms of obligations covering the risk of fire, marine, transportation, surety, fidelity, indemnity, guaranty, workers' compensation, employers' liability, property damage, livestock, vehicle, automatic sprinkler, burglary, or insurance business of any other kind whatsoever in this state, whether such insurer is operating in this state through producers or other representatives or otherwise, not more than the following:

(a) 1st Class: When the gross receipts are not more than two thousand dollars, the tax shall not exceed forty dollars;

(b) 2nd Class: When the gross receipts are more than two thousand dollars, and not more than four thousand dollars, the tax shall not exceed sixty dollars;

(c) 3rd Class: When the gross receipts are more than four thousand dollars, and not more than six thousand dollars, the tax shall not exceed eighty dollars;

(d) 4th Class: When the gross receipts exceed six thousand dollars, the additional tax thereafter shall not be more than seventy dollars for each ten thousand dollars, or fraction thereof, in excess of six thousand dollars.

B. The maximum tax on such businesses, payable to such municipality or parochial corporation by any insurer, shall not exceed nine thousand dollars. Provided, that:

(1) Plate glass and steam boiler inspection insurers shall pay only one-third of the above rates provided in Paragraph (A)(2) of this Section.

(2) The amount of tax payable to any municipal or parochial corporation as fixed in this Section shall be one-third of the amount so fixed if the payer shall file a sworn statement with the annual report required by this Part, showing that at least one-sixth of the total admitted assets of the payer, are invested and maintained in qualifying Louisiana investments as defined in R.S. 22:832(C).

(3) The total tax payable by an insurer to a parish shall be calculated on the total direct premiums written by such insurer for risks located within unincorporated areas of such parish. The total tax payable by an insurer to a municipality shall be calculated on the total direct premiums written by such insurer for risks located within such municipality. Such premiums shall not be subject to taxation by both the parish and the municipality. Such premiums shall not be subject to taxation by more than one parish or municipality.

C. (1) In case of any failure to make a report or to make payment of tax as required by this Section, before June first of any year in which it is due, a penalty of five percent per month shall be added to the amount of tax due and payable to the municipal or parochial corporation along with the tax due. The municipal or parochial corporation may waive the payment of the penalty if it finds that failure to pay was due to some unforeseen or unavoidable reason, other than mere neglect.

(2) The amount of any monetary penalty assessed pursuant to this Section shall not be greater than twenty-five percent of the total amount of the tax due.

(3) When a payment is more than six months delinquent, the municipal or parochial corporation may send a written recommendation to the commissioner of insurance requesting the commissioner to revoke the authority of the delinquent taxpayer and all of the taxpayer's agents to do business in this state. Upon receiving such a recommendation and finding that the local tax assessment is correct and the insurer was duly notified of the assessment after the payment thereof is delinquent, the commissioner, after due notice to all affected parties, may revoke the authority of the taxpayer and all the taxpayer's agents to do business in this state.

D. An aggrieved party affected by the commissioner's decision, act, or order may demand a hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq.

E. For a municipal or parochial corporation which has not imposed a tax pursuant to this Section on or before August 15, 2012, the authorization for such tax shall cease effective August 16, 2012. However, a municipal or parochial corporation which imposed a tax pursuant to this Section on or before August 15, 2012, shall retain the authority to renew that existing tax so long as such renewal does not exceed the limit provided in this Subpart.

§ 834. Local taxes; contracts for collection; confidentiality of records

A. The taxes authorized by the provisions of R.S. 22:833 and imposed by local ordinance may be collected by the Louisiana Municipal Advisory and Technical Services Bureau (LaMATS) if an agreement upon the terms of the collection procedure is executed between LaMATS and the municipality or parish imposing the taxes. Once such an agreement is executed, LaMATS is hereby endowed with all the rights, responsibilities, duties, and privileges of the municipality or parish in regard to the collection of the tax for the duration of the agreement.

B. (1) In accordance with the duty as collector, LaMATS shall have access to any information regarding local taxes deemed necessary by the commissioner of insurance or the Department of Insurance if such access is necessary or proper for the enforcement of the laws of this state or of a political subdivision of this state.

(2) Except as otherwise provided by law, the records and files of LaMATS, as the contractually authorized collector of local taxes, which are maintained pursuant to the local tax ordinances are confidential and privileged, and no person shall divulge or disclose any information obtained from such records and files except in the administration and enforcement of the tax laws of this state or of a political subdivision of this state.

(3) Neither the collector nor any employee engaged in the administration or charged with the custody of any such records or files shall be required to produce any of them for inspection or use in any action or proceeding, except in an action or proceeding in the administration or enforcement of the tax laws of this state or of a political subdivision.

(4) Nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to prevent such persons from disclosing a return of a taxpayer or the records or files maintained pursuant to the local tax ordinances by which LaMATS is contracted to collect as authorized by law in any judicial proceeding in which the state or any political subdivision thereof is a party.

§ 835. Fire marshal tax; Louisiana Fire Marshal Fund

A. There is hereby levied an additional tax of one and one-fourth percent of the gross annual premium receipts from any business which insures property of any nature or description against loss or damage by fire, less return premiums on all insurers doing business in the state which insure property of any nature or description against loss or damage by fire. This tax shall be paid by all such insurers to the commissioner of insurance when paying their annual taxes under this Part, and the commissioner of insurance shall refuse to issue a license to any insurer failing or refusing to pay this additional tax.

B. All funds received by the commissioner of insurance pursuant to Subsection A of this Section shall be deposited immediately upon receipt into the state treasury.

C. holder.

(4) Any insurer may insert in its policies any provisions or conditions required by its plan of insurance or method of operation which are not prohibited by the provisions of this Code.

B. Every such filing shall be made not less than forty-five days in advance of any such issuance, delivery, or use. The commissioner of insurance may extend by not more than an additional fifteen days the period within which he may so affirmatively approve or disapprove any such form, by giving notice of such extension before expiration of the initial forty-five-day period. At the expiration of any such period as so extended, and in the absence of such prior affirmative approval or disapproval, any such form shall be deemed approved. The commissioner of insurance may withdraw any such approval at any time for cause. Approval of any such form by the commissioner of insurance shall constitute a waiver of any unexpired portion of such initial fifteen-day waiting period.

C. The commissioner of insurance's order disapproving any such form or withdrawing a previous approval shall state the grounds therefor.

D. No such form shall knowingly be so issued or delivered as to which the commissioner of insurance's approval does not then exist.

E. The commissioner of insurance, may, by order, exempt from the requirements of this Section for so long as he deems proper, any insurance document or form or type thereof as specified in such order, to which in his opinion this Section may not practicably be applied, or the filing and approval of which are, in his opinion, not desirable or necessary for the protection of the public.

The commissioner shall adopt rules and regulations necessary for the implementation of this Subsection including a provision defining special commercial entities which qualify for exemption. The definition of exempt commercial policyholder shall be reviewed periodically by the commissioner. This Subsection shall apply only to commercial property and casualty insurance. The regulations required by this Subsection shall be issued by the commissioner.

The commissioner of insurance may waive the required use of a particular standard provision other than the provisions required in Subpart C of Part IV of this Chapter in a particular insurance contract form if both of the following apply:

- (1) The commissioner finds such provision unnecessary for the protection of the insured and inconsistent with the purposes of the contract.
- (2) The contract is otherwise approved by the commissioner.

B. No insurance contract shall contain any provision inconsistent with or contradictory to any such standard provision used or required to be used, but the commissioner of insurance may approve any provision which is in his opinion more favorable to the insured than the standard provision or optional standard provision otherwise required. No endorsement, rider, or other documents attached to such contract shall vary, extend, or in any respect conflict with any such standard provision, so as to make the resulting effective provision less favorable to the insured than such standard provision.

C. In lieu of the standard provision required by this Code for contracts for particular kinds of insurance, except the standard fire policy as provided in Subpart C of Part IV of Chapter 4 of this Title, substantially similar standard provisions required by the law of a foreign or alien insurer's domicile may be used when approved by the commissioner of insurance.

§ 883. Stop-loss insurance coverage

A. Stop-loss coverage shall be defined as insurance covering the loss of an insured above a specific amount or a self-insurer for losses over a stated amount.

B. Any insurer authorized to issue property and casualty or health and accident policies of insurance in this state shall report, with its annual statement, any premiums written in this state for stop-loss or excess insurance coverage to the Department of Insurance in the manner prescribed by the commissioner.

C. A stop-loss or excess insurance policy form intended for issue to cover losses of a group health plan, as defined in R.S. 22:1061(1), shall be submitted to the Department of Insurance for prior approval pursuant to the policy form filing requirements established by R.S. 22:861 and shall satisfy the following conditions:

- (1) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall be issued to and insure the group health plan or the plan itself and not the employees, members, or participants.

(2) Payments by the insurer shall be made to the sponsor of the group health plan or the plan itself and not the employees, members, participants, or providers.

(3) The specific stop-loss or excess limit or attachment point per individual claimant shall be at least ten thousand dollars. The aggregate stop-loss or excess limit or attachment point for groups of fifty or fewer shall be, at a minimum, one hundred twenty percent of the group health plan's total expected claims per policy period. The aggregate stop-loss or excess limit or attachment point for groups of fifty-one or more shall be, at a minimum, one hundred ten percent of the group health plan's total expected claims per policy period.

(4) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall contain a provision stating that the bankruptcy or insolvency of the insured shall not relieve the stop-loss carrier from its obligation under R.S. 22:1269(A).

(5)(a) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall contain a provision that eligible claims incurred under the group health plan during the initial contract period shall be covered, provided that proof of payment by the plan is furnished to the insurer within ninety days after the expiration of the policy or any later period that is provided in the contract or insurance policy.

(b) All applications for stop-loss or excess insurance must include the option to purchase coverage extending, for at least ninety days beyond the expiration of the contract term, the period within which claims incurred during the contract term must be submitted and paid.

(c) All applications for stop-loss or excess insurance that include the option to purchase a policy providing coverage restricted to claims both incurred and paid during the contract term must contain a form for acceptance or rejection of the offer mandated in Subparagraph (b) of this Paragraph and must include disclosures as prescribed by the commissioner.

(d) All applications for stop-loss or excess insurance including options to purchase a policy providing coverage for claims incurred prior to the contract term, or providing coverage for claims incurred prior to the contract term but paid during the contract term, must contain a form for acceptance or rejection of the offer mandated in Subparagraph (b) of this Paragraph and must include disclosures as prescribed by the commissioner.

(6) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall provide coverage with rates not subject to adjustment by the stop-loss insurer during the policy period, unless any of the following occur:

(a) There is a change in the benefits provided under the group health plan.

(b) Enrollment under the group health plan changes by at least ten percent.

(7) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy form filed with the Department of Insurance for approval shall contain a separate document certifying that each of the requirements specified in Paragraphs (1) through (6) of this Subsection have been met.

D. Stop-loss or excess insurance shall not be equivalent to reinsurance, as reinsurance only relates to transactions between insurers. An entity purporting to cover a self-insured group health plan shall be treated as a stop-loss or excess insurer and shall be subject to the insurance laws and regulations of the state relating to such insurers and to penalties for violations of such laws and regulations. In no instance shall stop-loss or excess loss insurance be defined as a contract or policy of health insurance under R.S. 22:452(1) (a).

E. Insurance companies writing stop-loss or excess insurance coverage shall exercise due diligence in ascertaining the legitimacy or authority of the underlying group health plan before issuing coverage. This shall include but not be limited to ensuring that the underlying plan is not a self-insured multiple employer welfare arrangement, as defined in 29 U.S.C. § 1002(40) unless the underlying plan is a self-insurance plan as defined in R.S. 22:452(1) and is authorized to do business in this state as a self-insurer.

F. Provider stop-loss or excess insurance policies that protect health care providers from a portion of the financial risk assumed in managed care contracts with health and accident insurers, health maintenance organizations, and self-insured group plans shall be submitted to the Department of Insurance for approval and shall satisfy the following conditions:

(1) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall be issued to and insure the contracted provider or network of health care providers.

(2) Payments by the insurer shall be made to the contracted provider or network of health care providers.

(3) The individual stop-loss amount, that is, retention or attachment point per claimant, shall be at least five thousand dollars. The aggregate stop-loss or excess amount shall be, at a minimum, fifty thousand dollars per calendar year.

(4) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall contain a provision that the proof of loss shall be furnished to the insurer within ninety days after the date that loss is incurred or any later period that is provided in the contract or insurance policy.

(5) Filings of a stop-loss or excess insurance policy filed with the Department of Insurance for approval shall contain a separate document certifying that each of the requirements specified in Paragraphs (1) through (4) of this Subsection have been met.

G. A stop-loss or excess insurance policy form covering any other kind of loss, damage, or liability may only be written by a property and casualty insurer and shall satisfy the following conditions:

(1) The stop-loss or excess insurance policy shall be issued to and insure an individual or business against legal liabilities other than those associated with provision of health benefits to employees or members of a health benefit plan or managed care health plan.

(2) Payments by the insurer shall be made to the insured upon provision of proof of loss.

§ 884. Incontestability after reinstatement

The reinstatement of any policy of life or noncancellable disability insurance or contract of annuity delivered or issued for delivery in this state after 12:00 noon of October 1, 1948, shall be incontestable after the same period following reinstatement and with the same conditions and exceptions, as provided in the policy or contract with respect to the incontestability.

§ 885. Cancellation by the insured; surrender

A. Cancellation by the insured of any policy which by its terms may be cancelled at the insured's option or of any binder based on the policy shall be effected only by written notice thereof to the insurer. Nothing in this Subsection shall be construed to require an insurer to cancel any policy or any binder based on the policy prior to the date of receipt by the insurer of the written notice required by this Subsection.

B. Within thirty days following such cancellation the insurer shall pay to the insured or to the person entitled thereto as shown by the insurer's records, any unearned portion of any premium paid on the policy as computed on the customary pro rata rate, unless otherwise stated in a policy that has been filed with and approved by the commissioner, and any unearned commission. If no premium has been paid on the policy, the insured shall be liable to the insurer for premium for the period during which the policy was in force. Except for surplus line insurers, any assessment of a monetary penalty by an insurer against an insured as a result of the insured's cancellation prior to the expiration of any policy is prohibited. Nothing in this Section shall prohibit an insurer from calculating unearned premium based on a short-rate provision contained in any insurance policy that has been filed with and approved by the commissioner.

C. The written notice of cancellation of a policy to the insurer for any cause by any person named therein as having an interest insured under the policy shall create a presumption that the cancellation is agreed to by all persons so named.

D. This Section shall not apply to life insurance policies, annuity contracts, policies defined in R.S. 22:47(16)(b), or contracts provided for in Subpart C of Part IV of this Chapter.

E. With respect to the cancellation of liability automobile insurance, the office of motor vehicles shall not assess the fees set forth by R.S. 32:863(A)(3)(a) when the insured surrenders the license plate of the uninsured vehicle to the office of motor vehicles within ten calendar days from the date of notice prescribed by R.S. 32:863.2(E).

F. For purposes of this Section, "written" shall mean the insured's intentional recording of words in a visual form, whether in the form of handwriting, printing, typewriting, electronic communication, or any other tangible form.

§ 886. Cancellation by the commissioner of insurance

The commissioner of insurance may order the immediate cancellation of any policy the procuring or effectuation of which was accomplished through or accompanied by a violation of this Code, except in cases where the policy by its terms cannot be cancelled by the insurer and the insured did not knowingly participate in any such violation.

§ 887. Cancellation by insurer; changes to homeowner's insurance policies

A. Cancellation by the insurer of any policy which by its terms may be cancelled at the option of the insurer, or of any binder based on such policy, may be effected as to any interest only upon compliance with either of the following:

(1)(a) Written notice of such cancellation must be actually delivered or mailed to the insured or to his representative in charge of the subject of the insurance not less than thirty days prior to the effective date of the cancellation except when termination of coverage is for nonpayment of premium.

(b) Upon the written request of the named insured, the insurer shall provide to the insured in writing the reasons for cancellation of the policy. There shall be no liability and no cause of action shall arise against any insurer or its producers, employees, or representatives for any action taken by them to provide the reasons for cancellation as required by this Subparagraph.

(2) Like notice must also be so delivered or mailed to each mortgagee, pledgee, or other known person shown by the policy to have an interest in any loss which may occur. For purposes of this Paragraph, "delivered" includes electronic transmittal, facsimile, or personal delivery.

(3) Where written notice of cancellation or nonrenewal is required and the insurer elects to mail the notice, the running of the time period between the date of mailing and the effective date of termination of coverage shall commence upon the date of mailing.

(4) When the policy is a homeowner's insurance policy, like notice shall be provided of any cancellation, or if, at the personal request of the insured, any such person is removed from the policy or substituted with another as provided in Subsection A of this Section.

(5) Any policy may be cancelled by the company at any time during the policy period for failure to pay any premium when due whether such premium is payable directly to the company or its agent or indirectly under a premium finance plan or extension of credit, by mailing or delivering to the insured written notice stating when, not less than ten days thereafter, such cancellation shall be effective. Nothing in this Code shall mandate a separate notice of lapse for nonpayment of premium of a policy defined as provided by R.S. 22:1460(G).

B. The mailing of any such notice shall be effected by depositing it in a sealed envelope, directed to the addressee at his last address as known to the insurer or as shown by the insurer's records, with proper prepaid postage affixed, in a letter depository of the United States Post Office. The insurer shall retain in its records any such item so mailed, together with its envelope, which was returned by the post office upon failure to find, or deliver the mailing to the addressee.

C. The affidavit of the individual making or supervising such a mailing, shall constitute prima facie evidence of such facts of the mailing as are therein affirmed.

D. (1) The portion of any premium paid to the insurer on account of the policy, including unearned commission, unearned because of the cancellation and in amount as computed on the pro rata basis, must be actually paid to the insured, the agent of the insured, or other person entitled thereto as shown by the policy or by any endorsement thereon, or be mailed to the insured or such person as soon as practicable following such cancellation. Any such payment may be made by cash, check, bank draft, or money order.

(2) When payment is sent to the agent of the insured, the insurer shall be required to provide notice to the insured, at the time of cancellation, that a return of unearned premium may be generated by the cancellation.

E. This Section shall not apply to temporary life insurance binders nor to contracts of life, annuity, or health and accident insurance which do not contain a provision for cancellation prior to the date to which premiums have been paid, nor to the contracts provided in Subpart C of Part IV of this Chapter.

F. No insurer shall cancel or refuse to renew any policy of group or family group health and accident insurance except for nonpayment of premium or failure to meet the requirements for being a group or family group insurance policy until sixty days after the insurer has mailed written notice of such cancellation or nonrenewal by certified mail to the policyholder. The notice shall also include the reason the policy is being cancelled.

G. (1) No insurer shall fail to renew a policy providing property or casualty insurance unless a notice of intention to not renew is mailed or delivered to the named insured at the address shown on the policy at least thirty days prior to the effective date of nonrenewal.

(2) Like notice shall also be delivered or mailed to each mortgagee, pledgee, or other known person shown by the policy to have an interest in any loss which may occur. For purposes of this Paragraph, "delivered" includes electronic transmittal, facsimile, or personal delivery.

(3) This Subsection shall not apply:

(a) To policies regulated by R.S. 22:1266 and 1267.

(b) If the insurer has manifested its willingness to renew the policy either through the same company or a company in the same group of companies.

(c) In the case of nonpayment of the premium.

(d) If the named insured has provided written notification to the insurer of the insured's intention to not renew the policy.

(e) In cases of fraud by the insured.

H. Notice of cancellation or nonrenewal given by the insurer in accordance with this Chapter shall be deemed sufficient. The producer shall not be required to give any separate or additional notice of cancellation or nonrenewal.

I. Any insurer that issues notice of cancellation on an insurance policy that provides coverage on any property and later continues or reinstates that insurance policy shall issue notice of reinstatement to every policyholder, insurance producer, mortgagee, lienholder, pledgee, or other known person shown by the policy to have an interest in any loss which may occur thereunder and who received the notice of cancellation.

J. Any insurer that issues notice of cancellation on an insurance policy that provides casualty coverage and later continues or reinstates that insurance policy shall issue notice of reinstatement to every policyholder, insurance producer, or other known person shown by the policy to have an interest in any loss which may occur under the policy and who received the notice of cancellation issued by the insurer.

PROCLAMATION NO. 115 JBE 2020

AMENDMENT TO STATE OF EMERGENCY—HURRICANE LAURA

"WHEREAS, pursuant to the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act, La. R.S. 29:721, et seq., a state of emergency was declared through Proclamation Number 108 JBE 2020;

"WHEREAS, Hurricane Laura made landfall on the Louisiana coast during the early morning hours on Thursday, August 27, 2020, bringing devastating winds, widespread power-outages, and severe damage to Louisiana;

"WHEREAS, the damage resulting from Hurricane Laura continue to pose a threat to citizens and communities in the storm's path and create conditions which place lives and property in the state in jeopardy;

"WHEREAS, the State of Louisiana, recognizing the significant impact of Hurricane Laura, desires to minimize this impact on the residents and assist communities in their recovery; and

"WHEREAS, La. R.S. 29:724 authorizes the governor during a declared state of emergency to suspend the provisions of any state regulatory statute prescribing procedures for conducting state business, or the orders, rules or regulations of any state agency, if strict compliance with the provision of any statute, order, rule, or regulation would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the emergency.

"NOW THEREFORE, I, JOHN BEL EDWARDS, Governor of the State of Louisiana, by virtue of the authority vested by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Louisiana, do hereby order and direct as follows:

"SECTION 1: Section 3 of Proclamation Number 108 JBE 2020 is hereby amended as follows:

"SECTION 3: A) Pursuant to the La. R.S. 29:732, during a declared state of emergency, the prices charged or value received for goods and services sold within the designated emergency area may not exceed the prices ordinarily charged for comparable goods and services in the same market area at or immediately before the time of the state of emergency, unless the price by the seller is attributable to fluctuations in applicable commodity markets, fluctuations in applicable regional or national market trends, or to reasonable expenses and charges and attendant business risk incurred in procuring or selling the goods or services during the state of emergency.

"B) Pursuant to La. R.S. 29:724(D)(1), the Louisiana Procurement Code (La. R.S. 39:1551, et seq.) and Louisiana Public Bid Law (La. R.S. 38:2211, et seq.) and their corresponding rules and regulations are hereby suspended for the purpose of the procurement of any good or services necessary to respond to this emergency, including emergency contracts, cooperative endeavor agreements, and any other emergency amendments to existing contracts.

"C) Pursuant to La. R.S. 29:724(D)(1), the provisions of La. R.S. 39:126 regarding prior approval of change orders are hereby suspended.

"SECTION 2: The Commissioner of Insurance shall have limited transfer of authority from the Governor to suspend provisions of any statute of the Louisiana Insurance Code, Title 22 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, concerning the cancellation, termination, nonrenewal, and reinstatement provisions of Title 22, including, but not limited to, R.S. 22:272, 22:887, 22:977, 22:978, 22:1068, 22:1074, 22:1266, 22:1267, 22:1311, and 22:1335, where such statutory requirements may prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in light of the current emergency relative to Hurricane Laura and its aftermath, including providing additional time for policyholders to complete existing claims and to remit premium payments to avoid cancellation of policies, prohibiting cancellations where policyholders are incapable of fulfilling requirements due to evacuation or uninhabitability, providing for continuation of coverage and suspending rate increases, providing for the payment of claims incurred during any prohibition on cancellations imposed under this authority, and providing for provider access and prescription drug benefit requirements necessary to protect public health and welfare. This Order shall not relieve an insured who has a claim caused by Hurricane Laura and its aftermath from compliance with the insured's obligation to provide information and cooperate in the claim adjustment process relative to such claim, or to pay insurance premiums upon termination of the provisions of this Order.

"SECTION 3: Unless otherwise provided in this order, these provisions are effective from Thursday, August 27, 2020 to Sunday, September 20, 2020, or as extended by any subsequent Proclamation, unless terminated sooner.

Executive Order No. JBE 2016-58 entitled "Emergency Suspension of Certain Insurance Code Provisions" provides:

"EMERGENCY SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN INSURANCE CODE PROVISIONS

"WHEREAS, pursuant to the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act, La. R.S. 29:721, et seq., the Governor declared a state of emergency in Proclamation No. 111 JBE 2016;

"WHEREAS, due to unprecedented rainfall, portions of southern Louisiana are currently experiencing a flood of historical proportions, with thousands of homes flooded and thousands of peoples being rescued from flooded homes that can only be reached by boat or high water trucks;

"WHEREAS, the flooding poses a threat to citizens, businesses, and communities across Southern Louisiana and has created conditions which place lives, livelihoods, and property in a state of jeopardy;

"WHEREAS, the enormity of the current and impending crisis has forced thousands of people to evacuate their homes and in many cases will cause a significant interruption of residency in their homes and occupancy of businesses;

"WHEREAS, due to the mass disruptions caused and still occurring, Louisiana citizens and businesses may be unable to timely pay their insurance premiums, access their insurance policies, satisfy certain conditions of insurance contracts, and communicate with insurance agents and their respective insurance companies for insurance-related matters, all of which can result in the risk of insurance cancelation and claims denials under ordinary circumstances and will prevent, hinder, and delay necessary action in coping with and recovering from this emergency;

"WHEREAS, Louisiana Revised Statute 29:724 confers upon the Governor emergency powers to deal with emergencies and disasters and to ensure that preparations of this state will be adequate to deal with such emergencies or disasters, and to preserve the lives and property of the citizens of the State of Louisiana, including the authority to suspend the provisions of any regulatory statute prescribing the procedures for conduct of state business, or the orders, rules, or regulations of any state agency, if strict compliance with the provisions of any statute, order, rule, or regulation would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the emergency; and

"WHEREAS, Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon has advised the Governor that citizens in Louisiana are at risk with regard to any and all kinds of insurance and requested limited transfer of authority to suspend certain provisions of Title 22.

"NOW THEREFORE, I, JOHN BEL EDWARDS, Governor of the State of Louisiana, by virtue of the authority vested by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Louisiana, do hereby order and direct as follows:

"SECTION 1: Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon shall have limited transfer of authority from the Governor to suspend provisions of any regulatory statute of Title 22 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950 concerning the cancellation, termination, nonrenewal, and nonreinstatement provisions of Title 22, including, but not limited to, La. "SECTION 2: This Order shall not relieve an insured who has a claim caused by this historic flooding, or its aftermath, from compliance with the insured's obligation to provide information and cooperate in the claim adjustment process relative to such claim, or to pay insurance premiums upon termination of the provisions of this Order.

"SECTION 3: This Order shall apply retroactively from Friday, August 12, 2016, and shall continue through Monday, September 12, 2016, unless amended, modified, terminated, or rescinded by the Governor prior thereto.

to R.S. 33:1341 et seq., or any self-insured employer authorized pursuant to R.S. 23:1168 et seq.

B. No property or casualty insurer or insurance producer may issue a certificate of insurance or any other type of document purporting to be a certificate of insurance that will affirmatively or negatively alter, amend, or extend the coverage provided by the referenced insurance policy. A certificate of insurance shall also not convey any contractual rights to the certificate holder.

C. No person, other than a lender, wherever located, may prepare, issue, or request the issuance of a certificate of insurance for risks located in this state unless the certificate is issued on standard certificate of insurance forms promulgated by the insurer, the Association for Cooperative Operations Research and Development (ACORD), the American Association of Insurance Services (AAIS), or the Insurance Services Office (ISO).

D. No person shall demand or request the issuance of a certificate of insurance from an insurer, insurance producer, or policyholder that contains any false or misleading information concerning the policy of insurance to which the certificate makes reference.

E. (1)(a) No person may request an insurance producer prepare or issue, either in addition to or in lieu of a certificate of insurance, an opinion letter or other document or correspondence, instrument, or record, including an electronic record.

(b) The provisions of Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph shall not apply to lenders, as defined in this Section, or to certificates of insurance required or requested by a lender from a policyholder.

(2)(a) A person may request that an insurer prepare or issue an addendum that clarifies, explains, summarizes, or provides a statement of the coverages provided by a policy of insurance and otherwise complies with the requirements of this Section.

(b) Notwithstanding Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph, a lender may request that an insurer or insurance producer prepare or issue an addendum that clarifies, explains, summarizes, or provides a statement of the coverages provided by a policy of insurance and otherwise complies with the requirements of this Section.

F. The provisions of this Section shall apply to all certificate holders, policyholders, insurers, insurance producers, and certificate of insurance forms issued as a statement or evidence of insurance coverages on property, operations, or risks located in this state, regardless of where the certificate holder, policyholder, insurer, or insurance producer is located.

G. A certificate of insurance form which has been issued in accordance with this Section and properly executed and issued by a property and casualty insurer or an insurance producer, shall constitute a confirmation that the referenced insurance policy has been issued or that coverage has been bound notwithstanding the inclusion of "for information purposes only" or similar language on the face of the certificate. A certificate of insurance is not a policy of insurance and does not affirmatively or negatively amend, extend, or alter the coverage afforded by the policy to which the certificate of insurance makes reference. A certificate of insurance shall not confer to a certificate holder new or additional rights beyond what the referenced policy or any validly executed endorsements of insurance provides.

H. No certificate of insurance shall contain references to legal or insurance requirements contained in any contracts, including but not limited to construction or service contracts. The certificate of insurance may list only the specific forms or endorsements contained in the underlying contracts of insurance. No certificate holder or other interested party may require an interpretation of those forms or endorsements from the insurance agent. The provisions of this Subsection shall not apply to lenders, as defined in this Section, or to certificates of insurance required or requested by a lender from a policyholder.

I. A person shall have a legal right to notice of cancellation, nonrenewal, or any material change, or any similar notice concerning a policy of insurance only if the person is named within the policy or any endorsement and the policy or endorsement, law, or regulation of this state requires notice to be provided. The terms and conditions of the notice, including the required timing of the notice, are governed by the policy of insurance in accordance with the laws and regulations of this state and cannot be altered by a certificate of insurance.

J. Any certificate of insurance and any attached addendum prepared, issued, or requested in violation of this Section shall be null and void and of no force and effect.

K. Any person who willfully violates this Section may be fined not more than one thousand dollars per violation.

L. The commissioner of insurance shall have the power to examine and investigate any complaint or allegation of specific violations by any person who has allegedly engaged in an act or practice prohibited by this Section and to enforce the provisions of this Section. Examinations or complaint investigations conducted by the commissioner under this Subsection shall be subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:1983(J).

M. Pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, the commissioner of insurance may adopt reasonable rules and regulations as are necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of this Section.

PART II. LIFE INSURANCE AND ANNUITIES

SUBPART A. LIFE INSURANCE AND ANNUITIES IN GENERAL

§ 901. Insurable interest required; personal insurance; intentional acts exclusion

A. Any individual of competent legal capacity may procure or effect an insurance contract upon his own life or body for the benefit of any person; however, no person shall procure or cause to be procured any insurance contract upon the life or body of another individual unless the benefits under such contract are payable to the individual insured or his personal representatives, or to a person having, at the time when such contract was made, an insurable interest in the individual insured.

B. If the beneficiary, assignee, or other payee under any contract made in violation of this Section receives from the insurer any benefits under the contract accruing upon the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured, the individual insured or his executor or administrator, as the case may be, may maintain an action to recover such benefits from the person receiving them.

C. "Insurable interest" as used in this Section and in R.S. 22:856 includes only interest as follows:

(1) In the case of individuals related closely by blood or by law, a substantial interest engendered by love and affection.

(2) In the case of other persons, a lawful and substantial economic interest in having the life, health or bodily safety of the individual insured continue, as distinguished from an interest which would arise only by, or would be enhanced in value by, the death, disablement or injury of the individual insured.

(3) A person party to an agreement, contract, or option for the purchase or sale of a business or a firm or immovable property owned by a business or firm, or an interest therein or of shares of stock of a closed corporation or of an interest in such shares, has an insurable interest in the life of each individual party to such agreement, contract, or option, each individual shareholder of such closed corporation or each individual shareholder of a corporation, individual partner of a partnership, or individual member of a limited liability company owning such property, business, firm, or shares of stock for the purposes of such agreement, contract, or option, only, in addition to any insurable interest which may otherwise exist as to the life of such individual party or individual shareholder.

D. (1) No beneficiary, assignee, or other payee under any personal insurance contract shall receive from the insurer any benefits under the contract accruing upon the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured when the beneficiary, assignee, or other payee is either:

(a) Held by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction to be criminally responsible for the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured.

(b) Judicially determined to have participated in the intentional, unjustified killing of the individual insured.

(2) Where such a disqualification exists, the policy proceeds shall be payable to the secondary or contingent beneficiary, unless similarly disqualified, or, if no secondary or contingent beneficiary exists, to the estate of the insured.

Nothing contained in this Section shall prohibit payment pursuant to an assignment of the policy proceeds where such payment defrays the cost and expenses of the insured's funeral or expense incurred in connection with medical treatment of the insured. Nothing contained in this Section shall prohibit payment of insurance proceeds pursuant to a facility of payment clause, so long as such payment is not made to a beneficiary, assignee, or other payee disqualified by this Section.

(3) An executive pardon of any beneficiary, assignee, or other payee disqualified under this Subsection shall not affect the disqualification.

The beneficiaries or owners named shall have an insurable interest for the full face of the policy and shall be entitled to collect same. On all policies of life insurance issued before August 21, 1992, by insurers in which any of the named beneficiaries or owners shall have been designated beneficiaries in the policies, the beneficiaries shall have an insurable interest to the full extent of the face of the policy and be entitled to collect same, without penalty or deduction.

No producer or other representative of an insurer shall in this state prepare, submit, or accept any application for life insurance which bears a date earlier than the date when such application was made by the insured or applicant, if thereby the premium on such policy is reduced as stated in this Section. Nothing contained in this Section shall invalidate any contract made in violation of this Section. This Section shall not be construed to prohibit the exchange, alteration, or conversion of policies of life insurance as of the original date of such policies if the amount of insurance provided under the new policy does not exceed the amount of insurance under the original policy or the amount of insurance which the premium paid for the original policy would have purchased if the new policy had been originally applied for, whichever is greater, nor to prohibit the exercise of any conversion privilege contained in any policy or contract.

C. The affidavit of any officer, clerk, or representative of the insurer or of anyone authorized to mail such notice that the notice required by this Section has been duly addressed and mailed by the insurer issuing such policy, shall be presumptive evidence that such notice has been duly given. No action shall be maintained to recover under a forfeited policy, unless the same is instituted within two years from the day upon which default was made in paying the premium, installment, interest or portion thereof for which it is claimed that forfeiture ensued.

An insurer shall be entitled to be paid by preference and priority over the claim of any seizing creditor the balance of any bona fide loan to the insured or owner which is secured by such interest or value in the policy or contract.

B. (1) The lawful beneficiary, assignee, or payee, including the annuitant's estate, of an annuity contract shall be entitled to the proceeds and avails of the contract against the creditors and representatives of the annuitant or the person effecting the contract, or the estate of either, and against the heirs and legatees of either person, saving the rights of forced heirs, and the proceeds and avails shall also be exempt from all liability for any debt of the beneficiary, payee, or assignee or estate, existing at the time the proceeds or avails are made available for his own use.

(2) Require or request an individual or a family member of the individual to take a genetic test.

C. An insurer shall not do any of the following:

(1) Cancel or refuse to renew an existing policy based on the fact that an individual or a family member of the individual requested or received genetic services.

(2) Cancel or refuse to renew an existing policy based on the fact that an individual or a family member of the individual participated in genetic research, including clinical research that includes genetic services.

(3) Purchase genetic information about an individual without the individual's written consent.

D. Nothing in this Section shall be construed as preventing an insurer from doing any of the following:

(1) Accessing an individual's medical record as part of the application process.

(2) Establishing rules for eligibility for an individual to enroll in insurance coverage based on the manifestation of a disease or disorder in that individual.

(3) Adjusting premium or contribution amounts for an individual based on the manifestation of a disease or disorder in that individual.

(4) Increasing the premium for an employer based on the manifestation of a disease or disorder in an individual enrolled in a group plan.

(5) Considering genetic information contained in an applicant's medical record if the information is relevant to a potential medical condition that impacts mortality or morbidity, and consideration of the genetic information is based on sound actuarial principles or reasonably expected experience.

SUBPART B. INDIVIDUAL LIFE

§ 931. Life insurance policies; standard provisions

A. No policy of life insurance, except as stated in Subsection C of this Section, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance the following provision or provisions which, in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance, are more favorable to the policyholder:

(1) Grace period. A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace period either of thirty days or, at the option of the insurer, of one month within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made, during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force, but if a claim arises under the policy during the period of grace before the overdue premiums or the deferred premiums of the current policy year, if any, are paid, the amount of such premiums, together with interest, not in excess of six percent per annum, on any overdue premium, may be deducted from any amount payable under the policy in settlement.

(2) Incontestability. A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured for a period of two years from its date of issue, except for nonpayment of premiums and except for the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service, or services auxiliary thereto; and at the option of the insurer, provisions relating to benefits in the event of disability, as defined in the policy, and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means, may also be excepted.

(3) Entire contract. A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, or if a copy of the application is endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued, a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(4) Misstatement of age. A provision that if the age of the person insured or the age of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premiums has been misstated, any amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age, or ages.

(5) Participating policy. If the policy is a participating policy, a provision that the insurer shall annually ascertain and apportion any divisible surplus accruing on the policy.

(6) Nonforfeiture options. A provision in accordance with R.S. 22:934 through 936 specifying the options, if any, available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment; however, the mortality table and rate of interest used as a basis for the calculation of the options shall be designated by the policy.

(7) Policy loan. A provision that when the policy has a loan value, the insurer issuing it shall advance at the option of the person entitled thereto, a sum equal to or less than the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the current policy year computed in accordance with the provisions of this Subpart, at any time while the policy is in force, on proper assignment or pledge of the policy or with the policy as security at a specified rate of interest not exceeding eight percent per annum on policy contracts in effect prior to September 10, 1982, or in accordance with the provisions of R.S. 22:932 on policy contracts in effect on or after September 10, 1982. The interest shall be compounded annually payable in advance. The policy shall also contain a provision that the insurer may deduct from the loan value, in addition to the indebtedness deducted in determining such value, any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. The policy shall also contain a provision that, if the loan is made or repaid on a date other than the anniversary of the policy, the insurer may collect interest for the portion of the current policy year on a pro rata basis at the rate of interest specified in the policy. The policy may further provide that interest on the loan may be compounded annually and, if not paid when due, it shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. The policy may further provide that, if and when the total indebtedness on the policy, including interest due or accrued, equals, or exceeds the amount of the loan value thereof at such time, and if at least thirty days prior notice has been given in the manner provided in R.S. 22:905, then the policy shall terminate and become void. The insurer may provide in the policy that the making of any such loan, except when made to pay premiums, may be deferred for a period not to exceed six months after the application therefor has been received by it. The provision shall not apply to term policies of twenty years or less.

(8) Nonforfeiture benefits. A provision specifying the basis used in determining nonforfeiture benefits. In case the proceeds of the policy are payable in installments or as an annuity, a table showing the amounts of the installments or annuity payments.

(9) Reinstatement. A provision that the policy will be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default, unless the cash surrender value has been exhausted by payment or unless the period of extended insurance has expired, upon the application of the insured and the production of evidence of insurability, including good health, satisfactory to the insurer and the payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the insurer upon such policy with the interest at a rate not exceeding six percent per annum compounded annually.

(10)(a) Free look period. A provision, prominently printed on the life insurance policy or attached thereto, notifying the insured that ten days are allowed from the date of his receipt of the policy, to examine its provisions. If the policy is not as explained by the company, its representative, or as understood by the insured, the policy may be surrendered within the ten-day period, and any premium advanced by the insured, upon the surrender, shall be immediately returned to him. The insurer shall have the option of printing, attaching, or endorsing the notice required in this Subparagraph or a notice of equal prominence which, in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance, is not less favorable to the policyholder. This Subparagraph shall not apply to travel insurance policies which by their terms are not renewable.

(b) If the policy is delivered by a producer, a receipt shall be signed by the policyholder acknowledging delivery of the policy. The receipt shall contain the policy number and the date the delivery was completed. All delivery receipts required by this Subparagraph shall be retained by the insurer or its producer for two consecutive years. The requirement of this Subparagraph shall not apply to any insurer that markets policies under a home service marketing distribution method and that issues a majority of its policies on a weekly or monthly basis.

(c) If the policy is delivered by mail, it shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, or a certificate of mailing shall be obtained showing the date the policy was mailed to the policyowner. For policy issuances verified by a certificate of mailing, it is presumed that the policy is received by the policyowner ten days from the date of mailing. The receipts and the certificate of mailing described in this Section shall be retained by the insurer or producer for two years.

(11) Lump sum payment. A provision which allows election by the beneficiary of an option to receive benefits in the form of a lump sum payment. This Paragraph shall not apply to policies of industrial life insurance or service insurance.

(12) Conversion notice. (a) A provision requiring that the insurer notify the policyholder of his option to convert his policy from term life insurance to permanent life insurance at least thirty-one days prior to the expiration of the conversion option, if such an option is applicable. Such notice shall be a separate notice or contained in either a premium notice or an annual premium summary.

(b) Evidence of a business procedure or practice to provide the required notice by mailing the notice to the policyholder at the address shown in the policy shall be sufficient to prove that the required notice was provided.

(c) This Paragraph shall not apply to a policyholder who is covered under a child term rider.

B. Exclusions and restrictions. No policy of life insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state shall contain any provision which excludes or restricts liability for death caused in a certain specified manner or occurring while the insured has a specified status, except the following provisions, or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are substantially the same or more favorable to policyholders:

(1) Provisions excluding or restricting coverage in the event of death occurring:

(a) As a result of war declared or undeclared under conditions specified in the policy.

(b) While either in:

(i) The military, naval, or air forces of any country at war, declared or undeclared.

(ii) Any ambulance, medical, hospital, or civilian noncombatant unit serving with such forces, either while serving with or within six months after termination of service in such forces or units.

(c) As a result of self-destruction while sane or insane within two years from the date of issue of the policy.

(d) As a result of aviation under conditions specified in the policy.

(e) Within two years from the date of issue of the policy as a result of a specified hazardous occupation or occupations, or while the insured is residing in a specified foreign country or countries.

(2) In the event of death as to which there is an exclusion or restriction pursuant to Subparagraph (1)(a), (c), (d), or (e) of this Subsection, the insurer shall pay an amount not less than the reserve on the face amount of the policy, together with the reserve for any paid-up additions thereto, and any dividends standing to the credit of the policy, less any indebtedness to insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued.

(3) In the event of death as to which there is an exclusion or restriction pursuant to Subparagraph (1)(b) of this Subsection, the insurer shall pay the greater of:

(i) The amount specified in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection.

(ii) The amount of the gross premiums charged on the policy less dividends paid in cash or used in the payment of premiums thereon and less any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued.

(4) A clause in any policy of life insurance, issued under this Code, providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy, and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions which exclude or restrict coverage as provided in this Subsection, whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause; nor upon a provision regarding misstatement of age as provided in Paragraph (4) of Subsection A of this Section, whether or not such provision is excepted in such clause.

(5) Nothing contained in this Subsection shall apply to any provision in a life insurance policy for additional benefits in the event of death by accident or accidental means.

C. Any of the provisions or portions thereof of this Section not applicable to single premium or nonparticipating or term policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to policies of industrial life insurance, service insurance, or to policies of group life insurance.

§ 932. Maximum rate of interest on policy loans

A. Each life insurance policy contract entered into on or after September 10, 1982, which provides for policy loans shall contain a provision concerning maximum policy loan interest rates as follows:

(1) A provision permitting a maximum interest rate of not more than twelve percent per annum; or

(2) A provision permitting an adjustable maximum interest rate established in accordance with this Section.

B. The rate of interest charged on a policy loan made under Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this Section shall not exceed the higher of:

(1) The published monthly average for the calendar month ending two months prior to the date on which the rate is determined.

(2) The rate used to compute the cash surrender values under the policy during the applicable period plus one percent per annum.

C. If the adjustable maximum rate of interest provided in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this Section is used, the policy shall contain a provision setting forth the frequency at which the rate is to be determined for that policy.

D. The maximum rate for each policy referred to in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this Section shall be determined at regular intervals at least once every twelve months, but not more frequently than once in any three-month period. At the intervals specified in the policy:

(1) The interest rate being charged may be increased whenever such increase, as determined under Subsection B of this Section, would increase that rate by one-half of one percent or more per annum.

(2) The rate being charged shall be reduced whenever such reduction, as determined under Subsection B of this Section, would decrease that rate by one-half of one percent or more per annum.

E. The insurer shall, at the time a cash loan is made, notify the policyholder of the initial rate of interest on the loan, and shall notify the policyholder of the initial rate of interest on the premium loan as soon as it is reasonably practical to do so after making the initial loan. Such notice need not be given to the policyholder when a further premium loan is added except as otherwise provided in this Subsection. The insurer shall send reasonable advance notice of any increase in the rate to policyholders with loans, and include in the notices required in this Subsection, the substance of the pertinent provisions of Subsections A and C of this Section.

F. The loan value of the policy shall be determined in accordance with R.S. 22:936 or 952, but no policy shall terminate in a policy year as the sole result of change in the interest rate during that policy year, and the insurer shall maintain coverage during that policy year until the time at which it would otherwise have terminated if there had been no change during that policy year.

G. For purposes of this Section:

(1) The term "rate of interest on policy loans" used in this Section shall include the interest rate charged on reinstatement of policy loans for the period during and after any lapse of a policy.

(2) The term "policy loan" shall include any premium loan made under a policy to pay one or more premiums that were not paid to the insurer as they became due.

(3) The term "policyholder" shall include the owner of the policy or the person designated to pay premiums as shown on the records of the insurer.

(4) The term "policy" shall include certificates issued by a fraternal benefit society and annuity contracts which provide for policy loans.

(5) The term "published monthly average" shall mean Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or any successor thereto. In the event that Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates is no longer published, the commissioner of insurance shall establish by regulation a substantially similar average.

H. No other provision of law shall apply to policy loan interest rates unless made specifically applicable to such rates.

§ 933. Automatic premium loans

Nothing in R.S. 22:935 or 936 shall be construed to prohibit any insurer from including in its policies a provision for automatic premium loans to prevent default in the payment of premiums. No such provision shall be effective in any policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless requested in writing by the applicant or insured.

§ 934. Policies to contain nonforfeiture benefits

Every life or endowment insurance policy, other than a term life policy for twenty years or less and an industrial life insurance policy with coverage of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars or less issued pursuant to R.S. 22:146, issued on the life of a resident of this state or delivered within this state by any insurer, on or after January 1, 1937, unless the company exercises its option provided in R.S. 22:936(H), shall require that after three full annual premiums have been paid, the policy shall not be forfeited without value for the nonpayment of any subsequent premiums or for policy loan indebtedness or the interest thereon except as provided in R.S. 22:935.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:166 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Acts 1958, No. 125; Acts 1958, No. 90, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 1959 at 12:00 Noon. Amended by Acts 2011, No. 94, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2012.

§ 935. Paid-up, extended insurance and cash value

Every life or endowment insurance policy, other than a term life policy for twenty years or less and an industrial life insurance policy with coverage of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars or less, pursuant to the provisions of

R.S. 22:146, issued on or after January 1, 1907, by a legal reserve life insurance company, after being in force for three full years, shall not be forfeited without value for the nonpayment of any subsequent premiums or for policy loan indebtedness or the interest thereon, unless the company exercises its option provided in R.S. 22:936(H). The nonforfeiture value per hundred dollars of coverage under the policy is determined as the sum of the legal reserve and accumulated dividends, less any policy loan indebtedness and a surrender charge equal to the greater of one-fifth of the legal reserve or two dollars and fifty cents. Unless the policy owner elects one of the other nonforfeiture options within the policy, the nonforfeiture value as determined in this Section shall be applied towards the policy's automatic nonforfeiture option. The automatic nonforfeiture option shall be the purchase of paid up life or endowment insurance on the same life at the age at the time of forfeiture and under the same terms, except as to the payment of premiums, as the original policy, or to continue the insurance in force at its full amount, including the amount of accumulated dividends, less any existing policy loan indebtedness; however, such surrender value will purchase nonparticipating temporary insurance at net single premium rates using the standard as prescribed by the insurer, at the age at the time of forfeiture, provided that in the case of an endowment policy, if the sum needed to purchase temporary insurance is more than that needed to continue the insurance to the end of the policy's endowment term, the excess shall be used to purchase pure endowment insurance payable at the end of the policy's endowment term using the purchase rates as prescribed by the insurer. When determining the net single premium rates for temporary insurance, the insurer may use one hundred thirty percent of the reserve mortality assumption as the mortality rate. This further provision shall not apply to any mortality table constructed on the basis of insurance company experience prior to 1900. Any attempted waiver of the provisions of this Section in any application, policy, or otherwise shall be void, and any value allowed in lieu thereof shall be at least equal to the net value of the temporary or pure endowment insurance as provided in this Section.

The term of temporary insurance provided in this Section shall include the period of grace, if any.

§ 936. Standard nonforfeiture law for life insurance

A. (1) This Section shall be known as the "Standard Nonforfeiture Law for Life Insurance". In the case of policies issued on and after the effective date of this Section, as defined in Subsection L of this Section, no policy of life insurance, except as stated in Subsection K of this Section shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it shall contain in substance the following provisions, or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner are at least as favorable to the defaulting or surrendering policyholder as are the minimum requirements hereinafter specified in Subsection J of this Section:

(a) That, after premiums have been paid for more than one year, in the event of default in any premium payment, the insurer will grant, upon proper request not later than sixty days after the due date of the premium in default, a paid-up nonforfeiture benefit on a plan stipulated in the policy, effective as of such due date, of such amount as may be hereinafter specified. In lieu of such stipulated paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, the insurer may substitute, upon proper request not later than sixty days after the due date of the premium in default, an actuarially equivalent alternative paid-up nonforfeiture benefit which provides a greater amount or longer period of death benefits or, if applicable, a greater amount or earlier payment of endowment benefits.

(b) That, upon surrender of the policy within sixty days after the due date of any premium payment in default after premiums have been paid for at least three full years in the case of ordinary insurance or five full years in the case of industrial insurance, the insurer shall pay in lieu of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit a cash surrender value of such amount as may be hereinafter specified.

(c) That a specified paid-up nonforfeiture benefit shall become effective as specified in the policy unless the person entitled to make such election elects another available option not later than sixty days after the due date of the premium in default.

(d) That if the policy shall have become paid-up by completion of all premium payments or if it is continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit which became effective on or after the third policy anniversary in the case of ordinary insurance or the fifth policy anniversary in the case of industrial insurance, the insurer will pay upon surrender of the policy within thirty days after any policy anniversary a cash surrender value of such amount as may be hereinafter specified.

(e) In the case of policies which cause on a basis guaranteed in the policy unscheduled changes in benefits or premiums, or which provide an option for changes in benefits or premiums other than a change to a new policy, a statement of the mortality table, interest rate, and method used in calculating cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy. In the case of all other policies, a statement of the mortality table and interest rate used in calculating the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy, together with a table showing the cash surrender value, if any, and paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, if any, available under the policy on each policy anniversary either during the first twenty policy years or during the term of the policy, whichever is shorter, such values and benefits to be calculated upon the assumption that there are no dividends or paid-up additions credited to the policy and that there is no indebtedness to the insurer on the policy.

(f) A statement that the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy are not less than the minimum values and benefits required by or pursuant to the insurance law of the state in which the policy is delivered; an explanation of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the company on the policy; if a detailed statement of the method of computation of the values and benefits shown in the policy is not stated therein, a statement that such method of computation has been filed with the insurance supervisory official of the state in which the policy is delivered; and a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy.

(2)(a) Any of the provisions of Paragraph (1) of this Subsection not applicable because of the structure of the plan of insurance may, to the extent inapplicable, be omitted from the policy.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions to the contrary, the insurer shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period not to exceed six months after demand therefor with surrender of the policy. Notwithstanding this provision, if payment is not made within thirty days after demand therefor with surrender of the policy, the insurer shall pay, in addition to the cash surrender value, interest on the cash surrender value at the judicial interest rate set by R.S. 9:3500 commencing from the date of surrender until the cash surrender value is paid in full within the six-month period.

B. (1) Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary, whether or not required by Subsection A of this Section, shall be an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value on such anniversary of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, if there had been no default, over the sum of the then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in Subsections D, E, F, and G of this Section corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary, and the amount of any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy.

(2) However, for any policy issued on or after the effective date of Subsection G of this Section as defined therein, which provides supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits at the option of the insured and for an identifiable additional premium by rider or supplemental policy provision, the cash surrender value referred to in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection shall be an amount not less than the sum of the cash surrender value as defined in such Paragraph for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such rider or supplemental policy provision and the cash surrender value as defined in such Paragraph for a policy which provides only the benefits otherwise provided by such rider or supplemental policy provision.

(3) However, for any family policy issued on or after the effective date of Subsection G of this Section as defined therein, which defines a primary insured and provides term insurance on the life of the spouse of the primary insured expiring before the spouse's age of seventy-one years, the cash surrender value referred to in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection shall be an amount not less than the sum of the cash surrender value as defined in such Paragraph for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance on the life of the spouse and the cash surrender value as defined in such Paragraph for a policy which provides only the benefits otherwise provided by such term insurance on the life of the spouse.

(4) Any cash surrender value available within thirty days after any policy anniversary under any policy paid-up by completion of all premium payments or any policy continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, whether or not required by Subsection A of this Section, shall be an amount not less than the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, decreased by any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy.

C. Any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary shall be such that its present value as of such anniversary shall be at least equal to the cash surrender value then provided for by the policy, or, if none is provided for, that cash surrender value which would have been required by this Section in the absence of the condition that premiums shall have been paid for at least a specified period.

D. (1)(a) This Subsection shall not apply to policies issued on or after the effective date of Subsection G of this Section as defined therein. Except as provided in Paragraph (3) of this Subsection, the adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding extra premiums on substandard policies, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of all of the following:

(i) The then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy.

(ii) Two percent of the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy.

(iii) Forty percent of the adjusted premium for the first policy year.

(iv) Twenty-five percent of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance, whichever is less.

(b) In applying the percentages specified in Items (a)(iii) and (iv) of this Paragraph, no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four percent of the amount of insurance or uniform amount equivalent thereto. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this Subsection shall be the date from which the first policy anniversary is computed.

(2) In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy, the equivalent uniform amount thereof for the purpose of this Subsection shall be deemed to be the uniform amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the date of issue as the benefits under the policy; however, in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten, the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten.

(3) Whenever a term benefit is added as a rider or as a supplemental policy provision, the adjusted premiums for such added benefit may be calculated as though it were separate and independent from the policy. In all other respects the term benefit shall conform to the provisions of this Section.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in Subsections E, F, and G of this Section, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Section shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table; provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured and such calculations for all policies of industrial insurance, as defined in R.S. 22:141, shall be made on the basis of the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table. All calculations shall be made on the basis of the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half percent per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits; however, in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred thirty percent of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table; however, for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

E. (1) This Subsection shall not apply to ordinary policies issued on or after the effective date of Subsection G of this Section as defined therein. In the case of ordinary policies issued on or after the effective date of this Subsection as defined herein and in Subsection L of this Section, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Section shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioner's 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits provided that such rate of interest shall not exceed four percent per annum for policies issued prior to September 7, 1979, and such rate of interest shall not exceed five and one-half percent per annum for policies issued on or after September 7, 1979. However, for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums, and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than six years younger than the actual age of the insured; however, in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioner's 1958 Extended Term Insurance Table. However, for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums, and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

(2) After July 27, 1960, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Subsection after a specified date with respect to the policies specified in the notice. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date which shall be the effective date of this Subsection for such insurer with respect to such policies, this Subsection shall become effective with respect to such policies specified in such notice and thereafter issued by such insurer.

F. (1) This Subsection shall not apply to industrial policies issued on or after the effective date of Subsection G of this Section as defined therein. In the case of industrial policies issued on or after the effective date of this Subsection as defined herein and in Subsection L of this Section, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Section shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioner's 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, but such rate of interest shall not exceed four percent per annum for policies issued prior to September 7, 1979, and such a rate of interest shall not exceed five and one-half percent per annum for policies issued on or after September 7, 1979. In addition, in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioner's 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table; however, for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculations of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

(2) After September 7, 1979, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Subsection after a specified date with respect to the policies specified in the notice. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date, which shall be the effective date of the Subsection for such insurer with respect to such policies, this Subsection shall become effective with respect to the industrial policies specified in such notice and thereafter issued by such insurer.

G. (1)(a) This Subsection shall apply to all policies issued on or after the effective date of this Subsection as defined herein. Except as provided in Paragraph (7) of this Subsection, the adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments or special hazards and also excluding any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of the following three factors:

(i) The then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy.

(ii) One percent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years.

(iii) One hundred twenty-five percent of the nonforfeiture net level premium as hereinafter defined.

(b) However, in applying the percentage specified in Item (a)(iii) of this Paragraph, no nonforfeiture net level premium shall be deemed to exceed four percent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this Subsection shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

(2) The nonforfeiture net level premium shall be equal to the present value at the date of issue of the policy of the guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy divided by the present value at the date of issue of the policy of an annuity of one per annum payable on the date of issue of the policy and on each anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due.

(3) In the case of policies which cause on a basis guaranteed in the policy unscheduled changes in benefits or premiums, or which provide an option for changes in benefits or premiums other than a change to a new policy, the adjusted premiums and present values shall initially be calculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated at the date of issue of the policy. At the time of any such change in the benefits or premiums the future adjusted premiums, nonforfeiture net level premiums and present values shall be recalculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not vary from those stipulated by the policy immediately after the change.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in Paragraph (7) of this Subsection, the recalculated future adjusted premiums for any such policy shall be such uniform percentage of the respective future premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments and special hazards, and also excluding any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, that the present value, at the time of change to the newly defined benefits or premiums of all such future adjusted premiums shall be equal to the excess of (A) the sum of (a) the then present value of the then future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy and (b) the additional expense allowance, if any, over (B) the then cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit under the policy.

(5) The additional expense allowance at the time of the change to the newly defined benefits or premiums shall be the sum of (a) one percent of the excess, if positive, of the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years subsequent to the change over the average amount of insurance prior to the change at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years subsequent to the time of the most recent previous change, or, if there has been no previous change, the date of issue of the policy; and (b) one hundred twenty-five percent of the increase, if positive, in the nonforfeiture net level premium.

(6) The recalculated nonforfeiture net level premium shall be equal to the result obtained by dividing (A) by (B) where (A) equals the sum of: (a) the nonforfeiture net level premium applicable prior to the change times the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or subsequent to the date of the change on which a premium would have fallen due had the change not occurred, and (b) the present value of the increase in future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; and (B) equals the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or subsequent to the date of change on which a premium falls due.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Subsection to the contrary in the case of a policy issued on a substandard basis which provides reduced graded amounts of insurance so that in each policy year, such policy has the same tabular mortality cost as an otherwise similar policy issued on the standard basis which provides higher uniform amounts of insurance, adjusted premiums and present values for such substandard policy may be calculated as if the substandard policy were issued to provide such higher uniform amounts of insurance on the standard basis.

(8) All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Section shall be calculated for all policies of ordinary insurance on the basis of the Commissioner's 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table or at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified plans of life insurance, the Commissioner's 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors; shall be calculated for all policies of industrial insurance on the basis of the Commissioner's 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table; and shall be calculated for all policies issued in a particular calendar year on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate as defined in this Subsection for policies issued in that calendar year; however,

(a) At the option of the insurer, calculations for all policies issued in a particular calendar year may be made on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate, as defined in this Subsection, for policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year.

(b) Under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit including any paid-up dividend additions, any cash surrender value available, whether or not required by Subsection A of this Section shall be calculated on the basis of the mortality table and rate of interest used in determining the amount of such paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and paid-up dividend additions, if any.

(c) An insurer may calculate the amount of any guaranteed paid-up nonforfeiture benefit including any paid-up additions under the policy on the basis of an interest rate no lower than that specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values.

(d) In calculating the present value of any paid-up term life insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioner's 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table for policies of ordinary insurance and not more than the Commissioner's 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table for policies of industrial life insurance.

(e) For life insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on appropriate modifications of the aforementioned tables.

(f) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, any ordinary life mortality tables, adopted after 1980, by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that are approved by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the Commissioner's 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with or without Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors or for the Commissioner's 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table.

(g) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, the valuation manual shall provide the commissioner's standard mortality table for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard that may be substituted for the Commissioner's 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with or without Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors or for the Commissioner's 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table. If the commissioner approves by regulation any commissioner's standard ordinary mortality table adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard for policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, then that minimum nonforfeiture standard shall supersede the minimum nonforfeiture standard provided by the valuation manual.

(h) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, any industrial life mortality tables adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners that are approved by the commissioner for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the Commissioner's 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table or the Commissioner's 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table.

(i) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, the valuation manual shall provide the commissioner's standard mortality table for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard that may be substituted for the Commissioner's 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table or the Commissioner's 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table. If the commissioner approves by regulation any commissioner's standard industrial mortality table adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard for policies issued on or after operative date of the valuation manual, then that minimum nonforfeiture standard shall supersede the minimum nonforfeiture standard provided by the valuation manual.

(9) (a) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, the nonforfeiture interest rate per annum for any policy issued in a particular calendar year shall be equal to one hundred and twenty five percent of the interest rate used in determining the minimum standard for the valuation of such policy as defined in the R.S. 22:753, rounded to the nearer one quarter of one percent.

(b) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, the nonforfeiture interest rate per annum for any policy issued in a particular calendar year shall be provided by the valuation manual.

(10) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Code to the contrary, any refiling of nonforfeiture values or their methods of computation for any previously approved policy form which involves only a change in the interest rate or mortality table used to compute nonforfeiture values shall not require refiling of any other provisions of that policy form.

(11) After the effective date of this Subsection, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Section after a specified date before January 1, 1989, which shall be the effective date of this Subsection for such insurer. If an insurer makes no such election, the effective date of this Subsection for such insurer shall be January 1, 1989.

H. In the case of any plan of life insurance which provides for future premium determination, the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurer based on then estimates of future experience, or in the case of any plan of life insurance which is of such a nature that minimum values cannot be determined by the methods described in Subsections A, B, C, D, E, F, or G of this Section, then the commissioner shall be satisfied that the benefits provided under the plan are substantially as favorable to policyholders and insureds as the minimum benefits otherwise required by Subsections A, B, C, D, E, F, or G of this Section. The commissioner shall be satisfied that the benefits and the pattern of premiums of that plan are not such as to mislead prospective policyholders or insureds. The cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits provided by such plan shall not be less than the minimum values and benefits required for the plan computed by a method consistent with the principles of this Section as determined by the commissioner.

I. (1) Any cash surrender value and any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding policy anniversary. All values referred to in Subsections B through G of this Section may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death. The net value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall not be less than the amounts used to provide such additions. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection B of this Section, additional benefits payable in any of the following shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits required by this Section:

(a) In the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means.

(b) In the event of total and permanent disability.

(c) As reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits.

(d) As term insurance benefits, whether or not provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which, if issued as a separate policy, this Section shall not apply.

(e) As term insurance on the life of a child or on the lives of children provided in a policy on the life of a parent of the child, if such term insurance expires before the child's age is twenty-six, is uniform in amount after the child's age is one, and has not become paid-up by reason of the death of a parent of the child.

(f) As other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits and premiums for all such additional benefits.

(2) No such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

J. (1) All applicable Subsections of this Section shall apply to all policies issued on or after January 1, 1986. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary shall be in an amount which does not differ by more than two-tenths of one percent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years, from the sum of: (a) the greater of zero and the basic cash value hereinafter specified and (b) the present value of any existing paid-up additions less the amount of any indebtedness to the insurer under the policy.

(2) The basic cash value shall be equal to the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, excluding any existing paid-up additions and before deduction of any indebtedness to the insurer, if there had been no default, less the then present value of the nonforfeiture factors, as hereinafter defined, corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary; however, the effects on the basic cash value of supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits or of family coverage, as described in Subsection B or Subsection D of this Section, whichever is applicable, shall be the same as are the effects specified in such Subsection B or Subsection D of this Section, whichever is applicable on the cash surrender values defined in that Subsection.

(3)(a) The nonforfeiture factor for each policy year shall be an amount equal to a percentage of the adjusted premium for the policy year, as defined in Subsection D or Subsection G of this Section, whichever is applicable. Except as is required by Subparagraph (b) of this Paragraph, such percentage shall be the same percentage for each policy year between the second policy anniversary and the later of the fifth policy anniversary and that of the first policy anniversary at which there is available under the policy a cash surrender value in an amount, before including any paid-up additions and before deducting any indebtedness, of at least two tenths of one percent of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first ten policy years.

(b) No percentage after the later of the two policy anniversaries specified in Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph shall apply to fewer than five consecutive policy years; however, no basic cash value may be less than the value which would be obtained if the adjusted premiums for the policy, as defined in Subsection D or G of this Section, whichever is applicable, were substituted for the nonforfeiture factors in the calculation of the basic cash value.

(4) All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this Subsection shall for a particular policy be calculated on the same mortality and interest bases as are used in demonstrating the policy's compliance with the other subsections of this Section.

(5) Any cash surrender value available other than in the event of default in a premium payment due on a policy anniversary, and the amount of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment shall be determined in manners consistent with the manners specified for determining the analogous minimum amounts in Subsections A, B, C,

G, and I of this Section. The amounts of any cash surrender values and of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits granted in connection with additional benefits such as those listed as Subparagraphs (I)(1)(a) through (f) of this Section shall conform with the principles of this Subsection.

(6) The cash surrender values referred to in this Subsection shall include any endowment benefits provided for by the policy.

(7) The operative date of the valuation manual as used in this Section shall be the date determined according to R.S. 22:753(C)(2).

K. (1) This Section shall not apply to any of the following:

(a) Reinsurance.

(b) Group insurance.

(c) Pure endowment.

(d) Annuity or reversionary annuity contract.

(e) Term policy of uniform amount, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, or renewal thereof, of twenty years or less expiring before age seventy-one, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy.

(f) Term policy of decreasing amount, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits on which each adjusted premium calculated as specified in Subsections D, E, F, and G of this Section, is less than the adjusted premium so calculated, on a term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance and for a term of twenty years or less expiring before age seventy-one, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy.

(g) Policy, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, for which no cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, at the beginning of any policy year, calculated as specified in Subsections B through G of this Section, exceeds two and one-half percent of the amount of insurance at the beginning of the same policy year.

(h) Policy which shall be delivered outside this state through a producer or other representative of the insurer issuing the policy.

(i) Policy on the life of an individual residing outside of the continental United States.

(j) Policy issued in accordance with Subpart D or E of Part I of Chapter 2 of this Title, unless the insurer issuing such policy elects to comply with the provisions of this Section.

(2) For purposes of determining the applicability of this Section, the age at expiry for a joint term life insurance policy shall be the age at expiry of the oldest life.

L. Any insurer may, at its option, file with the commissioner of insurance a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Section after a specified date with respect to the policies specified in the notice. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date, which shall be the effective date for such insurer with respect to such policies, this Section shall become operative with respect to the policies specified in such notice and thereafter issued by such insurer. The insurer may issue participating and nonparticipating policies under the same plan of insurance and either or both, at its option, subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:935.

SUBPART C. GROUP LIFE

§ 941. Group life insurance defined; eligibility; payment of premiums; limits and coverage

A. A policy of group life insurance may be issued to any of the following groups or combination thereof, or to the trustees thereof who shall be deemed the policyholder:

(1) Employees or retired employees of any employer or subsidiary employer, individual proprietors or partners if the employee is an individual proprietor or partnership, or a trust established by an insurer on behalf of participating employers, provided all participating employers and employees have the same statutory protections that would apply if such policy were purchased by the employer directly from the insurer. Directors shall not be considered as employees unless they perform substantial duties for the employer in addition to those usually performed as directors.

(2) Full privileged and contributing members or employees of members of any organization or association which has been formed for purposes other than procuring insurance for the members or employees.

(3) Life insurance covering only the lives of all members of a group of persons, numbering not less than ten new entrants to the group yearly, who become borrowers from one financial institution, including subsidiary or affiliated companies, or who become purchasers of securities, merchandise, or other property from one vendor under agreement to repay the sum borrowed or to pay the balance of the price of the securities, merchandise, or other property purchased, whether in installments or in a single sum on a stated date, to the extent of their indebtedness to said financial institution or vendor, written under a policy which may be issued upon the application of and made payable to the financial institution or vendor or other creditor to whom such vendor may have transferred title to the indebtedness, as beneficiary, the premium on such policy to be payable by the financial institution, vendor, or other creditor, either from funds of the financial institution, vendor, or other creditor, or from charges collected from the insured debtors or from both.

(4) Life insurance covering the members of one or more companies, batteries, troops, or other units of the national guard of any state other than Louisiana, written under a policy issued to the commanding general of the national guard who shall be deemed to be the employer for the purposes of this Section, the premium on which is to be paid by the members of such units for the benefit of persons other than the employer.

(5) Members of a group other than one described in Paragraphs (1) through (4) of this Subsection subject to the following requirements:

(a) A policy of group life insurance shall not be delivered in this state unless the commissioner finds all of the following:

(i) The issuance of the group policy is not contrary to the best interest of the public.

(ii) The issuance of the group policy would result in economies of acquisition or administration.

(iii) The benefits are reasonable in relation to the premiums charged.

(b) A policy of group life insurance shall not be offered in this state by an insurer under a policy issued in another state unless the state has requirements substantially similar to those in Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph, and this state has determined that the requirements have been met.

(c) The premium for the policy shall be paid from either or both of the following sources:

(i) The policyholder's funds.

(ii) Funds contributed by the covered persons.

(d) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(e) The issuance of the group policy shall be actuarially sound.

B. Each policy of group life insurance may cover one or more employees or members at date of issue as follows:

(1) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection, either by the insurer, member, employer, or trustee.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder either wholly from the policyholder's funds or funds contributed by him, partially from such funds and partially from funds contributed by the insureds or from funds contributed entirely by the insureds.

(3) A policy on which all or a part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees may be placed in force, excluding any employee as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees must insure all eligible employees, or all except as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer. An insurer may but shall not be required to establish a percentage of eligible employees who are required to enroll and participate in a group policy if the entire premium is not paid by the employer.

(4) The persons eligible for group insurance, except for that insurance issued pursuant to Paragraph A(3) of this Section shall be all the employees of an employer or all the members of any association or employees of such members, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment or membership.

(5) The policy shall be issued to insure lives for the benefits of persons other than the employer or association, except those policies issued pursuant to Paragraph A(3) of this Section in which case benefits shall be paid to the creditor as his interest may appear.

(6) Any policy issued under this Section may provide for the readjustment of the rate of premium based on the experience at the end of the first year or of any subsequent year of insurance and such readjustment may be made retroactive only for such policy year. Any refund on any plan for readjustment of the rate of premium based on the experience of the group policies hereafter issued, and any dividend paid under such policies may be used to reduce the employer's share of the cost of coverage, except that if the aggregate refunds or dividends under such group policy and in any other group policy or contract issued to the policyholder exceed the aggregate contributions of the employer toward the cost of the coverages, such excess shall be applied by the policyholder for the sole benefit of insured employees.

(7) Insurance under any group life insurance policy except those policies issued pursuant to Paragraph (A) (3) of this Section, may be extended to insure any one person, with or without any eligible members, including spouse and unmarried children under twenty-one years of age or, in the case of full-time students, unmarried children under the age of twenty-four, and unmarried grandchildren under twenty-one years of age in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent or, in the case of full-time students, unmarried grandchildren under the age of twenty-four who are in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent, except that the policy may provide for continuing coverage for any unmarried child or grandchild in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent who is incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual or physical disability, who became so incapable prior to attainment of age twenty-one, and any other person dependent upon the insured employee or member in accordance with the plan which precludes individual selection by the employees or members or by the employer or trustee.

Sections 35 to 37 of Acts 2014, No. 811, provide:

"Section 35. (A) The legislature hereby finds that language used to refer to persons with disabilities and other persons with exceptionalities shapes and reflects attitudes toward and perceptions of such persons by society.

"(B) It is hereby declared that the intent of the legislature is to delete from the lawbooks of this state terms that convey negative or derogatory perceptions of persons with disabilities and other persons with exceptionalities. Accordingly, the intent of the legislature is to provide in this Act for establishment of new terminology in law that is more appropriate than the terminology replaced herein, and which conveys no explicit or implicit dehumanization of persons with disabilities or other persons with exceptionalities.

"(C) It is not the intent of the legislature that changes in terms referring to persons with disabilities and other persons with exceptionalities, as effected by this Act, alter or affect in any way the substance, interpretation, or application of any existing law or administrative rule.

"(D) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to expand or diminish any right of or benefit for any person provided by any existing law or administrative rule.

"Section 36. (A)(1) For the purposes of the provisions of law amended by this Act, references to 'intellectual disability' shall mean any condition formerly referred to as 'mental retardation'.

"(2) For the purposes of the provisions of law amended by this Act, references to a 'person with an intellectual disability' shall mean a person formerly referred to as 'mentally retarded'.

"(3) For the purposes of the provisions of law amended by this Act, the term 'disability', as used to describe a condition or characteristic of a person, shall have the meaning of the former term 'handicap' as used in the same manner.

"(4) For the purposes of the provisions of law amended by this Act, references to a 'person with a physical disability' and a 'person with a disability' shall mean a person formerly referred to as 'physically handicapped', a 'handicapped person', 'the handicapped', a 'crippled person', a 'disabled person', or 'the disabled'.

"(5) For the purposes of the provisions of law amended by this Act, references to a 'person who is infirm' and a 'person with an infirmity' shall have the meaning of the former terms 'the infirm' and 'the infirmed'.

"(11) For the purposes of the provisions of law amended by this Act, the linguistic paradigm known as 'person first language', which emphasizes a person's humanity over any condition or characteristic the person may have, is employed wherever possible to refer to persons with disabilities and other persons with exceptionalities. The legislature hereby recognizes and affirms the importance of person first language as a respectful and preferred way of referring to persons with disabilities and other persons with exceptionalities.

"(B) Each agency, board, commission, department, office, and other instrumentality of the state to which the legislature has delegated authority to promulgate rules and regulations in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, R.S. 49:950 et seq., is hereby authorized and requested to employ the preferred terminology described in Section 36(A) of this Act in referring to persons with disabilities and other persons with exceptionalities in duly promulgated administrative rules, policy publications, and materials published in paper format or electronically, whether for internal use or public use, including but not limited to informational brochures, resource guides, reference materials, manuals, and the content of any Internet website or other electronic media. The provisions of this Section shall apply prospectively; however, nothing herein shall be construed to limit any agency, board, commission, department, office, or other instrumentality of the state from amending existing administrative rules for the purpose of instituting the preferred terminology described in Section 36(A) of this Act.

"(C) The legislative services offices of the House of Representatives and the Senate are hereby authorized and requested to publish guidance in legislative drafting manuals and in other professional resources as those offices may deem appropriate concerning use of the preferred terminology described in Section 36(A) of this Act.

of this state wherever necessary to institute the preferred terminology described in Section 36(A) of this Act."

Each policy of group life insurance as defined in R.S. 22:941 shall contain in substance the following provisions or, at the option of the insurer, provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are not less favorable to the policyholder; however, Paragraphs (6) through (12) of this Section shall not apply to policies described in R.S. 22:941(A)(3), except that, where policies are issued pursuant to that Paragraph, the insurer shall issue to the policyholder for delivery to the person whose life is insured an individual certificate setting forth the insurance protection afforded, to whom it is payable, information relating to notice and proof of loss, and that the standard provisions required for individual life insurance policies shall not apply to group life insurance policies:

(1) The contract. A provision that a copy of the application, if any, of the policyholder shall be attached to the policy when issued, that all statements made by the policyholder or by the persons insured shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and that no statement made by any person insured shall be used in any contest unless a copy of the instrument containing the statement is or has been provided to such person or to his beneficiary.

(2) Incontestability. A provision that the validity of the policy shall not be contested, except for nonpayment of premiums, after it has been in force for two years from its date of issue and that no statement made by an individual insured under the policy relating to his insurability shall be used in contesting the validity of the insurance with respect to which such statement was made after such insurance has been in force prior to the contest for a period of two years during such individual's lifetime nor unless it is contained in a written instrument signed by him.

(3) Grace period. A provision that the policyholder is entitled to a grace period either of thirty days or one month within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made during which period of grace the death benefit coverage shall continue in force, unless the policyholder has given the insurer written notice of discontinuance in advance of the date of discontinuance and in accordance with the terms of the policy. The policy may provide that the policyholder shall be liable to the insurer for the payment of a pro rata premium for the time the policy was in force during such grace period.

(4) Misstatement of age. A provision specifying an equitable adjustment of premiums or of benefits or of both to be made in the event the age of a person insured has been misstated, such provision to contain a clear statement of the method of adjustment to be used.

(5) Insurability. A provision setting forth the conditions, if any, under which the insurer reserves the right to require a person eligible for insurance to furnish evidence of individual insurability satisfactory to the insurer as a condition to part or all of his coverage.

(6) Beneficiary. A provision that any sum becoming due by reason of the death of the individual insured shall be payable to the beneficiary designated by such individual, subject to the provisions of the policy in the event there is no designated beneficiary, as to all or any part of such sum, living at the death of the individual insured and subject to any right reserved by the insurer in the policy and set forth in the certificate to pay at its option a part of such sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars to any person appearing to the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto by reason of having incurred funeral or other expenses incident to the last illness or death of the individual insured.

(7) Certificates. A provision that the insurer will issue to the policyholder for delivery to the employee, or member, whose life is insured under such policy, an individual certificate setting forth a statement as to the insurance protection to which he is entitled, to whom payable, together with the provisions concerning conversion rights.

(8) New persons eligible. A provision that from time to time all new employees or members eligible for insurance and desiring the same shall be added to the group or class thereof originally insured.

(9) Continuation to end of premium period. A provision, except in the case of a policy described in R.S. 22:941(B)(4), that the termination of the employment of any employee or the membership of a member shall not terminate the insurance of such employee or member under the group policy until the expiration of such period for which the premium for such employee or member has been paid, not exceeding thirty-one days.

(10) Conversion on termination of eligibility. A provision that if the insurance, or any portion of it, on an individual covered under the policy ceases because of termination of employment or of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy, such individual shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of life insurance without disability or other supplementary benefits, provided application for the individual policy shall be made and the first premium paid to the insurer within thirty-one days after such termination. It is further provided that:

(a) The individual policy shall, at the option of such individual, be on any one of the forms then customarily issued by the insurer at the age and for the amount applied for.

(b) The individual policy shall be in an amount not in any event in excess of the amount of life insurance which ceases because of such termination nor less than one thousand dollars unless a smaller amount of coverage was provided for such individual under the group policy, provided that any amount of insurance which matures on the date of such termination or has matured prior under the group policy as an endowment payable to the individual insured, whether in one sum or installments or in the form of an annuity, shall not, for the purposes of this provision, be included in the amount which is considered to cease because of such termination.

(c) The premium on the individual policy shall be at the insurer's then customary rate applicable to the form and amount of the individual policy, to the class of risk to which such individual then belongs, and to his age attained on the effective date of the individual policy.

(11) Conversion on termination of policy. A provision that if the group policy terminates or is amended so as to terminate the insurance of any class of insured individuals, every individual insured at the date of such termination whose insurance terminates and who has been so insured for at least five years prior to such termination date shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer an individual policy of life insurance, subject to the same conditions and limitations as are provided by Paragraph (10) of this Section, except that the group policy may provide that the amount of such individual policy shall not exceed the smaller of (a) the amount of the individual's life insurance protection ceasing because of the termination or amendment of the group policy, less the amount of life insurance for which he is or becomes eligible under any group policy issued or reinstated by the same or another insurer within thirty-one days of such termination and (b) two thousand dollars.

(12) Death pending conversion. A provision that if a person insured under the group policy dies during the period within which he would have been entitled to have an individual policy issued to him in accordance with Paragraphs (10) and (11) of this Section and before such an individual policy shall have become effective, the amount of life insurance which he would have been entitled to have issued to him under such individual policy shall be payable as a claim under the group policy, whether or not application for the individual policy or the payment of the first premium therefor has been made.

(13) Nonforfeiture provision. A provision that if the group life insurance policy is on a plan of insurance other than the term plan, it shall contain a nonforfeiture provision or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner is or are equitable to the insured persons and to the policyholder, but nothing herein shall be construed to require that group life insurance policies contain the same form of nonforfeiture provisions as are required for individual life insurance policies.

(14) Lump sum payment. Every group life insurance policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state shall allow selection by the beneficiary of an option to receive benefits in the form of a lump sum payment.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:176 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Acts 1958, No. 125. Amended by Acts 1966, No. 171, § 1; Acts 1972, No. 161, § 1; Acts 1981, No. 547, § 1; Acts 2003, No. 125, § 1. Amended by Acts 2011, No. 94, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2012; Acts 2014, No. 47, § 1.

§ 943. Group life insurance; exclusions; restrictions; contestability

A. No policy of group life insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state shall contain any provision which excludes or restricts liability for death caused in a certain specified manner or occurring while the insured has a specified status, except the following provisions, excluding or restricting coverage in the event of death occurring:

(1) As a result of war declared or undeclared under conditions specified in the policy.

(2) While in the military, naval, or air forces of any country at war, declared or undeclared; or in any ambulance, medical, hospital, or civilian noncombatant unit serving with such forces, either while serving with or within six months after termination of service in such forces or units.

(3) As a result of self-destruction while sane or insane within two years from the date of issue of the policy.

(4) As a result of aviation under conditions specified in the policy.

(5) Within two years from the date of issue of the policy as a result of a specified hazardous occupation or occupations or while the insured is residing in a specified foreign country or countries.

B. The commissioner may also allow provisions which, in the opinion of the commissioner, are substantially the same or more favorable to policyholders as those provisions provided for in Paragraphs (A)(1) through (5) of this Section.

C. In the event of death as to which there is an exclusion or restriction not prohibited by Paragraph (A)(1), (3), (4), or (5) of this Section or is allowed by the commissioner, the insurer shall pay an amount not less than the reserve on the face amount of the policy, together with the reserve for any paid-up additions thereto, and any dividends standing to the credit of the policy, less any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued.

D. In the event of death as to which there is an exclusion or restriction not prohibited by Paragraph (A)(2) of this Section or is allowed by the commissioner, the insurer shall pay the greater of:

(1) An amount not less than the reserve on the face amount of the policy, together with the reserve for any paid-up additions thereto, and any dividends standing to the credit of the policy, less any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued; or

(2) The amount of the gross premiums charged on the policy less dividends paid in cash or used in the payment of premiums and less any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy, including interest due or accrued.

E. A clause in any policy of group life insurance, issued under this Code, providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions which exclude or restrict coverage as provided in this Section, whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause, nor upon a provision regarding misstatement of age as provided in R.S. 22:942(4), whether or not such provision is excepted in such clause.

F. Nothing contained herein shall apply to any provision in a group life insurance policy for additional benefits in the event of death by accident or accidental means.

§ 944. Exemption of proceeds; group life

A. A policy of group life insurance or the proceeds payable to the individual insured or to the beneficiary, shall not be liable, either before or after payment, to be applied to any legal or equitable process to pay any liability of any person having a right under the policy. The proceeds, when not made payable to a named beneficiary or to a third person pursuant to a facility-of-payment clause, shall not constitute a part of the estate of the individual insured for the payment of his debts.

B. This Section shall not apply to group life insurance policies issued under R.S. 22:941(B)(4) (debtor groups) to the extent that such proceeds are applied to payment of the obligation for the purpose of which the insurance was so issued.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:649 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Acts 1958, No. 125. Amended by Acts 2011, No. 94, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2012.

§ 945. Group life and health and accident policy; dependent coverage

A. (1) Every group, blanket, or association policy providing life insurance coverage and health and accident insurance coverage for dependents of the insured shall use the same criteria to determine the maximum age for eligibility of dependents for dependent life coverage as is used to determine the maximum age for eligibility of dependents for dependent health and accident coverage.

(2) When there is more than one insurance provider involved, the operational definition for dependent eligibility utilized by the medical coverage shall also be used for purposes of the life insurance coverage.

B. The provisions of this Section shall apply to all new policies issued after January 1, 1985. Any policies in effect on January 1, 1985, shall be amended to conform with this Section on the anniversary date of such coverage; however, such coverage shall take place no later than January 1, 1986.

SUBPART D. INDIVIDUAL ANNUITIES

§ 951. Annuities and pure endowment contracts; standard provisions

A. No annuity or pure endowment contract except a reversionary annuity otherwise called a survivorship annuity and except a group annuity contract shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance the following provision or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are more favorable to the holders of such contracts:

(1) Grace period: A provision that there shall be a period of grace, either of thirty days or of one month, within which any stipulated payment to the insurer falling due after the first may be made, during which period of grace the contract shall continue in full force; but if a claim arises under the contract on account of death during the said period of grace before the overdue payment to the insurer or the deferred payments of the current contract year, if any, are made, the amount of such payments, with interest, not in excess of six percent per annum, on any overdue payments, may be deducted from any amount payable under the contract in settlement.

(2) Incontestability: If any statements, other than those relating to age, sex, and identity, are required as a condition of issuing the contract, a provision that the contract shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the person or each of the persons as to whom such statements are required, for a period of two years from its date of issue, except where stipulated payments to the insurer have not been made, and except for violation of the conditions, if any, of the contract relating to military or naval service; and at the option of the insurer issuing the same, such contract may also except provisions relative to benefits in the event of total and permanent disability and provisions which grant insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means.

(3) Entire contract: A provision that the contract shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, or if a copy of the application is endorsed upon or attached to the contract when issued, a provision that the contract and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(4) Misstatement of age or sex: A provision that if the age or sex of the person or persons upon whose life or lives the contract is made, or of any of them, has been misstated, the amount payable or benefit accruing under the contract, shall be such as the stipulated payments to the insurer would have purchased according to the correct age or sex; and that if the insurer shall make any overpayments on account of any such misstatement, the amount thereof, with interest at a rate to be specified in the contract but not exceeding six percent per annum, shall be charged against the current or next succeeding payment or payments to be made by the insurer under the contract.

(5) Participating policy: If the policy is a participating policy, a provision that the insurer shall annually ascertain and apportion any divisible surplus accruing on the contract.

(6) Nonforfeiture options: A provision specifying the options available in the event of default in a stipulated payment after three full years stipulated payments have been made, together with a table showing, in figures, the options so available during each of the first twenty years after the issuance of the contract or for the term of the stipulated payments, if that be less than twenty years.

(7) Reinstatement: A provision that at any time within one year from the date of default in making stipulated payments to the insurer, during the life of the annuitant and unless the cash surrender value, if any, has been paid, the contract will be reinstated, on the application of the person entitled thereto pursuant to the provisions of the contract, upon payment to the insurer of all overdue stipulated payments and of all indebtedness to the insurer on the contract with interest on both at a rate to be specified in the contract but not to exceed six percent per annum, compounded annually; and in cases where applicable the contract may also contain a provision requiring, as a condition of reinstatement, evidence of insurability, including good health, satisfactory to the insurer.

(8) (a) Free look period: A provision, prominently printed on the contract or attached thereto, notifying the insured that ten days are allowed, from the date of actual receipt of the contract, to examine its provisions. If the contract is not as explained by the company, its representative, or as understood by the insured, the contract may be surrendered within said ten-day period, and any premium advanced by the insured, upon the surrender, shall be immediately returned to him. The insurer shall have the option of printing, attaching, or endorsing the notice above required or a notice of equal prominence which, in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance, is not less favorable to the contract holder.

(b) If the policy is delivered by a producer, a receipt shall be signed by the policyholder acknowledging delivery of the policy. The receipt shall contain the policy number and the date the delivery was completed. The delivery receipts required by this Subparagraph shall be retained by the insurer or its producer for two consecutive years. The requirement of this Subparagraph shall not apply to any insurer that markets policies under a home service marketing distribution method and that issues a majority of its policies on a weekly or monthly basis.

(c) If the policy is delivered by mail, it shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, or a certificate of mailing shall be obtained showing the date the policy was mailed to the policyowner. For policy issuances verified by a certificate of mailing, it is presumed that the policy is received by the policyowner ten days from the date of mailing. The receipts and the certificate of mailing described in this Subparagraph shall be retained by the producer for two years.

B. No contract for a reversionary annuity, otherwise called a survivorship annuity, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance the following provision or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are more favorable to the holders of such contracts:

(1) The provisions required by Paragraphs (1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) of Subsection A of this Section, except that under Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this Section the insurer may at its option provide for an equitable reduction of the amount of the annuity payments in settlement of any overdue or deferred payments, in lieu of a provision for a deduction of such payments from any amount payable upon a settlement under the contract.

(2) A provision that the contract may be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default in making stipulated payments to the insurer, upon production of evidence of insurability, including good health, satisfactory to the insurer, and upon the making of all overdue payments and all payments due to the insurer on any loan made by it under the contract, with interest on both at a rate to be specified in the contract but not exceeding six per cent per annum, compounded annually.

C. Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable to non-participating contracts or not applicable to contracts for which a single stipulated payment to the insurer is made shall, to that extent, not be incorporated in such contract. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to contracts for deferred annuities or reversionary annuities upon the lives of beneficiaries under life insurance policies nor to group annuity contracts.

D. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to charitable gift annuities entered into on behalf of an organization qualified with the United States Internal Revenue Service for an exemption from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:173 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Acts 1958, No. 125. Amended by Acts 1990, No. 580, § 1; Acts 1990, No. 715, § 1, eff. July 20, 1990; Acts 1993, No. 141, § 1. Amended by Acts 2011, No. 94, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2012.

§ 952. Standard nonforfeiture law for individual deferred annuities

A. (1) This Section shall be known as the "Standard Nonforfeiture Law for Individual Deferred Annuities".

(2) This Section shall not apply to any charitable gift annuity entered into on behalf of an organization qualified with the United States Internal Revenue Service for an exemption from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, reinsurance, group annuity purchases under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation established or maintained by an employer, including a partnership or sole proprietorship, or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under Section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as now or hereafter amended, premium deposit fund, variable annuity, investment annuity, immediate annuity, any deferred annuity contract after annuity payments have commenced, or reversionary annuity, nor to any contract which shall be delivered outside this state through a producer or other representative of the company issuing the contract.

(3) For purposes of this Section and R.S. 22:951(D), "charitable gift annuity" means a giving plan or method whereby a gift of a principal sum or a piece of property or a block of securities is made to an organization qualified with the United States Internal Revenue Service for an exemption from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. In exchange, such organization agrees to give the donor a fixed annual sum for life.

B. In the case of contracts issued on or after the operative date of this Section as defined in Subsection K of this Section, no contract of annuity, except as stated in Subsection A of this Section, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance the following provisions, or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner are at least as favorable to the contract-holder, upon cessation of payment of considerations under the contract:

(1) That upon cessation of payment of considerations under the contract, the company will grant a paid-up annuity benefit on a plan stipulated in the contract of such value as is specified in Subsections D, E, F, G, and H of this Section.

(2)(a) If a contract provides for a lump sum settlement at maturity, or at any other time, that upon surrender of the contract at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments, the company will pay in lieu of any paid-up annuity benefit a cash surrender benefit of such amount as is specified in Subsections D, E, G, and H of this Section.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the company shall pay any cash surrender benefit not later than six months after demand therefor with surrender of the contract. Notwithstanding the above provision, if payment is not made within thirty days after demand therefor with surrender of the contract, the insurer shall pay, in addition to the cash surrender benefit, interest on the cash surrender benefit at the judicial interest rate set by R.S. 9:3500 commencing from the date of surrender until the cash surrender benefit is paid in full within the six-month period.

(3) A statement of the mortality table, if any, and interest rates used in calculating any minimum paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits that are guaranteed under the contract, together with sufficient information to determine the amounts of such benefits.

(4)(a) A statement that any paid-up annuity, cash surrender or death benefits that may be available under the contract are not less than the minimum benefits required by any statute of the state in which the contract is delivered and an explanation of the manner in which such benefits are altered by the existence of any additional amounts credited by the company to the contract, any indebtedness to the company on the contract, or any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract.

(b) Notwithstanding the requirements of this Subsection, any deferred annuity contract may provide that if no considerations have been received under a contract for a period of two full years and the portion of the paid-up annuity benefit at maturity on the plan stipulated in the contract arising from considerations paid prior to such period would be less than twenty dollars monthly, the company may at its option terminate such contract by payment in cash of the then present value of such portion of the paid-up annuity benefit, calculated on the basis of the mortality table, if any, and interest rate specified in the contract for determining the paid-up annuity benefit, and by such payment shall be relieved of any further obligation under such contract.

C. Prior to July 1, 2005, any company may elect to comply with either the provisions of this Subsection or the provisions of Subsection L of this Section. On and after July 1, 2005, all companies shall comply with the provisions of Subsection L of this Section. The minimum values as specified in Subsections D, E, F, G, and H of this Section of any paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits available under an annuity contract shall be based upon minimum nonforfeiture amounts as defined in this Section:

(1)(a) Except as provided in Subparagraph (c) of this Paragraph, with respect to contracts providing for flexible considerations, the minimum nonforfeiture amount at any time at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments shall be equal to an accumulation up to such time at a rate of interest of three percent per annum of percentages of the net considerations, as hereinafter defined, paid prior to such time, decreased by the sum of:

(i) Any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract accumulated at a rate of interest of three percent per annum, and

(ii) The amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued, and increased by any existing additional amount credited by the company to the contract.

(b) The net considerations for a given contract year used to define the minimum nonforfeiture amount shall be an amount not less than zero and shall be equal to the corresponding gross considerations credited to the contract during that contract year less an annual contract charge of thirty dollars and less a collection charge of one dollar and twenty-five cents per consideration credited to the contract during that contract year. The percentages of net considerations shall be sixty-five percent of the net consideration for the first contract year and eighty-seven and one-half percent of the net considerations for the second and later contract years. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sentence, the percentage shall be sixty-five percent of the portion of the total net consideration for any renewal contract year which exceeds by not more than two times the sum of those portions of the net considerations in all prior contract years for which the percentage was sixty-five percent.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph, beginning on July 1, 2002, and until July 1, 2005, the rate of interest provided for in the introductory paragraph and Item (i) of Subparagraph (a) shall be one and one-half percent; thereafter, the rate of interest shall be three percent.

(2) With respect to the contracts providing for fixed scheduled considerations, minimum nonforfeiture amounts shall be calculated on the assumption that considerations are paid annually in advance and shall be defined as for contracts with flexible considerations which are paid annually with two exceptions:

(a) The portion of the net consideration for the first contract year to be accumulated shall be the sum of sixty-five percent of the net consideration for the first contract year plus twenty-two and one-half percent of the excess of the net consideration for the first contract year over the lesser of the net considerations for the second and third contract years.

(b) The annual contract charge shall be the lesser of (i) thirty dollars or (ii) ten percent of the gross annual consideration.

(3) With respect to contracts providing for a single consideration, minimum nonforfeiture amounts shall be defined as for contracts with flexible considerations except that the percentage of net consideration used to determine the minimum nonforfeiture amount shall be equal to ninety percent and the net consideration shall be the gross consideration less a contract charge of seventy-five dollars.

D. Any paid-up annuity benefit available under a contract shall be such that its present value on the date annuity payments are to commence is at least equal to the minimum nonforfeiture amount on that date. Such present value shall be computed using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate specified in the contract for determining the minimum paid-up annuity benefits guaranteed in the contract.

E. For contracts which provide cash surrender benefits, such cash surrender benefits available prior to maturity shall not be less than the present value as of the date of surrender of that portion of the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit which would be provided under the contract at maturity arising from considerations paid prior to the time of cash surrender reduced by the amount appropriate to reflect any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract, such present value being calculated on the basis of an interest rate not more than one percent higher than the interest rate specified in the contract for accumulating the net considerations to determine such maturity value, decreased by the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued, and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract. In no event shall any cash surrender benefit be less than the minimum nonforfeiture amount at that time. The death benefit under such contracts shall be at least equal to the cash surrender benefit.

F. For contracts which do not provide cash surrender benefits, the present value of any paid-up annuity benefit available as a nonforfeiture option at any time prior to maturity shall not be less than the present value of that portion of the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit provided under the contract arising from considerations paid prior to the time the contract is surrendered in exchange for, or changed to, a deferred paid-up annuity, such present value being calculated for the period prior to the maturity date on the basis of the interest rate specified in the contract for accumulating the net considerations to determine such maturity value, and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract. For contracts which do not provide any death benefits prior to the commencement of any annuity payments, such present values shall be calculated on the basis of such interest rate and the mortality table specified in the contract for determining the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit. However, in no event shall the present value of a paid-up annuity benefit be less than the minimum nonforfeiture amount at that time.

G. For the purpose of determining the benefits calculated under Subsections E and F of this Section, in the case of annuity contracts under which an election may be made to have annuity payments commence at optional maturity dates, the maturity date shall be deemed to be the latest date for which election shall be permitted by the contract, but shall not be deemed to be later than the anniversary of the contract next following the annuitant's seventieth birthday or the tenth anniversary of the contract, whichever is later.

H. Any contract which does not provide cash surrender benefits or does not provide death benefits at least equal to the minimum nonforfeiture amount prior to the commencement of any annuity payments shall include a statement in a prominent place in the contract that such benefits are not provided.

I. Any paid-up annuity, cash surrender or death benefits available at any time, other than on the contract anniversary under any contract with fixed scheduled considerations, shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of any scheduled considerations beyond the beginning of the contract year in which cessation of payment of considerations under the contract occurs.

J. For any contract which provides, within the same contract by rider or supplemental contract provision, both annuity benefits and life insurance benefits that are in excess of the greater of cash surrender benefits or a return of the gross considerations with interest, the minimum nonforfeiture benefits shall be equal to the sum of the minimum nonforfeiture benefits for the annuity portion and the minimum nonforfeiture benefits, if any, for the life insurance portion computed as if each portion were a separate contract. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsections D, E, F, G, and H, additional benefits payable: (i) in the event of total and permanent disability; (ii) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits; or (iii) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance, endowment and annuity benefits, and considerations for all such additional benefits, shall be disregarded in ascertaining the minimum nonforfeiture amounts, paid-up annuity, cash surrender, and death benefits that may be required by this Section. The inclusion of such additional benefits shall not be required in any paid-up benefits, unless such additional benefits separately would require minimum nonforfeiture amounts, paid-up annuity, cash surrender, and death benefits.

K. After September 7, 1979, any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this Section after a specified date before September 7, 1980. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date, which shall be the operative date of this Section for such company, this Section shall become operative with respect to annuity contracts thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this Section for such company shall be September 7, 1980.

L. The minimum values as specified in Subsections D, E, F, G, and I of this Section of any paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits available under an annuity contract shall be based upon minimum nonforfeiture amounts as defined in this Subsection, as follows:

(1)(a) The minimum nonforfeiture amount at any time at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments shall be equal to an accumulation up to such time at rates of interest as indicated in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection of the net considerations, as hereinafter defined, paid prior to such time, decreased by the sum of Items (i) and (ii) of this Subparagraph:

(i) Any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract accumulated at rates of interest as indicated in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection; and

(ii) An annual contract charge of fifty dollars, accumulated at rates of interest as indicated in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection;

(iii) Any premium tax paid by the company for the contract, accumulated at rates of interest as indicated in Paragraph (2) of this Subsection; and

(iv) The amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued.

(b) The net considerations for a given contract year used to define the minimum nonforfeiture amount shall be an amount equal to eighty-seven and one-half percent of the gross considerations credited to the contract during that contract year.

(2) The interest rate used in determining minimum nonforfeiture amounts shall be an annual rate of interest determined as the lesser of three percent per annum and the following, which shall be specified in the contract if the interest rate will be reset:

(a) The five-year Constant Maturity Treasury Rate reported by the Federal Reserve as of a date, or average over a period, rounded to the nearest one-twentieth of one percent, specified in the contract no longer than fifteen months prior to the contract issue date or redetermination date under Subparagraph (2)(d) of this Subsection;

(b) Reduced by one hundred twenty-five basis points;

(c) Where the resulting interest rate is not less than one percent; and

(d) The interest rate shall apply for an initial period and may be redetermined for additional periods. The redetermination date, basis, and period, if any, shall be stated in the contract. The basis is the date or average over a specified period that produces the value of the five-year Constant Maturity Treasury Rate to be used at each redetermination date.

(3) During the period or term that a contract provides substantive participation in an equity indexed benefit, it may increase the reduction described in Subparagraph (2)(b) of this Subsection by up to an additional one hundred basis points to reflect the value of the equity index benefit. The present value at the contract issue date, and at each redetermination date thereafter, of the additional reduction shall not exceed the market value of the benefit. The commissioner may require a demonstration that the present value of the additional reduction does not exceed the market value of the benefit. Lacking such a demonstration that is acceptable to the commissioner, the commissioner may disallow or limit the additional reduction.

(4) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement the provisions of Paragraph (3) of this Subsection and to provide for further adjustments to the calculation of minimum nonforfeiture amounts for contracts that provide substantive participation in an equity index benefit and for other contracts that the commissioner determines adjustments are justified.

SUBPART E. GROUP ANNUITIES

§ 961. Group annuity contracts; definition; standard provisions

A. Any policy or contract, except a joint, reversionary or survivorship annuity contract, whereby annuities are payable dependent upon the continuation of the lives of more than one person, shall be deemed a group annuity contract. The person, firm, or corporation to whom such contract is issued shall be deemed the "holder" of such contract. The term "annuitant," as used herein, refers to any person upon whose continued life such annuity is dependent.

B. No group annuity contract shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state and no certificate shall be used in connection therewith unless it contains in substance the following provisions to the extent that such provisions are applicable to such contract or to such certificate, as the case may be, or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are more favorable to annuitants, or not less favorable to annuitants and more favorable to the holders:

(1) Grace period: A provision in such contract that there shall be a period of grace, either of thirty days or of one month, within which any stipulated payment to be remitted by the holder to the insurer, falling due after one year from date of issue, may be made, subject, at the option of the insurer, to an interest charge thereon at a rate, to be specified in the contract, which shall not exceed six percent per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before such payment.

(2) Entire contract: A provision in such contract specifying the document or documents which shall constitute the entire contract between the parties; the document or documents so specified shall be only: (a) the contract; (b) the contract together with the application of the holder of which a copy is attached thereto; or (c) the contract together with the application of the holder of which a copy is attached thereto and the individual applications of annuitants on file with the insurer and referred to therein.

(3) Misstatement of age or sex: A provision in such contract, with an appropriate reference thereto in the certificate, for the equitable adjustment of the benefits payable under the contract or of the stipulated payments thereunder, if it be found that the sex, age, service, salary, or any other fact determining the amount of any stipulated payment or the amount or date or dates of payment of any benefit with respect to any annuitant covered thereby, has been misstated.

(4) Ascertainment of the benefit: A provision or provisions in such contract, with an appropriate reference thereto in the certificate, specifying the nature and basis of ascertainment of the benefits which will be available to an annuitant who contributes to the cost of the annuity and the conditions of payment thereof in the event of either the termination of employment of the annuitant, except by death, or the discontinuance of stipulated payments under the contract. Such provision or provisions shall, in either of such events, make available to an annuitant who contributes to the cost of the annuity a paid-up annuity payable commencing at a fixed date in an amount at least equal to that purchased by the contributions of the annuitant, determinable as of the respective dates of payment of the several contributions, as shown by a schedule included in the contract for that purpose, based upon the same mortality table, rate of interest, and loading formula used in computing the stipulated payments under such contract. Such provision or provisions may, by way of exception to the foregoing, provide that if the amount of the annuity determined as aforesaid from such fixed commencement date would be less than sixty dollars annually, the insurer may at its option, in lieu of granting such paid-up annuity, pay a cash surrender value at least equal to that hereinafter provided. If a cash surrender value, in lieu of such paid-up annuity, is allowed to the annuitant by the terms of such contract, it may be either in a single sum or in equal installments over a period of not more than twelve months and it shall be at least equal to either (a) or (b), whichever is less:

(a) the amount of reserve attributable to the annuitant's contributions less a surrender charge not exceeding thirty-five per centum of the average annual contribution made by the annuitant; or (b) the amount which would be payable as a death benefit at the date of surrender. Such contract shall also provide that in case of the death of the annuitant, before the commencement date of the annuity, the insurer shall pay a death benefit at least equal to the aggregate amount of the annuitant's contributions, without interest. If any benefits are available to the holder in either of such events the contract shall contain a provision or provisions specifying the nature and basis of ascertainment of such benefits.

(5) Certificates: A provision in such contract that the insurer will issue to the holder of the contract for delivery to each annuitant who contributes thereunder an individual certificate setting forth a statement in substance of the benefits to which he is entitled under such contract.

§§ 962 to 970. Reserved for future legislation

PART III. HEALTH AND ACCIDENT COVERAGE

SUBPART A. HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE; STANDARDS AND CONTRACT REQUIREMENTS IN GENERAL

§ 971. Patient's Bill of Rights

It is hereby declared by the Legislature of Louisiana that access to health care for the citizens of this state is a priority to promote well-being and strong state protections. The state has an obligation to ensure that every person enrolled in a health plan enjoys basic rights as a patient. Comprehensive care should guarantee patients greater access to information and care including access to needed specialists and emergency rooms, guarantee a fair appeals process when health plans deny care, expand choice, protect the doctor-patient relationship, and hold managed care organizations accountable for decisions that harm patients. Because many states have passed patient protection laws that are appropriate to their states, the Department of Insurance shall establish and maintain an information collection program to track and evaluate state and federal legislation to provide for a uniform patient bill of rights. The department shall compile the data on an annual basis and submit a written report to the Senate Committee on Insurance and the House Committee on Insurance of ongoing efforts to adopt or enact a uniform patient's bill of rights.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:10 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Added by Acts 2003, No. 68, § 1. Amended by Acts 2010, No. 919, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2011.

A. In addition to any other authority granted by this Title, the Department of Insurance is hereby authorized to regulate the coordination of medical, surgical, and hospital benefits of a self-insurance plan with such benefits of any other insurance plan. For purposes of this Subsection, a self-insurance plan shall be defined as any plan by a person, partnership, corporation or other organization, or the state of Louisiana, other than a domestic or foreign insurance company which has qualified with the Department of Insurance, which provides or contracts to provide coverage as a self-insurer for his or its employees, stockholders, or any other persons. This Subsection shall not apply to: (1) the Office of Group Benefits; or (2) any plan of a labor organization or fraternal organization to the extent that it provides benefits to its members or the immediate family of its members, which benefits are supplemental to an employer-sponsored benefit plan.

B. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any entity issuing or providing coverage in this state for health care services, whether the coverage is by direct payment of or reimbursement for expenses incurred for such services, or otherwise, shall be presumed to be subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner of insurance, unless the entity shows that, while providing the coverage, it is subject to the jurisdiction of another department or agency of the state, or any political subdivision of this state, or of the federal government.

(2) An entity providing or issuing coverage for health care services in this state as described in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection may show that it is subject to the jurisdiction of another department or agency of this state, any political subdivision of this state, or the federal government by submitting to the commissioner of insurance the appropriate certificate, license, or other document or documentary evidence issued by such other governmental entity that authorizes or qualifies it to issue or provide such coverage.

(3) Proof of jurisdiction by such other governmental agency shall be submitted to the commissioner of insurance prior to the issuance or provision in this state of any coverage as described in this Subsection. The commissioner of insurance may take any action as may be authorized in this Title to enforce the provisions of this Subsection.

(4) Any entity that fails to show that it is subject to the jurisdiction of any other governmental entity as described in this Subsection shall be subject to all appropriate provisions of this Title and shall submit to an examination by the commissioner of insurance to determine its organization and solvency and whether it is in compliance with the applicable provisions of this Title.

Added by Acts 2009, No. 503, § 1.

§ 972. Approval and disapproval of forms; filing of rates

A. No policy or subscriber agreement of a health insurance issuer, hereafter including a health maintenance organization, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state, nor shall any endorsement, rider, or application which becomes a part of any such policy, which may include a certificate, be used in connection therewith until a copy of the form and of the rates and of the classifications of risks pertaining thereto have been filed with the department. No policy, subscriber agreement, endorsement, rider, or application, hereinafter referred to as a policy or subscriber agreement, shall be used until the expiration of sixty days after the form has been filed unless the department gives its written approval prior thereto. Written notification shall be provided to the health insurance issuer specifying the reasons a policy form or subscriber agreement does not comply with the provisions of this Subpart. It shall be unlawful for any health insurance issuer to issue any form in this state not previously submitted to and approved by the department.

An aggrieved party affected by the department's decision, act, or order in reference to a policy form or subscriber agreement may demand a hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq.

B. After providing twenty days' notice to the health insurance issuer, the department may withdraw its approval of any such policy form or subscriber agreement on any of the grounds stated in R.S. 22:862. It shall be unlawful for the health insurance issuer to issue such policy form or subscriber agreement or use it in connection with any policy or subscriber agreement after the effective date of such withdrawal of approval. An aggrieved party affected by the department's decision, act, or order in reference to a policy form or subscriber agreement may demand a hearing in accordance with Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq.

C. The department shall not disapprove or withdraw approval of any such policy form or subscriber agreement on the ground that its provisions do not comply with R.S. 22:975 or on the ground that it is not printed in uniform type if it shall be shown that the rights of the insured, the beneficiary, or the subscriber under the policy or subscriber agreement as a whole are not less favorable than the rights provided by R.S. 22:975 and that the provisions or type size used in the policy or subscriber agreement are required in the state, district, or territory of the United States in which the health insurance issuer is organized, anything in this Subpart to the contrary notwithstanding.

D. Policy forms and premium rates for major medical health and accident and dental policies, including but not limited to policies subject to the requirements of Title I of Public Law 111-148, shall be exempt from disclosure under R.S. 44:1 et seq., the Public Records Law, until the commencement of the open enrollment period of the policy year during which the forms and rates are to be utilized. A health insurance issuer, including a health maintenance organization, shall mark such filings as confidential or proprietary in order to utilize the exemption authorized in this Subsection. The exemption authorized in this Subsection shall not prevent the commissioner from publishing a summary or description of rate filings in the operation of an effective rate review program pursuant to Section 2794 of the Public Health Service Act.

E. All references to rates in this Section shall be controlled by Subpart D of this Part, R.S. 22:1091 through 1099.

§ 973. Form of policy

No health and accident policy or contract shall be delivered or issued for delivery on risks in this state unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The entire money and other consideration therefor are expressed in the policy or contract.

(2) The time at which the insurance takes effect and terminates is expressed in the policy or contract.

(3) It purports to insure only one person except as specifically provided in this Subpart.

(4) Every printed portion of the text matter of the policy and of any endorsements or attached papers is printed in type the size of which shall be uniform and the face of which shall be not less than ten-point. The "text" shall include all printed matter except the name and address of the insurer, name or title of the policy, captions and sub-captions, and form numbers.

(5) The exceptions and reductions of indemnity are clearly set forth in the policy or contract and are printed, at the insurer's option, either with the benefit to which they apply or under an appropriate caption, such as "Exceptions" or "Exceptions and Reductions".

(6) Each such form, including riders and endorsements, shall be identified by a form number in the lower left hand corner of the first page of the form.

(7)(a) There is prominently printed on or attached, a notice to the insured that ten days are allowed, from the date of his receipt of the policy, to examine its provisions. If such policy was solicited by deceptive advertising or negotiated by deceptive, misleading, or untrue statements of the insurer or any agent on behalf of the insurer, such policy may be surrendered within said ten-day period. Any premium advanced by the insured, upon such surrender, shall be immediately returned to him; however, the insurer shall have the option of printing or attaching the notice required by this Subparagraph or a notice of equal prominence which, in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance, is not less favorable to the policyholder. This Paragraph shall not apply to travel insurance policies which by their terms are not renewable.

(b) If the policy is delivered by a producer, a receipt shall be signed by the policyholder acknowledging delivery of the policy. The receipt shall include the policy number and the date the delivery was completed. All delivery receipts required by this Subparagraph shall be retained by the insurer, or its producer for two consecutive years. The requirement of this Subparagraph shall not apply to any insurer that markets under a home service marketing distribution method and that issues a majority of its policies on a weekly or monthly basis.

(c) If the policy is delivered by mail, it shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, or a certificate of mailing shall be obtained showing the date the policy was mailed to the policyholder. For policy issuances verified by a certificate of mailing, it is presumed that the policy is received by the policyholder ten days from the date of mailing. The receipts and the certificate of mailing described in this Subparagraph shall be retained by the insurer or producer for three years. In addition, the insurer or producer may utilize commercial carriers or other commercially recognized carriers to deliver the policy to the policyholder; however, the insurer or producer shall maintain documentation of actual delivery of such policy for three years. The policy or certificate of insurance may also be delivered electronically to the policyholder or insured in accordance with R.S. 9:2608; however, the insurer and the policyholder or insured shall agree to electronic delivery, and documentation of delivery shall be maintained by the insurer for three years.

(8) In any case where the policy is subject to cancellation or renewal at the option of the insurer, there shall be prominently printed on the first page of the policy a statement informing the policyholder of such option.

§ 974. Standard forms

The commissioner of insurance may, in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, R.S. 49:950 et seq., promulgate rules and regulations as he deems necessary to establish reasonable minimum standard conditions for basic benefits to be provided by health and accident insurance contracts which are subject to R.S. 22:972, 973, 975-983, 985-990, 992, 993, 999-1014, 1021-1048, 1091-1096, 1111, and 1156, for the purpose of expediting his approval of such contracts pursuant to this Code. No promulgation shall be inconsistent with standard provisions as required pursuant to R.S. 22:863.

Renumbered from R.S. 22:622 by Acts 2008, No. 415, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2009. Acts 1958, No. 125. Amended by Acts 2009, No. 317, § 1; Acts 2010, No. 919, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 2011.

§ 975. Health and accident policy provisions

A. Required provisions. Each policy shall contain in substance the following provisions or, at the option of the insurer, provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance are not less favorable to the policyholder; provided that, except as permitted by R.S. 22:972(C), no time limitation with respect to the filing of notice or proof of loss or within which suit may be brought upon the policy shall differ from the time limitations of the following provisions:

(1) Entire contract: Changes: This policy, including the endorsements and the attached papers, if any, and in case of industrial insurance, the written application, constitutes the entire contract of insurance. No producer has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid until approved by an executive officer of the insurer and unless such approval be endorsed on or attached to the policy.

(2) Reinstatement: If default is made in the payment of any agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of the defaulted premium by the insurer or by any producer authorized by the insurer to accept such premium, shall reinstate the policy; however, the reinstated policy shall cover only loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained or loss due to sickness beginning more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(3) Notice of claim: Written notice of claim for injury or for sickness must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing an injury or the commencement of the disability from such sickness, except that in case of industrial policies such notice of claim must be given to the insurer within ten days in such cases. In the event of accidental death, immediate notice must be given to the insurer. Such notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at the location of such office as the insurer may designate for that purpose, or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with information sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed notice to the insurer. Failure to give notice within such time shall not invalidate nor reduce any claim if it was not reasonably possible to give notice within the time required, provided written notice of claim is given as soon as reasonably possible. In this Paragraph, the requirement relating to immediate notice of claim in event of accidental death may be omitted at the option of the insurer.

(4) Claim forms: The insurer, upon receipt of a notice of claim, will furnish to the claimant forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss.

If such forms are not furnished within fifteen days after the giving of notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting, within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, affirmative written proof covering the occurrence, the character and the extent of the loss for which claim is made.

(5) Proof of loss: Affirmative written proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its office in case of claim for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable and in case of claim for any other loss within ninety days after the date of such loss. Failure to furnish such proof within the time required shall not invalidate nor reduce any claim if it was not reasonably possible to give proof within such time, provided proof is furnished as soon as reasonably possible and in no event later than one year from the time proof is otherwise required.

Any policy may also provide, at the insurer's option that written notice or proof of continuance of disability must be furnished not less frequently than each ninety days during the continuance of disability.

(6) Time of payment of claims: Indemnity claims payable under this policy for any loss other than loss of time on account of disability will be paid immediately upon receipt of written proof of such loss. Subject to written proof of loss, accrued indemnity claims for loss of time on account of disability will be paid (insert period of payment which must not be less frequently than monthly) and any balance remaining unpaid upon the termination of liability will be paid immediately.

(7) Payment of claims: Indemnity for loss of life and any other accrued indemnity claims unpaid at the insured's death will be paid to the beneficiary, if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnity claims will be paid to the insured. The policy may, at the insurer's option, provide that if there is no beneficiary, or the beneficiary is the estate of the insured, or the insured or beneficiary is a minor or not competent to give a valid release, the insurer may pay any amount not exceeding one thousand dollars, otherwise payable to the insured or his estate to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured appearing to the insurer to which they may be equitably entitled, and may make payment of any amount not exceeding one thousand dollars, otherwise payable to the beneficiary to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of such beneficiary appearing to the insurer to which they may be equitably entitled. The policy may, at the insurer's option, also provide that all or a portion of any indemnities provided by any such policy on account of hospital, nursing, medical, or surgical services may be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services; however, the policy may not require that the services be rendered by a particular hospital or person.

(8) Physical examinations: The insurer shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and as often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of a claim and to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

(9) Cancellation by insured: If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the insurer, upon written request of the insured, and at the insured's option, will either cancel the policy upon its surrender and refund the unearned premium or will reduce the premium rate accordingly and refund the excess pro rata unearned premium from the date of receipt of proof of such change of occupation.

(10) Consent of beneficiary: Consent of the beneficiary shall not be required for the surrender or assignment of this policy, nor for change of beneficiary, nor for any other changes in this policy.

(11) Legal action: No legal action shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy. No legal action shall be brought after the expiration of one year after the time proof of loss is required to be filed.

(12) Extension of time limitations: If any limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim, furnishing proof of loss, or bringing any action on this policy is less than that permitted by law of the state, district, or territory in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law.

(13) Time limit on certain defenses:

(a)(i) After three years from the date of issue of this policy, no misstatements, except fraudulent misstatements, made by the applicant in the application for such policy shall be used to void the policy or to deny a claim for loss incurred or disability, as defined in the policy, commencing after the expiration of such three-year period. This policy provision shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial three-year period, nor to limit the application of Paragraphs (B)(1), (2), (3), and (4) of this Section in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.

(ii) A policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium either until at least age fifty, or, in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four, for at least five years from its date of issue, may contain in lieu of the foregoing the following provision, from which the clause in parentheses may be omitted at the insurer's option, under the caption: "INCONTESTABLE

After this policy has been in force for a period of three years during the lifetime of the insured, excluding any period during which the insured is disabled, it shall become incontestable as to the statements contained in the application."

(b) No claim for loss incurred or disability, as defined in the policy, commencing after three years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy.

(14) Uniform claim forms: Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, including Paragraph (4) of this Subsection, all claims shall be processed in conformity with the uniform claim form issued by the Department of Insurance pursuant to R.S. 22:1824.

B. Other optional provisions. No such policy shall be delivered or issued for delivery containing provisions respecting the matters set forth in this Subsection unless such provisions are, in substance, in the following forms, or, at the option of the insurer, in forms which in the written opinion of the commissioner of insurance are not less favorable to the policyholder:

(1) Change of occupation: If the insured suffers injury or sickness after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in this policy or while performing services for compensation in any trade, business, or occupation so classified, the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnity provided in this policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rates and within the limits fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous trade, business, or occupation. In applying this Paragraph, the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be such as have been last filed by the insurer prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable or prior to date of proof of change in occupation with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided at the time this policy was issued; however, if such filing was not required, then the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be those last made effective by the insurer in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss.

(2) Misstatement of age: If the age of the insured has been misstated, any amount payable or any indemnity accruing under this policy shall be determined as based on the correct age. If because of a misstatement of age, this policy was issued at an age or was continued or renewed beyond an age at which it would not have been issued, continued, or renewed under the insurer's underwriting rules in effect at the date of issue, the amount payable, because of the loss occurring after such age, shall be limited to a return of the premiums paid thereafter.

(3) Other insurance with this insurer: An insurer may do either of the following:

(a) If a like policy or policies previously issued by this insurer to the insured are in force concurrently with this policy, making the aggregate indemnity for (insert type of coverage) in excess of (insert maximum limit of indemnity), the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured or to his estate.

(b) Insurance effective at any one time on the insured under a like policy or policies in this insurer is limited to one such policy, and the insurer will return to the insured or to his estate all premiums paid for such policies in excess thereof.

(4) Insurance with other insurers: If the insured carries with one or more insurers other valid insurance covering the same loss without having given written notice thereof to this insurer prior to the occurrence of loss, the only liability under this policy shall be for such proportion of the indemnity otherwise provided hereunder as the indemnity of which the insurer had notice, including the indemnity under this policy, bear to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss, and for the return of such portion of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata portion for the indemnity thus determined.

(5) Relation of earnings to insurance: If the total monthly amount of loss of time indemnity promised in all policies or certificates of accident, health, or disability insurance upon the insured, whether payable on a weekly or monthly basis, shall exceed the average monthly earnings of the insured at the time disability commenced or for the period of two years immediately preceding a disability for which claim is made, whichever is the greater, the insurer will be liable only for such proportionate amount of the indemnity specified in the policy as the amount of such monthly earnings of the insured bears to the total amount of monthly indemnity promised under all such policies or certificates upon the insured at the time of such disability and for the return of such part of the premiums paid during such two years as shall exceed the pro rata amount of the premiums for the indemnity actually paid hereunder; but this shall not operate to reduce the total monthly amount of indemnity payable under all such policies or certificates upon the insured below the sum of one hundred dollars or the sum of the monthly indemnity specified in such policies or certificates, whichever is the lesser.

(6) Unpaid premium: Upon the payment of a claim under this policy, any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted from such payment.

(7) Cancellation: The insurer may cancel this policy at any time subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:1012. Such cancellation shall be by written notice, delivered to the insured, or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer, shall refund the pro rata unearned portion of any premium paid, and shall comply with the provisions of R.S. 22:887(F). Such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim for benefits accrued or expenses incurred for services rendered prior to cancellation. Benefits and expenses incurred shall be as defined and limited by the terms of the policy. The insured may likewise cancel this policy on the terms specified in this Paragraph. Upon cancellation by the insurer, however, the insurer shall only be liable for any claim for benefits accrued, or for expenses incurred for services rendered, subsequent to the cancellation date if the subsequent claim is for an illness or condition which was the basis of any claim prior to cancellation and for which the insurer had notice and if the policy of insurance is cancelled for reasons other than failure of the policyholder to pay premiums or failure of the insured to maintain eligibility as provided in the policy. Upon the written request of the named insured, the insurer shall provide to the insured in writing the reasons for cancellation of the policy. There shall be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any insurer or its agents, employees, or representatives for any action taken by them to provide the reasons for cancellation as required by this Paragraph.

(8) Conformity with state statutes: Any provision of this policy which, on the date of issue, is in conflict with the statutes of the state in which the insured resides at the date of issue is understood to be amended to conform to such statutes.

(9) Illegal occupation: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss to which a contributing cause was the insured's commission of or attempt to commit a felony or to which a contributing cause was the insured's being engaged in an illegal occupation.

(10) Intoxicants and narcotics: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss sustained or contracted in consequence of the insured's being intoxicated or under the influence of narcotics unless administered on the advice of a physician.

C. If any provision of this Section is inapplicable to or is inconsistent with any risk covered by a particular form of policy the insurer may, subject to the approval of the commissioner of insurance, omit from such policy such inapplicable provision or modify such inconsistent provision in such manner as to make it consistent with the coverage provided by the policy.

§ 976. Disclosure of prescription drug consumer cost burden; certification

A. As used in this Section:

(1) "Excess consumer cost burden" means an amount charged to an enrollee for a covered prescription drug that is greater than the amount that an enrollee's health insurance issuer pays, or would pay absent the enrollee cost sharing, after accounting for an issuer's estimate of at least fifty percent of future rebate payments for that enrollee's actual point of sale prescription drug claim.

(2) "Health benefit plan", "plan", "benefit", or "health insurance coverage" means services consisting of medical care provided directly through insurance, reimbursement, or other means, and including items and services paid for as medical care under any hospital or medical service policy or certificate, hospital or medical service plan contract, preferred provider organization contract, or health maintenance organization contract offered by a health insurance issuer. However, excepted benefits are not included as a "health benefit plan".

(3) "Health insurance issuer" means any entity that offers health insurance coverage through a plan, policy, or certificate of insurance subject to state law that regulates the business of insurance. "Health insurance issuer" shall also include a health maintenance organization, as defined and licensed pursuant to Subpart I of Part I of Chapter 2 of this Code. "Health insurance issuer" shall not include the Office of Group Benefits.

(4) "Rebates" means both of the following:

(a) Negotiated price concessions, including but not limited to base rebates and reasonable estimates of any price protection rebates and performance-based rebates that may accrue directly or indirectly to the health insurance issuer as a result of point of sale prescription drug claims processing during the coverage year from a manufacturer, dispensing pharmacy, or other party to the transaction.

(b) Reasonable estimates of any fees and other administrative costs that are passed through to the health insurance issuer as a result of point of sale prescription drug claims processing and serve to reduce the health insurance issuer's prescription drug liabilities for the coverage year.

B. In the case of a health insurance issuer that offers or renews a health benefit plan for sale in the state on or after January 1, 2020, if the health insurance issuer may charge enrollees cost-sharing amounts that may result in an excess consumer cost burden for covered prescription drugs, the health insurance issuer shall disclose to enrollees and prospective enrollees the fact that enrollees may be subject to an excess consumer cost burden. The notice shall be provided in the coverage agreement, formulary, or preferred drug guide issued by the health plan.

C. A health insurance issuer that offers or renews a health benefit plan for sale in the state on or after January 1, 2020, shall annually make available to the commissioner of insurance information regarding the value of rebates expressed as a percentage that the health insurance issuer made available to enrollees at the point of sale.

D. In complying with the provisions of this Section a health insurance issuer shall not publish or otherwise reveal information regarding the actual amount of rebates the health insurance issuer receives, including but not limited to information regarding the amount of rebates it receives on a product, manufacturer, or pharmacy specific basis. Such information is a trade secret, is not a public record as defined in R.S. 44:1 et seq., and shall not be disclosed directly or indirectly. A health insurance issuer shall impose the confidentiality protections of this Section on any third parties or vendors with which it contracts that may receive or have access to rebate information.

Added by Acts 2018, No. 579, § 1.

§ 976.1. Fairness in enrollee cost sharing

A. As used in this Section the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Cost-sharing requirement" means any copayment, coinsurance, deductible, or annual limitation on cost-sharing including but not limited to a limitation subject to 42 U.S.C. 18022(c) and 300gg-6(b), required by or on behalf of an enrollee in order to receive a specific healthcare service, including a prescription drug, covered by a health benefit plan.

(2) "Enrollee" means an individual who is enrolled or insured by a health insurance issuer for healthcare services.

(3) "Health benefit plan" means healthcare services provided directly through insurance, reimbursement, or other means, and including items and services paid for as healthcare services under any hospital or medical service policy or certificate, hospital or medical service plan contract, preferred provider organization contract, or health maintenance organization contract offered by a health insurance issuer.

(4) "Health insurance issuer" means any entity that offers health insurance coverage through a health benefit plan, policy, or certificate of insurance subject to state law that regulates the business of insurance. "Health insurance issuer" includes a health maintenance organization as defined and licensed pursuant to Subpart I of Part I of Chapter 2 of this Title and the office of group benefits as created pursuant to Chapter 12 of Title 42 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950.

(5) "Healthcare services" means items or services furnished to any individual for the purpose of preventing, alleviating, curing, or healing human illness, injury, or a mental or physical disability.

(6) "Person" means a natural person, corporation, mutual company, unincorporated association, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, trust, estate, foundation, not-for-profit corporation, unincorporated organization, government or governmental subdivision, or agency.

B. When calculating an enrollee's contribution to any applicable cost-sharing requirement, a health insurance issuer shall include any cost-sharing amounts paid by the enrollee or on behalf of the enrollee by another person. If application of this requirement results in health savings account ineligibility under 26 U.S.C. 223, this requirement shall apply for health savings account-qualified high deductible health plans with respect to the deductible of the plan after the enrollee has satisfied the minimum deductible under 26 U.S.C. 223, except with respect to items or services that are preventive care pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 223(c)(2)(C), in which case the requirements of this Subsection shall apply regardless of whether the minimum deductible under 26 U.S.C. 223 has been satisfied.

C. In implementing the requirements of this Section, the state shall regulate a health insurance issuer only to the extent permissible under applicable law.

D. The commissioner of insurance may promulgate rules and regulations in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act as are necessary to implement this Section.

Added by Acts 2021, No. 431, § 1, eff. June 21, 2021. Amended by Acts 2022, No. 132, § 1, eff. May 26, 2022.

§ 977. Cancellation by insurer and grace period; individual health and accident policies

A. Every insurer, including a trust subject to the provisions of R.S. 22:401 et seq., issuing a policy of individual, group, family group, blanket, or association health and accident insurance shall include in such policy a provision providing the policyholder a grace period of thirty days from the date the premium was due. If the premium is paid during the grace period, then coverage shall remain in effect pursuant to the provisions of the policy.

B. Whenever an insurer issues an individual accident and health policy and does not receive a premium payment fifteen days prior to the end of the grace period, the insurer shall mail, by first class mail, a notice to the policyholder. The notice shall state that if the premium has not been paid by the end of the grace period, the policy will lapse as provided by the provisions of the policy. The notice shall also state that the policy will be reinstated with no penalties to the insured if the full premium payment is received within the period allowed for reinstatement. Nothing in this Code shall mandate a separate lapse notice for nonpayment of premiums on a policy issued by an insurance company whose products are marketed on the home service distribution method and which issues a majority of these policies on a monthly or weekly basis.

"EMERGENCY SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN INSURANCE CODE PROVISIONS

"WHEREAS, pursuant to the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act, La. R.S. 29:721, et seq., the Governor declared a state of emergency in Proclamation No. 111 JBE 2016;

"WHEREAS, due to unprecedented rainfall, portions of southern Louisiana are currently experiencing a flood of historical proportions, with thousands of homes flooded and thousands of peoples being rescued from flooded homes that can only be reached by boat or high water trucks;

"WHEREAS, the flooding poses a threat to citizens, businesses, and communities across Southern Louisiana and has created conditions which place lives, livelihoods, and property in a state of jeopardy;

"WHEREAS, the enormity of the current and impending crisis has forced thousands of people to evacuate their homes and in many cases will cause a significant interruption of residency in their homes and occupancy of businesses;

"WHEREAS, due to the mass disruptions caused and still occurring, Louisiana citizens and businesses may be unable to timely pay their insurance premiums, access their insurance policies, satisfy certain conditions of insurance contracts, and communicate with insurance agents and their respective insurance companies for insurance-related matters, all of which can result in the risk of insurance cancelation and claims denials under ordinary circumstances and will prevent, hinder, and delay necessary action in coping with and recovering from this emergency;

"WHEREAS, Louisiana Revised Statute 29:724 confers upon the Governor emergency powers to deal with emergencies and disasters and to ensure that preparations of this state will be adequate to deal with such emergencies or disasters, and to preserve the lives and property of the citizens of the State of Louisiana, including the authority to suspend the provisions of any regulatory statute prescribing the procedures for conduct of state business, or the orders, rules, or regulations of any state agency, if strict compliance with the provisions of any statute, order, rule, or regulation would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the emergency; and

"WHEREAS, Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon has advised the Governor that citizens in Louisiana are at risk with regard to any and all kinds of insurance and requested limited transfer of authority to suspend certain provisions of Title 22.

"SECTION 2: This Order shall not relieve an insured who has a claim caused by this historic flooding, or its aftermath, from compliance with the insured's obligation to provide information and cooperate in the claim adjustment process relative to such claim, or to pay insurance premiums upon termination of the provisions of this Order.

B. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to grant to the insurer any additional authorization in relation to cancellation, nonrenewal, or other termination of policies and all provisions of this Subpart that regulate such events shall apply. No policy shall be cancelled, nonrenewed, or otherwise terminated because the insurer failed to meet the notice provisions of this Section.

C. The notice provisions of this Section shall not apply to cancellations due to nonpayment of premiums.

D. (1) At least ninety days prior to the date on which a group policy is to be renewed or terminated, every health insurance issuer providing coverage to a large employer group, as defined in R.S. 22:1061, shall provide the employer group with, or make available electronically, information as to the premium rate or amount to be paid to renew the group policy for the next policy year. (2) The group insurance issuer shall make available on a monthly basis the currently available utilization data and aggregate paid claims and premium data accumulated for the period of the current policy year. This data shall be made available to both the employer group and the employer group's appointed insurance agent or broker. Upon request by the employer group or its agent or broker, the health insurance issuer shall provide this data to the employer group or the agent or broker within fourteen business days of receipt of the initial request and monthly thereafter.

(3) A health and accident insurer that provides data or information in compliance with the provisions of this Section shall be immune from civil liability for any acts or omissions of any person's subsequent use of such data or information.

(4) The provisions of this Subsection shall not be construed to authorize the disclosure of the identity of a particular employee covered under the group policy, nor the disclosure of any individual employee's particular health insurance claim, condition, diagnosis, or prognosis, which would violate federal or state law.

(5) For purposes of this Subsection, "claim identifier" shall be defined as data that reflects a number designation including but not limited to an alphabetic or alphanumeric designation which shall not be a name identifier of an employee, employee's spouse, or employee's dependent.

(6) The provisions of this Subsection shall not apply to limited benefit insurance, as defined by R.S. 22:47(2)(c).

Executive Order No. JBE 2016-58 entitled "Emergency Suspension of Certain Insurance Code Provisions" provides:

"EMERGENCY SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN INSURANCE CODE PROVISIONS

"WHEREAS, pursuant to the Louisiana Homeland Security and Emergency Assistance and Disaster Act, La. R.S. 29:721, et seq., the Governor declared a state of emergency in Proclamation No. 111 JBE 2016;

"WHEREAS, due to unprecedented rainfall, portions of southern Louisiana are currently experiencing a flood of historical proportions, with thousands of homes flooded and thousands of peoples being rescued from flooded homes that can only be reached by boat or high water trucks;

"WHEREAS, the flooding poses a threat to citizens, businesses, and communities across Southern Louisiana and has created conditions which place lives, livelihoods, and property in a state of jeopardy;

"WHEREAS, the enormity of the current and impending crisis has forced thousands of people to evacuate their homes and in many cases will cause a significant interruption of residency in their homes and occupancy of businesses;

"WHEREAS, due to the mass disruptions caused and still occurring, Louisiana citizens and businesses may be unable to timely pay their insurance premiums, access their insurance policies, satisfy certain conditions of insurance contracts, and communicate with insurance agents and their respective insurance companies for insurance-related matters, all of which can result in the risk of insurance cancelation and claims denials under ordinary circumstances and will prevent, hinder, and delay necessary action in coping with and recovering from this emergency;

"WHEREAS, Louisiana Revised Statute 29:724 confers upon the Governor emergency powers to deal with emergencies and disasters and to ensure that preparations of this state will be adequate to deal with such emergencies or disasters, and to preserve the lives and property of the citizens of the State of Louisiana, including the authority to suspend the provisions of any regulatory statute prescribing the procedures for conduct of state business, or the orders, rules, or regulations of any state agency, if strict compliance with the provisions of any statute, order, rule, or regulation would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the emergency; and

"WHEREAS, Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon has advised the Governor that citizens in Louisiana are at risk with regard to any and all kinds of insurance and requested limited transfer of authority to suspend certain provisions of Title 22.

"NOW THEREFORE, I, JOHN BEL EDWARDS, Governor of the State of Louisiana, by virtue of the authority vested by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Louisiana, do hereby order and direct as follows:

"SECTION 1: Commissioner of Insurance James J. Donelon shall have limited transfer of authority from the Governor to suspend provisions of any regulatory statute of Title 22 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950 concerning the cancellation, termination, nonrenewal, and nonreinstatement provisions of Title 22, including, but not limited to, La. R.S. 22:272, 22:887, 22:1068, 22:977, 22:978, 22:1074, 22:1266, 22:1267, 22:1311, and 22:1335, where such statutory or regulatory requirements prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the current emergency, including providing additional time for policyholders to complete existing claims, providing additional time for policyholders to remit premium payments to avoid cancelation of policies, prohibiting cancelations where a policyholder is incapable of fulfilling requirements due to evacuation or inhabitability, and suspending any licensure or similar requirement that might hinder the ability of regulated entities to employ non-Louisiana licensees during the immediate aftermath of the disaster, including claims adjusters or other licensed regulated entities.

"SECTION 2: This Order shall not relieve an insured who has a claim caused by this historic flooding, or its aftermath, from compliance with the insured's obligation to provide information and cooperate in the claim adjustment process relative to such claim, or to pay insurance premiums upon termination of the provisions of this Order.

"SECTION 3: This Order shall apply retroactively from Friday, August 12, 2016, and shall continue through Monday, September 12, 2016, unless amended, modified, terminated, or rescinded by the Governor prior thereto.

§ 979. Covered claim; prohibition of cancellation

No health and accident insurer may unilaterally cancel a policy of insurance except for nonpayment of premiums, increase the premium for such policy, or reduce the benefits provided by such insurance policy after receipt or notice of any covered claim. The insurer may cancel the policy, as otherwise provided by law, after the claimant has been discharged from treatment for that condition and no further claims for that condition are expected, provided there has been no other receipt or notice of claim under that policy. This Section shall not prohibit any group health and accident insurer or any individual accident and health insurer from increasing its premium if the increase is applicable to all members of the group insurance plan, or all insureds who have the same individual accident and health plan or policy except that no health insurance issuer or health maintenance organization issuing group or individual policies or subscriber agreements shall increase its premium rates or reduce covered benefits under any policy or subscriber agreement after the commencement of the minimum one-hundred-eighty-day period provided for in R.S. 22:1068(C)(2)(a)(i) or 1074(C)(2)(a)(i).

(a) Its deductible amount must be fully satisfied, either by the prior payment of a deductible under another policy in whole or in part or by partial payment of its deductible before any benefits are payable.

(b) No payment is required under any policy if the health care service in question is not covered by that policy.

§ 982. Required proof of loss forms

A. The commissioner of insurance in consultation with the secretary of the Louisiana Department of Health shall prescribe the use of the National Uniform Bill-82 (UB-82) or its successor, and the current Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) Form 1500 or its successor, as the uniform proof of loss forms. After July 1, 1994, no insurance company writing policies of health and accident insurance or any administrator of a health benefit plan may require proof of loss to be on any claim form but the UB-82, or its successor, or HCFA Form 1500, or its successor, whichever is appropriate for the services rendered.

B. The commissioner of insurance, as allowed by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996,¹ shall review the uniform proof of loss forms prescribed under Subsection A of this Section, seek comments and suggestions from insurers, providers, and consumer groups about proposed improvements to the form, and determine whether any revisions should be made to the state assignable fields of either form that would simplify or otherwise improve the form. If the commissioner determines that the state assignable portions of either form should be revised, he shall make a revision request to the State Uniform Bill Implementation Committee and if approved, prescribe the use of the revised form by all insurance companies writing policies of health and accident insurance in Louisiana. After six months from the date that the commissioner has prescribed the use of any revised form, no insurance company writing policies of health or accident insurance or any administrator of a health benefit plan may require proof of loss to be on any claim form but the revised form when that is the appropriate form for the services rendered.

§ 983. Application

A. The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this Subpart shall not bar the right to recovery under the policy unless such false statement materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer. The insured shall not be bound by any statement unless made in a written application in the case of domestic industrial insurers, and, in the case of other insurers, unless a copy of such application is attached to or endorsed on the policy.

B. No alteration of any written application for any such policy shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, except that insertions may be made by the insurer, for administrative purposes only, in a manner as to indicate clearly that such insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant.

B. A duly licensed optometrist shall be entitled to participate in contracts or plans providing for medical eye care or vision care services as a healthcare provider or otherwise, to the same extent as a duly licensed physician, and there shall be no discrimination against any provider, whether an optometrist or physician, who is located within the geographic area of the health maintenance organization, preferred provider organization, managed care organization, accountable care organization, or plan or contract of insurance.

A health maintenance organization, preferred provider organization, managed care organization, accountable care organization, plan or contract of insurance, or any medical or hospital service contract shall not impose a co-payment, co-insurance amount, or any other fee on a covered participant or insured that is greater than the amount charged for the same service when provided by an allopathic physician or an osteopathic physician.

It shall be unlawful for a health maintenance organization, preferred provider organization, managed care organization, accountable care organization, or plan or contract of insurance to require a duly licensed optometrist to participate as a provider in another medical or vision care plan or contract as a condition of or requirement for participation by such duly licensed optometrist as a provider in any medical or vision care plan or contract.

§ 999.1. Parity for orally administered anti-cancer medications with intravenously administered or injected anti-cancer medications

A. It is hereby declared that the public policy of this state is that every person within this state with health insurance coverage that provides coverage for cancer treatment shall have access to the type of covered medication used to treat his cancer, as such a decision affects the person's overall, long-term health and quality of life. It is also declared that orally administered anti-cancer medications, although very effective in killing or slowing the growth of cancerous cells, have high out-of-pocket costs to the covered person, impacting the decision of physicians to prescribe such medications, thus restricting patient access to life-saving oral anti-cancer medications. It is further declared that physicians must be able to make the best choice for their patients, considering the unique aspects of each patient and the progress of the disease.

B. (1) A health insurance issuer that provides coverage for cancer treatment shall provide for coverage of prescribed orally administered anti-cancer medications on a basis no less favorable than intravenously administered or injected cancer medications.

(2) Health insurance coverage of orally administered anti-cancer medications shall not be subject to any prior authorization, dollar limit, copayment, deductible, or other out-of-pocket expense that does not apply to intravenously administered or injected cancer medications, regardless of formulation or benefit category determination by the health insurance issuer.

(3) A health insurance issuer shall not reclassify or increase any type of cost-sharing to the covered person for anti-cancer medications in order to achieve compliance with this Section. Any change in health insurance coverage that otherwise increases an out-of-pocket expense applied to anti-cancer medications shall also be applied to the majority of comparable medical or pharmaceutical benefits covered by the health insurance issuer.

(4) A health insurance issuer that limits the total amount paid by a covered person through all cost-sharing requirements to no more than one hundred dollars per filled prescription for any orally administered anti-cancer medication shall be considered in compliance with this Section. For purposes of this Paragraph, "cost-sharing requirements" shall include copayments, coinsurance, deductibles, and any other amounts paid by the covered person for that prescription.

C. As used in this Section:

(1) "Anti-cancer medications" means medications used to kill or slow the growth of cancer cells.

(2) "Covered person" means a policyholder, subscriber, enrollee, or other individual enrolled in or insured by a health insurance issuer for health insurance coverage.

(3) "Health insurance coverage" or "coverage" means benefits consisting of medical care provided or arranged for directly, through insurance or reimbursement, or through a network, and including services paid for as medical care under any hospital or medical service policy or certificate, hospital or medical service plan contract, preferred provider organization agreement, or health maintenance organization contract offered by a health insurance issuer.

(4) "Health insurance issuer" means any entity that offers health insurance coverage through a policy or certificate of insurance subject to state law that regulates the business of insurance. For purposes of this Section, a "health insurance issuer" shall include a health maintenance organization, as defined and licensed pursuant to Subpart I of Part I of Chapter 2 of this Title, nonfederal government plans subject to the provisions of Subpart B of this Part, and the Office of Group Benefits.

(5) "Network of providers" or "network" means an entity other than a health insurance issuer that, through contracts with health care providers, provides or arranges for access by groups of covered persons to covered health care services by health care providers who are not otherwise or individually contracted directly with a health insurance issuer.

D. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to the following:

(1) Limited benefit health insurance policies or contracts.

(2) High deductible health plans or policies that are qualified to be used in conjunction with a health savings account, a medical savings account, or other similar program authorized by 26 U.S.C. 220 et seq.

(3) Qualified health plans offered through a health benefit exchange.

~~Application—Acts 2012, No. 410~~

Section 2 of Acts 2012, No. 410 provides:

"Section 2. This Act shall be applicable to health insurance coverage that provides coverage for cancer treatment issued for delivery, delivered, renewed, or otherwise contracted for in this state on or after January 1, 2013."

§ 1000. Group, family group, blanket, and association health and accident insurance

A. Any insurer authorized to write health and accident insurance in this state shall have the power to issue policies described in this Section, provided that no policy issued pursuant to this Section shall conflict with other provisions of this Title or with federal law including but not limited to relevant provisions of law governing major medical health and accident policies.

(1) Group health and accident insurance is any policy of health and accident insurance, or similar coverage issued by a health maintenance organization, covering more than one person, except family group, and blanket policies hereinafter specifically provided for, which shall conform to the following requirements:

(a)(i) The policy shall be issued to an employer or association, or trustees of a fund established by an employer, association or a trust for multiple associations who shall be deemed the policyholder, covering one or more employees of such employer or one or more members or employees of members of such association or multiple associations, for the benefit of persons other than the employer, the association or the multiple associations, as well as their officers or trustees, upon some plan which will preclude individual selection.

(ii) The premium may be paid by the employer, association or multiple associations, by the employees, members or employees of members, or by the two parties jointly. An insurer may but shall not be required to establish a percentage of eligible employees who are required to enroll and participate in a group health and accident policy if the entire premium is not paid by the employer, association or multiple associations.

(iii) If the policy is issued to any employer, any class or classes of employees eligible for coverage must be determined by conditions pertaining to their employment or age.

(iv) No such policy issued under individual certificates and considered as individual insurance coverage for purposes of this Subpart and R.S. 22:984, 1061 through 1079, and 2247 may be issued to an association or trust for multiple associations unless such association or each participating association in the multiple associations, having had an active existence for at least five years, has a constitution and bylaws and has been organized and is maintained in good faith for purposes other than those of obtaining insurance, does not condition membership in the association or multiple associations on any health status-related factor relating to an individual, including an employee of an employer or a dependent of an employee, and does not make health insurance coverage offered through the association or multiple associations available other than in connection with a member of the association or multiple associations. No such policy, issued and considered as group health insurance, as defined under R.S. 22:1061(2)(c), may be issued to an association, trust for an association, or multiple associations unless it or each participating association has been actively in existence for at least five years, has been formed and maintained in good faith for purposes other than obtaining insurance, does not condition membership in the association or multiple associations on any health status-related factor relating to an individual, including an employee of an employer or a dependent of an employee, and does not make health insurance coverage offered through the association or multiple associations available other than in connection with a member of the association. Such individual or group policy may be issued to a trust established by an association or associations to allow multiple associations to participate.

(v) The insurer shall issue to the employer, association, or the multiple associations for delivery to each employee or member insured under such group policy, an individual certificate containing a statement as to the insurance protection to which he is entitled and to whom payable.

(vi)(aa) The policy may be issued to an employer, association, a trust for multiple associations, or to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers in the same industry or by one or more labor unions, by one or more employers, and one or more labor unions or by an association, or multiple associations, or to a multiple employer trust or multiple association trust established by an insurer on behalf of participating employers or participating associations, in the multiple associations, provided all participating employers and employees or members, or employees of members of one of the multiple participating associations have the same statutory protections that would apply if such policy was purchased by the employer, association, or multiple associations directly from the insurer, which trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure with or without any eligible family members including spouse, children until the age of twenty-six, and grandchildren who are in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent until the age of twenty-six pursuant to R.S. 22:1003 and 1003.1, employees of the employers, members of the association or employees of members of a multiple association, or of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions.

(bb) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, coverage of dependent children or grandchildren for excepted benefits and for benefits of short-term, limited duration insurance as defined pursuant to 45 CFR 144.103 shall be controlled by this Subitem with regard to requirements for age. For excepted benefits, as defined in R.S. 22:1061(3)(b) and (c) and for benefits of short-term, limited duration insurance as defined pursuant to 45 CFR 144.103, the following requirements for coverage of dependent children or grandchildren shall apply:

(I) To an unmarried dependent child or grandchild but who is not a full-time student until the age of twenty-one. A dependent grandchild shall be in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent.

(II) To an unmarried dependent child or grandchild who is enrolled as a full-time student until the age of twenty-four. This enrollment may be at an accredited college or university or at a vocational, technical, vocational-technical, or trade school or institute. A dependent grandchild shall be in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent.

(III) To an unmarried dependent child or grandchild who is a full-time student and who develops a mental or nervous condition, problem, or disorder which renders the child or grandchild, in the opinion of a qualified psychiatrist, subject to a second opinion if deemed necessary by the health insurance issuer or health maintenance organization, unable to attend school as a full-time student and from holding self-sustaining employment, until the age of twenty-four. A dependent grandchild shall be in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent.

(IV) To an unmarried dependent child or grandchild who is incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual or physical disability, who became incapable prior to attainment of the age of twenty-one, there may be continuous coverage for excepted benefits regardless of age. A dependent grandchild shall be in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent.

(b) The benefits payable under any policy or contract of group health and accident insurance shall be payable to the employee, members or employees of members of multiple associations or to some beneficiary or beneficiaries designated by him, other than the employer or association or multiple associations, but if there is no designated beneficiary as to all or any part of the insurance at the death of the employee, member or employee of members, then the amount of insurance payable for which there is no designated beneficiary shall be payable to the estate of the employee, member or employee of members, except that the insurer may in such case, at its option, pay such insurance to any one or more of the following surviving relatives of the employee, member or employee of members: wife, husband, mother, father, child, or children, brothers or sisters; and except that payment of benefits for expenses incurred on account of hospitalization or medical or surgical aid, may be made by the insurer to the hospital or other person or persons furnishing such aid. Payment so made shall discharge the insurer's obligations with respect to the amount of insurance so paid.

(c) Except as may otherwise be provided in the policy or contract of group health and accident insurance or by R.S. 22:1012, the policyholder and the insurer may agree to modify, amend, or cancel the group policy, and such agreement shall be binding upon the employee, member, or employee of members insured under the group policy, provided that the modification, amendment, or cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim for benefits accrued, or for expenses incurred for services rendered, prior to such modification, amendment, or cancellation. Benefits and expenses incurred shall be as defined and limited by the terms of the policy; however, upon cancellation by the insurer, the insurer shall only be liable for any claim for benefits accrued, or for expenses incurred for services rendered, subsequent to the cancellation date if the subsequent claim is for an illness or condition which was the basis of any claim prior to cancellation and for which the insurer had notice. Any cancellation pursuant to this Paragraph shall also comply with the provisions of R.S. 22:887(F).

(d) Except as may otherwise be provided in the policy or contract of group health and accident insurance, the insurer shall not be liable for benefits accrued, or for expenses incurred for services rendered, subsequent to the termination date where the policy of insurance terminates for failure of the group policyholder to pay premiums or where the employee's, member's, or member's employee's coverage terminated for failure of the employee, member, or employee of members to maintain eligibility as provided in the policy or contract of group health and accident insurance.

(2)(a) Family group health and accident insurance or similar coverage issued by a health maintenance organization is an individual policy covering any one person, with or without any eligible members, including spouse and children until the age of twenty-six, and grandchildren until the age of twenty-six who are in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent pursuant to R.S. 22:1003 and 1003.1, except that the policy may provide for continuing coverage for any child or grandchild in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent who is incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual or physical disability, who became so incapable prior to attainment of age twenty-six, and any other person dependent upon the policyholder, written under a master policy issued to the head of such family.

The policy shall contain a provision that the policy, and the application of the head of the family if attached to the policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, coverage of dependent children or grandchildren for excepted benefits and for benefits of short-term, limited duration insurance as defined pursuant to 45 CFR 144.103 shall be controlled by this Subparagraph with regard to requirements for age. For excepted benefits, as defined in R.S. 22:1061(3)(b) and (c) and for benefits of short-term, limited duration insurance as defined pursuant to 45 CFR 144.103, the following requirements for coverage of dependent children or grandchildren shall apply:

(iii) To an unmarried dependent child or grandchild who is a full-time student and who develops a mental or nervous condition, problem, or disorder which renders the child or grandchild, in the opinion of a qualified psychiatrist, subject to a second opinion if deemed necessary by the health insurance issuer or health maintenance organization, unable to attend school as a full-time student and from holding self-sustaining employment, until the age of twenty-four. A dependent grandchild shall be in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent.

(iv) To an unmarried dependent child or grandchild who is incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual or physical disability, who became so incapable prior to attainment of the age of twenty-one, there may be continuous coverage for excepted benefits regardless of age. A dependent grandchild shall be in the legal custody of and residing with the grandparent.

(3) Blanket health and accident insurance is any policy covering special groups of persons as enumerated in any of the following:

(4) An individual application shall not be required from a person covered under such a blanket policy. The insurer shall furnish to the policyholder for delivery to the insured a certificate of insurance that shall disclose the benefits, limitations, exclusions, and reductions contained in the policy and the provisions relating to notice of claim, proof of loss, time of payment of claim, and any other relevant information, including the name and address of the insurer. All benefits under any such blanket policy shall be payable to the person insured, or to his designated beneficiary or beneficiaries, if the policy permits the designation of named beneficiaries, or to his estate, except that if the person insured is a minor such benefits may be made payable to his parent, guardian, or other person actually supporting him.

Any refund under any plan for readjustment of the rate of premium based on the experience under group policies issued, and any dividend paid under such policies may be issued to reduce the employer's share of the cost of the coverage, except that if the aggregate refunds or dividends under such group policy and any other group policy or contract issued to the policyholder exceed the aggregate contributions of the employer toward the cost of the coverages, such excess shall be applied by the policyholder for the sole benefit of insured employees.

B. This Section shall not apply to a health benefit plan which was issued in good faith with no knowledge or intent that the plan will, at the time of issuance or thereafter, satisfy one or more of the conditions set forth in Subsection A of this Section, and the insurer has certified to the Department of Insurance that the policy form:

(1) Is not designed to be an employer-provided insurance.

(2) Is not intended to be an employer-provided insurance.

(3) Will not be advertised or marketed as employer-provided insurance.

(4) Will not be issued if the insurer knows that the policy will meet one or more of the conditions set forth in Subsection A of this Section.

C. "Health benefit plan" means any hospital or medical policy or group certificate delivered or issued for delivery in this state by an insurer; a nonprofit hospital or medical service organization; a domestic nonprofit mutual association which is engaged exclusively in the provision of hospital service, medical, or surgical benefits; a health maintenance organization; or a self-insured plan that provides, on an expense-incurred basis, hospital, surgical, or major medical expense insurance, or any combination of these except specified disease, hospital indemnity or other limited, supplemental benefit insurance policies.

D. Under the provisions of this Section, the replacement of insurance shall also refer to any insurance issued by a second insurer within sixty days of the termination of coverage by the prior insurer.

E. Whenever a contract of one carrier replaces a health benefit plan of similar benefits of another carrier:

(1) The prior carrier shall remain liable only to the extent of its accrued liabilities. The position of the prior carrier shall be the same whether the group policyholder or other entity secures replacement coverage from a new carrier, or a self-insurer, or foregoes the provision of coverage.

(2) Each person who was validly covered or eligible to be covered under the prior health plan, shall be offered coverage by the succeeding carrier's plan of benefits. No previously covered person shall be considered ineligible for coverage.

(3) The succeeding carrier, in determining whether a preexisting condition provision applies to an eligible employee or dependent, shall credit the time the person was covered under the prior plan if the previous coverage was continuous to a date not more than sixty-three days prior to the effective date of the new coverage. The succeeding carrier shall credit coverage in accordance with R.S. 22:984, 1061 through 1079, and 2247, and reasonable regulations issued by the commissioner of insurance under the Administrative Procedure Act¹ for the enforcement thereof.

(4) The succeeding carrier, in applying any deductibles or waiting periods in its plan, shall give credit for satisfaction or partial satisfaction of the same or similar provisions under a prior plan providing similar benefits. In the case of deductible provisions, the credit shall apply for the same or overlapping benefit periods and shall be given for expenses actually incurred and applied against the deductible provisions of the prior carrier's plan during the ninety days preceding the effective date of the succeeding carrier's plan, but only to the extent these expenses are recognized under the terms of the succeeding carrier's plan and are subject to similar deductible provisions.

(5) Whenever a determination of the prior carrier's benefits is required by the succeeding carrier, at the succeeding carrier's request, the prior carrier shall provide a statement of the benefits available, pertinent information, sufficient to permit verification of the benefit determination, or the determination itself by the succeeding carrier. For purposes of this Paragraph, benefits of the prior plan shall be determined in accordance with all of the definitions, conditions, and covered expense provisions of the prior plan rather than those of the succeeding plan. The benefit determination will be made as if coverage was not replaced by the succeeding carrier.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, in order to establish uniformity in the submission of prescription drug prior authorization forms, on and after January 1, 2019, a health insurance issuer shall utilize only a single uniform prescription drug prior authorization form for obtaining any prior authorization for prescription drug benefits. The requirement for a single uniform prescription drug prior authorization form shall not apply to prior authorization of specialty drugs or in cases where electronic prescriptions are utilized. The form shall not exceed two pages in length, excluding any instructions or guiding documentation. The only form allowable for use shall be the form jointly promulgated by the Louisiana Board of Pharmacy and the Louisiana State Board of Medical Examiners. A health insurance issuer may include issuer specific information on the form, including but not limited to the issuer's name, address, logo, and other contact information for the issuer. A health insurance issuer may make the form accessible through multiple computer operating systems.

D. The Department of Insurance, under its authority in this Title, shall assess sanctions against any health insurance issuer that directly, or through its pharmacy benefit managers, utilizes any prescription drug prior authorization form other than the single uniform prescription drug prior authorization form provided for in this Section.

C. No managed care organization shall refuse to contract, renew, cancel, restrict, or otherwise terminate a contract with a health care provider solely on the basis of a medical communication. No managed care organization shall refuse to refer patients to or allow others to refer patients to the health care provider, refuse to compensate the health care provider for covered services, or take other retaliatory action against the health care provider. As used in this Subsection "medical communication" shall mean information regarding the mental or physical health care needs or the treatment of a patient.

D. No communication regarding treatment options shall be represented or construed to expand or revise the scope of benefits or covered services under a managed care plan or insurance contract.

F. No managed care organization or managed care entity shall by contract, written policy, or written procedure prohibit or restrict any health care provider from advocating to the managed care organization or managed care entity on behalf of the enrollee or subscriber for approval or coverage of a particular course of treatment or for the provision of health care services.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, no managed care organization shall limit the right of a rural hospital to receive payment for covered health care services as long as a claim for payment of such services is submitted within one year after the date on which the rural hospital provided the services.

I. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any contract or agreement between a managed care organization and a health care provider shall include provisions that establish the reimbursement of a health care provider in an instance in which the managed care organization requests or requires substitution of a medication for an enrollee and the provider has executed the requested or required substitution. The provisions of this Section shall not apply to generic substitution or step therapy programs utilized by the managed care organization or its delegated entity that promote generic drugs as a first-line therapy.

J. (1) A managed care organization that offers coverage for healthcare services through one or more managed care plans shall not require a provider, as a condition of participation or continuation in the provider network of one or more health benefit plans of the managed care organization, to serve in the provider network of all or additional health benefit plans of the managed care organization. A managed care organization is prohibited from terminating a provider agreement based on the provider's refusal to serve in its network for such additional plans.

(2) Nothing in this Subsection shall prohibit a managed care organization from enabling its affiliated members from other states to obtain healthcare service benefits while traveling or living in the managed care organization's service area including extending the provisions of the provider contract to provide for such services.

B. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to prohibit contracts that contain incentive plans that involve general payments, such as capitation payments, or shared-risk arrangements that are not tied to specific medical decisions involving specific insured or groups of insureds with similar medical

Further, the legislature finds and declares that the longstanding policy of this state is to protect the right to life of the unborn child from conception by prohibiting abortion impermissible only because of the decisions of the United States Supreme Court and that, therefore, if those decisions of the United States Supreme Court are ever reversed or modified or the United States Constitution is amended to allow protection of the unborn then the former policy of this state to prohibit abortions shall be enforced.

§ 1019.2. Network adequacy

A. A health insurance issuer providing a health benefit plan shall maintain a network that is sufficient in numbers and types of healthcare providers to ensure that all healthcare services to covered persons will be accessible without unreasonable delay. In the case of emergency services and any ancillary emergency healthcare services, covered persons shall have access twenty-four hours per day, seven days per week. Sufficiency shall be determined in accordance with the requirements of this Subpart. In determining sufficiency criteria, the criteria shall include but not be limited to ratios of healthcare providers to covered persons by specialty, ratios of primary care providers to covered persons, geographic accessibility, waiting times for appointments with participating providers, hours of operation, and volume of technological and specialty services available to serve the needs of covered persons requiring technologically advanced or specialty care.

B. (1) Each health insurance issuer shall maintain a network of providers that includes but is not limited to providers that specialize in mental health and substance abuse services, facility-based physicians, and providers that are essential community providers.

(2) A health insurance issuer shall establish and maintain adequate arrangements to ensure reasonable proximity of participating providers to the primary residences of covered persons. In determining whether a health insurance issuer has complied with this Paragraph, the commissioner shall give due consideration to the relative availability of health care providers in the service area under consideration and the geographic composition of the service area. The commissioner may consider a health insurance issuer's adjacent service area networks that may augment health care providers if a health care provider deficiency exists within the service area.

(3) A health insurance issuer shall monitor, on an ongoing basis, the ability, clinical capacity, and legal authority of its participating providers to furnish all contracted health care services to covered persons.

Any existing, new, or initial filing of policy forms by a health insurance issuer shall include the network of providers, if any, to be used in connection with the policy forms. If benefits under a health insurance policy do not rely on a network of providers, the health insurance issuer shall state this fact in the policy form filing. The health insurance issuer may request the commissioner to consider sections of the access plan to contain proprietary or trade secret information that shall not be made public in accordance with the Public Records Law, R.S. 44:1 et seq., or to contain protected health information that shall not be made public in accordance with R.S. 22:42.1. If the commissioner concurs with the request, those sections of the access plan shall not be subject to the Public Records Law or shall not be made public in accordance with R.S. 22:42.1 as applicable. The health insurance issuer shall make the access plans, absent any such proprietary or trade secret information and protected health information, available and readily accessible on its business premises and shall provide the plans to any interested party upon request, subject to the provisions of the Public Records Law and R.S. 22:42.1.

C. A health insurance issuer shall file an access plan for written approval from the commissioner for existing health benefit plans and prior to offering a new health benefit plan. Additionally, a health insurance issuer shall inform the commissioner if the health insurance issuer enters a new service or market area and shall submit an updated access plan demonstrating that the health insurance issuer's network in the new service or market area is adequate and consistent with this Subpart. Each access plan, including riders and endorsements, shall be identified by a form number in the lower left hand corner of the first page of the form. A health insurance issuer shall update an existing access plan whenever it makes any material change to an existing health benefit plan. The access plan shall describe or contain, at a minimum, each of the following:

(4) The health insurance issuer's efforts to address the needs of covered persons with limited English proficiency and illiteracy, with diverse cultural and ethnic backgrounds, or with physical and mental disabilities.

Additional information relating to these processes shall be available upon request and accessible via the health insurance issuer's website.

(7) The health insurance issuer's system for ensuring coordination and continuity of care for covered persons referred to specialty physicians, for covered persons using ancillary health care services, including social services and other community resources, and for ensuring appropriate discharge planning.

(8) The health insurance issuer's processes for enabling covered persons to change primary care professionals, for medical care referrals, and for ensuring that participating providers that require the use of health care facilities have hospital admission privileges.

(9) The health insurance issuer's proposed plan for providing continuity of care in the event of contract termination between the health insurance issuer and any of its participating providers, as required by R.S. 22:1005, or in the event of the health insurance issuer's insolvency or other inability to continue operations. This description shall explain how covered persons will be notified of contract termination, including but not limited to the effective date of the contract termination, the health insurance issuer's insolvency, or other cessation of operations, and how such covered persons will be transferred to other providers in a timely manner.

(10) A geographic map of the area proposed to be served by the health benefit plan by both parish and zip code.

(11) The policies and procedures to ensure access to covered health care services under each of the following circumstances:

(a) When the covered health care service is not available from a participating provider in any case when a covered person has made a good faith effort to utilize participating providers for a covered service and it is determined that the health insurance issuer does not have the appropriate participating providers due to insufficient number, type, or distance, the health insurance issuer shall ensure, by terms contained in the health benefit plan, that the covered person will be provided the covered health care service.

(b) When the covered person has a medical emergency within the network's service area.

(c) When the covered person has a medical emergency outside the network's service area.

(12) Any other information required by the commissioner to determine compliance with the provisions of this Subpart.

D. A health insurance issuer shall file any proposed material changes to the access plan with the commissioner prior to implementation of any such changes.

The removal or withdrawal of any hospital or multi-specialty clinic from a health insurance issuer's network shall constitute a material change and shall be filed with the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this Subpart. Changes shall be considered approved by the commissioner after sixty days unless specifically disapproved in writing by the commissioner prior to expiration of the sixty days.

E. All filings containing any proposed material changes to an access plan as required by this Subpart shall include but not be limited to each of the following:

- (1) A listing of health care facilities and the number of hospital beds at each network health care facility.
- (2) The ratio of participating providers to current covered persons.

If the commissioner determines that a health insurance issuer has not contracted with enough participating providers to ensure that covered persons have accessible health care services in a geographic area, that a health insurance issuer's access plan does not ensure reasonable access to covered health care services, or that a health insurance issuer has entered into a contract that does not comply with this Subpart, the commissioner may do either or both of the following:

- (1) Institute a corrective action plan that shall be followed by the health insurance issuer within thirty days of notice of noncompliance from the commissioner.

B. The commissioner shall not act to arbitrate, mediate, or settle disputes regarding a decision not to include a health care provider in a health benefit plan or in a provider network if the health insurance issuer has an adequate network as determined by the commissioner pursuant to the requirements contained in this Subpart.

C. The commissioner may promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this Subpart. Such rules and regulations shall be promulgated and adopted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, R.S. 49:950 et seq.

D. (1) The commissioner may issue, and cause to be served upon the health insurance issuer violating this Subpart, an order requiring such health insurance issuer to cease and desist from such act or omission for the whole state or any geographic area.

(2) The commissioner may refuse to renew, suspend, or revoke the certificate of authority of any health insurance issuer violating any of the provisions of this Subpart, or in lieu of suspension or revocation of a license duly issued, the commissioner may levy a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation per health insurance issuer, up to one hundred thousand dollars aggregate for all violations in a calendar year per health insurance issuer, when such violations, in his opinion, after a proper hearing, warrant the refusal, suspension, or revocation of such certificate, or the imposition of a fine. The commissioner of insurance is authorized to withhold fines imposed under this Subpart. Such hearing shall be held in the manner provided in Chapter 12 of this Title, R.S. 22:2191 et seq. Additionally, the commissioner may take any other administrative action, including imposing those fines and penalties enumerated in R.S. 22:18.
